☞ Wednesday was our hottest day this summer, winding up with some noble showers. How the corn must grow.

☞ The schooner H. E. Bishop was well filled with passengers yesterday, on her trip to the Shoals with the Cornet Band.

☞ The Christian Society held their Pic Nic, at Newmarket Junction, on Wednesday, with a good attendance.

☞ Gen. Tom Thumb, the original and genuine "Little Giant," will give one of his Levees, this afternoon, at the Temple, and another this evening. See advertisement.

☞ Three boys, two of them colored, calling themselves Henry J. Gilbert, hailing from Boston, and Wm. H. Bowley and Robert Smith of New Bedford, came into York harbor on Monday the 5th, in a small reach boat;—during the night they exchanged her for a whale boat belonging to J. Brooks, Esq. This boat was missed early in the morning, and a party went in pursuit in a small boat. They saw the missing boat off York beach, and pulled directly for her; the thieves seeing a party in pursuit headed their boat directly for the shore, which they reached about three minutes before the pursuing party, but they were soon overtaken, and brought before Alex. Dennett, Esq. and failing to obtain bail they were lodged in York jail to await trial at the Supreme Court in September. The reach boat which the prisoners say they hired at Portsmouth is now in the possession of A. Dennett, Esq.

Portsmouth Republican Club.—The Republicans of Portsmouth are requested to meet at the Court House on Friday evening next, at 8 o'clock, to complete the organization of the Club.

Per order of the Committee.

☞ It is said that the reclamations this season for losses on cotton against Southern dealers, will amount to ten million dollars. The Charleston (S. C.) News thinks cotton speculators will continue to take the chance of losing ten dollars in the hope of making one.

☞ Everett O. Foss has commenced a Campaign weekly paper in Boston, called the Cabinet Maker. It advocates the election of Douglas, and abounds in comic pictures, especially of some very black republicans. The price is 50 cents for the season.

Kentucky Election.—Returns from Kentucky indicate the election of Gen. Leslie Coombs, the opposition candidate for Clerk of the Clerk of the Court of Appeals by a large majority. In Louisville, Coombs has 4275 votes; McCarty, (the regular Democratic candidate) 1093; Bolling, (irregular nominee) 384. Coombs's majority in the state is estimated at from five to ten thousand.

☞ The Postmaster at Salem, Mass., a Douglas man, has been removed, and J. Ryan appointed in his place. Mr. Hutchinson has been appointed postmaster at Woostock Vt., in place of the editor of the Age, who is guilty of supporting Douglas.

☞ The Chicago Zouaves visited the President at the White House on Saturday, and afterwards executed a portion of their drill on the lawn in front of the mansion. The Chief Magistrate made a brief address to the Zouaves, in which he complimented their proficiency very highly.

☞ Breckinridge Conventions have been held,—and nominations made,—in New York and Vermont.

A Bell and Everett Convention has been held in Portland,—calculated chiefly to help Mr. Smart get a few more votes for governor.

A Fugitive.—The Manchester American of Monday says,—

One of the fugitive chattels from Virginia, called on us yesterday on his way north. He had earned money to pay his own fare, and only needed food and information. Before this hour he is in Vermont.

And before this hour, probably in Canada.

☞ The Daily Minnesotian of a recent date, says; A farmer named Bowman, in the town of Windsor, Dane Co., Wis., and a number of his neighbors, have lost some of their cattle recently by a disease resembling the pleuro-pneumonia. Considerable alarm has been occasioned among the cattle owners in that region, but it is hoped the disease will go no further.

Dam at Manchester Injured.—Manchester, N. H., Aug. 7.—A party of fifteen persons from Hooksett, incensed at the flowage of land there by the Land and Water Power Company who furnish power for the factories here, last night visited the dam a mile above here, and tore off all the flashboards lowering the water in the canal two and a half feet. Part of the mills have stopped running and the rest are running at low speed. This has been done once before this summer, and several times previously.

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—Eighteen precincts give Blair 1817 majority for the short term, and 2231 majority for the long term.

Lobster and Milk, at this season of the year, are often injurious to health—absolutely poisonous. One day last week we knew a whole family under the physicians' hands from this cause; and a few years ago the sudden death of an individual on a pleasure excursion down river was attributed to the same cause.—Newburyport Her.

Reported Death of the Chinese Emperor.—The Allgemeine Zeitung of Augsburg reports that the Chinese Emperor, Heir Fung, is dead or dying. If this report be confirmed, the allies may receive propositions of peace from Pekin.

The French steam transport Irene was lost in Amoy harbor, with 400 tons of powder, and other maserials of war.

Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 8.—James T. Brady was nominated for Governor to-day by the Breckinridge Convention.

New York, Aug. 8.—It is stated that the offerings to the Pope in this diocese exceed $50,000.

St. Louis, Aug. 7.—The vote for members of Congress in this district, part official and one precinct to hear from, was as follows: for short term—Barrett 12,595, Blair 12,426. For long term—Blair 13,381, a gain of over 6000 since 1858; Barret 9906, a gain of 2859 since 1858; Todd 4372, a loss of 1295 since 1858.

Orr, the Union candidate for Governor, has 2000 majority for Governor in this district. The Legislative ticket is in doubt, but favors the Republicans, who have elected a majority of the county officers.

Mike is a little darkey of a dozen years, who was purposely left alone in the store one day and watched through a door that stood ajar, to test his honesty. Finding himself alone, he began to canvass the apartment for something good, and slipping behind the counter, he helped himself liberally to nuts and candy. Upon being caught and reprimanded, he began to justify himself by saying—"You'd no business to leave me alone; you know'd I'd steal."

Healthy Bread, Cakes, Biscuit and Puddings.—If you want nice light bread and biscuit, use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. It has not its equal in the world. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Do not be put off with any other. It is perfectly wholesome, and will produce one-eighth more bread than any other. Try it. LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and it is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in one day remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure the Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who are dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual system, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—and the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

FOR FAMILY USE.

From the very flattering manner in which our Machines have been received by the public, resulting in the sale of 35,000,

we are led to believe that our endeavors to manufacture a RELIABLE MACHINE have been appreciated. We take this opportunity to remark that the policy will be unchanged, and that

GROVER & BAKER S. M. CO.

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 16th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with its impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable form in which Iron is all available in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In PERIODICAL NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of generally marasmus, accompanied with hectic, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no remedy.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron most necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and greatly superior, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and effusions of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual flow of spirits for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, any from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to be great; and it shall be.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to try a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite beautifully, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can tell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming white. I was induced to try one of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1860.

[Correspondence of the Chronicle.]

SIGHT-SEEING IN THE WEST.

We left the readers of the Chronicle at Toledo, the foot of Maumee river and the head of navigation upon Lake Erie, intending to journey westward either by the great Michigan Southern Railroad, to Chicago, or by the Toledo and Wabash road, which connects with the Great Western road at Indiana State line. We chose the latter, because an examination of the map satisfied us that this was truly the air-line route to St. Louis. The Wabash road has labored under the disadvantages incident to new enterprises of the kind; prominent among which is the belief on the part of Eastern people that the only proper line of travel to any section of the West is via the city of Chicago. Travellers are however becoming disabused of this fallacious idea, and the knowledge that a large saving of both time and money can be effected by this shorter and more direct route, is becoming more largely disseminated.

The freighting business of this road is, at the present time, truly immense. Farmers are delivering their grain at all the principal stations, and a hundred car-loads, each holding three hundred bushels, is the average daily freight of this commodity alone. Add to this the usual varieties of merchandise and the immense amount of black walnut lumber conveyed eastward, and you have a freighting business equal, probably, to any road in the country. New Hampshire men are largely employed upon this road. The very efficient Assistant Superintendent, Mr. Carpenter, hails from our State, and the extensive repair shop at Indiana State line is in charge of Mr. John Smith from Strafford county and the vicinity of Dover. The road is admirably managed by Mr. George H. Burroughs, and the most polite and intelligent men are employed as conductors. It was our good fortune to fall into the hands of Messrs. Gilbirds and Whitney, the former seeing us safely to the Indiana line, the latter depositing us in good order at Springfield.

The first hundred miles of our ride was through a rough country, not wholly new to us, and not greatly improved since we looked upon it eight years ago. Defiance presented the same aspect which it bore when we left it for a more congenial dwelling-place. Fort Wayne, the growing city of Indiana, was much improved, and now bids fair to outstrip many of its more pretentious western competitors. The valley of the Wabash, in the State last named, and through which the railroad passes, is delightful—both from its natural position, and also because of the richness of its soil and its excellent system of cultivation. Boundless fields of corn and wheat (the latter ripe for the sickle,) meet the eye at every point. The season has been a most favorble one, and the yield of the cereals abundantly prolific. Last years' crop was considered a remarkable one, but the increase of the product of the present harvest over the last will be several millions of bushels. This, in itself, is a mine of wealth to the hard-handed agriculturist.

At 3 o'clock on Thursday morning we were at the Springfield station, in Illinois, and could not resist the temptation to unite ourselves to the band of pilgrims to the same shrine, and pay a visit to Abraham Lincoln. It is pleasant to look upon great men, always, and it is worth while to linger a little by the way-side to take by the hand one whom even his political opponents acknowledge to be an honest man. Our first view of Mr. Lincoln was in this wise. We were standing upon the steps of the hotel on the morning after our arrival, when our attention was attracted to a passer by. We needed no second glance to convince us that the identical six feet four inches of western bone and muscle represented by the Republican candidate for the Presidency was before us. We approached him with his name and our own upon our lips, and to our astonishment he knew us. A certain scion of the family had told him that so humble a personage as ourself existed in the region of the rising sun, and from this, or some other cause, a cordial greeting awaited us. At his request we walked with him to his office in the State House, where we found a couple of artists in waiting to claim a sitting from the distinguished gentleman. The outlines of his portrait were upon the canvas of Mr. A. J. Conant of St. Louis, who had commenced his sketch the previous evening, and as the sitter took his position we were directed to occupy a place directly in front of Mr. L., and at the artist's side, where we were at liberty to engage in conversation, and where we could also watch the progress of the painter's rapid brush.—Mr. Lincoln conversed genially and entertainingly, at once amusing us by his ready wit, and impressing us by his inexhaustible store of information upon current topics.—We discovered a well-balanced mind, conversant with the poets, a lover of Burns, and a warm admirer of Shakespeare. The sitting ended, friends dropped in, and the conversation soon becoming general, we took our departure in company with Mr. Hatch, Secretary of the State of Illinois, who kindly volunteered to show us around the city; Mr. Lincoln extorting from us a promise to call again. How we kept that promise and something about a conversation with Hon. John F. Stuart, formerly Mr. Lincoln's law partner, we shall tell you in our next. F. F.

LET US FRIGHTEN THEM.—This is virtually the language of a portion of the Breckinridge party at the South, spoken with reference to the Republicans. As an instance, we copy the following deliberate statement from the Charleston Mercury's review of the political aspects of the times, and we bespeak for it the candid attention of our readers:

The Presidential election turns upon a single fact. If the Northern people believe that the Southern people will dissolve their connection with them, should the Black Republican party succeed in electing Lincoln to the Presidency—Lincoln will be defeated. Should they, on the contrary, believe that the Southern people will submit to Black Republican domination, by the election of Lincoln to the Presidency—Lincoln will be elected.

This is the programme. No appeal to principles, no arguments about the duty of electors. We must just make the Republicans believe that we are to have our own way in this country, or we will destroy it, says the man of the Mercury. He concedes that unless the Republicans can be frightened, they will have a legal majority of the votes of the country, and Lincoln will be fairly elected. This is, truly, (remarks the Boston Journal,) a chivalric way of putting things, but we know the gentlemen who are concerned in the game. They are bent on trying it once too often.

ENGLISH OPINION OF MR. LINCOLN.—The London Critic in the course of a long review of the speeches of Hon Abraham Lincoln, the Republican candidate for the Presidency of the American Union, thus refers to his mental powers:—

It is from the speeches Mr. Lincoln has from time to time delivered in opposition to Mr. Douglas, that we gather some idea of his mental qualifications. We collect from the speeches of Mr. Lincoln, that he has a mind rather of the straight-forward than of the subtle order; that he rather seizes upon great and prominent facts and argues them to plain conclusions, than builds up elegant but fragile theories upon the treacherous basis of fanciful speculation; that he is earnest more than passionate, and commanding more than persuasive. Indeed, every one of his speeches which we have read, bears upon the face of it evidence that he is "Honest old Abe."

EUROPE.—Latest news, via Queenstown, July 29. The Syria question remains unchanged. Conferences were being held in Paris, relative to intervention, and it was expected that a convention would soon be signed. It is supposed that the Sultan will decline to sanction intervention.

It is asserted that the Neapolitan troops still hold Messina, and that Garibaldi was there. Another report stated that he was wounded at Melazzo, where the losses were heavy on both sides.

SUN STROKES.—Michael Collins, an Irishman about 40 years of age, fell dead in Newburyport, on Wednesday, from heat, while engaged in shoveling coal from a brig. The heat was so excessive, that workmen generally suspended labor. A teamster named Eustis, was also overcome with the heat of the sun, fell helpless to the ground, and was carried home, but is out of danger. One of the workmen on the Byfield Factory, was sunstruck, from the effects of which he is quite ill.

☞ In Boston, Cambridge, Roxbury, &c., buildings and vessels were struck by lightning, and some damage done by fire, on Wednesday.

A boy of 12 years, an inmate of the Farm School on Thompson's Island, while running across a field to a place of shelter, was struck by the lightning and instantly killed. A boy in his company was knocked down and stunned but not otherwise hurt.

☞ An adjourned (law) term of the Supreme Judicial Court is in session at Manchester. The Judges ought to have adjourned to the Isle of Shoals; it would have been far more comfortable, and besides accommodated the many prominent lawyers of our State who congregate there in dog days.

YEARLING HEIFER PRODUCING A CALF.—Mr. Thomas W. Willan, of Hansfield, Ireland, writes to the "Irish Farmer's Gazette," that his thoroughbred yearling heifer, Nancy Dawson, entered to compete at the Royal Dublin Society's show, has, at the early age of one year and eleven days, given birth to a fine heifer calf.

The following opinion of "counsel learned in the law" is worth at least a hundred of any other ever given by limbs of the profession:

Fee simple and simple fee,
And all the facts in tail,
Are nothing when compared with thee,
Thou best of fees.—Female.

For the Chronicle.

MINISTER NOT A REFORMER.

The world is much indebted to a good ministry. Judas in early times was treacherous to the high trust reposed in him; and some few, at least, in times since, have proved unworthy of their office. I wish to give an account of one in late times, who was not for temperance, that those who read may know how useless and disreputable one may be in such an important calling.

He was of small abilities, and had obtained but little common school education. He had a great gift of gab, and fancied he could preach. Education by the denomination was not then appreciated, and tho' no enlightened pious person had any evidence that the ministry was his work, yet it was hoped he might do some good to the low classes, and some encouragement was given him.

It was some thirty years ago, and the great temperance reform was commencing. It was observed that while all drank moderately, if no more, this man would take some very heavy tips, and that his appetite for cider especially was almost astonishing. Still it was not known that he was intoxicated, only that sometimes his gift of talk was increased and quite shallow.

At the first onset he opposed temperance; said those engaged in it were carrying things too fast and too far. He would not attend temperance meetings, and never has attended but one, I am informed, since.—The people, except some on the side of liquor, had no confidence in him and would not hear him. So he would go into little neighborhoods in other towns, and in the mean time drinking habits increased so that he was seen on the highway intoxicated.—After that he went to a seaport to trade, and on his way home called on a member of the church and took dinner. He was so intoxicated that this man did not ask him to say grace at the table. He had a bottle of spirits with him in his carriage.

Thus things went on, and a committee was sent to labor with him. He told them he had drank to excess, but had left off.—When asked how long since he had used spirits, he said he had used some that day, but it was for a medicine. He then said he had written a pledge to abstain, on a board of the fence back in the pasture. They left him, but not long after the old board fence, where he said he took the pledge, fell down; and as his mighty Temperance Society was in ruins, he felt that he might still go in for liquor.

A person was at his house, and he came home intoxicated; drank cider after he got home, which he said was sweet, not having fermented. He never appeared devotional, but when others were at his house he would have family prayers. At this time, however, he said he must be excused from prayer. The visitor said afterwards that it was well to have him excused.

Thus he has lived. Drunkenness in his neighborhood has existed, but never was repressed by him. It has always been known which side he was on, and drinking has been strengthened by his influence. Some who have drank have despised him at heart for his treachery to temperance, while they have been withering under the woes of intemperance.

He has lived thus far without much if any good reformatory influence. He is not now a member of any church, but still holds forth at times as a preacher when he can find a place where a few will hear him. A year ago some who heard him said, what he said would have seemed well, had they not known who said it.

Reader, beware. Go for reform, by example and precept. Be for temperance, or the highest profession of goodness will be of little or no use to you.

JOHN SMITH, 5TH.

Among the Mountains, Aug. 2.

When the Virginians cut down the Republican liberty pole, the other day, and carried off the flag that had been displayed on it, they sang the following spirited lines, supposed to be either from an unpublished poem by Shakespeare, or a free version from the Etruscan language, not one word of which is known to any man:

Land of the fair faced maid and dark racoon—
Land of the bowie-knife and faultless trigger,—
Land of the glorious flag of stars and stripes,—
The only thing that's striped—except a nigger!

OLD HAMPTON.—The old meeting-house in this town has been turned partly round, remodeled and fitted for a Town House.—A substantial bell tower has been added, and our Hampton friends now enjoy a large and comfortable Town Hall, and one which will be a credit to the town.

☞ The celebrated fat oxen of Mr. David Towle, near the railroad station in Hampton, still continue to pick up their fat, and to be daily visited by crowds of admirers of and wonderers at their enormous bulk.

MANUMISSION OF SLAVES.—W. B. Clifton, of the firm of James, Hewitt & Co., of Liverpool, died in Louisville on Saturday, leaving manumitted all his slaves, four back loads of whom attended the funeral as chief mourners.

Men, contrary to iron, are worst to be wrought upon when they are hot, and are far more tractable in cold blood.

ONE BANNER STRUCK.—The flag of Gen. Tom Thumb, that has hung for two days past over State street, with Douglas and Lincoln, had disappeared last evening. We trust the Little General is not to give it up so; his chances of an election were as good as Breckinridge's, and he would certainly come next to the "Little Giant."—Newburyport Herald.

The little General's banner is flying in Portsmouth for a day or two.

KENTUCKY ELECTION.—A Louisville item of Aug. 8 says:

The election of Coombs is generally conceded by everybody. As far as heard from in thirty-five counties, Coombs leads 13,000. The Breckinridge wing of the Democracy say that the Douglas wing transferred a large portion of their vote from Bolling to Coombs. Coombs' majority, therefore, depends upon the action of the two wings of the Democratic party in the Democratic counties yet to hear from, which are inaccessible by railroad or telegraph.—Some days are yet required to ascertain the final result.

Coombs is the Union candidate.

PIKE'S PEAK.—St. Joseph, Mo., Aug. 8. The Pike's Peak Express has arrived with dates to Aug. 2d.

Last Tuesday three sporting men, named Wood, Steele and Rooker, while intoxicated, entered the office of the Rocky Mountain Club newspaper, and forced the editor, Mr. William H. Byers, to accompany them to the Criterion Saloon, threatening to kill any one who should interfere to rescue him. He finally made his escape to his office, but was followed by the rowdies who fired a volley from their revolvers into the building, which was returned, wounding Steele.

The whole town was by this time aroused and turned out in pursuit of the party.—Steele was shot in the head, and the other two captured shortly afterwards. The feeling in favor of lynching them was strong, but finally they were both reserved for a trial. Wood was once a destroying angel at Salt Lake City, but fled here, having destroyed a Saint. All three are desperate characters.

New discoveries of gold are reported.—Weather is dry and warm.

CONSPIRACY TO BURN A RAILROAD BRIDGE.—Chicago, Aug. 8.—Josiah W. Bissell was arrested here last night, and Walter F. Chadwick at Rock Island, both charged with a conspiracy to burn the railroad bridge across the Mississippi at Rock Island. A bill of indictment was found against them this morning by the Grand Jury. Bissell is an agent of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce, and of certain parties who have suits pending against the bridge. Chadwick is the attorney in the cases. The evidence of a plan to burn the bridge is said to be conclusive.

MISSOURI.—A dispatch from St. Louis, Aug. 8, says:

Barrett, for the short term, has 146 majority, and Blair, for the long term, 1385 maj. About two hundred Blair votes have been thrown out.

[This looks like the old trick played over.]

Rollins, opposition, for Congress, has been elected for the Second District.

ARKANSAS ELECTION.—Smith Johnson, for Governor, will probably be elected by 10,000 majority.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.—A correspondent at Hampton, N. H., informs the Boston Journal that a dwelling house in the eastern part of the town, belonging to the heirs of Jonathan Marston, was struck by lightning during a heavy thunder shower, Wednesday evening, and a woman, wife of John Brown, who occupied a part of the house, was killed. No other person was injured.

☞ A deer which has been kept in the yard of the Manchester Print Works for over two years, got frightened one day last week, and swimming across the Merrimac, escaped into the woods. An enterprising gunner shot the deer, and carried the meat into Manchester for sale; but the people were grieved and indignant at the loss of their pet.

FIRE.—The stables of the City Hotel, in Newark, N. J., were burnt on Wednesday forenoon, and three horses were also burned. The fire was set by an incendiary. Two other incendiary attempts were made at the same time, but failed.

NEW YORK, Aug. 8.—It is rumored that a southern planter is missing from Long Branch, and is supposed to have been the person murdered last night. A negro waiter is said to have been arrested, on suspicion of murdering the planter, for imagined insults.

There was one death from sun-stroke to day.

☞ The lightning is the "rail-splitter." A farmer near the Creek Bridge has brought into our office a splinter which was split from a cherry tree in Frenchman's Lane by a stroke of lightning, on Wednesday afternoon.

☞ Gov. Stewart, of Missouri, being in St. Louis the other day, the Evening Bulletin says, "Strange to say, the Governor was sober up to our going to press."

☞ The Rockingham Association of Universalists hold their annual meeting at Dover, next week, viz., on Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 15th and 16th, and many distinguished clergymen will be present.

Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Kittery Point, Me., next Sunday; and at Nottingham Square, N. H., on Sunday, Aug. 19.

CITY COUNCIL.—On Thursday evening, Mr. Charles A. Wiggin resigned his seat in the City Council—which resignation was accepted—he being proposed as a member of the City Watch.

The resignation of Mr. John E. Rider, which was tendered and laid upon the table several months since, was taken up and accepted.

The Board of Mayor and Aldermen informed the Common Council that they had failed to elect certain city officers, and that they were ready to meet the Common Council in convention for the election of said officers.

The Com. Council returned notice to the Aldermen that they were ready to meet in convention "now"—the Aldermen declined, and voted to meet this (Friday) evening—the Com. Council declined this—and both adjourned to Thursday evening next. So no city officers are elected yet.

☞ The showers of Wednesday afternoon were accompanied with long-continued and severe thunder and sharp lightning, which struck at several points in this vicinity. The new house on Salter's Island, owned by Mr. Marston of Lynn, was struck on a chimney, and the fluid passed down and through the house, doing some damage; but no person was injured, though there were three in the house, one of whom was lying on a sofa, within eight feet of the lightning's path. They state that three balls of fire, as large as a man's fist, passed about the rooms. A barn in Kittery was struck and set on fire, but extinguished with little damage. Trees were also struck near C. E. Myers' farm, in Frenchman's Lane, and elsewhere.

☞ Sheriff Adams has appointed the following Deputies:

N. K. Leavitt, Exeter;
Levi G. Towle, "
Benj. S. Clifford, Epping;
Jos. P. Morse, Portsmouth;
Wm. S. Ring, Northwood;
Amos Kimball, Kingston;
Ezra A. J. Sawyer, Deerfield;
Caleb Moulton, Hampstead;
Geo. W. Barker, Derry;
Amos C. Clement, Plaistow;
Miles Durgin, Newmarket;
Frank B. Berry, Pittsfield;
Daniel L. Stevens, Manchester.

Messrs. Towle of Exeter, and Morse of this city, were Deputies under Sheriff Brown. Messrs. Leavitt of Exeter, and Clifford of Epping, are officers of long experience, having been Deputies before their appointment under the late Sheriff. Mr. Durgin is also an old officer who has had many years experience in the capacity of Deputy.

The appointments seem to have been judiciously made, and men of business qualifications selected by Sheriff Adams for his deputies.

Perhaps, for an equal aggregate population, the Jews in and about London have produced more famous pugilists than any other race of people in the British Islands.—Wilkes' Spirit.

In this poor life we may not cross
One virtuous instinct without loss;
And the soul grows not to its height,
Unless it loves with utmost might.

☞ Henry Ward Beecher is erecting an immense barn on his farm at Peekskill, a fact which induces the good country people for miles around to visit the country residence of the Brooklyn Shepherd.

QUA AND QUOG.—The item about the boy drowned at Manchester, the other day, should have read that he was drowned in the Piscata*quog* river, not the Piscata*qua*.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c., &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practical ly tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely required to draw a plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in these points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837,

70 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished for a Dollar. One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, INEARY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freedom from dust, noise, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box frame Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable—she says the world and exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of order, call on Mr. Wuttemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a household, to be sure and have a Family Book, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, the trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids are bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from physical exhausted in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of chronic complaints, some, magnificent examples of critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be important, for, unlike the old oxide, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the long pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and which invite the fatal remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

IN RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well received, and as an alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

IN CUTANEOUS DISEASES it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the chalybeate or any other medicinal, which such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, and an unusual inclination for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

THE FIFTH KITTEN.

Once there was a little girl, and her name was Emma, and it was me. And she had a great large brown cat, and her name was Hepzibah, but the little girl called her Heppy. And one day she went to give Heppy her supper, and no Heppy was there; and so I went to Heppy's bed, that she had in a box in the back kitchen, and there I saw five little wee kittens tumbling about with their eyes shut; and Heppy mewed and the little girl took out all the kittens and set them on the floor, and Heppy was very proud, and the little blind things hobbled about for a while; she then put them back, and went to the parlor, and told mother.—And the little girl's mother said I might keep one, and all the others must be drowned. And the little girl cried, and after supper she went to her room and sat in the dark, and thought, and thought, for nearly an hour.

And then I jumped up, and took down my slate from the nail, and wrote, "Give one kitten to Mrs. Andrews." And then I sat down, and thought, and thought, and all at once another thing came into my mind, and I took the slate and wrote down, "Give another to Miss Sophronia;" that was the little girl's teacher. And then I thought again, till the clock in the entry struck nine, and, just as it struck the ninth time, it came to me that father used to say he wanted a cat at the barn, and so I wrote that down. Then it was bed time, and still there was one kitten left. Oh, that was a dreadful evening! I went to bed, and cried, and thought, and cried, till I found myself going to sleep, and still nothing would come into my mind about that poor little fifth kitten.

And I thought, What a cruel thing you are, Emma, to go to sleep, and forget about the poor little thing that has to be drowned to-morrow. So I pinched myself until I was wide awake, and then, all of a sudden I thought of old Hanny, by the creek (her name is Annie, but they call her Mammy Hanny for short,) and she had four cats already, that she took from people to save from being drowned; but I thought that she'd take another, and so I felt easy in my mind, and went to sleep. And next morning, long before breakfast, I ran down to Mam Hanny, and she was not up, and the door was bolted, and she told me if I got a stick and put it through a hole in the door, the bolt would push back; and I went in, and told Mam Hanny about the fifth kitten.

And she said she had three too many now, but she would walk over and look at them, and if there was a very pretty one she might take it, and I told her they were all beautiful; and so she went over with me, and I took her to the back kitchen, and I put the five kittens on the floor, and Mam Hanny looked at them a great while, and at last she picked out the prettiest, and said if it had only been black, with a white nose, and a white collar round its neck, and a white tip on its tail, she thought she would have kept it; and then she put on her bonnet, and all was as bad as ever for the poor little fifth kitten.

And mother said it must be drowned, and she sent for Jake, and he brought a big bucket of water from the stable, and mother told us all to go away, and take the poor old mother puss with us till it was all over: and I said no—if the darling little fifth kitten must be killed I knew Heppy would rather I should do it than Jake, for Heppy did not like Jake. So I sent Jake away, and mother carried Heppy to the parlor, and Hanny and I took them all out of the box, and I did not know what to do, for we couldn't tell which was the fifth kitten; and I said, when I wrote down one for father, I am sure I meant the brown one; and when I wrote down one for Mrs. Andrews, I think it was the yellow and black; but the other three are all mixed up in my mind, and I don't see how we can tell which I meant for the fifth. And Mam Hanny said we should put the two in the box, and put the other three in my lap, and the first that crawled out should be the poor little fifth.

And so we did, and I sat quite still for a good many minutes, and then the darling little white with brown ears, put out its little soft paws, and travelled over my knee and down to my foot, and rolled itself on the floor, and I sighed, and Mam Hanny sighed, and I took my darling little fifth and dropped it into the water, and I turned my back to the bucket, and Mam Hanny stood off by the wall, and shut her lips tight, and said nothing; and all at once her face got very red, and she dashed up to the bucket, and took out the little fifth, and wiped it dry with her apron, and turned to me quite angry, and said, "Now she had five, and I never should dare to offer her a kitten again, for she wouldn't take it; and then I remembered that she said just that last winter, when I gave her the gray and black with white feet. And so she left it a few days, and then took it home, and it was the funniest little fat thing you ever saw; and there it is this very day, and that's all.—From Children's Holidays.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining ground among this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test.—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using bottle and a half, restored his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was so pidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreable.
S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 11, 1860.

LIBEL ON LEE.

In 1842 appeared the second edition of a book called "Universalism Examined, Renounced, Exposed — by Matthew Hale Smith." It was a very curious book, and was the more saleable, because Mr. Smith himself delivered the substance of it all round the country, to audiences of Orthodox Congregationalists, to which he then attached himself.

Subsequent events have so put the book and its author out of favor with that denomination, that the book is rarely mentioned, and its author, when he wished to go back into his old ministerial association, was met with a unanimous negative!

Nevertheless, one preacher in New Hampshire, not very long ago, took occasion to discourse against Universalism and Universalists, and to make assurance doubly sure, told the substance of the following story from Smith's book:—

In the year 1839, I was invited to preach in the town of Lee, New Hampshire. The Sabbath was very pleasant, and a great concourse of people attended meeting. At the close of the morning service, we all went to the tavern. During the intermission, the bar-room was full, and the incessant sound of the toddy-stick announced to me that the waiter was constantly employed. The weather being warm, and the doors all open, I could hear the discussion of the merits of the sermon, and the commendations, mingled with oaths, which they bestowed upon the preacher. All were not thus employed. Some were trading horses; some betting on the relative speed of their animals, and threatening to test the matter when meeting should be done. At the close of the meeting, a scene occurred that I cannot represent. It seemed like the breaking up of some military review. So much cursing and swearing, rude and vulgar jesting, horse-racing and running, that my pen can do little towards describing it. I turned from the whole spectacle sick at heart; ashamed, mortified, and alarmed, that I was the preacher of a doctrine which called such a collection and such characters together.

In the school-house audience to whom this tirade was addressed, happened to be a well-known and worthy citizen, who at once set the matter right, by saying—

"I was the person who procured the subscription, employed Mr. Smith to preach at Lee, and paid him $15 for his services.—I called for his dinner at the tavern, and paid for it, and was in the room with him all the time he was there; but there were no such doings as he represents. The people did not all go to the tavern at intermission, though many did so, for there were few houses near; and there was no such rattling of toddy-sticks, no horse trading, nor betting; no such boisterous or profane talk, nor horse-racing, at the close of the meeting, as he describes. In short there was nothing out of the common course in a congregation so large, gathered from a farming district, and having a large number of horses and carriages together for three or four hours."

This plain statement, from such a man, spoiled the story, and took the edge from the weapon of offence at the same time.

☞ The U. S. steamer Bibb, of the Coast Survey, Lieut. A. Maury commanding, has arrived in Newport harbor, from the coast of Labrador, to which region she was despatched for scientific purposes connected with the recent eclipse of the sun. The Bibb encountered a severe gale of wind on the 5th ult., which she rode out without damage; 8th ult., had to run into harbor on account of a thick fog which prevailed. On the 11th ult., in a thick fog, struck upon a ledge of rocks in the Straits of Nain, split stem and twisted portions of keel. 5th inst, weather foggy, struck on Ragged Island, N. S., but came off immediately afterwards; not, however, without causing her to leak to such degree as to keep the steam pump constantly at work to keep her free. The officers report seeing icebergs almost constantly after the first of July, some of which were as far south as the Straits of Belle Isle.

☞ Concerning the August elections, there are no late returns of interest. The New York Herald says they have had enough of them to be satisfied that Bell is ahead in all the border States, with the best chance in North Carolina and Tennessee; and that Breckinridge men can have no hope of an election. It desires a new man to be trotted out, that shall unite all the friends of Douglas, Bell and Breckinridge. A little too late, says the Newburyport Herald.

☞ The St. Louis Express (Bell-Everett organ) asserts most positively that $30,000 was sent to that city two years ago by Postmaster Fowler of New York, now a fugitive defaulter, to aid in defeating Frank Blair. The Express declares that whenever the proof is demanded, it shall be produced.

☞ Michael Barry, aged 50, a porter, dropped dead in Spring Lane, Boston, on Wednesday, from the great heat.

WIFE BEATING IN FASHIONBLE LIFE. The practice of beating wives is not confined exclusively to the low and ignorant, but has its votaries in the upper walks of life, even among the wealthy and fashionable. A case of the latter kind has recently transpired in Fifth Avenue dom, New York, the sufferer being the wife of Mr. I. M. Singer, who appeared before a magistrate on Tuesday last, and swore out a complaint against her husband for "choking and beating without justification."

A warrant was made out forthwith and placed in the hands of the officers, but on repairing to Singer's residence, they were told he was not in. The warrant had not been returned up to Wednesday evening. Mrs. Singer declared, on making the complaint, that she would not return to her husband's residence until he was arrested.

KILLED AT PRAYER.—We have already mentioned the death of Mrs. John Brown by lightning, on Wednesday, at Hampton. Our correspondent sends us the following particulars:

"During the thunder storm, Wednesday evening, a house owned by Uri Lamprey, Esq., and occupied by Mr. Dearborn and Mr. Brown, was struck by lightning, and Mrs. Brown, an Irish lady, was instantly killed, while at prayer, having just made the remark to Mrs. Dearborn, that if the Lord was to take them, she knew of nothing better to be doing than to be at prayer. She leaves four small children to the care of her husband. The house is so much damaged as not to be worth repairing."

DAMAGE BY LIGHTNING.—A barn belonging to Mr. John S. Furber, near Londonderry, N. H., depot, was struck by lightning Wednesday afternoon, and with a large quantity of hay and grain, four cows, two sheep and one horse, was burned. A little boy of Mr. Furber's, eight years old, is supposed to have been burned in the building.

The barn of Moses Hazelton, Chester, was destroyed, with contents, and probably the house. Mrs. S. C. Gilman of Janesville, received a severe shock, but not dangerously injuring her.

A vivid sheet of flames was seen to descend on the house and barn of John L. Folsom, in Manchester, but it passed off on the rods, stunning one or two persons, shaking the house, and frightening the whole neighborhood. Many trees and other objects in its vicinity were struck. A woman in the Derry depot was struck senseless.

☞ A house in Andover, Mass., was struck by lightning on Wednesday, and only slightly damaged; but the same lightning passed to the barn, close by, set it on fire, and burnt it down.

FIRE AT ROLLINSFORD. — About 11 o'clock Tuesday forenoon, the barn of Luther Horne, near Rollinsford depot, was discovered to be on fire; and so rapid was the progress of the flames, that before assistance could arrive, the barn, house and outbuildings were all burned to the ground. Mrs. Horne, was confined to her bed with a child about a week old, but was taken out on her bed and carried to a neighbor's house. Mr. Horne's loss will probably amount to about $2500, as he has lost all his hay, some grain, several hogs, and a fine young horse. We learn that he was insured to the amount of $1500. H.

LAST OF THE EVENING GUN.—The old practice observed in New Orleans, of firing cannon at the hour for slaves to be at home, was carried out July 30 for the last time. On the 1st inst. all the bells connected with the fire alarm telegraph struck one tap to mark the hour of sunset, at noon; and at nine o'clock, P. M., nine taps as the signal for negroes and to mark the hour likewise.

IMPRISONED FOR PROPOSING MARRIAGE IN THE STREET.—In Williamsburg, N. Y., on Sunday evening, a young man by the name of Willetts, with three other impertinent scamps, amused themselves by addressing the ladies they met in the street, and making proposals of marriage. An officer overhauled them, but all except Willetts escaped, and he was sentenced to ten days' imprisonment.

UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT TO ARREST SHERMAN M. BOOTH.—A Deputy United States Marshall attempted to arrest Sherman M. Booth, who recently escaped from the United States authorites at Milwaukie, while he was speaking at a public meeting in Ripon, Wisconsin, on Saturday evening. Great excitement ensued, and the marshal was hustled out of the room in a very rough fashion, his clothing being torn off.

☞ The Doncaster, (Eng.) Gazette says that Wm. Middleton, farm laborer to Mr. Thomas Chester, of Huggin, near Doncaster, has walked to and from his work for eighteen years the distance of 19,656 miles, and threshed with a flail in a barn for seventeen years, and during that time never lost five days from sickness or from any other cause.

CALIFORNIA NEWS, overland, from San Francisco, July 28.

Several prominent Democrats, who at first sided with Douglas, have turned over to Breckinridge.

Addresses have been published favoring Breckinridge.

The friends of Douglas are very active. It is expected that all the Germans and Irish will vote for him.

Seventeen newspapers have come out in favor of Douglas, and thirteen in favor of Breckinridge.

A man named Witzen was murdered in Sacramento, and his house robbed, under circumstances that led to the suspicion that Wm. Watts was the murderer. Watts was arrested on the 23d, at the Washoe mines. On the night of the 27th, while being conveyed to Sacramento, under charge of three men, he slipped his handcuffs, took a pistol from one of his guards, and shot all of them, killing two instantly, and wounding the other so badly that he died the next day,—and made his escape.

It is reported that the Pacific Mail Company have purchased steamers Brother Jonathan, Senator and Pacific, which gives them the entire ocean and steam navigation to and from all ports north and south of San Francisco.

A strong effort is being made to prove the will of Senator Broderick a forgery.

VOLCANIC ERUPTION IN ICELAND.—Accounts from Iceland give an account of an eruption, after 39 years repose, of the volcano called the Rotlugia of the Myrdalejokel mountains. On the 7th of May, several shocks of earthquake were experienced in the parish of Myrcal, in which the volcano is situated, and the day after an enormous volume of water was cast up from the crater. Mixed with the water were large quantities of cinders, and the eruption was accompanied by a subterranean noise. On the 11th and 12th, smoke, cinders, and balls of fire were thrown up. The smoke rose to such a height that it could be seen at Reikjavig, though at a distance of more than 22 miles and though mountains five thousand feet high rise between these two places. The eruption continued with intervals more or less long to the 26th, but it did no harm to places in the vicinity, the cinders and other things it threw up being carried by the wind partly to sea and partly on to some glaciers. It presented a very imposing spectacle. Previous eruptions of the same volcano did great injury; one in 1625, in particular, was terrible, and it is reported that some of the cinders thrown up were actually carried as far as Bergen in Norway. Another on the 17th of October, 1772, caused devastation in five parishes; it preceded by a fortnight, the earthquake at Lisbon.

NEW YORK, Aug. 9.—At Boundbrook, N. J., recently, Col. Lewis Long, jealous of his wife, strangled her to death, and then killed himself.

A Mrs. Dotson attempted suicide by laudanum on account of the reported infidelity of her husband, but is recovering.

ELECTIONS.—Louisville, Ky., Aug. 9.—The returns from fifty-three counties, a large proportion of which are official, and the remainder nearly complete, now show a majority of 22,170 for Coombs.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 9.—In six counties, Orr gains over Rollins's majorities in 1858, 1400. In thirteen counties, Jackson gains over Stewart's majorities, 3400.

CAUSE OF DEATH.—A young boy died in Newburyport a few days since from internal inflammation; and a post mortem examination proved that he had swallowed the hull of an oat or some grain, which lodging in the intestines had gathered matter and caused death. But a short time before he had swallowed a cent, from which no evil resulted.—Herald.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 9.—The Breckinridge State Convention met to-day. Messrs. May and Taylor were excluded from the electoral ticket—and Breckinridge men substituted.

The Douglas Convention meets on the 16th.

[This looks as if Bell might get the vote of Maryland.]

The President visited the Great Eastern to-day. There was a large crowd.

BURLINGTON, N. J., Aug. 6.—Geo. Aiken was shot dead at Red Lion, near Vincentown, yesterday, by a man named John H. Conover. It is alleged that Aiken ravished Conover's wife, and the latter got a warrant for the former's arrest. Aiken threated to take Conover's life if the warrant was not withdrawn, and went to the latter's house, yesterday, when he was shot on the spot as above stated. Conover was arrested.

The heat of the sun was so great in Philadelphia on Tuesday that the yellow pine steps to a house in the upper part of the city were set on fire by the sun's rays and nearly destroyed before the fire was discovered.

An Irish waiter once complimented a salmon in the following manner; "Faith, it's not two hours since that salmon was walking round his real estate wid his hands in his pockets, never dreaming what a polite invitation he'd have to jine you gentlemen at dinner."

IF you would learn how to bow, watch a mean man when he talks to a gentleman of wealth. A narrow-minded man can no more stand upright in the presence of a money-bag, than he can throw a somersault over the moon.

STUDENT seeking board (being of a pious mind.)—I wish a nice, quiet room, where I should be uninterrupted in my devotions. Landlady—Oh, in that case I always require the price of board in advance?

What is idleness? A public mint, where various kinds of mischief are coined, and extensively circulated among the most despicable of the human race.

A PROVIDENCE DAMSEL WAITING FOR HER FIANCE.—George Chapman, a peripatetic lecturer on Spiritualism, was arrested in Hartford last Friday, for obtaining a new coat under false pretences, having left as security for payment a check for his trunk at one of the depots in that city, but which proved to be a check belonging to a railroad in this State. The Courant says that upon searching Chapman, nothing was found excepting a package contained a poster announcing that George Chapman and Miss Mary Ann Smith would lecture upon Spitualism at the Boston Melodeon on the evening of July 6th. Tickets were to be 50 cents. Mr. Chapman was to open the meeting with prayer; and those who were dissatisfied with the entertainment were to have their money refunded. The package also contained a pocket-book containg one cent and a brass medal, with letters showing him to have been engaged to two young ladies at one time. One of these writes from Providence and the other from Farmington—and both are anxious to know why they hear nothing from him, and both appear willing to be married right away.—Providence Press, 6th.

POPULATION OF PORTSMOUTH.—Messrs. Editors:—It would seem, by a statement in the Journal of last week, that from some source the editor thereof asserts that the population of this city has not yet reached 10,000 persons. This statement is a matter of much surprise to many; and unless we have the figures officially, we must dispute the statement. The census returns of 1850 gave the population as 9736; this needs only an increase of 264 inhabitants to give 10,000.

Now let us look at a few facts. There have been built, within the past ten years, in this city, including the suburbs, more than one hundred and fifty houses, which are now nearly all occupied. There are more stores occupied for business purposes than there were ten years ago, and more goods sold; and the business men will compare favorably, so far as credit is concerned, with any other place in New England—therefore there must be more customers, and the business must pay. The shoe and brewery businesses have increased the population from one to two hundred; the Irish population has increased within ten years nearly three hundred; the number of children of this class of people, now running about the streets, has increased wonderfully within the last five years. Where there was one servant girl kept ten years since, in this city, there are now four—nearly all of these are from the Emerald Isle, and have come out within ten years past.

The number of rateable polls has increased about three hundred during this time.—Who are all these people? Do they only come here election day, or do they live among us? Are they spirits, or are they inhabitants who walk our streets and eat and drink like ourselves? The births always offset the deaths in almost any community; and there is no loss in this respect here. Any one formerly a resident, now visiting here, once a year, always remarks, "How many strange faces I pass on the street—I do not know half the people I meet; once I knew everybody." Now these people have all come among us within a few years, and added so much to the population. The fact is, our population must be more than 10,000. How is it Mr. Census Taker? Don't be afraid to speak out—nobody will hurt you. Our impression is, the Census is taken for the benefit of the people, who have to pay for it—and not for the exclusive use of a dozen clerks in the Department at Washington. CAPUT.

Our correspondent is right in supposing that the Census ought to be made public—but he is wrong in blaming the special Deputy Marshal who takes the Census, for keeping it private.

The old rule for Census-taking used to be, that the Marshal should deposit a copy of his returns in some public place, as a hotel, &c., for a fortnight, with a notice of the same, for examination, and that notice could be given to him of errors for correction.

But the rule laid down now is to keep all close, and return it for inspection of the Census Bureau only. This rule, absurd as it is, is enforced on the Marshals by heavy penalties, and they must obey it.

Uncle Toby's guess for the population, expressed before the census was taken, was, that it would not much if any exceed 10,000, and would probably fall a little below. We shall soon have the figures, and we dare say correctly given.

☞ Gen. Tom Thumb is one of the few phenomena of nature which are entirely pleasant to look upon—besides being one of the greatest (while the smallest) wonder in the world. And with good vocal and instrumental music, if the General can't make out a pleasant levee, we don't know who can. This afternoon and evening are the last chances to enjoy it.

NEGRO INSURRECTION.—New York, Aug. 10.—Advices from Sombrero Island report a serious insurrection among the negroes employed there in loading guano.—The insurrectionists, 200 in number, were imprisoned. Snow, the Superintendent, was fatally injured. His murderer was under arrest. The negroes refused all offers to go to work, and held possession of the island at last accounts.

The meeting of the Pennsylvania State Committee yesterday was largely attended. The two divisions of the party agreed to form an electoral ticket headed by Breckinridge or Douglas, and in the event of success of said ticket the vote of the State shall be cast for Breckinridge and Lane, or Douglas and Johnson, accordingly as the result shall show which of the two tickets shall have had a majority of the votes cast for both.

THE GREATEST DUEL ON RECORD.—The famous duel, in which forty or more gentlemen were engaged in 1828, is still remembered in Natchez. Col. Jim Bowie the famous fighter, and inventor of the knife which bears his name, used to spend a great deal of his time in Natchez. He was challenged by a gentleman of Alexandria, La., whose friends to the number of twenty or more accompanied him to Natchez to see fair play, knowing that Bowie was a desperate man, and had his own friends about him. All parties went upon the field. The combatants took their places in the centre, separated from their friends in the rear, just enough not to endanger them with their balls. Behold the battle array thus: twenty armed Louisianians fifty yards behind their champion and his seconds and surgeon; and opposite them, as far behind Bowie and his seconds and surgeons, twenty armed Mississippians. Behold the heights of Natchez thronged with spectators, and a steamer in the river, rounded to, its decks black with passengers, watching all with the deepest interest. The plan to fight was to exchange shots twice with pistols, and to close with knives. Bowie having his own favorite weapon.—At the first fire both parties escaped. At this Bowie's second cried "foul play!" and shot the Louisianian dead. The second of the latter instantly killed the slayer of his principal. Bowie drove his knife into this man. The surgeons now crossed blades, while with loud battle cries came on the two parties of friends, the light of battle in their eyes. In a moment the whole number were engaged in a fearful conflict. Dirks, pistols, and knives were used with fatal effect, until one party drove the other from the field. I do not know how many were killed or wounded in all, but it was a dreadful slaughter. Bowie fought like a lion, but fell covered with wounds. For months he lingered at the Mansion House before he fully recovered.—Woodville, Miss., Republican.

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device is fully accomplish, the desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farmer friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as other chaseis for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

THE EXPRESS MONOPOLY,—AGAIN.—Messrs. Editors:—The communication of your correspondent, "Outside Connection," on the Express Business between Concord and Portsmouth, states some important facts, particularly that of Mr. White's smooth way of getting along in his business. The smoothness of his temper and the kindness of his demeanor have aided largely in building up the express business where he is a partner, and contributed greatly to his general prosperity.

I hope something may be done to improve the business on the express route from Portsmouth to Concord, thereby improving the trade of this city; and if the statements of O. C. are generally correct, I have no doubt some new man will do well in the business, especially if he has as "smooth a way" as Mr. White, and attends to his business as closely and pleasantly.

CLOSE CONNECTION.

A DUKE GIVES HUMBOLDT THE LIE. Humboldt's letters to Varnhagen Von Ense are still making a stir in Germany, where many editions have been printed. Many of its statements are disputed; and it is related that the Grand Duke of Saxe Weimar has taken a very decided method of contradicting a story told about him. The story is this, as given by Humboldt to Varnhagen: "Once, after a gentleman not belonging to the nobility, had left the company, he, (the Grand Duke) expressed with great satisfaction the comfortable feeling, 'Now, we are amongst ourselves.' Another time, when it was noticed that there were thirteen at dinner table, he replied consolingly, that 'there were two commoners amongst them, who did not count for anything.' This he told Humboldt in French, because, as he said, 'these two would not understand it.'"

When the book arrived in Weimar the Grand Duke took a copy, wrote on the margin opposite this passage: "This is a lie.—Karl August," and then deposited it in the town library.

What is the difference between a candle in the Mammoth Cave, and a dance in a public house? "Well, you see as how the one is a taper in a cavern, and the other is a caper in a tavern."

It is a curious fact in the grammar of politics, that when statesmen get into place, they often become oblivious of their antecedents, but are seldom forgetful of their relatives.

It is curious that some learned ducces because they can write nonsense in dead languages, think themselves better than men who can talk sense in living ones.

Spring and Summer Goods.

J. E. HAM & Co., - - 9 Congress St.

That can be found in the city, comprising FRENCH, SCOTCH, GERMAN and DOMESTIC manufactures.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, now resident of 1857.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into any invention or foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is more SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can show, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, in addition to a copious library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Rooms are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and aperitive power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freedom from dust and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAIRE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, for the option of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 16th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Established by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, medical dismissal, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gentle purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably efficacious and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing fibroid tenderness, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, and proved truly very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been notably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat fint metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

☞ The Boston Transcript, giving an account of the Commencement at Amherst College, says:

A large audience attended the Rev. F. D. Huntington's sermon before the "Society of Inquirers." The subject of the discourse was "The Permanency and Growth of the Christian System," which was treated under seven divisions. At the conclusion the speaker is reported to have said:

"There may be shiftings and shufflings on the surface; but the Lord reigneth thro' and over all, as his own sealed people know. The cross and the church—these are the symbols and instruments for the conversion of the world; and tossing off, as the spray of the sea, all doubt and sin, every nation and race, the whole world shall join in the loud acclaim—'Glory be to the Father, Son and Holy Ghost.'"

It will not do to call Mr. Huntington's address a sermon, for he does not preach now, but only talks; and it is better to call him ex-Professor than Reverend, because he is now only in his six months' probation to enter Holy Orders in the Protestant Episcopal Church.

The Catholicity and liberality of the extract from his address imply nothing less than the restitution of all things, and the salvation and bliss of the whole world, as believed and rejoiced in by the distinguished author and lecturer.

Two Naval Celebrities.—A singular coincidence in the movements of two men-of-war, which took place recently, is worth remarking. An English frigate, prized by all loyal Britons for having captured a Yankee craft—and a Yankee frigate, whose heroic defeat and capture of two British national vessels, fill so glorious a page in our naval annals—both being, in maritime parlance, invalids, have, within a few days of each other, been equipped for a cruise and sent to sea. Her Majesty's frigate Shannon, the captor of the Chesapeake, left Portsmouth, England, a few days ago, to make her annual cruise; and "Old Ironsides," commanded by an officer of 1812 notoriety, a little while after, left Portsmouth, United States, for a cruise preparatory to taking her station at Annapolis. Each was about to be broken up some years ago, and each was saved by a song writer, Messrs. Holmes and Tennyson having poetically remonstrated with "the powers that be" against destroying "those old monuments of naval heroism."

☞ George Law and Gustavus Conover have got an injunction from Judge Betts, restraining the United States from levying upon their property to satisfy the $75,000 sueties for Isaac V. Fowler. They have, however, gone through the formality of giving $200,000 bonds to abide the result of the allegation that the Goverment was aware that Fowler was a defaulter before they became his bondsmen.

☞ Mr. A. F. Rowe while gunning in the woods at Lisbon, N. H., Friday, loading his fowling piece which had been for a number of years in use, for the purpose of shooting a hawk. As he discharged the piece it burst, one fragment striking him in the nose and others upon one of his hands, inflicting severe but not dangerous wounds.

☞ The potato disease has been ravaging the fields of the entire southern coasts of Ireland. The only hope for the crop existed in the fact that dry weather might yet preserve it from destruction.

☞ Archbishop Hughes announces the cessation of work on the new cathedral in course of erection at the corner of Fifth avenue and Fiftieth street, New York.—The cause is the want of funds.

A soldier on sentry was noticed by his officer as having a black eye, and was reproved for fighting. "Please, sir," replied the soldier, "wasn't it for that purpose you engaged me?"

It was said in the olden time that the body was more than raiment; but now the raiment is often a great deal more than the body in value, and full five times as much in circumference.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my milky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been gray ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size: viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

MONDAY, AUGUST 13, 1860.

CALIFORNIA.—Rev. T. S. King is writing very interesting letters to the Boston Transcript. It has been generally supposed here that all the farmers in California had to do was to put in the seed and harvest their crops; but Mr. King says:

The fields show plentiful specimens of the great pests of many California valleys. Ground squirrels were scampering over the soil by scores, and had evidently sapped the land by the acre. But the gopher is even a more destructive foe to the farmers. They are a kind of mole, with a wide pouch on each side of their mouth, extending half way down the body. They dig into the earth, fill their pouches with dirt, back out with it to unload, and then return to their sapping industry. One of them will often bore a tunnel straight across a large field, with no opening for air, and gnaw the barley roots, and make a clean sweep. Of course a dozen of them will soon riddle an acre. Perhaps they are the prophecy, the forerunners of the tunnel-miners in the mountains here, who have bored into the hills to strike quartz veins, or rich gravelly deposits, and have sometimes so gopherized the foundations of a village or town, that parts of it have settled as though an earthquake had shaken it.

The horses hold out wonderfully on the drive in California. It seems to be impossible to tire horse-flesh in the California air. A stable-keeper at a place called "Mountain View," ten miles from San Jose, told Mr. King that he had, more than once, driven a horse from "Frisco" (as they call San Francisco) and back—eighty miles—in a day; and had often driven there in ten minutes less than four hours. And he said that it didn't "hurt horses half so much to go them eighty miles, as it did to drive 'em from Boston to Bigelow's in Lexington and back, on a winter night."

A BRAVE POLICEMAN.—The San Francisco Times gives an account of a dreadful rencontre between officer David H. Rand (formerly of Portsmouth) and a desperado named Jacob Keimes, alias Steamboat Jack, in which the officer was terribly wounded, and the villain Keimes very properly shot and killed.

The officer had received a warrant for the arrest of Keimes, on a charge of assault and battery on a prostitute. Knowing the accused was usually to be found about the dance cellars, the officer proceeded to them and found Keimes coming out of one. He immediately approached, and laying his hand on his shoulder informed him of his arrest. Keimes, instead of submitting, jerked away and ran. The officer pursued and overtook him, and upon seizing him a second time, remarked that he had better be quiet, and that there was no use in running. Keimes had a large clasp-knife open in his hand, and replied by making a murderous attack upon the officer with it, striking him so severe a blow in the left temple as to momentarily stun and throw him upon the ground. The prisoner then ran.

Though stunned by the cut on the temple, the officer soon recovered, and resolutely pursued the escaping man. In the course of a few hundred yards he again overtook and seized him, when Keimes, a second time, turned and inflicted more stabs upon the officer. The desperado thrust the deadly knife repeatedly, cutting the side of Rand's coat absolutely to pieces, and producing a wound of fearful extent.

When he had thus effected his purpose, and supposed that the officer was dead, or entirely disabled, Keimes turned to run for the third time. He had barely turned, however, when the officer drew his revolver, and with an effort to seize the prisoner again, fired. The shot was effective. It struck Keimes about the middle of the back, two inches to the left of the spine, and brought him to the ground. As he fell, he threw his knife to one side; but it was observed by the officer, and afterwards picked up. Keimes was removed to the hospital, where he died. He was a Prussian, about 33 years old, and very large and muscular. His reputation was bad.

Officer Rand has long resided in San Francisco; has been for a long time a member of the regular Police Department, and is also a prominent member of the Fire Department. His character has always been above reproach. In his encounter with Keimes, he exhibited a brave, and we might say, heroic character. Few can read the account of that chase, and the determination he manifested, without expressing admiration. Though he killed his man, he was entirely justified. It was his duty to do so. At last accounts, Mr. Rand was recovering.

☞ Madame Lola Montez, who was lately reported to be at the point of death from paralysis, has been removed to to a healthy locality on Long Island, and her convalescence is progressing favorably. Some of her immediate friends contradict a report that her illness was caused by opium eating. They state that she never used any stimulant but tobacco in the form of cigarettes.

FREE BLACKS IN KANSAS.—Private letters from Kansas report that considerable excitement prevails in the territory on account of the kidnapping of several free blacks who have been taken to Missouri.—These outrages have induced the colored people to place themselves under the protection of trusty friends, who are provided with Sharp's rifles.

GIVE THE DEVIL HIS DUE.—Certainly; but it is better to have no dealings with the devil, and then there will be nothing due him.

MRS. BURDELL'S HUSBAND.—The Boston Bee "desires to congratulate Rev. Mr. Sheehan, who is the reported bridegroom to whose fortunes are now allied the fame, name and reputation of Mrs. Cunningham Burdell. Mr. Sheehan is a Universalist preacher of more than ordinary talent.—Let us hope he is happily located, and may live an enviable life for many long and blissful years, and find no bogus baby in his nursery by-and-by."

☞ The Elkhart (Ia.) County Times says that a little son of D. B. Knight, living near Middlebury, aged about nine years, was frightened to death a few days ago, while gathering strawberries with another little boy. The owner of the premises seeing them, threatened to shoot them, and set a dog on them, and so scared the little fellows that they ran home, a considerable distance, when little Knight was found to be insane with terror, fancying he had been shot at, and that the dog was after him, and remained delirious for a few days, when he died.

☞ Mr. Hopley, a middle-aged man, of gentlemanly appearance, preceptor of a family school, was tried in London, on charge of killing one of puplis named Reginald Channel Cancellor, the son of a man of fair position in society, for the board and instruction of whom, Mr. Hopley was to receive $900 per year. It is asserted that the instructor mistook the mental conditon of the lad, and attributed his stupidity, really caused by water on the brain, to obstinacy, and undertook to beat him into a brighter mental condition. The trial resulted in the conviction of Hopley, who was sentenbed to four years penal sevitude.

☞ Rev. D. C Mitchell of West Stockbridge, Mass., has been deposed from the ministry of the Methodist church, for alleged improper conduct toward a young girl named Webster, living in South Lee, where he preached last year. It is expected that legal action will be taken in the matter by the friends of the suffering girl. Mitchell has a wife and several children.

Thaddeus Hyatt has gone to Kansas to inquire into the condition of the people in Southern Kansas, where the drouth has been so severe, with a view of appealing to the country in their behalf if they need help.

☞ A lawsuit has sprung up respecting a bequest made by the late Lyman Pease of South Deerfield. He made five benevolent societies the residuary legatees of his property, and among the societies is the "American Tract Society." The question to be determined is, whether the Boston or New York Society shall have the money. The sum at issue is upwards of $5000.

Mr. Dewey, conductor of a freight train on the Vermont Central railroad, was killed on Wednesday evening, by his head having come in contact with a bridge, in the town of Tyngsboro'. Mr. Dewey belonged in Northfield, Vt.

☞ A woman disguised in man's clothes gained admittance to the Sons of Malta lodge room in Hartford, the other evening, and passed all the several degrees of initiation successfully until the worshipful commander came to apply the emblem. Then the trick was discovered, the candidate being found unworthy to receive it. The affair has caused considerable excitement.

Rufus Turner of Groton, Ct., having missed sundry chickens from various broods, set a watch for the thief; a frog nineteen inches long was found swallowing a chicken three weeks old, and was arrested.

☞ When John Loring Austin was sent to Philadelphia with dispatches announcing the capture of Burgoyne, he sent a note to Dr. Chancey, requesting the prayers of the church for a safe passage. The doctor, full of the spite of patriotism, earnestly added the prayer, "whatever became of the young man, the package might arrive safe."

Farmer Johnson, who had got his own hay in, saw that a large quantity of his neighbor Jones was down on Sunday afternoon, when it looked like rain, and he hurried over with all his men to lend a hand in getting it into the barn. Jones and all his boys were gone, and Mrs. Jones said that "her husband thought no good ever came of working Sundays, and so he and the boys had gone out or the pond a fishin'."

☞ T. Starr King says there are no trees in San Francisco, and for several miles out there are only shrubs; but finally plenty of fine oaks, but no elms. There is no underbrush as in our forest regions.—The uncultivated woodland districts look as though they have been cleared up at great expense, and with no little taste.

☞ A white woman failed the other day in an attempt to induce a young colored man, a slave, to leave his master on Lake Erie. The darkey said that he knew his own business best.

SIGHT-SEEING IN THE WEST.

WEDDELL HOUSE,
CLEVELAND, OHIO, Aug. 8, 1860.

I am tarrying for a few days in this beautiful city, in attendance upon the "National Masonic School of Instruction," instituted several years ago by Robt. Morris, L.L.D., of Kentucky, and which commenced its 6th session on Monday morning last. Brother Morris is universally considered one of the most accomplished Masonic students in the country, and it afforded me peculiar satisfaction to make his acquaintance, and listen to his instructions. That the same interest is felt in his school, and that the same desire exists among intelligent masons all over the country, for the success of an enterprise calculated ensure complete uniformity in all the ritual of the order, is evinced by the large attendance upon the teachings of this illustrious gentleman, and the large number of States and Territories represented. Nebraska sends no less than three ardent devotees of this shrine; while almost every State has its delegates here. Bro. Morris is singularly successful as a teacher; his tone and manner are kind and conciliatory, yet he admits no controversy, no invasions of the ground, every inch of which he has carefully scanned. By long study he has satisfied himself that the work and lectures taught by him are the genuine, bearing the impress of the veterans Webb and Preston, and, this fact decided, he will not suffer a tittle to be misplaced. Better than all, his thorough preparation for the duties of instruction, enables him to give an answer to all who ask of him a reason, and this has enabled him to make converts in the right direction, among those even who first listened with distrust. Satisfied at last that Brother Morris is no innovator, but rather that he has pledged his life, and all the resources of his earnest nature to the uprooting of all innovations, those who at first doubted, doubt no longer, the troublesome are stilled, while the earnest workers rejoice.

The formal opening of the school was postponed to Monday evening, on account of the absence of several distinguished gentlemen who were to take part in the ceremony. The exercises were not of a private nature, and the attendance was large. The parable of the good Samaritan was read, prayer offered by a resident clergyman; an ode was sung by brother Ossian E. Dodge, so well remembered by your readers. A brief address was offered by brother Morris, and an oration of a peculiarly beautiful and eloquent character, was delivered by H. L. Hosmer, Esq., of Toledo; after this, speeches were made by friends from different sections of the country, New Hampshire being first called upon, and its sole representative responding in such terms as he deemed appropriate. A song by the ready and genial Dodge closed the exercises.

I have made many pleasant acquaintances here, and enjoyed the hospitalities and attentions of many of the whole-souled brotherhood of Cleveland. Bro. Peter Thatcher, Jr., a Massachusetts gentleman, and grandson of the distinguished Dr. James Thatcher, of Plymouth, the author of the first complete history of that colony, keeps open house during the present week, and with his estimable lady, entertains a multitude of guests. Bro. B. Creighton is devoted in his attentions, and is doing everything in his power to render our visit agreeable. Bro. Theodore Ross, the manager of this admirable first class Hotel, the Weddell House, clearly understands the wants of the travelling public, and needs not the tie of the mystic brotherhood to induce him to extend every courtesy and attention to the way-faring man. I very rarely allude in my letters, to the public houses at which I tarry, but of this excellent hotel, I may say as I said of that of the Fifth avenue in one of my previous letters; it's a great institution.

This morning I took a two hours ride through the city and suburbs in company with brother R. C. Hopkins, M. D., and at his polite invitation. Dr. Hopkins has resided here for a quarter of a century—has seen the city grow up around him; is acquainted with the history of nearly all the older inhabitants, and can point out all places of interest to the stranger. The morning has been a delightful one, and we have taken real pleasure in conversation with one genial and entertaining new found friend.

Ben. Perley Poore, the accomplished Washington correspondent of the Boston Journal, and your friend Prof. B. F. Baker, of Boston, whose musical conventions in Portsmouth are fresh in the remembrances of your readers,—are visitors to the School. The latter lends his melodious voice and cultivated taste to the like attributes of the worthy "Ossian," and the exercises of the School are thus enlivened or solemnized with delightful and appropriate music.—Dodge keeps a music and piano warehouse, publishes a "Literary Museum," and lives quietly and hapily. He has not apparently increased in years, and is as handsome as ever. He is an admirer of the devoted Morris, who, when Ossian published the "Museum" in Boston, wrote for its columns a $500 prize romance, entitled the "Faithful Slave," which you may remember.

The lesson for to-day has been upon the subject of conducting Masonic funeral ceremonies, and induced the belief in my mind that the impressive burial service of the fraternity is capable of some improvement. It was rehearsed with fine effect by brother Morris, who remarked that if he lived in some jurisdictions, he should pray to be excused from Masonic burial, and should exclaim with Burns, who feared the honors of the ragged regiment: "don't let the awkward squad fire over my grave!"

But as I have not yet fulfilled my promise to tell your readers my impressions of Mr. Lincoln, I will take up that subject in my next. F. F.

NEW YORK, Aug. 10.—The tea sales today composed of lots bought on speculation at previous sales, brought prices current at private sale. Nearly all the lots were bought at the following prices: Hyson 35 1-2a44; young hyson 36a46 1-2; Imperial 36a46; Oolong 37 1-2a51; Souchong 32a51. At private sale invoice greens por Pampero on private terms.

There were three deaths from sun stroke in this city yesterday.

Timothy Hedges, for many years a member of the board of managers of the Bible Society, was thrown from a carriage at East Hampton, Long Island, on Monday, and was so severely injured that he died on Wednesday. He was 80 years of age.

FIRES.—Baltimore, Aug. 10.—The town of Salisbury in Somerset county was nearly consumed on Wednesday. Over forty dwellings, building, stores, &c., were destroyed, including the Episcopal church, the oldest in the State. A large amount of personal property, goods, &c., were saved, tho' the aggregate loss is very great. Most of the sufferers are insured. The origin of the fire is not known, but it is thought to be the work of an incendiary.

MURDER BY NEGROES.—Cleveland, O., Aug. 10.—Last night two negroes entered the saloon of Wm. Pickersgill, on Seneca street, and becoming troublesome, Pickersgill attempted to eject them, when one of the negroes drew a large knife and made several lunges, one of which took effect upon a white man named Wm. Salmon, who was passing out of the door. Salmon ran a short distance and fell dead. The negroes fled, but were arrested this morning.

☞ The St. Louis Bulletin gives all the returns that had been received up to the third day after the election—that is, the 9th—and they foot up as follows:

Blair (short term)	11,459
Barrett	11,461
Barrett's majority	2
Blair (long term)	11,898
Barrett	10,042
Blair's majority	1,826

BLAIR AGAIN DECLARED ELECTED FOR THE SHORT TERM.—A dispatch was received yesterday by Gov. Banks, stating that Mr. Blair is elected for the short term. This has not, at the time we write, been verified by the dispach to the Associated Press, but it may be presumed to be correct.—Boston Atlas, Saturday.

THE FAIR.—Not the fair sex—we don't mean them, though the matter to be considered is highly interesting and important to them, and there could be nothing fair without the dear creatures; nor do we refer to the fair weather, though we hope we may have such when this is printed, read and duly pondered over, on Monday—and also at the time of the Rockingham Fair, which is the affair to be presented herein, and as hereinafter proposed. There is but about five weeks between this time and that fixed for the County Fair in Portsmouth; and while all necessary preparatory steps have been taken, the next thing now in order, is to raise the funds. This of course there will be no difficulty in doing; and the subscription will be circulated this week.

Everybody may well feel inclined to "do what they can" for this object, which tends solely and wholly to the public good. Those who have good business or plenty of money, will not be chary of contributing from their abundance; and those who find business dull, cannot in any other way so surely help to make trade better. All the funds raised here, and vastly more, will inevitably be expended here; apd in proportion to the sum furnished the managers, will be the attractions presented, and so of course the visitors to the city. It is hoped and expected to be one of the most successful Fairs ever had by the Society; as it will undoubtedly be the celebration in Portsmouth for the present year. Besides affording a most pleasant diversion for the people of this whole region, if rightly conducted it cannot fail to be also a source of great mutual benefit, to the city and even neighboring towns, especially to the citizens of Portsmouth.—$5 constitutes life membership, of which there should be many more in this city.

THE LARGE PARTY who made an excursion to the Shoals in the schooner H. E. Bishop, on Wednesday, were not as much gratified by the heavy rain, as were the friends they left behind. There were nearly three hundred people on board, most of whom came home thoroughly soaked. The hold being filled with hay, the only refuge from the shower was in the cabin, and that was not half large enough to contain the ladies in the party. To add to the discomforts of the trip, the schooner was unable to get up river against the tide, and the party were obliged to land at Newcastle and walk home, a distance of over two miles, in their soaked garments, through the mud.—Gaz.

This excursion was gotten up by the Portsmouth Cornet Band—and unfortunately and almost fearfully as it resulted, we think the Band can hardly be blamed.—True, the schooner's hold should have been clear on such an occasion; but she is a coasting vessel, and was partly loaded for her trip to Boston—and it was not expected by the Band that her sheltered accommodations would be so limited. And as it was, but for the tremendous showers, all would have passed off well enough. Fault is found with the captain, by those who understand such matters, for not making an effort to get up the river, and land his passengers where they had a right to claim to be landed; for it is said that with a tolerable breeze, he declared he "couldn't get up," and so didn't try, but landed all hands at Newcastle.—The story that the schooner took in balance of cargo at that place, and sailed direct thence, is not true; she having come up to her wharf in this city, for that purpose, after waiting below two days.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—The fine residence of Rev. Dr. Peabody, on Middle street in this city, was sold at auction by H. F. Wendell, Esq., on Saturday last, for $4100. The purchaser was Albert Blaisdell, Esq., of Greenland, who we understand is thus to secure a winter residence in Portsmouth.

The two stores, tenement and wharf, on Market street, belonging to the estate of the late Joseph W. Laighton, were sold on Saturday, by the administrator, to Mr. Thomas S. Gammon—for $1315.

NEWS FROM EUROPE, via Southampton, August 1.

All British war steamers in the dockyards are to be made ready for the next emergency.

Turkey has accepted the proposals for intervention arranged at the Paris Convention.

By a military convention between Garibaldi and General Clary, the Neapolitans are to keep the forts of Syracuse, Agosta and Messina—the navigation of the Straits of Messina to be free. The citadel of Messina will not fire on the town. The Garibaldi colors will take equal rank with the Neapolitan flag.

Genoa, July 31.—Advices from Damascus of the 10th of July state that 3000 Christians had taken refuge in the citadel occupied by the Algerines, under command of Ab-del-Kader.

The town was in the power of murderers and assassins to the number of 2400. The Turkish garrison of 5000 soldiers was inactive or hostile. Soldiers had driven Christians into the flames of burning houses.—Some accounts compute the number of victims at from three to four thousand, but they may be exaggerated.

To every barrel of flour you can make thirty pounds more bread or biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, than by yeast fermentation or any other saleratus. It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practical ly tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Patrons and friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially please Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Morning Chronicle.

THE CENSUS OF 1860.—What is your age? Where were you born? Are you married, and if so, how do you like it? Did you ever have the measles, and if so, how many? Have you a twin brother several years older than yourself? Do you read the New Testament regularly and the New York Tribune?

What is your fighting weight? How many times has your wife "wished she was dead," and did you reciprocate the wish? Were you and your wife worth anything when you were married, and if not, what proportion of her things were your'n, and your things her'n? Were you ever in the penitentiary? Are you troubled with boils? How many empty bottles have you in the house?

Have you all of Thayer's speeches on the horse railroad? Are beans an article of regular diet in your family, and if so, how does it go? State whether you are blind, deaf, idiotic, or have the heaves? How many chickens have you, and are they on foot or in the shell? Also how many succedaneums? Is there a strawberry mark on your left arm? What food do you prefer, rum or mixed drinks?

State how much pork, impending crisis, Dutch cheese, popular sovereignty, standard poetry, Gayety paper, slave code, catnip, red flannel, Constitution and Union, old junk, perfumery, coal oil, liberty, hoop skirts, &c., you have on hand.

Ask a young gal the news, she'll tell you of all the deaths in the place, to make you think she don't trouble herself about marriage. Ask an old woman, she'll tell you all the marriages, to make you think she's takin' an interest in the world that she ain't.

"Here's your money, dolt, and now tell me why your rascally master wrote the eighteen times about that contemptible sun." "I'm sure I can't tell, but, if you'll excuse me, sir, I guess it was because seventeen didn't fetch it."

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, since the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, and establishing the validity of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered elsewhere. The testimonials below, given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY. he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the Business, are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, give full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, is here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 5, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the cooling coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Shuttle, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

D. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, chronic diarrhœa, and the complicated train of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

In the latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably efficient and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local congestion, which gives rise to them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, exceedingly exhausting, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

IN HEMORRHAGY, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

IN SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

IN RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well merited, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

IN INTERMITTENT FEVERS, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole historical range of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully curative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to LORD ELPHINSTONE.—It is said that some twenty-five years ago, Lord Elphinstone, who is just dead, was smitten with the charms of Queen Victoria, and that his advances were reciprocated. But it was thought best that Victoria should have a Prince consort from Germany, rather than that old traditions should be infringed upon, and a British monarch marry one of her own subjects. He was the thirteenth Baron of Elphinstone.

A CAUSE FOR THANKFULNESS.—An Irish woman who has charge of the laundry operations of one of our well-known clergymen, who being questioned a few days since upon her comparative liking for this and the "old country:" "Arrah!" said she, clasping her hands upon her breast, "I'm thankful the blessed Jesus was born in the old country, and not in the miserable Amerikey."—Newburyport Herald.

Tom Hood once admonished a gossiping Christian to beware lest her piety should prove, after all, to be nothing better than mag-piety.

"A weak watch invites a vigilant foe."—Yes—and that vigilant foe is the watch-repairer, who is always on the lookout for weak watches.

"Ask thy purse what thou should'st buy." We asked ours, the other day, what we should buy. But echo most perversely, didn't answer "buy."

Let a youth who stands at the bar with a glass of liquor in his hand, consider which he had better throw away—the liquor or himself.

"Better to be alone than in bad company." True; but unfortunately many persons never are in such bad company as when they are alone.

"Debt is the worst kind of poverty." Not exactly. There are people so poor that they can't get into debt. Debt to them would be property.

Put your money into a box if you like, but not a dice-box.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1857.
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continued to second terms in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but it is believed it will prove have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, is here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

RENOVATING & PURIFYING THE BLOOD
which science has ever offered to man. In this resides its peculiar excellence, and to this is due its world-wide renown.
It contains all the vegetable principles which experience has proved useful in clearing the system from disease, extracted and combined with the highest skill which the refinements of modern chemistry enable us to employ.
Whatever may be said by mortified competitors or spleuetic physicians, the fact that this medicine is EVERYWHERE USED, and that its use creates an increased demand, shows conclusively that it possesses medicinal merits of the first order.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my silky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your Hair Restorative, of which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You are at liberty to think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to write to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, a lawyer aged about thirty, lost his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the smallest is half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 14, 1860.

MR. ORR'S LETTER.

Thousands of people in New England remember Mr. Orr as a graceful and effective speaker, who came from the South to aid the Democratic party in the North.

This gentleman, who was lately Speaker of the House at Washington, has recently written a letter, which should be read by every freeman in New England.

In this letter he expresses his full conviction that Lincoln and Hamlin will be elected; considers the election of a Republican President good ground for breaking up the Union; and advises secession.

He has droll ideas of liberty for white men, viz., that we are free to vote for slavery always, but never free to vote for anything else—and that while the slave power can rule, the slave States will stay in the Union—but the moment they can't, then they will step out.

Mr. Orr dates his letter from Anderson Court House, July 23, 1860, and says:

I am deeply impressed with the critical aspect of our federal affairs, and believe we are drifting rapidly upon revolution. My hope, as you know, for years past, for the preservation of rights of the South in the Union, has been upon the Democratic party. So long as it was united, harmonious, and triumphant, our rights and institutions were safe. That great party that has, in times gone by, won so many brilliant victories over Federalism, Abolitionism and consolidation, and established so many sound and conservative principles, is now disunited, divided and broken up.

Its disruption extinguishes my ardently cherished hope of preserving not only our rights but the Union itself. It is idle to debate or review the causes that led to its disruption. Let it suffice here for me to say that in my opinion the secession of the Southern delegates from the Charleston Convention was unwise and impolitic. It was manifest there, to the most casual observer, that Judge Douglas, who was so justly obnoxious to the South, could not receive the nomination in a full convention, and it was equally certain that Mr. Breckinridge would have been the nominee if the Southern delegations had not abandoned their posts. If Breckinridge had been nominated at Charleston, his election would have been a certainty. He is now the nominee of only one wing of the party, the other wing having nominated Douglas—and while I shall give to Breckinridge and Lane, the nominees of the Baltimore Convention, men of tried patriotism and sound principles, a hearty and cordial support, I see no prospect of their election, either by the people or otherwise.

Lincoln and Hamlin, the Black Republican nominees, will be elected in November next, and the South will then decide the question whether they will submit to the domination of Black Republican rule—the fundamental principle of their organization being an open, undisguised and declared war upon our social institutions. I belive that the honor and safety of the South, in that contingency, will require the prompt secession of the slaveholding States from the Union; and failing then to obtain from the free States higher and additional guarantees for the protection of our rights and property, that the seceding States should proceed to organize a new government.—But while I think such would be the imperative duty of the South, I should emphatically reprobate and repudiate any scheme having for its object the separate secession of South Carolina. If Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi alone—giving us a portion of the Atlantic and Gulf coasts—would unite with this State in a common secession upon the election of a Black Republican, I would give my assent to the policy.

Signed, JAMES L. ORR.

PENNSYLVANIA POLITICS are becoming quite interesting. The latest item gives an account of a skirmish between the Douglas and Breckinridge parties, in which the Breckinridge men mutilated a Douglas office. The item is as follows:

McConnellsburg, Penn., Aug. 11.—The Democracy held a county meeting here last night, at which there was a regular skirmish between the Douglas and Breckinridge parties, and much bitter feeling was evinced. The meeting ended in a row.

During the absence of Mr. Sansom, editor of the Democrat at Cresson, the Breckinridge party entered his office, mutilated the forms, ran up the Breckinridge flag, and issued an edition of the paper under that banner. The affair created great excitement.

A personal rencouter took place after the meeting, between Mr. Sansom, editor of the Democrat, and G. A. Smith, a Breckinridge man, and an attorney. Sansom gave Smith the lie, when the latter collared him.

ASSAULTS AND AFFRAYS.—New York, Aug. 11.—Alonzo Lewis, who had been paying his addresses to Miss Martin, in Brooklyn, was dangerously cut with knives last night, by two of her brothers. Lewis is a married man, which had just come to the knowledge of the family.

John Riley stabbed his wife last night with a fork, which penetrated her skull and will probably cause her death.

An affray occurred in a low groggery in 12th street last night, growing out of the late prize fight at Weehauken. Edward Classy was stabbed by James Fox, brother of one of the principals, and will probably die.

Charles Ralbright was fatally injured by a club in the hands of a woman named Bridget Hart, in Brooklyn last night.

MOBILE, Aug. 11.—A number of buildings were burnt at a recent fire near the depot. Loss $175,000.

[Correspondence of the Chronicle.]

SIGHT-SEEING IN THE WEST.

My second interview with Mr. Lincoln was a most agreeable and satisfactory one. Our conversation was long and familiar, and comprised a complete history of the life of that distinguished gentleman. He spoke of his extreme poverty in early life; of the fact that the extent of his father's education was the ability to write his name; of his many years of service as a wood-cutter in the wildnerness, a flat-boatman on the Mississippi, a hired manager of a country grocery; of his purchase of an old English grammar, and his mastery of its contents; of his first political speech, and his astonishment, together with that of his friends, at its success; of his election to the Legislature of Illinois, and how grandly looked the three dollars per day, for the services of one who had labored in the forest, month after month, at the rate of one dollar for three days; of his purchase of Blackstone's Commentaries; of the kind offer—so gladly accepted—of an opportunity to make use of the excellent law library of Hon. John F. Stuart; of his subsequent admission to the bar, his co-partnership with Mr. Stuart, his success in practice, his political advancement, his election to Congress, and his fight with Douglas in '58. All this, and more, for his entertaining narrative would, if accurately reported, exhaust your space, though I am sure it would not prove tiresome to your readers.

From this modest and careful relation of facts, I was brought to the conclusion that few men of his age in our country have had so meagre early advantages, few have known greater hardships, and few indeed have arisen so nobly from the prison of a mean estate. But from the tone and manner of the relation, from the reverent tone, the tender allusion to his parents, their poverty and their worth, I learned that which needed not the entire confirmation afterwards received of one who has long known and honored him—the genial, loving kindness of that worthy man's heart. And I left his presence, convinced of his excellence, glad of his greatness, but full of regrets that so grand a nature should be imperiled by the cares and disturbances of the high station to which his destiny is seemingly guiding him.

But perhaps the strongest testimony yet offered in favor of Mr. Lincoln's abilities, honesty and goodness, came to me from the lips of Hon. John F. Stuart of Illinois. I have alluded to the fact that Mr. Lincoln was taken into partnership with Mr. Stuart, when the former was first admitted to practice. This copartnership continued for several years, and it is only reasonable to suppose that Mr. Stuart—the polished gentleman, the brilliant advocate, the personal friend of Clay and Webster—should know something of the character, habits and powers of his young protege. How weighty then is Mr. Stuart's testimony! "I have never known a purer or a nobler man.—Temperate in all things, the only real total abstinent at the bar in the early days of our connection, he adhered to his integrity, and has yet, as I believe, to drink his first glass of wine or alcoholic liquor; his morals undimmed by suspicion; his life one of quiet, unobtrusive, yet energetic labor, and his entire truthfulness the great feature of his successful career as a lawyer, a politician, and a man." And yet Mr. Stuart, the warm personal friend of Mr. Lincoln, told me that he should feel it his duty to vote for Mr. Bell; not because he did not consider his friend worthy of and competent to fill the chair of State, but because he feared for his country, if Republican principles prevailed.

Some illustrations of the characteristics of Mr. Lincoln's mind, heart and manner, will be presented in my next. F. F.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—It was Mr. Ratz, not Haight, who was drowned at the Highlands yesterday. He was proprietor of the Philadelphia House. Gardner, who was drowned at the same time, was a retired merchant of this city.

John Gillon was fatally stabbed last night by Jas. O'Donnell, during an altercation about an article in a scurrilous paper. The murderer escaped.

B. Callahan, a printer, committed suicide yesterday by plunging a knife into his stomach, to show his courage. He was intoxicated at the time.

A UNION FLAG RAISING.—At Newport, N. H., the residence of Edmund Burke, a Breckinridge flag was thrown to the breeze. From 500 to 1000 persons were present from all parts of the county, and 30 guns were fired by a fireman's company, which appeared in uniform. The crowd then repaired to a stand erected for the purpose, and were addressed by the Hon. Edmund Burke for the National Democracy, Dr. John Hopkins of Sunapee for the Douglas party, and by Paul S. Adams, Esq., of Newport, for the Republican party. We do not recollect, in all the instances of political amity, such an instance of good feeling.—Atlas.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Aug. 12.—The Democratic Sate Convention nominated Archy Dixon and J. D. Mason for electors at large, and a full Douglas electoral ticket. Resolutions repudiating a coalition were passed. 700 delegates were present.

84 counties give Coombs 25,841 majority over McCarty; 8565 majority over all.

FRANCE, ITALY AND SYRIA.

Napoleon's letter to the French ambassador at London, dated 25th July, is published. He says: "Since the peace of Villafranca, I have had but one thought, one object—to inaugurate a new era of peace and to live on the best of terms with my neighbors, and especially with England.—I had renounced Savoy and Nice. The extraordinary additions to Piedmont alone caused me to resume the desire to see reunited to France the provinces essentially French. But it will be objected—'you wish for peace and you increase immoderately the military force of France.' I deny the fact in every sense. My army and fleet have nothing in them of a threatening character. My steam navy is even far from being equal to our requirements, and the number of steamers does not nearly equal that of sailing ships thought necessary in the time of Louis Phillippe.

I have four hundred thousand men under arms, but deduct from this amount 60,000 in Algeria, 6000 at Rome, 8000 in China, 20,000 gen'darmes, and the sick and new conscripts, and you will see my regiments are of smaller effective strength than during the preceding reign. The only addition to the army list has been the creation of the Imperial Guard. Moreover while wishing for peace, I desire also to organize the forces of the country on the best possible footing; for, if foreigners have only seen the bright side of the last war, I, close at hand, have witnessed the defects of the army, and wish to remedy them. Having said this much, I will add that since Villafranca I have neither done nor even thought of any thing which should alarm any one. When Lavalett started for Constantinople, the instructions which I gave to him were confined to this: "Use every effort to maintan the status quo. The interest of France is that Turkey should live as long as possible."

Napoleon then touches on Syrian affairs, saying his first thought in the matter was to come to an understanding with England, and asks what other interest than that of humanity could induce him to send troops to that country.

He also says that the interior organization of France and the increase of her resources are a field vast enough for his ambition, and sufficient to satisfy it.

He says: "It was difficult for me to come to an understanding with England on the subject of Central Italy, because I was bound by the peace of Villafranca."

As to Southern Italy he says: "I am free from engagements and ask nothing better than to act in concert with England on this point or on others. But in Heaven's name let the eminent men at the head of the English government lay aside petty jealousies and unjust mistrusts. Let us understand one another in good faith like honest men as we are, and not like thieves who desire to cheat each other. To sum up—this is my inmost thought: I desire Italy should obtain peace, no matter how, but without foreign intervention; and that my troops may be able to quit Rome without compromising the security of the Pope. I could very much wish not to be obliged to undertake this Syrian expedition, and in any case not to undertake it alone; firstly, because it will be a very great expense, and secondly, because I feel that this intervention may involve the Eastern question.

But, on the other hand, I do not see how to resist public opinion in my country, which will never understand that we can leave unpunished not only the massacre of Christians, but the burning of our consulates, the insult to our flag, and the pillage of the monasteries which were under our protection."

The London Times, while still distrusting the Emperor, is glad of such friendly sentiments, and trusts they foreshadow a policy under which England may enjoy peace without being compelled longer to support all the burdens of war.

☞ A gentleman in Knoxville, Tennessee, gives the following account of his experience with the great meteor of the 2d of August in that city. He was on horseback; his horse bounded as if he had been shot and tried to run off; the report frightened the animal still more; he succeeded in stopping his horse at the front door of the house of an old lady, who run out in her night gown and exclaimed "Great God, stranger, has the world busted?"

☞ A Louisville dispatch of the 11th, says that sixty of the one hundred and four counties in Kentucky give Coombs 46,806; McClarty 25,507; Rolling 8,572; Hopkins 385; Kelly 284.

FIRE.—New Orleans, Aug. 10.—A row of buildings in Royal street, extending from Custom House street to Bienville street, occupied as furniture, liquor and pianoforte stores, was burned last night. The loss is small and mostly insured.

☞ A few large green leaves, or a damp sponge, in the hat, are said to be a sure protection against being sun-struck. Probably a handkerchief is a safeguard also—but not a brick, which so many carry there.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 12.—Emanual Iron, member of the City Council, had a difficulty at his house, last night, with his brother-in-law, and fired a shot gun at him, which killed the brother of his intended victim, named John Weltz.

☞ A Company of Rail Splitters is being organized in Portland. No person is to be admitted who is less than six feet high.

CONCORD, N.H., Aug. 11.—This afternoon the body of a man was washed ashore below Garvin's Falls, about three miles below the State House. The body is supposed to be that of Isaac H. Russell, driver of a baker's cart in this city. He has been missing since a week ago yesterday.

SENATOR SEWARD AT BANGOR.—Bangor, Me., Aug. 12.—Senator Seward of New York arrived in this city yesterday morning, by the steamer Daniel Webster, and was received on the wharf by crowds of citizens. He was waited upon in the afternoon by the Wide Awakes and an immense crowd. He spoke a few moments, after which Hon. Hannibal Hamlin, Hon. John P. Hale, Hon. Israel Washburn, Jr., and Governor Morrill were loudly called for and briefly responded. Mr. Seward leaves for New York to-morrow morning by way of Portland and Boston.

ADMITTED TO BAIL.—James M. Williams, charged with the murder of Vanness Wyatt, at Warren, N. H., on the 27th ult., was brought before the Supreme Judicial Court, in Manchester, last week, on a writ of habeas corpus, and the Court ordered him to recognize in the sum of $7000 for his appearance at the trial term of the Supreme Judicial Court, to be held in Plymouth, (Grafton Co.,) on the third Tuesday of November next. He will probably get bail as he has been a man of wealth and influence.—Mirror.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for September, has for its frontispiece an engraving of The Disguise, a droll picture of a child's whims, worth the price of the magazine.

POLICE COURT.

August 13.—Before Justice Rollins.—Jeremiah Murphy was accused of assaulting and battering Dennis Noonan's face with an iron tea-kettle cover, on the 22d of July, whereby the said Dennis was cruelly beaten and wounded. Murphy plead not guilty; but he was proved guilty, and fined $10; costs $5.74. Appealed and gave bonds.

Daniel Hennessey, saloon keeper, was accused of assaulting Henry L. Foote, last Saturday night, beating him over the head and face with a stone jug, knocking him down, and inflicting divers severe and painful wounds on said Henry. Foote was so badly bruised as to be unable to appear at Court—therefore the case was postponed to the 20th, and the accused was held in $500 bonds then to appear.

[In this case, the man who got knocked down had been, with a companion, making a great noise in the street, and in another neighboring saloon; and then, going into Hennessey's shop, are said to have attacked him, and one of them got knocked down by the keeper, in his own defence.]

THE HORSE GUARDS.—Invitation has been extended to that famous troop, the Governor's Horse Guards of New Hampshire, to visit Portsmouth at the time of the Rockingham Fair in this city; and having been accepted under certain conditions, which will undoubtedly be fulfilled—we have no hesitation in stating that the corps will parade here at the time. It will be remembered that Gen. Stark, the Colonel in command, was injured by an accident, so as to be unable to appear at their first public display at Concord; but we are glad to learn that he has recovered in good part—and hope to see him here, on the occasion referred to, at the head of the fine body of cavalry for the establishment of which he has done so much.

The general interest felt among our citizens concerning the Guards' visit to Portsmouth, will no doubt aid in filling up the ranks of the Company in this vicinity, the armory of which it is proposed to locate here. Recruits are now being enlisted, and arrangements have been made to measure for uniforms in this city; and there is no doubt the ranks will be speedily filled—and the sooner the better, so that the new recruits may have time for drill of men and horses. The appearance of the Horse Guards here is a certainty, if those interested take hold at once and fill the ranks, (prior to the election of officers,) and the citizens generally give evidence that they feel in the right place concerning the matter.

PARODI'S CONCERT.—It is now more than a year since our citizens were charmed with the entertaining singing of Mad. Biscaccianti, assisted by the excellent basso, Mr. W. H. Dennett. Since that time we have had no first class vocal concert. But now we are to be entertained by a leading cantatrice, who ranks in Europe along with those queens of song, Grisi, Alboni, and Garcia. That she is one of the most gifted in her line, we only have to recall to the reader that where Jenny Lind, Bontag and Catherine Hayes have been, there has Parodi been most enthusiastically received.

Mad. Biscaccianti was only aided by Mr. Dennett, who is a host in himself; but on Friday night, in addition to Parodi and Mr. Dennett, we are to have Mlle. Montmorency in English ballads, and Mr. Hoffman as pianist. He is an artist of the very first class, as we shall learn on Friday at the Temple, when he rolls forth his Fantasia on La Favorita, (composed by himself,) or in the frolicking composition of Gottschalk.

Without any flattering, we think that in the vocal portion we have never seen a better programme, including some of the finest airs of Mozart, Donizetti, Mendelsohn, Bellini and Verdi, and the Marseillaise, sung only as Parodi sings it. "Bravo Parodi!" Huzza for the Marseillaise and the Italian Goddess of Liberty!

THE CONSTITUTION FRIGATE.—Some corrections are here offered, of errors contained in a paragraph headed "The Two Naval Celebrities," which referred to the Constitution and the Shannon. These corrections are made on the very best authority.

The facts are, that the Constitution captured four British ships of war, viz., the Guerriere, the Java, and the Cyane and Levant; that "Old Ironsides" is not "commanded by an officer of 1812 notoriety," but by Lieut. Porter, who entered the Navy not far from 1829, and whose father was Commodore Porter, of 1812 notoriety; that the Constitution has not gone on any cruise at all, having neither armament nor crew for such a purpose, but on a direct run to Annapolis; and that so far from being an "invalid" ship, the Constitution is as good as ever, having been thoroughly repaired. How much influence the song might have in saving her from being broken up, is uncertain, —but it is certain that the general voice of the community protested against it.

EXCURSION TO THE ISLES OF SHOALS. The schooner Lizzie M. Stewart will leave Pier Wharf on Friday morning, Aug. 17th, at 7 o'clock, for the Isles of Shoals, returning the same day.

This schooner is new, with a large cabin and good fixtures, and will afford ample protection from sun and showers.

If the wind is favorable, she will stop at Newcastle, giving an opportunity to visit the Fort. Refreshments furnished on board at reasonable prices. Fare 50 cents: children under 12 years, half price.

☞ Saturday night, which, according to the old New England ideas, should be the most quiet in the week, is usually the most disorderly in this city. A fortnight ago, at a house of ill-fame in Brewster street, the inmates and frequenters of the place made night hideous for a while; and last week there was a row and fight at the oyster saloon on the north side of Congress, just above Vaughan street, in which it is reported that some of the devotees of the jug got "pretty well stove up." Those who handle edge-tools foolishly, must expect to be wounded.

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto strived to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

PORTSMOUTH SAVINGS BANK.

The Annual Meeting of this Corporation was held on Wednesday last, and the old board of officers re-elected. It appears by the books of the Bank, that the whole amount of deposites (including $19,245 interest of the last six months) is $1,084,495. Of the Depositors, 2687 are males and 3302 are females. To show that this is not exclusively for the benefit of Portsmouth, we give below the amount of deposites made by inhabitants of other towns in the State, as returned to the assessors of those towns in April, 1860. In addition to these, there are from each of the towns of Kittery and Eliot in Maine about $43,000—making about $88,000.

This leaves to the inhabitants of Portsmouth rising $800,000. The nominal interest is 4 per cent., but as the interest is added to the principal every six months, and once in five years the profits of the Bank are divided among the depositors, those who remain as regular depositors receive at least 7 or 8 per cent. It thus appears that the average sum of one thousand dollars is earned every week in the year by the inhabitants of Portsmouth by their deposits of such small sums (none can deposit more than $300), as before the establishment of the Bank would have been laid aside without use, in some strong chest or secret drawer—a continual source of a fear of thieves or of bank defalcations.

The Portsmouth Savings Bank, since its establishment in 1823, has never suffered any loss. It loans no money on mortgages, but invests its capital in such State and City stocks as can at any time be converted into cash. Depositors can withdraw their money at any time,—but those fare best who let it remain until the close of the five years' term.

Laws of New Hampshire.

PASSED JUNE SESSION, 1860.

AN ACT relating to railroads.

Sec. 1. Be it enacted &c. It shall be the duty of the treasurer of every railroad corporation chartered by the laws of this State, to transmit to the treasurer of the State, on or before the first day of June annually, a certified statement, under oath, of the number of shares in such corporation owned in each city or town in this State on the first day of April preceding, and by whom owned; and the treasurer of every such railroad shall keep in his office, in a book for that purpose, the names of all the stockholders in such railroad, the number of shares owned by each stockholder, and the residence of every stockholder. Whenever such treasurer shall ascertain that the place of residence of any stockholder in such corporation has been changed to any town or city in this State, he shall make a corresponding entry in the book of stockholders aforesaid. Any treasurer of any railroad corporation, neglecting to comply with any of the provisions of this section, shall forfeit the sum of one hundred dollars, to be recovered agreeably to the provisions of chapter 211 of the Revised Statutes.

Sec. 2 The assessors of the several towns and cities shall annually take an inventory of the number of shares in any railroad corporation, chartered under the laws of this State, and owned by the inhabitants of their respective towns and cities on the first day of April, and shall, on or before the first day of June, annually, transmit to the State treasurer a statement under oath, of the shares owned in said railroad corporations in such town or city, as ascertained from said inventory, specifying the names of the several owners, and the number of shares owned by each, and in what corporation, and what said shareholders were, on the first day of April preceding, actual inhabitants of such town or city. In such statement they shall give all such information, whether obtained upon the taking of such inventory or otherwise. If any town or city shall, by its assessors, neglect to comply with the provisions of this section, it shall receive no part of the three-fourths of one per cent. of the railroad tax which it is now by law entitled to receive from the State treasury upon the railroad shares owned in such town or city.

Sec. 3. The State treasurer shall annually, after the first day of June, compute the proportion to be paid to each town and city, under the provisions of sub-section two, of section five, chapter 41 of the Compiled Statutes, upon the facts as appearing in the returns of the railroad treasurers and assessors, under the provisions of this act, and pay over the same to the several towns and cities entitled to receive the same,—adjusting such discrepancies as such returns in such manner as shall be satisfactory to him.

Sec. 4. The treasurer of a railroad, instead of its clerk, shall be and perform all the duties now required of such clerk by the provisions of section 1, chapter 322 of the Pamphlet Laws, passed June session 1849; and so much of sections 4 and 5 of said chapter 322 as is applicable to clerks of railroad corporations, shall be observed and taken to apply to the treasurer of such railroad instead thereof.

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become depraved, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three dose will cure Dyspepsia.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from disputing too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them cheerful, lively and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health to the pale and emaciated face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests An abundance of cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf at the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and is an satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounce it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will not be consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a household, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

THE TOWN OF WEBSTER.—The old town of Boscawen, N. H., has been divided, and the name of Webster has been given to the westerly portion of it. In the easterly portion, which retains the old name of Boscawen; Hon. Daniel Webster first entered the practice of law.

Upon the other side of the new town of Webster is the town of Franklin, where the Webster brothers were born, and where their father and mother were buried. So that this new town which is intended to preserve the name of the great statesman, does not include either of those portions with which he was more immediately connected.

A COURAGEOUS WOMAN.—Mrs. Elizabeth Godfrey, of Weston, Conn., while alone in her house, discovered a large rattle-snake making his way up the door step into the dwelling. She stepped back and took the lever of the cheese press and struck the reptile a single blow upon the head with it, so firmly and truly that he was instantly killed. The snake was five feet in length, ten inches in circumference, and at least 20 years old. Not many women—or men either—would have shown so much coolness under the circumstances.

MACHINE SHOES.—The Dover Star says, "the present method of shoe-manufacturing is rapidly becoming old-fasioned.—There is a steam shoe factory in Saxton's River, Vt., where all the hand labor used about a shoe is in lasting-on the uppers.—The soles are cut, rolled, levelled and then shaped by machinery. They are blacked, polished and pegged by machinery. They are also bound, stitched, punched and sandpapered by machinery. The establishment contains rooms for four hundred hands, none of whom require any of the old familiar tools or the shoe bench."

CATACOMBS OF ROME.—A recent visitor to the catacombs near Rome details his descent into one of them—that of St. Sebastain—and says:—

To give some idea of the vast number deposited in this city of the dead, it has been reckoned there are upwards of 175,000 bodies in the crypts of St. Sebastain only. The atmosphere is close and stifling, smelling of earth. Not a living thing, not an insect, not even a spider, is found therein. It is in every sense the abode of death. Many stories have been related, and I can readily believe them, of persons who have ventured into these passages without proper guides and who have been hopelessly lost!

☞ The effects of heat were quite disastrous in Mobile last week. No less than fifteen persons died from sun strokes in one day. A lady suffering from extreme heat, bathed her face in ice water, and died in about ten minutes afterwards.

A report is in circulation that the Directors of the Concord and Manchester & Lawrence Railroads have decided to remove all the conductors of passenger trains employed on their respective roads. The reason of this change we do not learn.—Lawrence Courier.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 12.—Henderson, Democrat, has been defeated for Congress in the second district by 249 votes. C. Jackson leads Orr 6290 votes.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to laid prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have ever reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months athr the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can tell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention; quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 15, 1860.

☞ Last Saturday, the New York Herald declared itself for Bell and Everett, being converted to that party by the late Southern and Southwestern elections.

In giving reasons for its present course, it takes for granted, that the 120 votes of the South will be all against Lincoln!—who they will be for, it don't say.

It then asserts that there is a popular majority against him in half a dozen States,—and says, "to carry all these States over his head it is only necessary that the conservative forces opposed to this disunion sectional Republican party of the North should combine against it. But how is this to be done? In the outset, supposing the defeat of Lincoln to be the paramount object among the supporters of Breckinridge, Bell & Douglas, we broached the plan of a system of fusion electoral tickets among them."

This nice scheme failed:—and then the Herald called on everybody North to vote for Breckinridge, the only man that could unite the South.

"But," says the Herald, "the late Southern elections have dissipated this idea. Not yet disposed to give up the ship, we next recommended the withdrawal—by an agreement among themselves—of Breckinridge and Lane, Bell and Everett, Douglas and Johnson, and the recommendation by them of a joint stock ticket upon which all their supporters might combine. But the proposition appears to have fallen upon the candidates indicated, like the voice of a man upon the winds or the angry waves of the swelling sea."

This remarkable deafness of the noisy Bell ringers and quarrelling Democrats, is accounted for by the Herald, in the fact that all these noisy fellows "appear to have surrendered themselves to the idea that the case is foreclosed, and that Lincoln is already elected." No doubt there is something that looks exactly like it. But the Herald will try once more. It says, "We are not yet disposed to concur in this conclusion. On the contrary, we believe that Lincoln may still be defeated." How is it to be done? The Herald suggests that only one chance remains, that there is just time enough to try it, and not a moment to "waste in beating the air." This last great chance is for all sorts of Democrats, Americans, Whigs, Bellmen and Republicans to go for Bell and Everett, and says:—

With half the electoral vote of the South to endorse them, there is now a fair chance for the election of Bell or Everett as our next President, by casting the election into Congress, through a system of operations which recognizes a common cause against a enemy.

Well, says Uncle Toby, this is decidedly rich: the common enemy is freedom of labor, freedom of speech, freedom of action within reasonable bounds—and the common cause, is the consolidation and perpetuity of the slave power, by a base subserviency to its demands, and a baser fear of its threats.

The programme is very fine; but it will be hard to play it out.

Our Prospects.—The Dover Sentinel, in speaking of "Our (i. e. Democratic) Prospects" in New Hampshire, says:

Their case is not hopeless. A change of two votes in each school district in the State would restore it again to the hands of the Democracy.

That's a bright thought, says Uncle Toby; so it would, if these two votes all changed to the right hand,—but if they should happen to go to the left, as they do sometimes, it might only make a bad matter worse, and make the black Republican majority considerably blacker than it is now.

The Sentinel very wisely puts in this proviso:

We would not hold out to the people the hope that we are safe in the State; but we do believe that, with a proper degree of energy and activity, the State may be redeemed.

"Dodging the Question."—The St. Louis Observer, (Cumberland Presbyterian,) in its notice of the manner in which the Old School General Assembly responded to the question on dancing, sent up from the Presbytery of Cincinnati, says:

"We were looking for, and predicted, a plain, emphatic affirmative deliverance in answer to the inquiry propounded; but, instead of that, the whole subject is treated in a very gingerly manner. The General Assembly dodges an answer to the question, on the ground that 'each session is fully competent to decide when discipline is necessary!' It's the mountain delivered of the mouse; and a safe deliverance it is, too, in view of the fact that some Ruling Elders patronize dancing schools."

The upshot of the whole matter is, that the Old School Presbyterians, in their highest assembly, deem the dancing question of no great consequence, pro or con. We shall hear no more of it, from that quarter; any Old School Presbyterian Church, where their own session permits, may dance as much as they please, especially if Ruling Elders favor the thing.

Burlington, N. J., Aug. 13.—A man named Bends was killed to-day during a riot among an excursion party at Rancocas Creek. The murderer was arrested.

[Correspondence of the Chronicle.]

SIGHT-SEEING IN THE WEST.

I passed an evening at the residence of Hon. John T. Stuart, in Springfield, Ill.; and learned from the mouth of one who knows him intimately, something concerning Mr. Lincoln's characteristics of mind and heart. The result of our conversation confirmed the opinions which I had previously formed.

Mr. Lincoln's mind is of the mathematical, reasoning, analytical class. If he approaches a topic in law or in politics, he does so with the full determination to conquer it. He will not go before a jury with a case carelessly prepared, or before the country as an advocate of political views which he but imperfectly comprehends. In support of this fact, I have the remark of Mr. Stuart, that in his opinion no man living has so fully elaborated, or so perfectly understands, the two great subjects of slavery and the tariff. His opinions on these questions have not changed during his political career. Slavery he has always looked upon as an evil, and no man would rejoice more earnestly to learn that the last manacle had fallen. I do not say that Mr. Lincoln is an "abolitionist," but I do say that the same hatred of the "peculiar institution" which induced his father to leave Kentucky for the free State of Indiana, at a time when only hardship and poverty were before him—lives equally in the son. He has too reverent, too genial, too kind-hearted and loving a nature, to entertain the thought that chains and slavery belong to anything but guilt and crime.

Mr. Lincoln has also something of the poetical element in his composition, but it exists rather because of his broad humanity than as a characteristic of mind. His speeches certainly bear little of the impress of a vivid imagination; but for hard facts, severe logic, solid argument, driven home and clenched with vigorous Saxon, all must acknowledge that they defy criticism. And I confess my surprise at learning, as I did from Mr. Stuart, that Mr. Lincoln was so familiar with the writings of Burns that he was able to repeat nearly every line of that poet's productions. The "Cotter's Saturday Night" is with him an especial favorite, and he is in the habit of repeating it to his children at the close of the week's labors. The works of Shakspeare are his admiration, and Poe is an especial favorite. In short, Mr. Lincoln is wanting in none of those requisites which go to make up the cultivated man.

Mr. Lincoln was born in 1808, and is therefore fifty-two years of age. At the age of 19, he weighed two hundred and eight pounds; his present weight is one hundred and fifty pounds. His height is within a fraction of 6 feet 4; and, as his weight would indicate, he is of a delicate frame, tall, slender, erect and well-proportioned. That peculiar air of neatness and refinement, so difficult to describe, yet so attractive always, pervades him. He dresses neatly, yet far from extravagantly. I do not know that I am violating his confidence, when I tell your readers the amount of his worldly goods. He informed me that his property is worth more than $15,000, and less than $20,000; that he has never speculated, and never risked a dollar in any doubtful enterprise. Content with his fair earnings as a lawyer, he has never striven for or expected wealth. His habits are simple, and his personal expenses few. Yet his neighbors assure me that he is liberal in his charities, giving with unsparing yet unostentatious hand.

His attributed honesty is no myth. So proverbial has it become, that the bar, the court, and even the jury understand it. A case in the hands of Mr. Lincoln, in which the client has deceived the counsel, is as good as lost. He will not defend a villain, if he knows it, and this class of customers have ceased to apply to him.

I will conclude my remarks upon Mr. Lincoln by repeating a portion of our conversation. At the close of one of our interviews I asked, "Well, Mr. Lincoln, do you expect to be elected President?" "Well, sir," was the reply, "it looks well, it looks well. I have the strongest assurances from friends in States considered doubtful, and I am constrained to believe that I have a goodly promise of success." "But," I replied, "candidates for important offices rarely lack friends to assure them of the absolute certainty of success." "I am aware of that: but I am not a sanguine man. I endeavor to look at the matter, from the position of a disinterested spectator. If I am defeated, it will not materially interfere with my plans. For the present, I have laid aside my law-business, but am ready to resume it again at the close of the campaign."

When I bade him good bye, he took me warmly by the hand, and urged me to prolong my visit. Standing thus, hand clasped in hand, I briefly explained to him the necessity of an early departure, and his last words were, "If you must leave us so soon, great success attend you."

And thus we parted. F. F.

Philadelphia, Aug. 13.—There was a heavy rain here to-day; several culverts caved in, causing considerable damage.—Two boys were also killed by lightning.

☞ In the great thunder shower of Wednesday Aug. 8, at Exeter, the lightning struck the house of Hon. Judge Sullivan, entering the L part and through the partition to the kitchen, tearing off the plastering, wood-work, &c., to the piazza at the east end, passing down the pillar to the chain in the post at the side of the steps into the ground. The family of Mr. Sullivan escaped unhurt. The house was somewhat damaged.

In Kensington, the houses of Elder Blodgett and Weare Shaw were struck and somewhat injured. The great pine tree (said to be 30 feet in circumference) on the Osgood hill, seen from the ocean, and serving as a landmark for sailors, was struck and partly destroyed.

The lightning, when it struck the dwelling house of Rev. J. C. Blodgett, entered seven rooms, doing great damage. It played some strange pranks. In the parlor it destroyed several ambrotype pictures, tore carpets, and broke up furniture, but fortunately none of the inmates were seriously injured. Mr. Blodgett was stunned so that unconsciously he ran into the street, his arms extended, and his face upturned to the clouds.

At Topsfield, Mass., the Academy building was struck and much damaged; the lightning struck the cupola, passing through the roof, the upper and lower stories, through all the floors, to the ground. It is supposed that the lightning passed from the building to the railroad track, which is very near the Academy. The air was filled with splinters of wood thrown off from the cupola; several of the windows and their frames were thrown out, the plastering torn off, the stove and funnel thrown about, and much other damage done. It was fortunate that there was no person in the building at the time, it being the usual summer vacation of the pupils of the Academy.

Why will they do it?—At Hamden, Conn., a Mrs. Gumer, 19 years old, and a two months' bride, one day last week, undertook to quicken a fire by turning on burning-fluid from a can. She was quickly burnt to death. Month by month such casualities occur, and the newspapers warn the public of the explosiveness of this fluid, and its tendency to combustible vapor; yet house keepers continually rush on their doom, and the sad procession of voluntary victims to this demon continues steady in its march and unbroken in it ranks.

☞ The Atlas says, an item now on its travels among our exchanges, about the old frigates Chesapeake and Shannon, is wrong. The former was broken up by the British, many years ago, and its timbers form the frame of a heavy grist-mill; the latter has for a long time been used as an old hulk at a dock yard. The present British vessels of these names are fine, new, heavy steam frigates, of nearly the size of our first class side-wheel frigates, Susquehannah and Lancaster. The old belligerents have fought their last battle, and the present craft have no historic interest.

☞ In a recent conversation Caleb Cushing is reported to have said: "Abraham Lincoln is a much abler man than is generally supposed, even in his own party. In his canvas with Douglas, he beat him in law and argument, and beat him in wit; and the public debates of that canvas will sustain this assertion."

Good Advice about Politics.—The gentleman who occupies the "Easy Chair" of Harper's Monthly Magazine, speaking of the general corruption in politics, exclaims, "No, no, young man, don't whine and sniff at the dirtiness of politics, but turn to and do your best in cleansing them." This is good advice to both young and old.

☞ Senator Seward has had great and spontaneous receptions, in many places in New England, especially in Boston;—and Mr. Lincoln, the Republican candidate for the Presidency, has been complimented by an immense gathering of people, at his home in Springfield, Ill.

☞ Dan. Dickinson continues his assaults on Douglas, the two D.'s being no more able to agree than if they were D. D.'s. Mr. Dickinson says it is not the Republican party that threatens the Union, but the divisions of the Democratic party Evidently he expects the crack to extend to the crack of doom to the country as well as to the Democracy. He is like the man who thought the fall he had got was the beginning of the end of the world.

A Case of Fright Resulting in Death.—A correspondent of the Boston Herald writes from Lake Village, N. H., as follows:

On Saturday night last, during a disgraceful domestic quarrel in the family of Mr. ——, a woman cried "murder," which so frightened Mrs. Smith Davis, a near neighbor, that she went into convulsions and remained insensible until the next morning, when she was prematurely confined, and died a few hours after. She had been married about a year, and the day of her decease was her nineteenth birthday.

☞ An Othello has turned up. He is—or was—one Lewis Long, a Colonel, and yet more like Othello in being a soldier, and lived at Boundbrook, N. J. Being jealous of his wife, he strangled her, and then killed himself. If all faithless husbands were to be killed by their wives, what a massacre of the guilty there would be.

Dover, N. H., Aug. 14.—A very large concourse of people received Senator Seward at the depot here last night, on his way from Bangor to Boston. He spoke for a few moments from the rear car, in his usual happy manner. His remarks were received with great applause.

Newspaper Barnacles.—The editor of the Auburn Democrat, in erasing the names of some of his non-paying subscribers from his books, calls them barnacles which have clung to his craft.

New York, August 13.—The Heenan Festival to-day at Jones' Wood, was attended by over 20,000 people. Ten thousand dollars and a diamond ring were presented to Heenan.

PHOTOGRAPHING.

Messrs. Editors :—The art of producing sun pictures is making rapid strides towards perfection. There is scarcely a month of the few past years but has witnessed, from among the thousands of operators, some new discovery tending to improve the style or finish, or opening new and interesting modes of producing pictures through the agency of sun-light.

The perfection in which landscape views are now taken is wonderful; the accuracy and truth to nature of such pictures, must far surpass the most perfect labored production from the pencil of genius; and when the finishing touches of shade and coloring are added by the hand of genius, we can but have the perfection of landscape painting. The favorite pastime of artists, that of grouping hills as they never stood, or crowding half a continent into twenty feet of canvas, of course cannot be done. Nature is true to itself, and the sun will represent nothing but that which does exist, outside of the grand conceptions of an artist's brain.

The attention of the writer was called to this subject by a recent visit to the exhibition room of Mr. J. E. Small, in Exchange Buildings. This gentleman has, with years of labor, arrived at a good degree of perfection in the Photographic art. He has settled in Portsmouth as a permanency, and has just opened his treasures of art to the public.

Upon the walls of his room, among a selection of well-executed portraits, there hangs a view of the easterly side of the Piscataqua, opposite our city, looking from Pier wharf; it was taken on the sailing day of the U. S. frigate Constitution from the Navy Yard, in tow of the steamer R. B. Forbes, and every spar, rope, block and line of "Old Ironsides" is distinctly visible, as we would see them across the river.—There lie also the Cumberland and the Santee, dismantled; and further up the Macedonian, with her topmasts "sent down."—From this point the view extends below to Jenkins' Island, including the "house by the sea" of Horatio Bridge, Esq., and above to the centre of Badger's Island, with a fine view of Fore Side scenery, where are seen the ship just "timbered out" in Badger's yard, and the flags caught in their graceful undulations, which wave a political air over the little village.

For a miniature sketch of so wide a range, it is worthy of the admiration bestowed by those who visit the rooms of Mr. Small. He has also a fine view of the North Church, St. John's Chapel, and other public buildings, worth examination. B.

PARODI.—M'lle Therese Parodi deserves that the public should be faithful to her, for she has never disappointed the public. She is devoted to her art, a true disciple.—She has vowed her whole life to the mission. She has no caprices, no sudden indisposition, no violent aversions, no unaccountable preferences. When she says she comes, she is there—ever smiling, ever in good voice, ever attuned to harmony; and so the public never fail her. Friday night every seat in the Temple should be occupied. The programme is unusually attractive and well selected. M'lle Parodi will sing the "Marseillaise," the great French song of Liberty, when France aspired to be free. To hear this great actress and singer, in this grand hymn of liberty, were worth a pilgrimage to Rome: instead of which we may have it at our very doors. Viva Parodi! ***

Will hold their Seventh Exhibition, in Portsmouth,

Addresses are expected from various distinguished gentlemen. The display of Fruits, Vegetables, Domestic and Fancy Articles, &c., it is designed to have in a large Tent on the field, where better accomodations can be had than in a crowded Hall.

APPOINTMENTS FOR NEXT SUNDAY.—Rev. Moses Howe will preach in the Unitarian Church, in Exeter, next Sunday.

Rev. T. H. Miller is to preach at Nottingham Square next Sunday.

DOG DAYS.—Tuesday was a veritable dog-day, sure enough. Political flags could not wave, but drooped heavily in the mist of uncertainty; the ladies' crinoline was at a discount,—drabbled petticoats couldn't sweep along, but trailed as if in distress; gentlemen's dickies flabbily stuck to their necks; the "flowing sail" of the pleasure-boats was non est, though the "wet sheet" was to be had—and none other. "Fine weather for ducks," or for a ducking, which a large party had to take, judging from their appearance as they passed our office.

☞ The nomination of Republican Presidential Electors, of whom New Hampshire is entitled to five, will be made in each Councillor District. The meeting in Rockingham District, will be held in Exeter, on Tuesday September 4th, at which time there will be a Mass Meeting, and distinguished speakers from abroad are expected to be present, and address the assembled citizens.

☞ Freeman Stockman, of Exeter, was recently sent to Jail by Justice William P. Moulton, for stabbing Police Officer Stephen C. Grey, who was about to arrest him for abusing his wife. The wounds are not dangerous, He is to appear before the Grand Jury at the term of the Court, next October.

☞ The Rockingham Association of Universalists will commence their Annual Meeting, at Dover, this morning.

EXCURSION TO THE ISLES OF SHOALS. The schooner Lizzie M. Stewart will leave Pier Wharf on Friday morning, Aug. 17th, at 7 o'clock, for the Isles of Shoals, returning the same day.

This schooner is new, with a large cabin and good fixtures, and will afford ample protection from sun and showers.

If the wind is favorable, she will stop at Newcastle, giving an opportunity to visit the Fort. Refreshments furnished on board at reasonable prices. Fare 50 cents: children under 12 years, half price.

STATE LIQUOR AGENT.—Gov. Goodwin will renew the contract with E. A. Boardman, Esq., of Boston, the agent, for the sale of pure and unadulterated spirituous liquors to the various town agents in this State.—Statesman.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator: (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve, if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

PUBLIC RESOLVES.

STATE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE.

In the year of our Lord 1860.

Be it resolved, &c., That the selectmen of the several towns and places in this State be directed to insert in their several warrants calling the annual town meetings on the second Tuesday of March next, an article which shall require the sense of the qualified voters to be taken on the following question to wit:

Is it expedient that a Convention be called to revise the Constitution? The said Convention to be limited in its composition to that now allowed members of the Legislature for travel, and ten days attendance, and to be limited in its action to the following particulars:

1st, To diminish the number of members of the House of Representatives.

2d, To increase the number of the members of the Senate.

3rd, To make provision for future amendments of the Constitution.

And the several clerks of such towns and places are directed to make due return of the votes of their respective towns and places to the Secretary of State on or before the first day of June next, and the Secretary of State is directed to furnish the said clerks with proper blanks for that purpose.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the annual reports of the Adjutant General, Trustees and other officers of the Insane Asylum, Trustees and other officers of the House of Reformation for Juvenile and Female Offenders against the Laws, Bank Commissioners and Railroad Commissioners, shall be completed and delivered to the Secretary of State on or before the twentieth day of May, and those of the State Treasurer and Warden and other officers of the State Prison on or before the first day of June, annually; and the Secretary of State shall cause said reports to be printed and laid before the two branches of the Legislature at as early a date as may be.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the Governor be and hereby is authorized to take measures to procure from the United States, copies of the several States as he shall think expedient, for the new State Library, the missing volumes of their Judicial Reports, so as to complete the sets that may be imperfect; and for that purpose that he may authorized to exchange or otherwise make use of the surplus volumes of Gilchrist's Digest, now on hand, and any other surplus volumes of the reports, and that for the remainder of the expense the Governor be authorized to draw his warrant on the Treasury, payable out of any money not otherwise appropriated, not exceeding the sum of $300.

Approved July 3, 1860.

Whereas, complaint has been made that the Atlantic and St. Lawrence Railroad, in violation of the conditions and agreements given by it at the time of its charter through Vermont and New Hampshire, has been and is so managed, under the control and operation of the Grand Trunk Railroad, a foreign corporation, as improperly to interfere with other chartered Roads in this State, and to divert business from these roads by special and unjust arrangement of tariffs designed to discriminate against such Roads at their nearest point of contact, thereby rendering it necessary for them to make extensive and costly purchases on other portions of their line, for their maintenance, and causing great injury to the same—therefore Resolved, &c., That a committee of three persons be appointed by the Governor and Council, to investigate and report the facts in the case, and unless some reasonable and proper adjustment shall be made between these roads that they report to the next session of the Legislature such legislation, if any, as they shall deem proper, upon the subject, and that they have power to examine parties and others in this State, having knowledge bearing on the subject, and that the expenses and compensation of such committee and witnesses shall be paid by the party making the complaint, upon requesting such examination.

Approved July 3, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the Treasurer be and hereby is instructed to collect the State tax for the A. D. 1859 on the Peterborough and Shirley Railroad, and also to collect the State tax on the Sullivan Railroad for the years 1857, 1858, 1859, inclusive.

Approved July 3, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That ward No. three, in the city of Nashua, county of Hillsborough, not having the constitutional number of taxable polls for the purpose of electing assessors, be and hereby is authorized to send one representative to the General Court.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the title of this State in and to all lots of land in the town of Pittsburg, upon which any settler shall have or shall have been in the actual possession, bona fide, and making improvements for the period of six months last preceding the passage of this act, and who shall not any settler having heretofore entered and made improvements, the assessors of said town have so far considered the same as to tax on the individual, as to tax and cause the same to be sold for taxes, is hereby confirmed, and released in each case, in and to such settler, heirs or assigns, and to the purchaser under said sale.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the Governor, with advice and consent of the Council, be authorized to sell and convey by deed such lots of land as are now or have heretofore been occupied by paupers, when in his judgment it would be for the interest of the State to do so.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the Treasurer of this State be and hereby is authorized to borrow for the use of the State, at such times and in such sums as he may consider necessary and proper, a sum not exceeding forty thousand dollars, at the lowest rates of interest at which the same can be procured, not exceeding six per cent. per annum: and the Treasurer for the time being is authorized to pay the sum or sums so borrowed, and the interest thereon, when the same shall become due, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That his Excellency the Governor, by and with the advice and consent of the Council, is hereby authorized and empowered to enter into an agreement with Edward Dexter, late Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of Judicature, for the purchase and publication of the decisions of said Court, not yet reported, upon the basis of the agreement contained in the message of his Excellency the Governor upon said subject to the House of Representatives, dated June 18, 1860.

Approved July 3, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the Treasurer of this State be, and he hereby is authorized to borrow, for the use of the State, at such times and in such sums as he may consider necessary, an amount not exceeding $8000, at the lowest rate of interest, not exceeding six per cent. per annum, for the purpose of completing the new Cabinet Shop at the State Prison, now in process of erection, said money, or so much thereof as is necessary for the purpose, to be expended under the direction of the building committee, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council; also that the net earnings of the prison be hereby appropriated in liquidation of the amount so borrowed, and the interest, when the same shall become due, until otherwise ordered by the Legislature; and the Governor be authorized to draw his warrant on the treasury for such sums as he may deem proper, not exceeding five thousand dollars, to carry this resolution into effect.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the sum of six hundred dollars be, and the same is hereby appropriated, out of any money in the Treasury not otherwise appropriated, for the purpose of repairing the steam engine and re-setting the boiler connected with the cabinet shop; the same to be made under the direction of the building committee, subject to the approval of the Governor and Council, and His Excellency the Governor is hereby authorized to draw his warrant on the treasury for the above amount.

Resolved, &c., That the sum of three thousand dollars be and the same is hereby appropriated for the maintenance of Indigent Insane persons belonging to this State at the Asylum, for such and so many as His Excellency shall elect and approve; provided, that not less than two thirds of said sum shall be applied to the support of private patients, exclusive of paupers maintained at public charge; and the Governor is authorized to draw said sum from the treasury by warrant.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the sum of two hundred dollars be paid to the Warden of the State Prison in addition to his present salary, out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, and the Governor is hereby authorized to draw on the treasury for the same.

Approved July 4, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the sum of fifteen hundred dollars be and the same hereby is appropriated, for the support and maintenance of indigent persons of this State at the Asylum at Hartford; and the sum of one thousand dollars for the purpose of educating the indigent blind and partially blind persons in this State at the Institute for the Blind at Boston; and that said sums be respectively expended and applied for the benefit of such and so many of those persons as His Excellency the Governor shall elect and approve, and the Governor is hereby authorized to draw said sum from the treasury by warrant.

Approved, July 30, 1860.

Resolved, &c., That the following sums be and are hereby appropriated for the support of the militia. For incidental expenses, one hundred dollars; for rent of armories, one hundred quartermasters eighty dollars; for stationery, blank books, roll books, tactics, &c., forty dollars; for care of armories and repairing gun-houses eighty dollars. That the same be paid out of any money in the treasury not otherwise appropriated, and his Excellency the Governor is hereby authorized to draw his warrant for the above amount.

Approved July 4, 1860.

WHEREAS His Excellency the Governor, in his Inaugural Address, has called the attention of the Legislature and the people of this State to the condition of our national affairs, and has communicated to the house and Senate a copy of a resolution of the Assembly of New York, in the following words:

"Resolved, That this Legislature, and the citizens of this State, look with surprise, mortification and astonishment upon the gigantic evils, within the Federal Union, of the slave trade; that against this invasion of our laws, our feelings, and the dictates of Christianity, we solemnly protest and pledge our sacred honor and especially at the ballot-box; that we call upon the citizens of this Union to make common cause, in the name of peace, and security, and to crush this fatal disease underlying our system of government, to unite in bringing to immediate arrest and punishment all persons engaged in the unlawful and wicked slave trade, and hereby instruct our Senators and Representatives in Congress to exert all lawful power for the immediate suppression of the infamous traffic?"

AND WHEREAS it has long been customary for the people of this State, through their Senate and Representatives in General Court convened, to make known their opinions and purposes with respect to constitutional questions, therefore, to conform to this long observed custom, and to set forth the position of the people of New Hampshire:

Resolved by the Senate and House of Representatives, in General Court convened, That New Hampshire is, and will ever be, ready to recognize and perform its constitutional duties as to claim and vindicate its constitutional rights.

Resolved, That the extension of African Slavery, by the power of the General Government, into free territory, will practically blot out the promises and provisions of the Constitution, of the rights of the people to shape their own institutions, and revolutionary tendency, and should be resisted by all those who desire "Union and Liberty, now and forever, one and inseparable."

Resolved, That the people, through Congress, possess the power, and ought to exercise it, "to dispose of and make all needful rules and regulations respecting the territory or other property of the United States."

Resolved, That the virtual re-opening of the Slave Trade, in violation of the law, is a species of nullification more dangerous to the Union and more threatening to the country than that nullification which formerly threatened to accomplish disunion by force.

Resolved, That as our present sectional disputes have grown out of a departure from the policy, and a disregard of the admonitions of WASHINGTON, the wisest statesman, we will be found in return to that policy, and a practical regard for those admonitions.

Approved, July 4, 1860.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to promote the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is bountiful. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the mainland, it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

The Steamer EMMA SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returning in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the most labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been the owner of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Exeter street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS & IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Instances in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have been restored to health, and have walked as it returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are at hand. In cases of NERVOUS DEBILITY, or apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of the potassium of Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA and constipation arising from causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and permanent.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect to be most cautiously inferred from preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In LEUCORRHŒA both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pains and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and limbs.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—Blood appetite, complete digestion, rapid accession of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

A METEORIC DISPLAY.—The New Haven Palladium of Friday contains the following communication:—

Observations made here last night show that the annual meteoric display of August has not failed this year, Between 10 P. M., (9th) and 3 A. M., (10th) five hundred and sixty-five shooting stars were seen by a corps of observers stationed on the top of a high building in this city. Most of the meteors moved in paths which, if traced back, would intersect in the constellation Perseus. Many of them were more brilliant than stars of the first magnitude, and left sparkling trains. After 11 o'clock the light of the moon interfered with the observations and doubtless rendered invisible many of the smaller meteors.

The Aurora Borealis was visible during the night, and accasionally presented groups of bright streamers, some of them reaching to an altitude of full forty degrees.

The Territories are the common property of the nation, and therefore the people of all the States have a right to go into them and "raise the devil generally." This is the bolting argument. Let us see how it works. The Customhouses are the common property of the nation, therefore each citizen has a right to fatten his pigs in them. The Capitol at Washington is the common property of the nation, therefore every man has a right to go there and take such liberties as he may have a fancy for! The argument is as good in one of these cases as in the others.—Bath Times.

☞ The oak in France is suffering from the attacks of catapillars. This indicates that the French are about to destroy the British oak, and the inference is about as wise as are the speeches of alarmist politicians.

Moliere was asked the reason why, in certain countries, the king may assume the crown at fourteen years of age, but cannot marry before eighteen? "It is," said Moliere "because it is more difficult to rule a wife than a kingdom."

☞ There were incendiary fires in Brighton and Waltham, on Sunday night, destroying $8,000 in property. Three drunken men were arrested for firing two barns.

Booth was rescued on the 1st of August, the anniversary of the Emancipation of British slaves. What an insult to one of our institutions! Insult and injury entered into the business in almost equal proportions.

The Duke de Duras, observing Descartes seated one day at a luxurious table, cried out, "What! do philosophers indulge in dainties?" "Why not?" replied Descartes; 'do you think that nature produced all her good things for fools?'

The French are concentrating their naval force in the Mediterranean, to be ready for any emergency that may arise. It may be Napoleon III. has has an eye on Elba, where his uncle once had two legs.

Obadiah thinks the "tree of knowledge" was the birch tree, the twigs of which have done more to make man acquainted with arithmetic, than all the other members of the vegetable kingdom combined.

The lady who took everybody's eye must have a lot of them.

SARSAPARILLA!
Thousands have experienced its salutary effects, and tens of thousands have witnessed it, until it has ceased to be a question among the intelligent portion of the community.
When the BLOOD becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from the effects of Spring weather, change of climate, want of exercise, the use of a unform salus diet, or any other cause; this Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, will rouse the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the Stomach, REGULATE THE BOWELS, and impart a one of vigor to the whole body.
TO THE PUBLIC.
The public are hereby notified that the preparation extensively known as DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, is now manufactured under my direction and supervision, from the original recipe obtained from S. P. Townsend; and I certify that it is composed of ingredients PURELY VEGETABLE, and WITHOUT MERCURY; and also that the ingredients are judiciously compounded, so as to obtain from them their greatest medicinal effect.

It contains all the vegetable principles which experience has proved useful in clearing the system from disease, extracted and combined with the highest skill which the refinements of modern chemistry enable us to employ.
Whatever may be said by mortified competitors or splenetic physicians, the fact that this medicine is EVERYWHERE USED, and that its use creates an increased demand, shows conclusively that it possesses medicinal merits of the first order.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as others, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and skin; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my buggy against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstance induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You may publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable.
S. THALHEIMER.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

SIGHT-SEEING IN THE WEST.

Cleveland is a beautiful city, or, as one of its residents remarked, "a splendid overgrown town." Its beautiful Park, which divides the principal business street, is a delightful oasis in that wilderness of industry and traffic. The Park is soon to be adorned with a colossal statue of Com. Perry, and the most extensive preparations are being made for the inaugural ceremonies, which will occur Sept. 10, that being the anniversary of the great battle of Lake Erie.

The statue is not at present on exhibition, but a little party of strangers in the city were invited to examine it, by the artist, Mr. Wm. Walcutt. At the studio of this distinguished gentleman we found numerous works of art, but, towering high above them all, in grandeur and magnificence, was the immense colossal statue of the sailor-soldier. The statue is eight feet four inches in hight, cut from a block of purest marble, which, before the chisel of the artist was applied, weighed six tons.—The work has occupied about two years in its completion, and another year will be required to carry out the plan of the artist in regard to the pedestal, in sculpture and bas-relief.

Mr. Walcutt placed me under great obligations to him, by the presentation of an elegant photograph of the statue, which he took the trouble to procure for my especial benefit. I shall prize it highly as his gift, and also because it is the first copy of a grand work of art, which is to live for ages, and which must convey to posterity alike the names of the brave soldier and the skillful artist—the one writing the name of benefactor upon the page of history; the other winning a reputation more enduring than the marble in which he has illustrated deeds that can never die. I will show you this highly-prized photograph on my return, and will place it in Mr. Barton's window that our friends may look upon it.

Vineyards and apiaries are numerous about Cleveland, and in that climate both are a sure source of profit. In fact, I was assured that no crop was considered as surely remunerative in that section, as the grape crop. The demand is unlimited, and must long continue to be greater than the supply. Large quantities are sold to be eaten, but wine-making is the great and exhaustive use to which this delicious fruit is condemned. A fortune awaits all skillful grape-raisers, and that, too, without a lifetime of severe labor.

This latter remark applies equally to bee-culture. The season is long, and the pasturage unlimited. I visited the premises of one of the most extensive bee-raisers on the Western Reserve, and examined his stock. The hives employed are on the movable-frame system of Langstroth—the old-fashioned swarming hive being wholly abandoned. A swarm of bees is worth about the same amount there as here, while honey sells for one-third less. Extensive bee-raisers rapidly accumulate wealth.

The crops in Ohio, Indiana and Illinois, are magnificent. To one who has been accustomed to fields of corn five or six feet high, it was a grand sight to look upon a forest of stalks ranging from twelve to twenty feet in height. As we rolled rapidly through the great Wabash valley, in Indiana, my attention was directed to a field of corn, five miles long by half a mile wide, which was believed to average more than twelve feet in height. The owner of this little patch, a few seasons since, sold of wheat and corn, the products of his own farm, to the amount of $33,000. He has occupied the land, and planted it annually, for thirty years; yet it bears no appearance of exhaustion.

There are a multitude of topics which I would gladly touch upon, had I time to write. If one could write legibly while travelling at the rate of twenty-five miles to the hour, in a rail-car, you should have more interesting and less hastily-written articles. But I am compelled to catch a quarter of an hour when I can, and a letter is usually the result of this brief sitting. I may think of something of interest to write, after my return. Till then I lay my pen aside.

F. F.

A Musical Family.—There was a family meeting at Hollis, N. H., last week, at which nine children visited the old folks at home, and brought grand-children and great-grand-children with them, so that thirty-five persons were seated at the table. All of the females among the children in the family, it is stated, are singers and players upon the piano and melodeon, and all the males singers and players upon musical instruments with one exception.

Galveston, Texas, Aug. 12.—The abolitionists are operating actively on the Western border of the State. Two thousand of them are in Anderson county inciting an insurrection among slaves.

The Heenan "Festival."—Muscle and Money.—New York realized a sensation on Monday. The occasion was the "Heenan festival"—in other words, an ovation to John C. Heenan, the pugilist. It took place at Jones's wood, outside of New York city. The crowd was such as even New York can assemble but rarely. To the managers the result was delightfully pleasant. The number of tickets sold was not far from 37,000.

There were several gloved mock prize-fights—that between Heenan and Ottignon, the great teacher of gymnastics, being of of the most interest. They were dressed in tight shirts, flannel breeches, and fighting shoes. All preparations were made as if the fight was real. Seconds, umpires and bottle-holders were appointed. For the Champion, McDonald and Cusick officiated as seconds; for Ottignon, Ed. Price and Aaron Jones. The colors of Heenan and Tom Sayers were tied to the proper posts, and girded about the enthusiastic waists of the eager seconds. The set-to consisted of seven rounds, occupying seventeen minutes. After the performance, Heenan was presented with a check for $10,030! and a heavy gold ring. His trainers, McDonald and Cusick, also received testimonials in the shape of gold rings.

Senator Seward In Boston.—Mr. Seward, on his return from Maine, reached Boston Monday afternoon, and though no announcement of the time of his arrival had been given, the depot was thronged with enthusiastic Republicans, among whom were Senator Wilson, Hon. Charles Francis Adams and others, ready to escort him to the Revere House. At ten o'clock in the evening he was called out by a serenade band, and introduced to the assembled multitude by Gov. Banks. Mr. Seward spoke with more than common enthusiasm, affirming that New York would go for Lincoln by 80,000 majority, and in his certain election the days of the Democracy were numbered, and "the last Democrat in the United States born."

A Reminiscence.—The last time Mr Seward spoke in Boston previous to last night, he addressed a Taylor and Fillmore meeting at the Tremont Temple. The other orators on the occasion were the Hon. Abraham Lincoln of Illinois, and the Hon. George Lunt of the Boston Courier. Two of these gentlemen addressed large audiences in Boston last night, but they were convened for widely different purposes. Mr. Seward stood North and Mr. Lunt South of the old rallying point of 1848.—Transcript 14th.

A Case of Hydrophobia.—Thomas Dascom, of Roxbury, died Sunday of hydrophobia. He kept several dogs, and among them were a pointer slut and one of her pups. Eight or ten days ago they were playing together rather roughly, and Dascom attempted to separate them. The slut bit his wrist slightly, but he thought nothing of it. A few days after the old dog died. Friday night Dascom awoke with a burning thirst. He got up and endeavored to drink some water, when a violent spasm seized him. He remembered the circumstances of the dog bite, and told his wife that he was sure that he had been poisoned some way, and that he thought he had the hydrophobia. He grew rapidly worse; barked like a dog, turned summersaults in his bed with a wild strength which two men were unable to restrain, and finally died Sunday, after passing through great agony. His appearance is described as fearful by those who saw him.

Horses for Louis Napoleon.—The French legation lately visited Boston, to approve the purchase of five superb Vermont horses for the French Emperor, who already possesses twenty-four specimens of the same breed. The new horses are fifteen hands high, having a fine action and a speed of not less than 2.50. They are of the Emperor's favorite color, a deep bay, as are nearly all the Emperor's stock of four hundred, and their tails are of the natural length, with one exception. The cost was between $2000 and $3000 a pair.

Twenty Men Burned with Molten Iron.—At a foundry in Chicago, a number of men were engaged in casting, when one of them accidentally spilled his ladle of molten iron into the boots of another. The agony of the burn caused the second man to drop his ladle, the scalding contents of which fell upon the man who had charge of the crane. He let that fall, and in an instant the fluid spread throughout the shop, severely burning about twenty persons. Some of them were horribly burned in the breast and legs, but none fatally.

☞ The St. Louis Democrat thus foots up the returns in that Congressional district, exclusive of the two hundred votes for "F. Blair," which were thrown out, unjustly as it is claimed:—Barrett's majority on short term, 141; Blair's majority on long term, 1453.

☞ Among the curiosities discovered by the census-taker in Canada, is a pretty little girl of fifteen, who has a husband fifty-seven years of age.

The Archbishop and Count Cavour. The Perseveranza of Milan publishes the two following letters, the first of which, addressed by the Archbishop of Chambery to Cavour, bears the date of the 13th ult.:

Monsieur le Count:—In casting a farewell glance at the States of the King, I see with deep affliction the religious persecution which is now rife throughout Italy.—Persecution, so hard to bear by those on whom it is inflicted, is neither agreeable nor honorable to those who practice it.—Before our separation let me offer you a counsel which will put a stop to it in a few days, if you deign to take it into consideration. Do not mix up spiritual with temporal concerns; let priests be free in church and sacristy; do not exact from them what is contrary to their convictions; let them pray, say mass, instruct the faithful, and administer the sacraments. Do not force them to join in your ovations; do not ask them to sing Te Deums or bless standards. Govern without them, and permit them to pray without you. Respect the sanctuary of consciences. Forced prayers are neither useful to you before God, nor honorable before men. That, I think is, a simple and easy way of living in peace with the Church. The government will gain by it and so will the Church. I have the honor to be, &c.,

Alixis, Archbishop of Chambery.

Count Cavour's reply, which bears the same date, is as follows:—

Monseigneur:—I sincerely thank your grace for the advice you are pleased to offer me before accomplishing the act of separation which is to put an end to our official intercourse. I shall endeavor to put it into practice, the more so as I have no taste for persecution and am not now disposed to take vengeance for the annoyances which I had to suffer in my younger days from certain priests who used to invoke the secular arm in order to enforce me to follow their doctrines and practice their precepts. But since your grace takes an interest in the peace of the Church in the States of the King, I would request you also to impart some advice to those of your brother-bishops who place themselves in open revolt against the government of their country, refuse to recognize the Sovereign it has chosen, encourage rebellion, correspond with the enemies of their country abroad, and seek to ferment troubles within. The government respects the Church; but when any members of the clergy, whether they be bishops, archbishops, or cardinals, violate the laws, and affect an insulting contempt for the King and our institutions, we are resolved to apply the laws, even though such a course should make us pass for persecutors in the eyes of a party, which preaches tolerance while it follows the maxims in virtue of which the child Motara was snatched from its parents, and the Madiai, husband and wife, were banished from their country. I am, &c., Cavour.

Battle with the Indians.—St. Joseph, Aug. 14.—Denver City advices of Aug. 7th state that the U. S. troops from Forts Kearney and Riley had a battle with the Kiowas, near Bent's Fort, about the 24th of July. They demanded of the Indians those who committed the late outrages, and on their refusal to give them up, attacked them. Five of the Indians were killed and thirteen wounded. The latter were left at Bent's Fort, and the troops proceeded down the Arkansas river. Bent, fearing an attack, sent a messenger to recall the troops. The Indians, in the meantime, catching him away from the Fort, attacked and scalped him, leaving him for dead, but he managed to return to the Fort, and will probably recover. Bent, having but a small supply of provisions, and fearing trouble, released the prisoners.

The Arapahoes and Cheyennes, who were lately in Denver, are now encamped around the fort, and promise to protect Bent from the Kiowas.

Sicily.—Fifteen Neapolitan steamers are reported to have left Naples for Sicily.

France has assented to the Neapolitan proposal that French and English fleets should cruise off Calabria, to prevent the landing of Garibaldi's troops.

Lord John Russell declines to accede to the proposition because England desired to maintain the principle of non-intervention.

The Pope has decided not to quit Rome.

England, Austria, and Russia are ready to send troops to Syria.

Rev. Mr. Graham, of the Irish Presbyterian mission, at Damascus, was wounded in the open street. He had a guard of Turkish troops, but they did nothing toward defending him.

New York, Aug. 14.—Advices from the Pony Express state that Col. Lander's wagon-road party was attacked by the Indians in ambush, and one man was killed named Painter. The Indians were pursued into the mountains, but returned next day in greater numbers, and were routed after five hours hard fighting. Several were killed. Col. Lander expected to complete the wagon road in sixty days.

Ingenious Cipher.—The following was written by Professor Whewell, at the request of a young lady:—

U 0 a 0, but I 0 U;
O 0 no 0, but O 0 me:
O let not my 0 for a 0 go,
But give 0 0 I 0 U so.

Thus de-ciphered:—

(You sigh for a cipher, but I sigh for you;
O sigh for no cipher, but O sigh for me:
O let not my sigh for a cipher go,
But give sigh for sigh, for I sigh for you so.)

According to Dr. Loring, Garibaldi and Mazzini will be discouraged should the democratic party be beaten in the United States. They'd better prepare for discouragement, then, and so take the visitation as mildly as possible. The Doctor is almost as great an authority on sick democrats as he is on sick cows.—Traveller.

New Orleans, Aug. 14.—The largest portion of the parish of the Palquemine is submerged, and the sufferers are numerous. Many are left homeless.

WEEP NOT FOR THE DEAD.

Oh! weep not for the dead!
Rather, oh! rather give the tear
To those who darkly linger here
When all besides are fled.
Weep for the spirit withering
In its cold cheerless sorrowing,
Weep for the young and lovely one
That ruin darkly revels on;
But never be a tear drop shed
For them, the pure enfranchised dead.

Oh! weep not for the dead!
No more for them the blighting chill—
The thousands shades of earthly ill—
The thousand thorns we tread.
Weep for the life charm, early flown!
The spirit broken, bleeding, lone—
Weep for the death pangs of the heart,
Ere being from the bosom part;
But never be a tear-drop given
For those who rest in you pure heaven.

Special Notices.

GAMING.

There is in the hearts of most young men an innate love for games of hazard, which naturally seeks gratification. But we warn the young against gambling houses, on account of their surroundings. Every evil issues from them. Drunkenness, intimacies with bad men, and, perhaps, worse women, blunted sensibilities and honor, extravagance, all are the concomitants of play.—If the hope of sudden gain be a necessity, buy a lottery ticket, and you will enjoy all the excitement, without fear of the dangers of gaming.—Messrs. Wood, Eddy & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware, and St. Louis, Missouri, will return you whole tickets, or shares, upon the receipt of $20, $10, $5, or $2 50, and the drawings as soon as made. Their capital prize is $70,000.

Springfield, N. H, April 19, 1855.

My daughter has been troubled with the Scrofulous Humor, causing swelling of the neck, for a number of years, and by the use of four bottles of Dr. S. Swett's Panacea, the swelling has been entirely removed, and her health is good.

Jane B. Elliott.

The above testimony of my wife is true.

Enoch B. Elliott.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, Portsmouth, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

INSTRUCTION IN THE

Mrs. M. continues to give instruction in WRITING; also, Silk and Worsted EMBROIDERY and other Ornamental Branches.

Classes will meet each day between the hours of 9 and 12 A. M., and 2 and 6 P. M. For further particulars, inquire at No. 17 Court Street, where specimens may be seen.

JOB AND CARD PRINTING of all sorts is promptly done at the Chronicle Office.
Marriage, Visiting or Business Cards Printed or ENGRAVED in the best manner.

☞ Among the improvements going on in the city, Messrs. Charles Robinson & Son are rebuilding one of their stores on Bow street, of brick, three stories, in a neat and most substantial manner. This is one of the best arranged and most convenient locations for dealing in heavy merchandise, to be found anywhere.

The low wooden building on Congress street, long occupied by Andw Lowd's saddlery establishment at one end, and the original (Freeman) oyster saloon at the other, is undergoing considerable alterations, The store between these two staunch establishments, is to become part of Mr. Freeman's saloon; and a cellar is being dug in the solid rock. There has never been any cellar under the block, which it is proposed to raise so as to give a higher story.

A new and wide sidewalk is also being laid in front of the stores of John H. Bailey and R. N. Bodge, on Congress street—in place of the rough old path which a sober man could hardly walk straight on.—The new survey of streets fixes the grades in such cases, and saves much of the guesswork and trouble which was formerly inevitable.

☞ In Police Court, Wednesday, before Justice Rollins, — Daniel Hennessey complained of Henry L. Foote and Samuel Whitehouse, for making a brawl and tumult at said Hennessey's oyster-saloon on Congress street, on Saturday night last. Foote was unable to be present, on account of injuries inflicted by Hennessey in the ensuing row; but Whitehouse was fined $5 and costs $6.91.

PARODI, ONCE MORE.—All who love good music, and have 50 cents to spare, anticipate great pleasure at the concert of Mademoiselle Teresa Parodi, the distinguished prima donna, at the Temple, on Friday evening next, assisted by most eminent talent, as will be seen set forth in the advertisement in another column. Several years ago, it will be remembered, this celebrated singer gave a concert in this city, assisted by Patti and Strakosch; and those who listened to her then, will not require urging to attend on this occasion. "A thing of beauty is a joy forever," and her tones are treasured up in the minds of many who heard them, to this day. We really hope our people will show that they appreciate music of an exalted character, by filling the hall to its utmost.

☞ Messrs. Allen & Paine, recently of this city, extensive manufacturers of Cloaks, Capes and Mantillas, and dealers in cloakings and trimmings, have opened their new store—an elegant granite building, just erected on new Devonshire street, between Franklin and Summer streets, Boston; and are all ready to receive their friends and the trading public. They have facilities and capacity for an immense business, and will no doubt secure it. We believe there is no house just like theirs in America,—where both cloaks and cloak goods, and nothing else, can be had.

☞ We will thank our friends in this or the neighboring towns, to furnish us notices of births, marriages and deaths—but to secure insertion, unless brought by trusty persons, such notices must always be accompanied by some responsible name. Some anonymous correspondent sends us, through the mail, from Eliot, Wednesday, notice of twin daughters, born to a young man in that town, giving weight of each; but for want of a name as voucher, we decline to publish. While we are ready and willing to chronicle all "the children which God hath graciously given" to dwellers in this region, we have a decided objection to "bogus babies," whether in the nurseries or the newspapers.

☞ A large party of young gentlemen and ladies from Dover, on an excursion down river in a schooner—after getting pretty well sprinkled in the showers of Tuesday, stopped at Portsmouth and passed the night at the City Hotel. A dance at Washington Hall in the evening, and rides in the Ivanhoe next day, to the Navy Yard and elsewhere, helped to make out a good time.

☞ The North (Congregational) Church and Society in this city, have with great unanimity decided to give Rev. Wm. L. Gage a call to become their pastor—with a salary of $1500.

MODEST.—A young lady visiting in this city refused yesterday to go over to the Navy Yard, because she overheard one of the boat's crew say that they were "stripping" the Macedonian there.

BEAUTIFUL.—If you want to look at the handsomest spray of white sea coral you ever saw, just step into John Sise's crockery store, on Market Square.

☞ See auction column for Sheriff's sale of a large stock of Groceries, &c., commencing this morning at 10 o'clock.

EXCURSION TO THE ISLES OF SHOALS. The schooner Lizzie M. Stewart will leave Pier Wharf on Friday morning, Aug. 17th, at 7 o'clock, for the Isles of Shoals, returning the same day.

This schooner is new, with a large cabin and good fixtures, and will afford ample protection from sun and showers.

If the wind is favorable, she will stop at Newcastle, giving an opportunity to visit the Fort. Refreshments furnished on board at reasonable prices. Fare 50 cents: children under 12 years, half price.

THE BARGE "COMFORT," from Portland, in charge of Capt. Willard, an experienced ship-master, will appear on the Piscataqua river on Monday, Aug. 20, affording a rare opportunity for pleasant water excursions in various directions.

The barge has a cabin that will accommodate 400 persons; is furnished with water closets and other conveniences necessary for a safe and comfortable trip on the "ocean wave."

She will remain for a few days, and her movements will be advertised in due time. The barge will be at Pier Wharf on Monday P. M., affording all a rare opportunity to examine her conveniences.

☞ John A. Burleigh, Esq., of Great Falls, has resigned the office of President and Director of the Great Falls Bank at Somersworth, on account of ill health.—Geo. Wm. Burleigh has been chosen Director to fill the vacancy in the board.

☞ The new North Berwick Bank has gone into operation, under the Presidency of William Hill, one of the solid men of that locality. The bills of the bank, having upon them an excellent likeness of friend Hill, made their appearance in this city on Wednesday.

WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators
It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.
This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and is so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.
The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.
All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.
Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so this as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

CLIPPER PLOWS
Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been
THOROUGHLY TESTED
by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them
The Best in the Market!
These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the number of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.
We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, it cannot be done."
Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, entitled that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Morning Chronicle.

WORDS.—The small number of words which are used, in comparison with those which every person who speaks the English language has a right to use, has been illustrated by Mr. Marsh in some curious instances. The vocabulary of the language now contains nearly a hundred thousand words. Of these, Milton used only eight thousand, and Shakspeare only fifteen thousand.—The generality of intelligent people contrive to get along with only three or four thousand.

The Saturday Review speaks of a story that the ladies of the congregation of a fashionable preacher in London, are subscribing a fund to procure him a divorce.

The woodman who spared that tree came near freezing to death the past winter, on account of the scarcity of wood.

The man who could not "trust his feelings," is supposed to do business strictly on the cash principle.

"Raising the wind" is now denominated more classically, "exciting the financial Æolus."

An inspiring sight for a glazier: "The early dawn when it breaks in the windows."

What was Adam's religious belief? Evangelical—of course!

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
NOW THE OLDEST OF THE
76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Models for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantage for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below, given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 3, 1859.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the quietness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering-place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and is so am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore, in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.
CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to see and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS & IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable form. Innoculous in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MESENTERICA TION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued operation of nervous and other energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so low as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of general nervous, sanguineous exhaustion, hysterical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the opportunity of the preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to act as a sedative and specific, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been astonishing and speedily beneficial in dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been astonishing and speedily beneficial.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which constitute indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy, as a tonic and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the former, particularly—and it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and limbs.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

CURIOUS REVOLUTIONARY VERSES.—The following ingenious composition appeared in a Philadelphia newspaper many years ago. Its author is unknown. Its peculiarity consists in the manner in which it may be read, viz., in three different ways: 1. Let the whole be read in the order in which it is written; 2. Then the lines downward on the left of each comma in every line; and 3. In the same manner on the right of each comma. By the first reading it will be observed that the revolutionary cause is deprecated, and lauded by the others:

Hark! hark! the trumpet sounds, the din of war's alarms
O'er seas and solid grounds, doth call us all to arms;
Who for King George doth stand, their honors soon will shine,
Their ruin is at hand, who with the Congress join.
The acts of Parliament, in them I much delight;
I hate their cursed intent, who for the Congress fight.
The Tories of the day, they are my daily toast;
They soon will sneak away, who Independence boast.
Who non-resistance hold, they have my hand and heart;
May they for slaves be sold, who act a Whiggish part.
On Mansfield, North, and Bute, may daily blessings pour,
Confusion and dispute, on Congress evermore;
To North, that British lord, may honors still be done,
I wish a block or cord, to General Washington.
—[Historical Magazine.

EARLY VICE.—Lord Shaftesbury recently stated, as the result of his personal investigation, that "of all the adult male criminals in London, not two in a hundred who lived an honest life up to the age of twenty, afterwards enter upon a course of crime," and that "almost all who enter upon such a course, do so between the ages of eight and sixteen." Oh! the necessity of family discipline! Oh! the blessedness of early religious instruction!

A youth who desired to wear the matrimonial yoke had not sufficient courage to pop the question. On informing his father of the difficulty he labored under, the old man replied quite passionately: "Why, you booby, how do you suppose I managed when I got married?" "Oh, yes!" said the promising lover, "you married mother, but I've got to marry a strange girl!"

WORLD RENOWNED

SARSAPARILLA!

Thousands have experienced its salutary effects, and tens of thousands have witnessed it, until it has ceased to be a question among the intelligent portion of the community.

When the BLOOD becomes lifeless and stagnant, either from the effects of Spring weather, change of climate, want of exercise, the use of a uniform saline diet, or any other cause; this Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, will renew the blood, carry off the putrid humors, cleanse the Stomach, REGULATE THE BOWELS, and impart a one of vigor to the whole body.

TO THE PUBLIC.

The public are hereby notified that the preparation extensively known as DR. S. P. TOWNSEND'S COMPOUND EXTRACT OF SARSAPARILLA, is now manufactured under my direction and supervision, from the original recipe obtained from S. P. Townsend; and I certify that it is composed of ingredients PURELY VEGETABLE, and WITHOUT MERCURY; and also that the ingredients are judiciously compounded, so as to obtain from them their greatest medicinal effect.

JAMES R. CHILTON, M. D., CHEMIST.

Dr. S. P. Townsend's Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla, has a reputation among all civilized nations as the best preparation for which science has ever offered to man. In this resides its peculiar excellence, and to this is due its world-wide renown.

It contains all the vegetable principles which experience has proved useful in clearing the system from disease, extracted and combined with the highest skill which the refinements of modern chemistry enable us to employ.

Whatever may be said by mortified competitors or splenetic physicians, the fact that this medicine is EVERYWHERE USED, and that its use creates an increased demand, shows conclusively that it possesses medicinal merits of the first order.

CAUTION!!

To avoid imposition it will be necessary to see that DR. JAMES R. CHILTON'S CERTIFICATE, as well as the SIGNATURE of Dr. S. P. Townsend, is on the outside wrapper of each bottle.

BE VERY CAREFUL TO USE NO OTHER.

THE ONLY PREPARATION

Having Proof so Strong and Direct

as to

Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saiky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the roots of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish what you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was so pied by becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreable.

S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds at least, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

PARTY POLITICS.

Messrs. Editors:—It would seem that the great and good founder of our government had an intuitive perception of the future, when he penned the following, lamenting the appearance of party strife and contention. He says:

It seems always to distract the public councils and enfeeble the public administration. It agitates the community with ill-founded jealousies and false alarms; kindles the animosity of one part against another; foments occasional riot and insurrection.—It opens the door to foreign influence and corruption, which find a facilitated access to the government itself through the channels of party passions. Thus the policy and the will of one country are subjected to the policy and will of another.

There is an opinion that parties in free countries are useful checks upon the administration of the government, and serve to keep alive the spirit of liberty. This, within certain limits, is probably true; and in governments of a monarchical cast, patriotism may look with indulgence, if not with favor, upon the spirit of party. But in those of the popular character, in governments purely elective, it is a spirit not to be encouraged.

From their natural tendency, it is certain there will always be enough of that spirit for every salutary purpose; and there being constant danger of excess, the effort ought to be, by force of public opinion, to mitigate and assuage it. A fire not to be quenched, it demands a uniform vigilance to prevent its bursting into a flame, lest, instead of warming, it should consume.

While the spirit of sectional contention and strife is now so rampant in the country, was there ever so appropriate a time for every paper in the country to publish entire the farewell address of him, whom now it looks as if we should never look upon his like again? And would not our city, which seems to have suffered much and long from local strife, be likely to be benefitted by all giving heed to the sage advice? s.

☞ Hon. Eli Thayer had a great meeting in Worcester on Wednesday evening, to reply to the strictures of P. Emery Aldrich on his congressional speeches and votes. This speech was a perfect and triumphant defence. It was a plea for the people against the politicians, for the rights of the territories against the domination of the government; and if we mistake not, it will meet with a response among his constituents that will secure Mr. Thayer a renomination, and a re-election by a larger majority than ever.

☞ Marshall P. Wilder, we are told, will be the leading candidate for Governor, against N. P. Banks. Mr. Wilder would receive some support, not otherwise to be had against the Republicans, from the agriculturists, who are desirous of a chief magistrate who would represent the farming interest; and he would rally a very considerable portion of the old American party, who have not forgotten their Know-Nothing obligations. The memory of that Know-Nothing organization is more extensively cherished than many people who were never connected with it imagine; and the ghost of it may appear any time—as the Newburyport Herald well says.

ACCIDENT TO MONS. BLONDIN.—Mons. Blondin, the celebrated tight-rope performer, met with a serious accident on the 8th inst., during his exhibition at Chilicothe, Ohio. After dusk he gave a performance of trundling a wheelbarrow across a rope, and to make the feat more terrific he encircled himself in a blaze of fireworks, which were ignited simultaneously with his starting. Before he had accomplished half his task, one of the pieces prematurely exploded and set fire to his clothing. The peril of his situation could not be seen by the thousands of spectators below, in consequence of the continued emission of sparks, and the adventurous Blondin had nothing to do but to walk the rope and suffer the torture of being slowly roasted. Having accomplished the distance, he succeeded by his own efforts in extinguishing the flames, but not before his back was very badly burned.

JOHN S. WELLS, though an earnest partisan, was nevertheless a gentleman. His taste was refined, his language scholarly, and his moral character unblemished. He was always courteous and dignified; and however active and zealous to promote the interests of his party, he was not a groveling, vulgar politician. He ought never to have been a politician, or an aspirant for office. He was too well bred for the times, and possessed too much native refinement to be successful, as such. This may not be complimentary to political life; but we cannot well help saying it. There were five of the Wells brothers, two of whom, only, are now living—Samuel and Frederick.—Charles, the eldest brother, became a printer; the four younger brothers all became lawyers.—M. A. Cartland.

MORE DAM TROUBLES IN MANCHESTER. The war against the Amoskeag Dam has been renewed. We learn from the Mirror that on Tuesday afternoon another attack was made on the flash boards by a party from Hooksett.

NEWMARKET.—The Newmarket Manufacturing Company are rebuilding one of their mills at Newmarket. The Boston and Maine Railroad are also erecting a new depot and excellent freight house at their station in this town, which are demanded by the largely increasing business of the place. The increased capital of the Newmarket Bank has all been subscribed for by the stockholders, while there were any quantity of applications from outsiders to take the stock, which is regarded as a safe eight per cent. investment.

☞ The claim made by the Somersworth Bank against George L. Dearborn, a former cashier, arising out of certain losses made while he was in office as cashier, and upon which a suit was brought against Dearborn and the sureties upon his bond, has been referred to Hons. Thomas M. Edwards, George W. Nesmith and Anthony Colby.—It is said that a hearing will be had at Great Falls next week before the referees, the payment of the claim being disputed by the ex-cashier and his sureties. Nathaniel Wells and E. A. Rollins, Esqs., are counsel for the Bank; Hon. G. Marston and L. D. Sawyer for the defendants.

BATHING.—One of the great wants of this city is a suitable place for bathing;—a place where not only men can go, but where ladies can learn to swim, for it is as necessary for them as for men; and where children, from the earliest ages, can enjoy the water. If some penitent sinner, doubting whether he has done his duties to his race, and wishing to make up after his death for the short-comings of his life, proposes to himself some public benefaction, let this suggestion weigh in his mind.

☞ A Boston oarsman started a few days since in a wherry for Mount Desert Island. The first night out he stopped at Manchester, and the second day out he became so befogged he couldn't tell where he was. He finally landed at Rye Beach, and from thence made the best of his way home again, determined to confine his water excursions hereafter to Boston and its immediate vicinity.

THE PRIZE-FIGHTERS.—In the Boston Police Court, Jack Turner and Andrew Gidlow, the parties who had a prize-fight on Brewster's Island, were called up and held to bail in the sum of $3000 each for trial. Barney Walsh, one of the seconds, was discharged, it being impossible to show that he acted in that capacity, the inhabitants of the island being troubled with short memories.

☞ The bridge over the canal at Danville, Pa., fell Wednesday morning while two hundred persons were on it for the purpose of witnessing the performances of a man named Carr, on a wire stretched across the canal. Several were severely hurt. Two children were taken out as if lifeless, but were subsequently resuscitated. A child is missing.

☞ The London Times says the shares of the Great Eastern have declined 8 shillings sixpence or 9 shillings, in consequence of a report that the Directors of the Grand Trunk Railway in Canada were about to commence a suit in £60,000 damages, for breach of contract in not taking the steamer to Portland.

☞ Col. Uriah Bailey of West Newbury, Mass., has a heifer of the native breed, that brought a calf in July, 1859, when she was two years old, and continued in milk the year round, giving one gallon on the morning before she brought her second calf, which was in July of the present year.

SOME OATS.—We are informed that Mr. Joseph W. Brown, of Rye, has this season harvested from what is estimated to be not more than one acre and a half of ground, 112 bushels of handsome oats. Four bushels were sown—and this crop is not easy to beat, if the ground is not under-estimated. The County Fair is the place to test all such interesting questions.

☞ The national debt of England is so vast, and so far exceeds all ordinary notions of debt, that it seems a gigantic joke in some moods of the mind. The London Times, in considering whether the ridiculously small sum of twelve millions shall be added to it in order to fortify the English coasts, becomes merry over the sum total. What know we about a thousand millions sterling?

☞ Mr. D. V. Martin, the great wherry-rower of Boston, who rows to Plymouth, 40 miles, in seven hours, without rising from his seat, and also rows round to New York, is a strict vegetarian, and lives on berries and fruits while going through this tremendous muscular exertion.

☞ Quite a sensation was caused in a gambling hole in Greenfield, Mass., late one night last week, by the entrance of a wife in pursuit of her husband. Some present slunk behind the counter, others covered their faces, and there was quite a stir among the fancy gentlemen present.

CAPTURE OF AN INDIAN CHIEF.—A correspondent of the San Francisco Alta California, in an account of an expedition against the Indians of Honey Lake Valley, by Col. Lander of the wagon road expedition, narrates the particulars of the chase and capture, after gallant resistance, of an Indian chief who had ventured away from his companions. He says:—

At a given signal two of our most skillful riders started in full chase after the Indian, and in open view of the enemy upon the hill. The fugitive no sooner saw our men in pursuit than he threw his cloak off and with the speed of an antelope made for the hills, but he was too late. The race was a hard one; his comrades on the hill saw his peril but dared not come to his relief. We counted thirty-one mounted Indians emerge from the canon, but they were afraid to advance beyond its mouth. Just at this time the fugitive turned and fired upon the foremost of his pursuers, who saw his object and threw himself dexterously over on the opposite side of his horse, (as the Spaniards) the ball passing harmlessly over the horse. The rider then raised and fired, bringing the Indian to his knees with a ball from his revolver. As he rode up, the savage clutched at the rope hanging from the horse's neck; the rider again drew his pistol and fired. The ball entered the neck of the Indian, who held his grip, and with his dying gasp gave the war-whoop, which was answered by his comrades from the hill, who dared not come to his relief. A rope was then tied around his leg and he was dragged into camp. The dead savage was recognized by the Rangers as "Big Jim," a noted warrior of the Snake Creek band, one of the murderers of Mr. Adams, and the leader of the parties who had made their incursions into the valley.

THE LITTLE GIANT.—Bangor, Me., Aug. 15.—Judge Douglas arrived here to-day at 2 o'clock, by the steamer Sanford. Large crowds thronged the wharves at the various landings on the river, who loudly cheered the Judge. In this city he was received by a regiment of soldiers under the command of Colonel Jameson, and a large concourse of citizens, and was escorted through the principal streets to the Bangor House, where he was received with loud cheering. He made a political speech, occupying more than an hour, to an immense crowd of people.

FAMILY MATTERS.—If there is a heaven on earth, it is on a soft couch by your fireside, with your wife on one side, and a smiling baby on the other, a clear conscience, and a dozen cigars.—Exchange.

If a man on his couch, with a wife on one side and a baby on the other, passes his time in smoking cigars, he may perhaps fancy himself in a "heaven upon earth," but we don't think his wife and baby would be likely to indulge in any such delicious fancy. Louisville Journal.

☞ The Rockingham Association of Universalists held their annual session at Dover on Wednesday and Thursday, with fine weather and a good attendance.

Twelve ministers were present. Sermons were preached by Rev. Messrs. Patterson, Spaulding, Chambre and Blanchard,—and the sacramental supper administered by Rev. Messrs. Cobb and Miller.

Mr. Benj. F. Eaton received a letter of fellowship.

The reports were generally encouraging. The meeting is to be at Atkinson next year.

CURIOSITY.—Abel Chase, Esq., favored us the other day with a sight of a perfect shaped Schikle pear grown upon a Sopsophine apple tree, close beside a full grown apple; he has also upon the same tree a perfect Bell pear. Mr. Chase informs us that the tree does not stand any where near a pear tree.—Milford (N. H.) Republican.

Caleb Cushing is noted for his versatility of talent. In 1848, he was an Abolitionist; in 1840, a Tylerite; in 1848, a democrat; in 1856, a disunionist; and in the classic language of "Sykecie," in 1860 he'll be beautifully "played out!"—Boston Cabinet Maker.

NEW YORK, Aug 14.—Arrived prize brig Thos. Achorn, from Kabanda, coast of Africa; captured at Kabanda, June 27, by U. S. steamer Mystic, having on board the ordinary slave cargo.

☞ Sheriff Legro, of Strafford county, has appointed James B. Shapleigh, Esq., the well-known auctioneer, of Great Falls, Deputy Sheriff. Mr. Shapleigh is a prompt business man, and will make a good officer.

☞ Lady Jane Franklin, who is now in New York, the guest of Mr. Henry Grinnell, will visit some of the principle cities of the United States and Canada, and then go to San Francisco to pass the winter.

☞ The water in the Merrimac river is now so low that some of the mills at Lowell, in consequence of a lack of water, are running at less speed than usual.

☞ Julius D. Hayden, late agent of the Associated Press at New Orleans, died Thursday night, in Philadelphia, of consumption.

☞ At a meeting of the Pennsylvania Douglas State Committee, "no fusion" was decided on.

☞ Thomas M. Hayes, of Saco, is nominated for Congress by the Democrats.

☞ By estimate there are in Massachusetts 80,000 horses, valued at $7,000,000.

It is much to be feared that "the glass of fashion" is the wine-glass.

A miser undertakes to make the most of everything, by making no use of anything.

"Custom invariably lessens admiration." Not invariably. Ask the shopkeepers.

TEXAS is reported to be in a terrible state of excitement by apprehensions of slave insurrections. At first we credited the rumors, through the location of the plot in Western Texas, where they have but few slaves and most of the laborers are free whites, was against it; but they finally sent a dispatch which inclines us to disbelieve the whole: that 2000 Abolitionists in one county were inciting a slave insurrection!

Two thousand Abolitionists! In heaven's name, where did they find them!—We've hatched them like chickens in New England, for twenty years past, and we don't know of a county where so many abolitionists can be found in these States. The story is too big. It reminds us of a pious master in Virginia, who wanted to convert a slave to the Christian faith, and so he excited his wonder by telling all the miraculous occurrences recorded—how Moses' rod wrought wonders, and how the whale swallowed Jonah, &c., &c. At these the negro only stuck out his eyes; but at last he related how the three Hebrews were cast into the fiery furnace! "An no kill um, massa?" said he, "No scotch he hair!—no smellum' fire?" "No!" "Ah! I no b'lieve dat! and now I no b'lieve the fish story, or the rest of um!"—Newburyport Herald.

THE POPE'S IRISH BRIGADE.—Those Irish volunteers who have been fortunate enough to obtain a discharge from the Pope's army, and returned home, complain loudly of their treatment. One J. O'Brien writes a dismal story of his sufferings to the London Times, and represents that all his fellow volunteers were disgusted with their position and anxious to return. He says:

I was but a very short time in Macerata, until I saw that it was not to fight for religion I had gone out, but for a temporal government, with which the poor devoted children of Italy are deservedly dissatisfied, and from overturning which they are only prevented by the bayonet's point.

PROTESTANT WORSHIP SUSPENDED IN CONSTANTINOPLE.—New York, Aug. 16.—The World has advices from Beirut to July 17, and from Constantinople to July 24.

In the latter city a serious outbreak had occurred between the Protestant Armenians and a mob, touching the right of the former to the use of the burying ground.—The disturbance lasted five days in spite of the exertions of the Minister of War, together with the Armenian Patriarch, assisted by several thousand troops. This occurred in the Ball quarter of the city.

Since this disturbance was quelled, the Protestants have been driven from two other quarters of the city by mobs, and to prevent further outbreaks the government has suspended Protestant worship. The Turkish government, however, denies that Protestantism was really at the bottom of the outbreak, but asserts that it was instigated by Russian influence for the purpose of causing a collision between the soldiers and the Christian population.

A meeting had been held of all the Protestant Ambassadors, who sent an earnest and decisive protest to the Porte. On the day following this protest the American residents at Constantinople received a formal notice from their Minister to move with great caution, as further disturbances were imminent.

MARSEILLES, Aug. 1.—Advices from Damascus to July 12th, confirm the destruction of 6000 houses belonging to Christians. The Jewish quarter was burnt, and 2000 lives were taken. The massacre lasted eighty hours. 2000 Christians were still under Abd-el-Kader's protection, suffering from hunger. The new Governor of Damascus had arrived with 1200 soldiers.—Several Christian sheiks had refused to sign the treaty of peace, considering it illusory.

☞ A young man from the interior of New Jersey, who was en route for New York, with $175 to make purchases, was told at Jersey City that his money would not pass in New York, by a sharper who kindly offered to get it exchanged for him. Mr. Verigreen assented to this arrangement, and after waiting on the street corner an hour for his obliging friend to return with the money, began to realize that he had been duped, and related his misfortune to the police. At last accounts he had not seen the color of his money.

☞ A funeral procession at Philadelphia was thrown into confusion one afternoon last week, in consequence of one of the carriages being struck by lightning. The last back, in which several ladies were seated, was struck and considerably shattered, the occupants being greatly affected. The electric current passed off on the outside iron work, without going inside.

☞ The New Hampshire Cattle Commissioners, appointed under the act relating to the cattle disease, met at North Weare on the 4th inst., and satisfied themselves, after careful investigation, that at present there is no need of any stringent regulations in reference to the transit of cattle in this State.

☞ A Washington dispatch states that Secretary Cobb's estimate for the fiscal year ending 30th June last, must exceed the actual receipts about $2,000,000. The decrease of the receipts from customs the last seven months at New York is $1,491,000; at Boston, $311,000. Increase at Philadelphia, $65,000; at Baltimore, $93,000.

Talk of fame and romance—all the glory and adventure in the world are not worth one hour of domestic bliss.

As a general rule, a fashionable beau, like a bow in the sky, can't make both ends meet.

"I blush for you," as the rouge pot said to the maiden.

THE CITY COUNCIL, Thursday Evening, met in Convention for choice of City Officers not before elected. All chosen are of course Republicans. Whole number of votes 23—the largest number electing.

For City Marshal, A. J. Beck 3, Wm. Conn 5, Benj. Norton 15 and was elected.

Street Commissioner—A. H Jones 1, David Libbey 3, Eben'r Haines 9, John Goodrich 10 and was elected.

Collector of Taxes—B M Parker 1, J B Upham 2, J D Goodrich 4, Robt. Lefavour 14 and was elected.

Six Assistant Marshals, Constables and Police Officers were chosen—Chas W Stimson 19 votes, E A Dresser 19, John M. Davis 16, Reuben Rand 16, D L Randall 15.—T P Dennett also received 1, Reuben Rand 2d 2, Barth. Downing 3, Josiah Carter 3, Josiah P Carter 3, J A Hammond 3, A J Hill 4, A J Hough 5, J W Pickering 5.

[Reuben Rand 2d or Jr. was intended to be elected, but no affix was thought of—the two votes declared for him having actually been so in consequence of a side figure signifying that he was a candidate from Ward 2, tho' recently moved into Ward 1. Consequently his father was really elected—but it is supposed will decline.]

Three Surveyors of Highways were chosen: Geo Shannon 18, John L Bowles 18, Robt Peverly 17.—S Langdon, A Sherburne, T Roberts and W Scott had 1 each, S Whidden 2, C Hayes 3.

City Physician — B W Curtis 1, Abner Bennett 1, A Perry 8, Abner B Bennett 12 and was elected.

Dr Perry was elected as one of the Health Officers.

Adjourned to Thursday evening next.

THE COUNTY FAIR.—A portion at least, of the business men of Portsmouth, will be waited upon to-day, and the whole within a few days, that they may contribute in such manner and amount as they see fit, toward the success of the Rockingham Fair to be held in this city next month. Probably no other public gathering ever held here, tended so largely and directly to the good of the city; and it remains with the citizens to say how much benefit it shall be to them—as the managers will use all the means in their possession to render the exhibition attractive as well as legitimately useful. Subscriptions will of course be received in any amount; but $5 constitutes life membership, with (under the present vote of the Society) free admittance of members and their wives to the Fairs.

In Portsmouth there are now less than 20 life members—in Exeter more than 150, of all professions and employments.

☞ Those who are amateurs on the piano, or any other instrument, or those who love to be carried captive by the voice, will rarely have so good an opportunity furnished in our city as that offered this (Friday) evening, at the Temple. Parodi will positively give but this one concert, as her agent, Mr. Busch, has made arrangements for her to appear in other cities. That she will ever again visit Portsmouth, is hardly to be expected; but coming to-night she is, and we hope she will meet with the reception that she and her talented troupe merit.

☞ Hon Stephen A. Douglas is expected to pass through Portsmouth in the 11 1-4 o'clock train from Portland, on Saturday morning.

☞ Maj. Harris, the head of the Marine Corps, visited the Navy Yard on Thursday, and received the customary salute.

☞ The loser of a pair of Spectacles can hear of them at the Chronicle Office.

The barge is drawn by the steam tow-boat Tiger, and will make her trip to the Shoals in little more than an hour. Being independent of wind and tide, and having extensive cabin accommodations, with ample deck, she affords rare facilities for safe and comfortable trips.

MRS. C. VARIAN JAMES' CONCERT.—A full and fashionable house greeted our new American Prima Donna last night. In our opinion, we have had no concert here, that as a whole equals that given last night by Mrs. James and Mr. W. H. Cooke. Mrs. James's notes are full, liquid, clear and true in the whole scale. She enters into the spirit of her song without over acting, is perfectly free from affectation, and stands before you the impersonation of song.—Portland Advertiser, 16th.

Mrs. James is to give a concert in this city next week.

To every barrel of flour you can make thirty pounds more bread or biscuit (and much better) by using Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus, than by yeast fermentation or any other saleratus. It is perfectly healthy, will not turn your cookery yellow, will strengthen weak stomachs and cure dyspeptic persons. It is much better to use with cream tartar than soda. Try one paper, and you will be convinced. Most of the Grocers sell it.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. Manufactured by Allen & Taylor, corner of Canal and Centre streets, New York, and sold at wholesale by Israel Nash & Co., Boston. M&F is

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practical ly tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1-37.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into Ancient or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given proves that some 18 PATENTS WERE SECURED AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND SKILL, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his private library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

NORWICH, February 5, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, have received speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, pains, &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the sexual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the cheeks.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, or six for $2,50.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,

ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows on the island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS

—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has come under my notice. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then judge for yourself or family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE
RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that its preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested by persons who have emaciated yielders of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to all and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for those unfamiliar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

IN DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, instances have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent heats, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

IN SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

IN RHEUMATISM, both acute and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as relieving the pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

IN INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, quiet nerves, rapid acceleration of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to ARREST OF A POLYGAMIST.—Francis Kaye, formerly of Cherry Valley, and more lately of Ashuelot, N. H., was arrested on Thursday of last week, on a charge of having more wives than the law allows, and taken to Worcester for trial. Kaye, who is an Englishman, sent his first wife to her relatives in England, on the pretense of poverty, and then married a Miss Caroline Thompson. After a while he deserted her and married a Mrs. Sarah Hague, who soon discovered the villany that had been practiced upon her, and had Kaye arrested. He was bound over for trial, but was at liberty, on bail, when his first wife returned from England a few days since, and hearing of his marriage, had him re-arrested. He is now in a fair way to be punished for his rascality. His first wife has two children, and is very poor.

INVOLUNTARY MERRIMENT AT A FUNERAL.—A most extraordinary case is now trying before one of the French courts. A certain Mr. C. died, leaving an express order to his heirs that he should be buried in church, and a handsome sum paid to the priests on condition that "nobody should laugh while the service was going on." The intelligent defunct had observed that undertakers and priests often permit themselves to take hilarious liberties with death, and determined that he should be buried with the gravity appropriate to the grave. Of course the odd request got noised abroad; all the village came to see the funeral; and everybody keeping an eye on everybody else, to see that nobody should so much as wink, the natural result followed.

A fat priest near the coffin was the first to break down; the choir boys, in the frailty of their youth, followed the fat priest;—the minor canons, trying to stop the choir boys, or at least to make them "laugh out of the wrong side of their mouths," caught the contagion, and began to shake their sides; the deacons were off next in a full guffaw; and finally the cure himself was conquered, and choked in his handkerchief. In short, a merrier interment was never witnessed. It was the joke of the season.—But the heirs, not liking the sport, have refused to pay the clergymen for their rollicking services, and the matter is now in court, where it will doubtless cease to be a laughing matter to anybody but the lawyers.

A WORD TO HUSBANDS.—Has anybody ever written upon the responsibility which rests upon a husband with regard to the education of his wife? Of course we know what you will say about her being supposed to have "finished her education" before marriage, and all that; and yet you and we know that she begins as new an education with him as if she had never seen the alphabet. His views, his feelings, his ideas, are they nothing to her, if she loves him? Years after when they who "knew her as a girl" come to talk with the matron, do they not find her husband reflected in every sentence, either for good or evil? Of course the more strongly a woman loves, the more completly is her identity absorbed in her husband's. This is a point which is too much neglected by married men. A good husband is almost certain to have a good wife; and if she be "not so good as he could wish" at the commencement of his married life, he can soon educate her up to the proper mark; and on the other hand, he can so educate her down as to render his home a purgatory, and perhaps bring upon himself and his family the greatest agony and keenest pangs of disgrace which a husband and children can feel.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest school, as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have occasion to unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere gratitude. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly; and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent, more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 18, 1860.

☞ All Down East is in a blaze of glory, over the election that is to be. Mr. Douglas is going through the State of Maine, to see if he cannot captivate it to his support.

His reception at Bangor was a great one, as recorded in the Boston Herald, which says:—

The Bangor meeting was a great success. It is a good place to add in this omnibus paragraph, that Mr. Perrin, a native of New York, and long a resident of Tennessee, made a very smart and seathing speech after Mr. Douglas.

I hardly know to whom to give the credit for this success, but the committee who have made the arragements must have the largest share. I understand that Republicans here were quite accommodating, but that a few Breckinridge men, and they can be numbered on your fingers, have been particularly "boggish" and unaccommodating. They have little sympathy with that class, among the whole souled Douglas soldiers.

The Republicans hold a meeting in Bangor to-day in connection with a County Convention, and bid fair to have a large assembly. Henry Wilson and John A. Andrews of Massachusetts, Gen. Nye of New York, and John P. Hale of New Hampshire, are announced, and in the evening they will have a torchlight procession. They have a fair, fine day, but it is very doubtful about their filling Bangor as it was yesterday.

A Bangor dispatch of the 16th, however shows another filling of Bangor, in part, no doubt, by the same people. It says:

The Republican mass meeting here to-day upon the occasion of the County Convention was one of the largest ever held in this city.

The procession in the morning was over a mile in length and escorted by the militry under the command of Col. Jameson. In the afternoon the crowd was so great that it was found necessary to organize two meetings which were addressed by the Hon. Henry Wilson, Hon. John P. Hale and other leading Republicans.

In the evening there was a torchlight procession, illuminations, &c., which wound up the day's proceedings in a blaze of light and enthusiasm. The torchlight procession was a mile and a half long.

☞ At Syracuse, New York, the Douglas State Convention, there was a kind of fusion—and there was reported a Douglas and Bell Electoral ticket, consisting of Reuben Walworth of Saratoga, and Herman J. Redfield of Genessee, as Electors at Large, and 33 District Electors. The report was unanimously adopted, amidst loud cheers.

Mr. James S. Thayer moved that the Committee of the Bell and Everett party be invited to take seats in the Convention. The motion was unanimously adopted with cheers.

A series of resolutions were then adopted, declaring that the Democracy of New York did not believe in the irrepressible conflict, but did believe in the equality of the States—that they did not believe in Congressional intervention, but they did believe in the Democratic platform made at Charleston and Baltimore, and would support Douglas and Johnson.

HYDROPHOBIA IN CATTLE.—The Paterson Guardian says that up to Saturday last twenty-one cows have exhibited symptoms of hydrophobia in the vicinity of the Two Bridges, betwen Little Falls and Paterson. Of these nineteen have died, but the other two are not dead yet. Besides these, six cattle of Cornelius Van Ness, and a strange cow feeding near them, were bitten by the same dog that bit the twenty-one referred to; but up to Saturday Mr. Van Ness's cattle were still apparently well, but momentarily expected to exhibit symptoms of that fatal disease. Three cattle belonging to a widow Stuart were also bitten by the same animal. The dog was finally killed by Mr. C. Van Ness, after biting every cow he possessed. The destruction caused by this one dog in the neighborhood is estimated at $1500. Fortunately no person was bitten.

IMPORTATION OF STINGLESS BEES.—Mr. A. O. Moore of New York, who went to Central America last year on account of his health, has just returned from Guatemala, and has brought with him two swarms of the stingless bees common to the country, which he has given in charge of Mr. Parsons of Flushing, who will propagate them for the Agricultural Deparment of the Patent Office, which will in due time distribute them, if it is found that they can be kept in any part of the United States.

☞ There are 64 inmates of the Ohio State prison, at Columbus, under sentence of life, one of whom has been confined 24 years, nine others more than 10 years, etc. Of these ten are hopelessly insane, others are on the last verge of insanity, and the tendency of nearly all is to monomania and despair—facts calculated to inspire the belief that life sentences are by no means cheerful punishment.

☞ The English papers report the death of Mr. Alfred Dickens, brother of the illustrious English author.

THE IMMORTAL LIFE.—In the scientific convention at Newport, the other day, Capt. Hunt, of the United States engineering corps, in a paper on the immortality of the soul, made use of the great fact of the conservation of forces as an argument. He said, in conclusion:

The life of animals also transcends the limits of mechanics. There must be something superadded, and beyond the limits of human investigation. This is of immense value to the minds that desire faith in religion, for when this material structure is dissolved, there is something beyond it. What this something is, we are perhaps not privileged to inquire. But we may be sure that destruction of force is impossible. It is the very essence of life, without which the world could not exist a single instant further. And in this fact I see the great proof of the immortality of man, for that deathless principle for which all force is made, and to which it is ever subordinate, will not be the only perishable entity. And though we assume that an animal perishes, and no more exists, I think—though it may revolutionize some of our old ideas—that it is but a mere assumption.

☞ The Newburyport Herald contains the following particulars in regard to the Merrimac Hat Factory at Salisbury Point, which is doing a most flourishing business, under the charge of Mr. A. L. Bayley, the efficient agent. The capital invested is $35,000, and they consume 56,000 pounds of wool, valued at $28,000. The number of hands employed is 43 males and 10 females; the average monthly wages being $33 for males and $15 for females. With this number of hands employed, they manufacture 13,000 dozen hats, valued at $98,-000. The establishment of this factory has done much for the prosperity of the village and will add to its population and business.

CALIFORNIA ITEMS. — San Francisco dates to Aug. 4.

The newspapers were loud in denunciation of Senator Gwin, who seems to be held solely responsible for the defeat of the overland bill. The political campaign seems to open with more than the ordinary spirit. Both wings of the Democracy are confident of carrying the state. Several bets have been offered that Douglas would receive the most votes, and taken even by the Breckinridge men.

The steamer John L. Stephens took 45,-000 lbs. Washoe silver ore for New York.

The ship Moonlight brings 326 Chinese emigrants, and reports two more ships on the way from Hong Kong. The arrivals of Chinese emigrants during the last three months, exceed 7000, one half of whom have gone to British Columbia. The excitement against their employment in San Francisco had died out.

☞ The grasshopper has "become a burden" in Vermont, for in Addison county tens and perhaps hundreds of thousands of bushels of oats have been destroyed by them. On the rails of the Vermont Central Road the grasshoppers have congregated in such numbers as to stop the trains, their mashed bodies acting like grease and preventing the wheels from "biting." The "hoppers" are not the first that who have fallen victims on that road, though the trouble used to be that the drivers of the concern bit altogether too hard.

TEXAS COAL BED ON FIRE.—The Nauvoo Express says: "A coal bed between Wild Cat Bluff, on the Trinity, and Mound Prairie, which has been burning slowly for a number of years, has during the present dry season made wonderful progress, and ten or twenty acres have been burned off, and the fire is still raging. Recently, on a gentleman and lady riding near it, the horses broke through the crust of earth which covers the fire near the edge, and were severely burned before they could get out."

PRINTING ON TINTED PAPER.—Mr. Streatfield, the editor of the "Opthalmic Hospital Reports," gives the following reasons for printing that work on tinted paper. Mr. Babbage made the observation that colored paper is more favorable to distinctness than white. He subjected the matter to experiment by printing a page on paper of various shades and colors. Almost all those consulted agreed in giving the preference to the colored papers; but the particular tint was not so unanimously fixed on. Yellow appeared to have the preferenee.

☞ A very pretty and elegant present has been forwarded to Miss Nightingale by a grateful officer, who recovered under her kind treatment whilst in the Crimea. It consists of a small repeating watch in a ring, the cylinder of which is made of an Oriental ruby. Its diameter is the fifty-fourth part of an inch, its length the forty-seventh, and its weight the two hundredth part of a grain.

☞ The Buffalo Republic says:

It is a fact not generally known, but most creditable to Mrs. Douglas, that prior to her marriage she supported and educated her brother with means acquired by her pen.—The word "pen" being indefinite, it may not be improper to explain that Mrs. Douglas's father being an auditor, she was for years, whilst a girl, rated as a $1000 clerk of the Treasury Department at Washington.

NEW ORLEANS. Aug. 16.—The steamer Wm. C. Young, of Pensacola, for Ship Island, was struck by a gale and was a total wreck. Seven of the crew perished.

FROM CHINA.

The latest dates are from Hong Kong, June 15.

Attempts were made to hurry the British forces northward, but serious casualties occurred, arising principally from bad weather. The British transport Assistance and the French transport Irene had been wrecked. The Saone was repairing at Amoy; and the Reines des Clippers caught fire and was scuttled. The French force would not be ready for action till August.

A new steamer, built at Whampoa, was purchased by the British for £12,000.

The British Admiral claimed to be strong enough to attack the Tan Forts.

The knowledge of the fact that the Allied Powers eschew connection with the Nankin insurgents will probably tend to induce the Pekin Cabinet to meet diplomatic advances in a proper spirit. The difficulty consists in satisfaction for the attack at Peiho, which elevated the ardor of the war party to an extent which may render all concessions nugatory.

Peiho is known to be so fortified as to render an attack upon its face extremely dangerous if not altogether out of the question.

The Imperial army had for some time invested Nankin, the stronghold of the Rebels, on three sides. Such vigor was instilled into the Imperial troops that highly favorable result to their cause was generally expected, hence it was that confidence was so suddenly restored to Colleries (?) at Shanghae. The Governor General of the Two Kiang Provinces made the city of Chanchow his temporary quarters, to be near the scene of action.

It proved, however, that the resources and powers of the Rebels were underestimated, for they left their intrenchments at Nankin and utterly routed the Imperial forces, the remainder of which shut itself up in Chanchow with the Governor General, which city the Rebels were beseiging. Should it hold out until reinforcements arrive, the Imperial cause might be in a measure restored. Otherwise Loochow, which for commerce and manufactures is the first city in China, must fall. So imminent was the danger, that the authorities had destroyed all its numerous bridges and its valuable and extensive suburbs, in order to remove any shelter outside the walls.—Loochow is only 80 miles from Shanghae. The consternation was so excessive as to stop all communication between them for two days, and the panic at Shanghae was beyond description.

At the solicitation of the authorities, the French and British ministers took possession of the city, which somewhat pacified the people, but trade was utterly stagnant. The imperialist force drove the marauders back into the country, but took no steps to follow up the advantage, and it was rumored that they soon reappeared with augmented force and were acting in concert with the Nankin insurgents.

Trade at Canton had revived. The price of food had fallen, stopping the apprehensions of a famine. Hopes were entertained of the new tea season, and Congous were rapidly coming to market.

The British and French vessels in the expedition against the pirates who infested the Chusan Archipelago, captured twenty-six piratical junks and burned six.

RIOT ON BOARD THE GREAT EASTERN. Quite a riot took place on board the Great Eastern, on the 10th, caused by complaints that some of the female visitors had been insulted by persons belonging to the ship.—Several of the latter are said to have been severely handled. The affair was of but a few minutes duration, though sanguinary while it lasted. The officers have declined to make any statement concerning the affair.

THE EXCITEMENT IN TEXAS.—That outrages have been committed in Texas, is perhaps true; bnt that they are the acts of Abolitionists, is extremely doubtful. Indeed, the following from the Houston (Texas) Republic affords a better clue to the whole matter:

By many these outrages have been attributed to the fanaticism of Northern Abolition emissaries, but the true cause will doubtless be found in the whipping of an elderly preacher some months since at Dallas, for some imprudent language made use of in a sermon, and the late outrages are the result of the vengeance of the old man's friends.

☞ The Breckinridge Convention at Charlotteville, Va., appointed a committee to propose terms of compromise with the Douglas Convention, in case the latter evinces a willingness to meet them.

A Staunton dispatch says that the Douglas Convention will not compromise except on its own terms.

THE MANSFIELD ABORTION CASE.—The Taunton Gazette states that young George, discharged on Monday, in the alleged abortion case at Mansfield, will be rearrested on a charge of procuring medicine, something like a year ago, for the same purpose and person.

☞ Mrs. Clarke, a near-sighted but plucky woman in Cambria county, Pa., attempted to kill a rattlesnake with a hatchet, but by mistake cut off its tail instead of its head, and in consequence received a bite on one of her hands, from which it is doubtful if she can recover.

FATAL FALL. — Thursday evening, a woman named Margaret O'Connor, residing at 154 Federal street, Boston, went to bed drunk, and during the night fell out of a window in the second story; striking upon the pavement, she broke her neck.

☞ Mrs. Holt, wife of the Postmaster General, died at Washington Wednesday. Her remains were forwarded to Kentucky.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 16.—Gov. Stearns, the chairman of the Breckinridge and Lane Executive Committee, to-day received a letter from Mr. Breckinridge of such a character as warrants him in giving an emphatic contradiction to all the rumors of his desire to be relieved from his position as a candidate for the Presidency.

The Committee have just begun sending out an address to the Democracy and people of the United States; mainly in reply to that of the Douglas Executive Committee.

NEW YORK, August 17.—Last evening, Jimmy Massey, a noted English pugilist, shot himself badly while attempting to shoot a policeman who had him under arrest.

Two additional attachments are out against the Great Eastern, one against the vessel, and the other against the steward.—The ship was bonded to meet all judgments, and the steward's goods were seized by the sheriff.

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio, Aug. 17.—The Bell and Everett State Convention, yesterday, nominated a full electoral ticket, and candidates for Attorney General and member of the Board of Public Works. No nomination for Supreme Judge was made. Resolutions were adopted, denouncing the Republicans.

IMPORTATION OF COOLIES INTO CUBA. We have had two arrivals lately; the Spanish ship Carmeneita, with one hundred and thirty from Manilla, and the French ship Brave Lourmel, from Macao, with three hundred. The Prensa of last Saturday says that the order from the Spanish government prohibiting their introduction in future, has been recently revoked.—Cuban Messenger, Aug. 8.

☞ In England the keepers of packs of hounds invariably mix powdered sulphur with the water which the dogs drink during the spring, which, they believe, will prevent hydrophobia. It is certainly worth a trial.

☞ The slaver recently wrecked among the Bahamas is believed to be the schooner Peter Mowell, Captain Rich, of Baltimore. The negroes in the schooner, it will be remembered, were taken into Nassau.

☞ Seven thousand persons visited the Great Eastern on Wednesday. She sailed for Liverpool on Thursday, taking out about one hundred passengers.

GAMING.

There is in the hearts of most young men an innate love for games of hazard, which naturally seeks gratification. But we warn the young against gambling houses, on account of their surroundings. Every evil issues from them. Drunkenness, intimacies with bad men, and, perhaps, worse women, blunted sensibilities and honor, extravagance, all are the concomitants of play.—If the hope of sudden gain be a necessity, buy a lottery ticket, and you will enjoy all the excitement, without fear of the dangers of gaming.—Messrs. WOOD, EDDY & Co., of Wilmington, Delaware, and St. Louis, Missouri, will return you whole tickets, or shares, upon the receipt of $20, $10, $5, or $2 50, and the drawings as soon as made. Their capital prize is $70,000.

A Curious Case of Conscience.—About forty years ago a citizen of Baltimore, then in the island of St. Domingo, lent to an individual the sum of $80. The gentleman returned home and soon after died. The matter was entirely forgotten, when a short time since a letter was received at the Baltimore post office, directed to the heirs of the dead lender. It contained a statement of the transaction and the sum of $751, in full, for principal and interest of the original loan. The writer is an American, residing in a northern State, and he has thus, at this late date, relieved his conscience of an obligation which, judging from the result, has borne heavily upon it. —Exchange.

We wish a similar stroke of conscience would inspire to their duty, numerous individuals whose notes and due bills we have for various amounts—and we should prefer to attend to the settlement of them ourselves, and not have them delayed to trouble our heirs.

☞ Parodi, with her talented troupe, gave a glorious Concert at the Temple, last evening; and announces a grand farewell performance for to-night, on which occasion she will sing the Star Spangled Banner, which was received with such applause at the Japanese Matinee, in Philadelphia. Parodi is one of the best and most celebrated of the world's great singers, and all who can afford it ought to hear at least once, while the appreciative will want to hear her again, and oft. Mr. Dennett is a magnificent bass singer, M'lle Monimorency a delightful balladist, and Mr. Hoffman uses a piano as Forest does a passion.

Patchen, which takes place on Tuesday, Aug. 28th, at the Chelsea track, for a purse of $1500, the managers have made arrangements with the Eastern Railroad Co. to run special trains at half price, and all the great crowd that will flock to see these famous trotters will be amply accommodated. — Patchen will be on the ground and in training early next week.

The barge is drawn by the steam towboat Tiger, and will make her trip to the Shoals in little more than an hour. Being independent of wind and tide, and having extensive cabin accommodations, with ample deck, she affords rare facilities for safe and comfortable trips.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practical ly tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the door. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT—LAW TERM.

The Portsmouth Aqueduct vs. the Concord & Portsmouth Railroad and Charles L. Frost. From the statement of the facts of the case, recited by the Court, it appeared, that the plaintiffs were incorporated in 1797, "for the purpose of bringing fresh water into Portsmouth by subterraneous pipes," and for this purpose they were authorized to enter upon and break up land of other persons to lay and repair their pipes, paying damages to be assessed by a committee, to be appointed by the supreme court. At the end of the charter is a proviso, that the charter should be void, if the Aqueduct should not be completed within five years. Under this charter the town of Portsmouth has been supplied with water up to the present time.

In 1847 the workmen, who were building the Portsmouth & Concord Railroad, in making an excavation or cut through the gravel hill, about two miles from the town, and near the house where His Honor Mayor Reding now resides, struck a vein or stratum of water; which for twelve years continued to run freely out of the side of the cutting into the railroad, and was drained off by the ordinary ditches at the side of the railroad. In August, 1859, the Aqueduct Company being desirous of increasing the supply of water for the town, bought a piece of land on the south side of the railroad, and opened a large fountain or reservoir, by digging, on their own land, down to the vein or stratum of water, and about to the depth of the railroad excavation. Upon this, Mr. Frost, who is this year President of the railroad, claimed that the water belonged to the railroad, and by permission of the Directors of the railroad, he immediately caused to be dug a large pit at the side of the railroad, deeper than the reservoir, from which he opened a deep ditch from the pit to the Great Swamp, and by this means drew the water out of the reservoir of the Aqueduct Company into the Swamp, where it was wasted. The defendants also prohibited the Aqueduct Company from laying pipes across their land, and threatened utterly to prevent them from having or using the water, unless they paid a large sum for it.

The Aqueduct Company, in October last, filed a bill in equity against Mr. Frost and the railroad, and obtained a temporary injunction against the perpetration of further injuries to their supply of water; and the cause finally came up to be heard and decided at the recent term of the Supreme Court. The defendants contended that the water belonged to them, that they had the right to dig on their own land for the purpose of draining it off, and that in fact the water flows from their spring or pit into the reservoir of the Aqueduct, and that the plaintiffs were undermining them and draining off their water. They also insisted, that the right of the plaintiffs to extend their Aqueduct has expired by the terms of their charter, and that they have now no right to enter the lands of other persons except to repair their works already constructed.

The cause was argued by Mr. Hatch, (with whom was Mr. Emery) for the plaintiffs, and Mr. Hackett for defendants. The opinion of the Court delivered by Judge Doe, was substantially as follows:

(1) That it is plain from the charter of the Aqueduct Company that the legislature did not intend to limit the company in any such manner as was suggested by the defendants. And the plaintiffs have a clear right to open new fountains in addition to those they have heretofore used or as a substitute for them, and to conduct the water to the town for the supply of the people. The Court therefore enjoin the defendants not to resist the laying of the Aqueduct through their land; and a committee is to be appointed by the Court to assess the damage that may be caused thereby.

(2) That by law as it stands in England and in this State, any person may dig upon his own land for lawful purposes and in the pursuit of his legitimate business; and if in so doing he draws away the underground water from himself or his neighbor's land, no action will lie for the injury. And in this view, the original excavation made in building the railroad being lawful, the accidental draining of the water from the adjoining lands could not be complained of. If a person would secure the water for his use upon his own land, under such circumstances, he is at liberty to construct an impervious wall at the extremity of his own land, or he may dig deeper to obtain his own supply. But it is also well settled that no person may dig upon his own land for the purpose of injuring an adjoining owner, or of withdrawing the water from his land. Such acts are malicious and the perpetrators are entirely under the control of the law. In this case the digging of the plaintiffs' reservoir was not only not injurious to the railroad, but beneficial to it. But the defendants have undertaken to drain the water from the reservoir, by digging a pit and ditch, which are not only useless, but positively hurtful to themselves. The railroad have no legitimate use for the water, and have never made any use of it. The Court are satisfied that the pit and ditch were dug by the defendants, not to protect their rights to a pretended spring on their own land, or for the purpose of bringing the water to their own depot, as suggested in the answer, but for the malicious purpose of wasting the water and compelling the Aqueduct Company to pay them a large sum of money for it. That such was the intent has been proved very strongly by the plaintiffs. From the evidence the Court entertain no doubt that the water in fact comes into the railroad from and through the plaintiffs' land, and therefore that the digging of the pit and ditch was a direct and positive injury to the Aqueduct Company. The Court ordered that the defendants be perpetually enjoined against the acts complained of in the plaintiffs' bill; and that a committee be appointed to settle any damages that may result from building the Aqueduct across the defendants' land.

Clement March & als. v. The Eastern Railroad & als. This is the suit brought by certain stockholders of the Eastern Railroad in N. H. to compel the Eastern Railroad (in Mass.) to pay over a large sum of money which the plaintiffs claim belongs to the Eastern Railroad in N. H. by the terms of their lease, for rent for six years past. The cause was heard on a demurrer of the defendants to the jurisdiction of the court, and to the rights of the plaintiffs to sue. The opinion of the court was delivered by Judge Sargent, and is to the effect, (1.) That the plaintiffs, though they are a small minority of the stockholders, have the right to maintain the suit, in behalf of themselves and such others of the stockholders as may join them. (2.) That the case is a proper one of equity jurisdiction,—that the lease is correctly stated and construed by the plaintiffs,—and that they are entitled to recover, if the facts be proved as they are stated in their bill. (3.) That both Railroads, and the Directors of the Eastern Railroad in N. H. are properly made defendants to the suit, it being alleged that the Directors, and the managers of the road are really in the interest of the Eastern Railroad in Mass. (4.) That the agreement contained in the lease, that differences between the two Roads shall be submitted to arbitration, is incidental and not the essence of the contract, that it is not binding on the plaintiffs and is no bar to this suit. (5.) That the court have jurisdiction over the lease, whether made and to be performed in this State or out of it. (6.) That the Eastern Railroad in Mass. though a foreign corporation, may be sued here, and are properly sued and served with process in this case. The counsel were Mr. Rollins and Mr. Emery for the plffs., and Mr. Hackett and Mr. Perley for the defts.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents.

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
OFFICE, 76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, and that unusual and success IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant testimonials, but every one proves that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the proprietor, for twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, together with his library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 3, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has obtained for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such remarkable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Cole Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaint, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menses, strengthen and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freedom from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for two years, and is satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Portsmouth, and see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a household, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES."

D. MOTT'S
PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON combined with Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States, and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MENSENTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids who have resided so long as to become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if rejuvenated from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent incurable sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has delayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—the latter, however, more fully—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to REJECTED ADDRESSES.—A friend of ours, an enthusiast in the volunteer movement, on returning from drill the other day, found a letter on his table, which, as it related to business of confidential nature, bore upon its exterior the usual precaution against any person opening it other than the one for whom it was intended. The letter was addressed, "John Smith, Esq.—Private." Our friend, recognizing the handwriting of his correspondent, sent the letter back unopened, with an indignant note to the effect that, having been promoted in his corps, he would thank his correspondent in future to address him by his proper title, which was, "John Smith, Esq.—Sergeant."—The British Lion.

An Irish judge tried two most notorious fellows for highway robbery. To the astonishment of the court, as well as to the prisoners themselves, they were found not guilty. As they were being removed from the bar, the judge, addressing the jailor, said: "Mr. Murphy, you would greatly ease my mind if you'd keep these two respectable gentlemen until seven or half past seven o'clock, for I mean to start for Dublin at five, and I should like to have at least two hours' start of them."

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest school, to unite in testifying, give their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and skin; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saddle against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement: I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray; but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious, as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

MONDAY, AUGUST 20, 1860.

RIGHTEOUS RETRIBUTION.—The refusal by George M. Dallas of a passport to the colored Douglas, is a transaction which took place many months ago, and was published at the time. Douglas was in London, and took it into his head to go over to the continent. He therefore applied for a passport, without which he could not so much as land there; much less pursue his travels. But Dallas, the slave of an Administration that is the slave of the Slave Power, refused the cheap request, though such passports had been given by all former administrations wherever requested. It was reserved for Judge Taney and President Buchanan to get down into this dirt a little lower than any body had gone before.

Now, per contra, this same Mr. Dallas has been insulted in a public meeting in London, by the presence of a negro, and by a reminder of the same by Lord Brougham. Lord B. has since made a kind of apology, very poor however. But there will be no war declared,—Mr. Dallas did not say a word, and could not; but in the consciousness of his folly, held his peace. He, and slavery with him, were snubbed together.

☞ The California papers report that a great deal of excitement was occasioned in San Francisco, on account of the card of the Episcopal Committee, against the selection of Rev. T. S. King as the orator of the Sunday School Celebration in that city on the Fourth of July. The chaplain of the day being threatened with excommunication if he persisted in taking part with Mr. King, backed out, and a Trinitarian Congregationalist officiated. There was an immense crowd at the celebration. Mr. King's oration was a splendid production, and the Mission School netted $1725 by the Festival.

☞ On Monday forenoon, August 6th, as the St. John steamer, Eastern City, was on her passage from Boston to Portland, she ran upon a whale, knocking off her forefoot, and causing a slight leak. A school of five whales were in sight, playing about, when suddenly one of them rose just forward of the bows, and was struck upon the side, about two-thirds of the way back from the head, causing quite a shock to the vessel. The whale dove instantly, and not being seen again was supposed to have been killed. It was a large whale, judged by those who saw it to be seventy-five feet long. A few minutes after another whale was seen comming toward the vessel at great speed, and it was expected that the creature would attack the steamer, but about two lengths off it suddenly "dove" and disappeared.

TEXAS.—According to the Texas news in the New Orleans papers of Tuesday, the excitement in that State is on the increase. A young man had been hung for giving strychnine to slaves to put into the wells. A preacher was similarly treated for being an active Abolitionist, while twenty others were hung for exciting the slaves to insurrection. These events took place in different parts of the State. Frequent incendiary and poisoning attempts were reported. Although the town of Henderson had been nearly consumed by fire, the people seemed unwilling to put faith in the truth of the conspiracy.

☞ The Concord Democratic Standard announces that a Grand Mass Convention of the National Democracy of New Hampshire, favorable to the election of Breckinridge and Lane, will be held at the State capital, on Wednesday, the 26th day of September next, to nominate a ticket of electors, and to effect a thorough organization of the National Democratic party of this State.

The Standard also says that no man would be more gratified than Mr. Burke would be to see the name of Ex-President Pierce at the head of the Breckinridge electoral ticket in this State, if that gentleman would accept the position.

☞ At New Orleans, the other day, a group of twenty-five Irish laborers were discussing the explosiveness of two-thirds of a keg of powder, which had been partially wet and dried into a cake. One of them heedlessly applied a lighted match to it, and the result was the immediate explosion of the entire parcel of powder, and the scattering of Irishmen far and near. Luckily but six men were injured by the explosion, but three of these were terribly mangled, and their recovery is doubtful.

☞ Dealers are making contracts in Western New York for peach crops at one dollar per basket. One crop in Orleans county, of several thousand baskets, was purchased for New York at fifty cents a basket, a good bargain for the purchaser and a bad one for the grower, who was ignorant of the state of the market. He does not take the papers probably.

A LOST HUSBAND AND A LOST WIFE. A scene occurred on the train from New York, South, which, for a time, created quite an excitement among the passengers. Among those on the train was a lady about thirty years of age. She was good-looking, and attracted much attention from her air of melancholy. At Princeton a sun-burned but very handsome gentleman entered the car in which the lady in question was seated. No sooner had the parties glanced at each other than the lady swooned. On recovering herself it appeared that the gentleman in question was her husband, whom she had not seen for ten years. He had started for California when first the gold fever broke out. The parties at that time resided in Princeton, N. J. The husband was taken sick and did not recover for some time. Prior to his convalescence the lady had gone to the South in the capacity of governess, and wrote that fact to her husband, who unfortunately did not receive her letter. No answers to his letters reaching him, the husband imagined that his wife was careless of his welfare. A feeling of home came over him, and he returned to the States a few days ago. Meantime the lady had fallen heir to a large Southern estate, left to her by a member of the family in which she had been teaching. These explanations being made, the once more united couple started on a Southern tour together.

☞ The Treasurer of Amherst College has lately received from Mr. Daniel Sears, of Boston, a heretofore liberal benefactor of the college, a small and carefully sealed box with the instruction that it should not be opened for one hundred years, on pain of a forfeiture of the gift which it contains.—Speculation is at fault as to the contents and the reasons for the accompanying condition. The shrewdest guess is that the box holds deeds of real estate in Boston, now under lease for 100 years, but then to be transferred to the college.

☞ The New-York Herald, which is now toiling for Breckinridge or Bell, says that such ingenious devices as the New Jersey fusion "only suggest the idea of a number of drowning men, who cannot swim but splash in the water and grasp at every straw, or catch their companions by the hair of the head and drag them to the bottom with themselves." It adds: "As matters stand now, victory is as sure to Lincoln as that to-morrow's sun will rise."

A NEW EXHIBITION.—The New York correspondent of the Charleston Mercury furnishes the following:

A New York gentleman is getting up a "Congress of all nations," as he calls it, or in other words, an exhibition of the men and women of all the nations on the face of the earth. He has written to the United States Consuls in all the remoter portions of the globe, asking their advice and co-operation. He proposes to give a pair of every known race and exhibit them with their peculiar dresses, their implements of agriculture, household utensils, &c. It will be a treat for the merely curious, and an interesting study for the ethnologist. As steamers or vessels now touch at every inhabited island, the project is not such a very wild one, although it will require a small fortune to carry it out.

FANNY FERN.—The New York World tells the following anecdote of a well-known authoress:—

It is related of a personage, more or less mythical, named Fanny Fern, that, stopping at the office of a Philadelphia hotel to pay her bill, on the eve of her departure, she found a charge made for breaking her toilet set. She admitted the breaking of one piece, and desired to pay for that, but for no more. The price of the whole set, however, was demanded, because the "set" was broken. The carriage was at the door; the train soon to start, There was no time for discussion, little for thought, but enough for action. Hastily paying the entire demand and directing the carriage to wait a moment, she went directly back to her room, and taking up the poker incontinently broke every remaining piece in the set.

GOOD ADVICE.—A writer who has the use of the editorial columns of the Boston Post, is moved to give his brethren some novel, but very good advice, as follows:

It is useless to talk of the impossibility of Lincoln being elected, and to laugh at the idea as absurd. Victory never yet was gained by undervaluing the strength of an enemy. It is useless to predict that such and such a State will go for a certain candidate, —to make bets of large sums of money on his election,—to slander and blackguard all those who do not believe exactly as we do. All this has no weight with sensible men. It convinces no one. It is not what we want.

PENNSYLVANIA.—The Harrisburg Telegraph says the evidences "are multiplying on every hand that the Douglas men there prefer Lincoln to Breckinridge, and that already scores of men who hitherto voted the Democratic ticket are ranging themselves under the Republican banner. They see no other way half so effectual by which to rebuke the South. The election of Douglas they know is impossible, even if Lincoln is not chosen by the people."

☞ At a Douglas procession in St. Joseph, Mo., transparencies and banners were exhibited with the following mottoes: "For President, A. S. Douglas"—"Nigger for Lincoln"—"Death to Isms."

EXTENSIVE TRAVELS OF LADY FRANKLIN.—It is stated that Lady Franklin, the widow of Sir John Franklin, and who is now on a visit to New York, is sixty years of age, has travelled very extensively in various quarters of the world, and still bears the appearance of good health and vigor of mind and body. The Herald, after referring to her seven years' residence in Van Dieman's Land, of which her distinguished husband was the Governor, adds:

While in Australia she travelled a good deal, and visited at various times the different neighboring colonies. The present visit is not the first she has paid to this country, as she accompanied her husband to America on the occasion of his overland expedition from Hudson's Bay. During the last few years she has travelled very extensively, and perhaps, with the exception of course, of that world renowned traveller Madame Peiffer, few women of the present time have travelled so many countries and visited so many historic and celebrated places as she.

Among some of the places visited by Lady Franklin was the French colony of Algeria, and the empire of Morocco, lately, as it was oft of yore, the battle ground of Spaniard and Moor. Greece was visited by her, and a considerable portion of her journeying through that classic region was performed on horseback. She visited also the principal cities of the Rhine, and the Danube, entered Odessa, and looked upon the ruins of Sebastopol, before whose battered walls and fallen towers so much blood and treasure had been lavishly wasted. Her present visit to the United States is taken principally to gratify her desire to see Mr. Henry Grinnell, and to express in person her gratitude for the deep interest and sympathy he manifested in her behalf. By advice of her physician she will, probably, pass the ensuing winter at San Francisco.

BUYING AND IMPROVING PROPERTY.—A neat and charming maiden in Indiana, the fortunate possessor of a considerable property, became engaged for marriage to a green, unattractive, clumsy boy of eighteen years. The day for the wedding was fixed, and the course of rustic love was running smoothly enough. One day the groom-expectant appeared with wrinkled brow, quivering chin, and eyes filled with tears. "My father says I sha'nt marry unless I first pay him for my time." This was all he said. The woman at once sent him to the sharp parent to learn the lowest rate of exchange at which the time could be transmuted into money. "I will sell you"—said the father—"for $200, and not a cent less." "And I will buy you," returned the damsel, when the offer was communicated to her. She paid the money, married the property, and has since so assiduously cultivated it, that a great improvement, personally, morally and intellectually, has taken place.

ILLINOIS.—Chicago, Aug. 17.—The Bell and Everett State Convention at Decatur, yesterday, was composed of ninety-two delegates, from thirty-six counties. A full electoral ticket was nominated.

This rather tends to help Lincoln and damage Douglas—especially since the fusion in New York.

The old Democratic party is divided, and our friends need not lay the flattering unction to their souls that it will soon unite again.—Union Democrat.

What do you say to that, Mr. Morrison? In your speech on Saturday evening you gravely inquired of your fellow Democrats if such rascals as Slidell, Davis, Cushing and Butler (Mr. Campbell's friends) should be allowed to split the Democratic party? Manchester American.

POWDER MILL EXPLOSION.—The powder mill in New Durham, N. H., exploded on Sunday morning at 3 o'clock. Fortunately no person was in the building, the watchman being outside at the time. The report of the explosion was heard at a distance of 40 miles. The mill is to be immediately rebuilt.

APPLE CUSTARD.—To make the cheapest and best every-day farmer's apple custard, take sweet apples that will cook; pare, cut and stew them; when well done, stir till the pieces are broken; when cool, thin with milk to a proper consistency, and bake with one crust, like a pumpkin pie. Eggs may be prepared and added with milk, if handy, though it will do without. No sweetening is necessary. It may be seasoned with any kind of spice to suit the taste; the less the better.

☞ In Pawtucket, last week, a young man named Cavanaugh approached a horse in a careless manner, and placed his hands on the hips of the animal, starting him and causing him to kick. He struck Cavanaugh in the stomach, injuring him so badly that he died on Saturday.

RAILS TAKEN UP.—A man by the name of Palmer, living in Buxton, took up the rails on the York and Cumberland road, a short distance this side of the Saco river, which prevented the cars from running over his land. The cause of the difficulty is, that the County Commissioners award less land damages than satisfied him, and he appealed to a jury, who gave him less than the Commissioners. The amount awarded has failed to bless his eyes, which causes this expression of disappprobation.—Portland Advertiser.

☞ Another addition to the list of hoaxes is the story that a colored domestic at Brandywine Hundred, Del., had been detected in making a child swallow pins, which is pronounced a fabrication by the gentleman in whose family the outrage was said to have occurred.

"What a bore," exclaimed Adolphus to his country cousin, as a huge porker ran in rather too close proximity to his person.—"No, it isn't," interrupted the innocent cousin, "it's one of the other sex." Adolphus wilted.

EPPING POLITICS.

Messrs. Editors:—I saw in a late number of the Portsmouth Chronicle an article purporting to have been written by a prominent Republican of Epping, in regard to the re-appointment of Benjamin S. Clifford for deputy sheriff in this town. The writer evidently intends to convey the idea that the Republican party of Epping are dissatisfied with the course of Sheriff Adams in regard to this appointment, and consequently the downfall of the Republican party next spring; and he further intimates that Lincoln and Hamlin are in danger, and fears that the Republicans will not be able to raise a flag during this campaign; all on account of the appointment of Benjamin S. Clifford to the office of deputy sheriff in Epping, county of Rockingham, State of New Hampshire. We have no doubt but he will strain every nerve to accomplish so disattrous a calamity; and if he possessed a tithe of the influence that he pretends to have, no earthly power could prevent it. He is a Douglas man, and has earnestly advocated the election of Stephen A. Douglas to the Presidency, and no doubt he would rejoice at his elevation to the office. But things are not as he represents them to be. In the first place the Republican party of Epping are very well satisfied with the appointment of Mr. Clifford. He is a prompt and efficient officer, and gives general satisfaction, and works hard for the prosperity of the party. In the next place the party would not be in favor of any candidate whom this would-be-prominent-Republican-Fillmore-Douglasite would present for appointment, for they would expect (as usual) to be sold into the hands of the enemy before the next election. And we have known Sheriff Adams many years, and are satisfied that after a careful consideration of the subject, he would do justice to the case. He therefore has the approbation of the Republicans of Epping, for his unflinching firmness, when being besieged with unscrupulous demagogues, and hungry office-seekers, who are ever ready to distract and divide any party, to appease the cravings of an insatiable appetite for office. The article savors too strong of quack medicines to suit the nostrils of the Republicans of Epping. As to the flag which he fears will not be raised, I will just say that there was a good flag flung to the breeze in the Fremont campaign, which was purchased by subscription, which we had reason to expect would be raised, but cannot now be found. It is supposed that it is in the possession of the aforesaid prominent Republican. Probably the names have been changed, and it now numbers one of the three Douglas flags alluded to in his article. H. Y. Z.

Epping, Aug. 18.

MR. DOUGLAS AT DOVER—Saturday, Aug. 18.—Senator Douglas spoke here a few moments this forenoon, on the arrival of the Portland train. About two thousand people were present, a large proportion Republicans. No enthusiasm was manifested. Mr. Douglas was hoarse, and looked very much fatigued.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—A dispatch to the Herald states that it is announced in Washington that Douglas and Johnson will continue on the stump until the election, the former going South and West, and the latter East as far as Maine. Douglas speaks at Norfolk, Va., next Friday.

The Herald has advices from Honduras announcing that General Walker had gone to Swan Island. The schooner Clifton and cargo, which composed a part of his expedition, had been seized by the British authorities at Belize. It is reported that Walker is preparing for a descent upon Costa Rica or Nicaragua. The yellow fever was terribly fatal at Belize.

SEWING MACHINE DECISION.—Coopers-town, N. Y., Aug. 17.—The five great sewing machine suits of Potter & Wheeler, and Grover & Baker, against George B. Sloat, John B. Gibbs, James G. Wilson, and others, which were argued last summer here before Justices Nelson and Smalley, by Messrs. Gifford and Stoughton, have been decided against the defendants on all points, fully sustaining the Allen B. Wilson feed patents, and perpetual injunctions have been ordered.

BRUNSWICK, ME., Aug. 17.—A man named George Brit of Augusta was run over and instantly killed, by a train of cars, near this city, last evening. He was intoxicated at the time.

☞ Dispatches from Arkansas assert the election of Rector, the Independent Democratic candidate for Governor, who is 2765 votes ahead of Johnson, with 18 counties to hear from.

A Western editor expresses his delight at having nearly been called "honey" by the gal he loves, because she saluted him as "Old Beeswax," at their last meeting.

☞ In Virginia, the Douglas, Breckinridge and Bell parties are all separate. No fusion whatever, except confusion.

☞ Senator Douglas has been very handsomely received in Maine.

Dogs are said to "speak with their tails." —Mrs. Hall.

Then you will admit that bob-tailed dogs are stump orators.—Hartford Times.

SPRINGFIELD, N. H., April 19, 1855.

My daughter has been troubled with the Scrofulous Humor, causing swelling of the neck, for a number of years, and by the use of four bottles of Dr. S. Swett's Panacea, the swelling has been entirely removed, and her health is good.

JANE B. ELLIOTT.

The above testimony of my wife is true.

ENOCH B. ELLIOTT.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specifics

CURE PROMPTLY and safely all the more common diseases and ailments to which families are subject. In all acute diseases, such as fevers, inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Croup, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, Bronchitis and Consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Liver Complaint, Piles Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

MINISTERIAL.—Rev. Dr. Peabody said farewell to the people of his charge on Sunday—concerning which we shall make further remarks to-morrow.

He now terminates the third pastorate over that society, which three have extended over a term of one hundred and eight years. Rev. Dr. Haven was settled in 1752, and died in 1806. Rev. Dr. Parker was pastor from 1808 to 1833; and Rev. Dr. Peabody was settled in 1833, and now removes to an important field of labor in Cambridge.

Rev. William L. Gage has accepted the call of the North Church and Parish to become their pastor, and will enter on his work on the first Sabbath in October next. Mr. G. is a native of Concord, in this State, and has been settled over a society in Manchester, N. H.

Rev. E. B. Eddy will be installed to-morrow, Tuesday, as pastor of the Middle street Baptist Church.

☞ Arrangements for the County Fair are progressing favorably. The Trustees of the Society had a meeting in this city on Saturday, and appointed the Committees, which with other details will be announced in a few days. A large tent has been engaged, which will afford ample accommodations for the in-door display—and when lighted in the evening, will be just the place for a Promenade Concert with a thousand or two of people. There is not much doubt but that if the weather and other circumstances prove favorable, this will be the most successful exhibition ever gotten up by the Society. And all our live citizens are ready to do their part toward it—a portion have been called upon, and others will be immediately.

☞ The Horse Guards are to visit Portsmouth at the time of the County Fair. Col. Bellows, of Concord, was in the city on Saturday; and arrangements were completed for the Guards coming here at that time.—The company in this city and vicinity is also being rapidly filled up, and its success is no longer a question—so those gentlemen in all the towns about who have been waiting for the Portsmouth armory to be a sure thing, had better order their arms, uniforms and accoutrements at once, while there is time to make them.

☞ Parodi's "positively only one" Concert, Friday evening, was well attended, by a genteel audience, and was a success. Her splendid performance of the Marseilles Hymn was worth the ticket. We wish it was not too vulgar for such singers, especially natives like Mr. Dennett and Miss Montmorency, to give us more good English (or American) songs or glees—like the laughing trio, for instance; but as it is, they must always sing in an "unknown tongue," or else forever harp on a few hacknied, stereotyped old English Ballads—good enough in their place, but not the only good things in the world. Mr. Dennett should enlarge his repertoire.

The "grand farewell" "by request," Concert announced for Saturday evening, was not given, on account of the smallness of the audience. We were sorry the agents of Parodi, who has always stood so high in public esteem, both as a lady and a prima donna, should thus place her in this false position before our people—many of whom we have no doubt were kept away by the very falsity in the announcements. Fair play is a jewel, which dims not beside the most brilliant talents.

MRS. VARIAN-JAMES, who is to give a Concert at the Temple this (Monday) evening, is not much known about here, but is a great favorite at the West; and receives the highest commendation wherever she appears. We have before us a programme, in which Mrs. James sustains the chief part, of "Gilda," in the opera of Rigoletto, at Pike's great Opera House, Cincinnati, with Parodi as "Maddalena." Some of the judges place Mrs. J. second only to Jenny Lind. She is an American lady, but spent eight years in Italy in the study of music, and sang in Naples and Florence, the very land of song itself, with the most brilliant success. She is a native of Maine, and gave her first Concert in Portland last week, of which the Argus says:

She is one of the best vocalists in the country. Her splendid, voice and charming manners took our people by storm, and round upon round of applause was bestowed upon each and every performance.

Mrs. James has with her Mr. Cooke, tenor, and Mr. Dow, pianist; and from the testimony of all who have heard heard her, we have no doubt but that the lady is a splendid singer, and our citizens may rely on a capital Concert to-night—one of the best ever given here. Mr. Cooke is a most excellent tenor; and Mr. Dow a skillful, and what is more, a pleasing performer on the piano.

The agent for this troupe is Mr. Thos. V. Briggs, a musical gentleman himself, and who is most favorably remembered here by many, as a former resident of Portsmouth. His guarantee of the excellence of the entertainment is worth much to his old acquaintances here.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

It has long been apparent that some new movement was desirable, to keep up the interest, or renew it, on the subject of Temperance in this city and vicinity.

We are glad, therefore to learn, that a meeting of the friends of temperance will be held at the Temple on Wednesday evening, Aug. 22, at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Rev. E. W. Jackson and other gentlemen from abroad. It is hoped that all friends of the temperance reform will attend.

Some of the gentlemen who will attend, belong to the order of Sons of Temperance, which is increasing and improving. It may be found advisable to form a Division here.

☞ The new Cabot street School House is about finished by the contractor, Mr. B. F. Webster, and is a handsome structure, and appears to be well designed for its purpose. A few trees planted in proper positions around it, would not only be very desirable for the children's ample play-ground, but would also be some protection from fire.

☞ For the alarm of fire, on Saturday night, we could ascertain no cause.

MOONLIGHT EXCURSION.—The barge Comfort will make a trip down the harbor on Monday evening, by moonlight. Leave Pier Wharf at half-past 7 o'clock. Tickets for the evening trip 15 cents.

The Portsmouth Cornet Band will give one of their splendid concerts on board.

TO THE SHOALS.—The barge Comfort will make an excursion to the Shoals on Tuesday, Aug. 21st, accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band. Leave Pier Wharf at half-past 8 o'clock: leave the Shoals, to return, at half-past 3 o'clock.—Tickets for the trip 50 cents: children under fourteen years, 25 cents.

The barge is drawn by the steam towboat Tiger, and will make her trip to the Shoals in little more than an hour. Being independent of wind and tide, and having extensive cabin accommodations, with ample deck, she affords rare facilities for safe and comfortable trips.

☞ A man walking on the Eastern Railroad, at Parker River bridge, was killed by the last down train, Saturday night—the cow-catcher striking and "catching" him.—He was apparently a middle-aged laborer, and was taken to Newburyport. It would seem that he wished to be killed, for after seeing the train approaching, and being warned by the man at the bridge, he stepped between the rails, and remained there, tho' the engineer whistled-up till the train had almost stopped when it struck him.

☞ The loser of a pair of Spectacles can hear of them at the Chronicle Office.

A PRINCE OF A PRINCE.—The Prince of Wales is in at least one respect setting a good example for his future subjects. He is punctual in the accomplishment of his plans. He has not yet failed to be at any place as early as the time specified in the programme of his tour.

☞ A statement of the Prefect of Police, just published, gives the information that there are ninety-four thousand uninhabited apartments in Paris, irrespective of the public hotels and furnished lodging houses.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is as healthy as the purest flour; it will prove a great saving in that article; is peculiarly adapted to benefit weak stomachs and dyspeptic persons; is much more healthy and economical than baking powders, and greatly preferred to soda to use with cream tartar. Grocers may say they have as good. They are mistaken. It is the best in the world. Try it. Most of the Grocers have it. Have the Gold Medal or none.

There is another article in the market put up in similar colored papers. Do not be deceived by it. See that the name of HERRICK ALLEN is on the wrapper, and no mistake can occur. LYMAN'S Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practical by tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate

IN FRANKLIN STREET.

By virtue of license from the Judge of Probate of the County of Rockingham, I shall sell at public auction, on Saturday, the 25th day of August, 1860, at 12 o'clock, noon,

on the premises,

The HOUSE AND LOT numbered three on Franklin street, in Portsmouth, belonging to the estate of Charles H. Fernald. Said house is a convenient one for a moderate-sized family, has aqueduct water, and rents at present for $80 per year.

For further particulars apply to WILLIAM H. HACKETT, or to ALEXANDER JUNKINS, Admr.
Portsmouth, July 20, 1860.

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Washington Street of 1837.
75 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on Short notice, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL, THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate, the immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on behalf of his clients, TWENTY-SEVEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitution broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirits, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the bowels, or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

BITTERLY DISSIPATION.

Personswho, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, dizziness at stomach, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the system; it will give the cheek the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freedom from dust and arrival of the morning papers—the idea of it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston; and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Mrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical cases, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting, and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably efficacious and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

IN SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, the medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

IN RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well received, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

IN INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Morning Chronicle.

Lord M———, with no very large portion of either wit or wisdom, has a very exalted opinion of his own powers. When once in a large company, and expatiating about himself, he made the following pointed remark: "When I happen to say a foolish thing I always burst out a laughing!" "I envy your happiness, my lord, then," said Charles Townsend, "for you must certainly live the merriest life of any man in Europe."

☞ The Springfield Republican, after awarding Mr. Sumner high praise as a scholar, &c., comes to the conclusion that the Senator is "a rhetorician and political reformer, but not a statesman."

A SHARP HIT.—A young miss of three summers, who has never seen her father's face divested of its beard, recently visited her grandfather, and was particulary interested in his tonsorial operations. After apparently cogitating deeply for some time upon the unusual sight, she naively inquired when her father would get to be grandpa, so that he could shave. She evidently thought papa was in his juvenility.

☞ Lord Clyde, at last accounts, was undergoing a campaign of dinners in London, which an English paper fears will prove more disastrous to the warrior's constitution than India.

☞ The New York Herald again reiterates the death of the Democratic party, thus:

"The Democratic party has gone to pieces, it is dead and gone for, dead as the old Whig party; and its present manifestations of life have no more real life in them than the spasmodic movements of a dead frog under an experimental galvanic battery."

☞ The United States Convention of Universalists will meet in Boston on the third Tuesday in September.

A young man advertises in a London paper his desire for a wife—"pretty, and entirely ignorant of the fact!" Does he want a blind woman?

"THE GIANT KILLERS."—The Breckinridge men of Syracuse, N. Y., have organized a club with the name of the "Giant Killers."

When Sheridan was asked at an amateur play which performer he liked best, replied, "The prompter; for I saw less and heard more of him than of any one else!"

☞ The census-takers of Charlestown found a wife only 15 years old, who had been married a year.

"Never put off till to-morow what you can do to-day," said a mother to her child. "Well, then, mamma, let us eat the cranberry pie that is in the safe."

TRUE CHARITY.—All noble natures are hopeful. It is a remarkable fact that the purest people are the most charitable people.

Many persons cavil at high and mean things alike, just as a cur barks with equal earnestness at the moon and a beggar.

The philosopher Frazer, says, "that though a man without money is poor, a man with nothing but money is still poorer."

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and hair; for all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. It has long been my prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of lacration, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed every thing I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not a little here.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jefferssonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald over since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles its hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.
Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 21, 1860.

THE SYRIAN TROUBLES.

The Beirout correspondent of the N. Y. World, dated July 17, has the following intelligence.

Here are tens of thousands of people, but a few days ago in prosperous and comfortable circumstances, with homes of their own, crops growing, flocks and herds to supply their wants and aid them in their labors, and every prospect of peace and security, whose houses are now all burned to the ground, their crops destroyed, their flocks and beasts of burden stolen; their fathers, sons, brothers and friends massacred in cold blood; and they are turned out penniless, homeless, and almost literally destitute of clothing, to live upon the charities of others, or die of exposure and starvation. Thousands of them have fled to Beirout, and other thousands are scattered through the land.

The flourishing community of protestants in Hasbeiya is broken up, and the poor and rich alike are now dependent upon the American missionaries and others for their daily bread. The same is true of that extensive region east of Tyre, where protestant christianity was spreading so rapidly.

The villages are all plundered and burned, the poor people—protestants, maronites, and Greeks alike—are driven about and slaughtered like sheep; and if they escape with their lives, it is in abject poverty, with not a crust to eat, and hardly a rag to cover their backs. The suffering felt by hundreds in Syria at this hour is incredible.—Every day brings new tales of distress and woe. If immediate measures are not taken, many will perish from hunger.

The news from Syria, by the steamer Parana, indicates a slight display of energy by the Turkish government at the last moment. The Governor General of Damascus has been deprived of his office and sent away for trial. The Governor General of Beirout has been place under arrest.

A correspondent of the London Times says that the sun never shone upon a more awful scene than the Christian quarters of Damascus presented on the 16th of July.—On that day alone from one thousand to twelve hundred Christians perished. The wells were full of the dead bodies of Christians thrown down by the Druses and their allies the Turkish soldiers. In many cases houses, the cellars of which were filled with fugitive Christians, were burnt down, by which large numbers perished miserably.

Many of the Christian women and children had been made prisoners by the wild Arab tribes, and carried off into the desert. The agitation was spreading, and fears were expressed of trouble at Jerusalem, where there was already considerable excitement. The Moslems, according to a correspondent of the London Times, openly "declare that if a single party of European soldiers are landed on the coast, not a Christian shall be left alive throughout the length and breadth of the land."

THE HEENAN OVATION.—The grand reception festival and welcome home to John C. Heenan took place on Saturday afternoon last, at North Chelsea, and the ovation was witnessed by about six thousand persons, who were all more or less delighted with the occasion. The ground selected was on the new road leading from Lynn Turnpike to Chelsea Beach, and about six miles from Boston. Geo. Wools of Baltimore, Aaron Jones, Jack McDonald, Jim Casick, Ned Price, Jim Mann, and a few other sporting notabilities were there. McDonald and Casick sparred through two rounds, and then Ed Price and Aaron Jones went through four rounds and did some clever hitting. Heenan and Charley Ottignon, of New York, were received with deafening cheers. The ring was at once set up, and a mimic representation of the great fight went on. Ottignon represented the English champion, and sparred quite well, although he suffered a bloody nose. Five rounds sufficed to show off the great event in England.

There was a very large gathering of people, such as gamblers, roughs, fast women, &c., &c., on the occasion, with a considerable number of others, more or less reputable, in various disguises, but well known.

On Saturday evening, Mr. Daniel Robbins, in behalf of the friends of Mr. Heenan in Boston, presented him with a purse containing $960, which had been raised during the day by the admirers of the course of the Benicia Boy in his late contest.

☞ Toughoo (India) women are not much respected at home, nor do they care much for their children, especially if they be of the female sex. A European lady having an addition to her family in the form of twin sons, the event excited great interest amongst the native ladies, many of whom came to see the young strangers. Several of them expressed the sentiment, how happy they would be if so blessed! "But if they were twin daughters?" said the lady of the house. "Oh! in that case we would have strangled them."

☞ Daniel Davis, of Burlington, Vt., an old gentleman of 79 years, committed suicide by drowning himself. He was an opium eater.

☞ Intelligence is received of the death of Jack Harris, a notorious Boston rowdy, at Indianapolis, Ind., where he became proprietor of the Farmers' and Drovers' Hotel, and managed in some way to accumulate handsome property. On the night of the 8th inst. he attacked police officer Charles Carter with a knife, making several murderous thrusts at the officer, who received one or two severe wounds, and Carter, in self defence, drew his revolver and in rapid succession fired five times at Harris, four shots taking effect—one of the balls lodging in his breast, one in the bowels, and two in the back. Harris was carried into a house where a physician attended him, but died during the night of the 9th. Harris is believed to have murdered the watchman Ese, July 16th, 1850.

☞ On Sunday evening, in Boston, officer Harding arrested a drunken man, Edward Burke, near the corner of Billerica and Causeway streets, and was strongly resisted. A gentleman named Wm. Hastings, who was passing, assisted the officer, upon which a gathering crowd began to throw brickbats and other missils. Another person, named Mike Burke was arrested, and the prisoner was secured. Hastings, thinking to avoid the crowd, went up Green and down Pitts streets, but he was followed by some fifty, who made considerable noise, attracting in the vicinity of 500 persons.—Officers were sent to protect Mr. H., but the crowd got between them. Bottles and bricks were freely thrown, and Mr. H., was severely injured on the hand. John A. Gaffy, Edward Lyman, James Murry, William Ryan and Michael Manning, were arrested, mostly Irish rowdies.

A BOGUS HUSBAND.—Mrs. Burdell, the bogus widow, who exhibited the bogus baby, it has been said is married in California. Perhaps this is true. It has also been said that her new husband is a Rev. Mr. Sheeham, a universalist preacher of much reputation for eloquence. But no, no: says Mr. Whittemore, of the Trumpet,—there is no such universalist preacher that we ever heard of. There was a brother Sheeham at the South, but he has deceased, and there is no Rev. Mr. Sheeham in our denomination. From this it would appear that the preacher is bogus as well as the widow.

LOWELL.—Two girls, who came to Lowell a few days since, from "down East," took a walk over Pawtucket bridge, Friday afternoon, and up the mammoth road to see the country and pick berries. When near the stone ledge, says the News of that city, they were met by a party of half a dozen young Irish rowdies, who seized one of the girls, and in the presence of all assaulted her with felonious intent. Her screams attracted the attention of a passer-by, who happened to be a constable of Dracut, and on his appearance the ruffians fled into the woods and escaped. The girls were taken to Lowell, and will be able to identify most, if not all of them.

FOREIGN NEWS.—The House of Commons has passed a bill to amalgamate the European and native armies of India.

Queen Victoria reviewed 22,000 Scotch rifle volunteers, in Holyrood Park, Edinburgh on the 7th. There was great enthusiasm manifested on the occasion.

Louis Napoleon was at the camp at Chalons. It is denied that he is to have a meeting with the King of Sardinia.

Everything was quiet at Naples. The Government is preparing to oppose the landing of Garibaldi.

It is reported that the forces of Garibaldi had invested Fort Scyllel in Callabria, opposite Messina.

TAR AND FEATHERS.—So early as the reign of Charles VI of France (the time of Henry IV of England) the French King (Charles) gave a Masquerade, in which himself and five courtiers d isguised their persons to imitate satyrs, by covering their bodies with close linen habits, which habits were then bemeared with rosin, on which down was stuck all over. One of the company, in a frolic, touched one of these satyrs with a lighted torch as they were dancing in a ring; the consequence was, all the six masques or satyrs were enveloped in flames instantaneously. Four of the six died immediately, and the King never recovered the fright and disorder occasioned by the accident.

CHURCH BELLS MELTED INTO CANNON. Garabaldi, in the conquest of Sicily, finding himself much in need of ordnance, has caused the bells of the churches to be melted into cannon. A Palermo letter of June 24th, says: —"The plan offered by Garabaldi, of melting down the church bells to make cannon, continues in active operation. Every one of the churches is to supply at least one bell, and those edifices in Palermo are very numerous. I, this morning saw 25 or 30 of these bells lying in the court yard of the University, which serves as barracks, and also seven pieces of cannon and a large pile of balls."

☞ The night watchman of the Girard Bank in Philadelphia, died last Friday from the effects of a blow from a slung shot in the hands, (as he said on his death bed,) of some person who, designing to rob the bank, waylaid him in the street one night as he was going to supper, and tried to seize the keys.

COMPLIMENTARY.—The Boston Post has the following "flattering" notice of George W. Stevens, Esq.," of Dover, one of the New Hampshire delegates to the recent Charleston and Baltimore Convention:—

"G. W. Stevens, Esq., of Dover, N. H., whose letter directed us to erase his name from our subscription list, saying we were 'welcome to his money,' (some seventy-five or eighty cents) owes us thirty-nine dollars and fifty cents, which we are unable to collect. We offered to make him a liberal discount if he would pay what he owed us, and he promised to do so, but after many paltry excuses, he evaded his obligation, and now writes an insulting letter in return for our indulgence. Pay your depts, Stevens, and learn to practice decency, and honesty, if there is a germ of either in your soul to cultivate."

To which the Independent Democrat adds:—

"We learn that there are a good many other creditors of the aforesaid individual, who can sympathize with the Post, and who most earnestly join with that paper in its parting advice."

☞ A good subscriber of ours, a gentleman who probably intended to be facetious, asked us a day or two since if "that ship Japan had arrived yet"—meaning, we suppose, the Powhattan, but himself mistook the name. He seemed to think it very strange that we did not observe the reported arrival of that vessel in the newspapers, though we were expecting and looking for it; but if he had for a part only of his task the examining of as many papers as the editor of a country Daily must, perhaps he would discover that the letting slip of an insignificant item of a line or two, is no wonder. Why, even in the well-regulated, separate-department editorial columns of great city papers, we not unfrequently notice items of "news," which have been inserted before, or been the rounds of the country press, and are several days old—and sometimes they even copy scraps from us, which we have previously taken from them. "Mistakes will happen."

LEARNING A TRADE.—A good workman will rarely have occasion to "strike" for higher wages. We fear it is a radical fault with our mechanics generally, that they are not thorough enough. They are frequently in such a hurry to finish up their apprenticeships, that they neglect many points of importance in securing a knowledge of their trade, and go out to the world unfinished workmen. This is a great mistake. The mechanic who does not finish his trade during his apprenticeship rarely does so afterwards, and he goes through like a half-workman, earning half-wages, or only obtaining employment after everybody else has. We venture to say that the cases are very rare where a really first-class workman—one who is reliable at all times and in all things—has ever complained of low wages or want of work.—Such men are scarce, and when an employer finds one, he knows too well his value to part with him easily. He will rather retain such a one through a dull spell, at a considerable sacrifice, than run the risk of losing him forever.

THE DOLLAR NUISANCE.—We stated a few days since that there were "in this city nearly ten million gold dollars, which are a perfect nuisance," and suggested the recoinage of a portion of them at the government expense. Since our allusion to the subject, we have been informed that through the representation of Mr. Cisco, Assistant Tresurer at New York, Secretary Cobb has consented to come to the relief of the community, so far as to order the recoinage of two millions of the little dollars of the old issue, now in the government vaults in this city, into pieces of a larger denominhtion, probably into double eagles. The order has been issued, and the coinage will commence as soon as the Mint starts up from its usual summer vacation, (for repairs,) which will be about the first of September. We hope the Secretary, now that he has begun the good work, will go at least one step farther, and peremptorily forbid the coinage of another gold dollar or nickel cent during the remainder of his administration. We have more than a sufeit in this line, and cannot and cannot afford a farther increase.—N. Y. Jour. Com.

It may be gratifying to our Irish friends in these parts who mean to vote for Douglas to know the N. Y. Express, the most bitter of Know Nothing organs in New York, is a firm supporter of the Little Giant. Our friend of the Pilot must spike a few of his guns until after November, or he may hit some of his friends.—Boston Post.

☞ A melancholy case of domestic infelicity has transpired in Brooklyn, N. Y. A family man, 60 years of age, has eloped with his adopted daughter, aged 18, leaving a wife, and taking $900 in money, the proceeds of a furniture sale, to which the deceived "relict" was induced to consent.

Although Farina, the rope walker, did not descend to the steamer head foremost, he did all else promised, and the audience appeared to be as well satisfied as though he had broken his neck for their amusement, says the Rochester Union, describing a tight rope performance at Niagara Falls.

☞ A lady subscriber, who likes the idea of having the births chronicled, and promises us early report of all that happen down her way, wants to know where all the babies are, lately. That's what we don't know—but we suppose they are "like Christmas."

☞ The man who was killed on the railroad, near Parker River, Saturday afternoon, had a shirt marked F. F. Brownell. He had figures of a man and woman, in India Ink, on his left arm.

☞ We are frequently indebted to Dr. John Wall, now of Wickford, R. I., formerly of this city, where he is well remembered—for newspapers of various descriptions.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

SPRINGFIELD, N. H., April 19, 1855.

My daughter has been troubled with the Scrofulous Humor, causing swelling of the neck, for a number of years, and by the use of four bottles of Dr. S. Swett's Panacea, the swelling has been entirely removed, and her health is good.

The above testimony of my wife is true.

ENOCH B. ELLIOTT.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. Humphreys' Homeopathic Specifics

CURE PROMPTLY and safely all the more common diseases and ailments to which families are subject. All acute diseases, such as fevers, inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Croup, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, Bronchitis and Consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Liver Complaint, Piles, Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

F. W. ROGERS.

Local.

REV. DR. PEABODY.—A very large audience gathered at the Stone Church, Sunday morning, to hear the closing words of their beloved pastor. He stated in effect that it would be as painful and impossible to him, as affecting to them, to attempt a set farewell discourse, as had been mistakenly announced; and taking for a text, John 14, 27.—Peace I leave with you, my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth, give I unto you.

he proceeded without notes with a veritable parting discourse, though not in the usual set terms; offering valuable counsel and advice to the church and society so dear to his heart — earnestly, appropriately and with much feeling. It was a peculiarly fitting train of remarks, reflections and suggestions, under the circumstances—possessing much general interest and value, and bearing especial weight with his own people. Among other things, he mentioned as a matter for congratulation, that there is more union and inter-fellowship between the churches of different denominations here, then in most places—and we may perhaps be permitted to remark, that his own very liberal and truly christian feelings and conduct during his long pastorate, have contributed in no small degree to this desirable result.

The usual hour of afternoon worship was devoted to the baptismal ordinance of a large number of children and adults; and there was a third service at 4 o'clock, at which Rev. Mr. Heywood of Louisville officiated. At the close of this, just after the choir and people had joined in singing majestic Old Hundred, to the accompaniment of the noble organ; the choir offered the following farewell tribute—which was prepared for the occasion by the chorister, and was really the only formal parting services of the day:

Kindest wishes ever follow
In the path your feet may tread;
Health, contentment, peace, and wisdom,
All the gifts of love, be on your head.

The altar, desk and organ were tastefully decorated with elegant bouquets and vases of beautiful flowers, in the gay colors of approaching autumn; while the font was profusely ornamented with twining green and white flowers. The day was delightful, and the occasion one of much interest, mingled with not a little of sadness.

POLICE COURT.

SATURDAY, August 18.

Wm. D. Perkins, for an assault on Wm. S. Hadley, was fined $3 and costs. He appealed, and gave bonds.

MONDAY, August 20.

Before Justice Rollins.—The case of Daniel Hennessey, for assault and battery, knocking down Henry L. Foote with a jug,—came up by adjournment. Hennessey was bound over in $500 to appear at the S. J. Court.

LOAFING ROWDIES.—Messrs. Editors: Would it not be advisable for the Mayor to authorize the city watchmen to collect all the loafers that they may find pulling at our city bells in the night, giving false alarms of fire, &c., and lodge them at the city's expense in the lock-up, and let the City Justice do the best thing he can for them the next day? Such a course, we think, would tend much to the quiet of our city, and learn the rowdies better manners. We think the experiment worth trying. *

THE FAIR.—Messrs. Editors:—We perceive that you have started the ball in motion, for preparations appertaining to the County Fair. As we missed our 4th of July celebration, we trust that the coming Fair will be the celebration of this year. Let everything be brought to bear to make the two days of exhibition worthy of our city. This can be accomplished if all take an interest in the matter, and help the cause along by subscriptions, preparing articles for exhibition, and in many ways aiding those who take the responsibility of the matter. The last Fair held here received the encomiums of every one. Let us do more this time. H.

THE ATLANTIC HOUSE, Rye Beach, admirably kept by John C. Philbrick, Esq., is one of the pleasantest summer resorts among the many in our vicinity. The ride there is so pleasant, the rare rural surrounding so attractive, the sea-view from the house so fine, the facilities for boating and fishing so abundant, and the table so bountifully supplied with home-like food, that we do not wonder Mr. Philbrick finds ready occupants for all his rooms. We speak of what we know, for we have been there.

☞ The present session of the U. S. Circuit Court, is the first use made of the elegant new Court Room; and the flag of the Union floats for the first time from the flagstaff on the roof of the building.

The Custom House officers appear quite at home in their new habitation; and when they begin to "run" the new and spacious Post Office, the whole machinery may be said to be in operation.

The location of the Post Office will be seen to be exactly right. For a court room it is rather noisy.

☞ Mrs. Charlotte Varian-James is certainly one of the most talented and finished vocalists we ever heard—with a splendid voice, thoroughly cultivated; of fine personal appearance and most easy and agreeable manners. And with Messrs. Cooke and Dow, she has one of the best Concert troupes that ever visited Portsmouth. Mr. Cooke is about as near perfection for a tenor singer, as need be; and Mr. Dow is a capital pianist and organ-player. Their concerts are, in every respect, among the best to be heard anywhere.

☞ To save time and trouble for the recruits to the Horse Guards, and facilitate the filling up the ranks of the Portsmouth Company, arrangements have been made with Wm. P. Walker, Esq., at the City Clothing Store in Portsmouth, (where the dress of the corps may be seen,) to take measures for uniforms—which will be at once forwarded to the contractor in Boston. We learn that there is to be a drill for the new members, on the Plains, in a few days.

☞ We are requested to invite the attention of our readers to an exhibition of a Life Preserver, which, if the weather should be favorable, will take place on the bridge leading from the Navy Yard to Seavey's Island, at 3 o'clock this (Tuesday) afternoon. The most marked feature of this patent, we are told, consists in the fact that this preserver, differing in this respect from all others, precludes the possibility of the loss of life by drowning; persons, if shipwrecked, being by its extreme buoyancy sustained for days in the water, and that without the least effort on their part; on the contrary, by an excellent and unique contrivance, the wave-tossed wanderer can, in the most perfect security, assume the state somnolent while awaiting assistance to save him from a watery grave. The attention of ship-owners and masters, tourists and oceanic travellers of Portsmouth and its vicinity, is invited to it. C. H.

☞ Rev. E. B. Eddy is to be installed this evening as pastor of the Middle Street Baptist Church. Sermon by Rev. Dr. Flanders of Concord. Services commence at half past 7 o'clock.

☞ An Adjourned Term of the U. S. Circuit Court was commenced at the new Court Room in this city, on Monday. Present Judges Clifford and Harvey.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Clark M. Coleman, of Newington, for a small branch of a pear tree, which, within a length of about eighteen inches, contained about 50 medium-sized Pears, said to be of a Seckle or Philadelphia variety. It may be seen at N. P. Thacher's. Fruit, especially Pears and Apples, we should judge to be more plentiful, and of better quality, than usual of late, about here.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

It has long been apparent that some new movement was desirable, to keep up the interest, or renew it, on the subject of Temperance in this city and vicinity.

We are glad, therefore to learn, that a meeting of the friends of temperance will be held at the Temple on Wednesday evening, Aug. 22, at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Rev. E. W. Jackson and other gentlemen from abroad. It is hoped that all friends of the temperance reform will attend.

Some of the gentlemen who will attend, belong to the order of Sons of Temperance, which is increasing and improving. It may be found advisable to form a Division here.

Messrs. Goodwin of Milton, Jackson of Maine, and other gentlemen prominent in the temperance cause will be present.

TO THE SHOALS.—The barge Comfort will make an excursion to the Shoals on Tuesday, Aug. 21st, accompanied by the Portsmouth Cornet Band. Leave Pier Wharf at half-past 8 o'clock: leave the Shoals, to return, at half-past 3 o'clock.—Tickets for the trip 50 cents: children under fourteen years, 25 cents.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, and soaking water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.
One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to
WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators
It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice closets is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.
This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.
The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.
All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.
Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

Auctions.

Administrator's Sale of Real Estate
IN FRANKLIN STREET.

By virtue of license from the Judge of Probate for the County of Rockingham, I shall sell at public auction, on Saturday, the 25th day of August, 1860, at 12 o'clock, noon,

on the premises,

The HOUSE AND LOT numbered three on Franklin street, in Portsmouth, belonging to the estate of Charles H. Pernald. Said house is a convenient one for a moderate-sized family, has squeduct water, and rents at present for $80 per year.

For further particulars apply to WILLIAM H. HACKETT, or to ALEXANDER JUNKINS, Admr.
Portsmouth, July 20, 1860.

The Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence consulting no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
HAS THE SUBJECT OF
78 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into the validity of Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching Patents. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL; AND THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND SKILL, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been issued, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaint, are sure to find relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headache, sickness at stomach weakness, nervous pains, &c., will find a dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to indence this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from the annoyance and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The capability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—

Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.

[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best time-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in one day by hand, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the greatest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see an operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Oxygen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten by their neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, erotic mania, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, while it is oxidic, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness; without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so eminently useful and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of Iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly adapted to it.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invaluable, both as an alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills; price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "it cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has used one of their box Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.

[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]

My wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that has been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.

[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]

My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.

Baltimore, July 14, 1859.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & FAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

CHARLES W. BREWSTER.

"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says.—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible; and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Rooms are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your wonderful "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he likes very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair (to its original color) about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 22, 1860.

NEW HAMPSHIRE WHEAT.—The Manchester American says that the wheat crop in New Hampshire is the best raised in the State since 1825—thirty-five years since.—So say the most observant farmers. In New Boston wheat averages over eighteen bushels to the acre at the most moderate estimate, while the general impression is that it ranges as high as twenty bushels.—An intelligent gentleman largely engaged in the flour trade at Concord and who has travelled extensively in the central and northern counties, says that many towns, which have usually imported from 300 to 500 barrels of flour annually, will this year be supplied by the home production.

The Charleston, S. C., papers are making a loud call for the credentials of Dr. Delaney, the colored gentleman who figured so conspicuously with Lord Brougham at the recent Statistical Congress in London. Nobody in this country appears to know anything about the doctor, and hence the inference is irresistible that he was not a bona fide delegate.—Boston Post.

Perhaps not,—but there is no doubt he was a bona fide negro. We suppose, however, he was a member of the American Statistical Society, who are all colored men,—and who exposed the gross blunders of the census of 1840.

THE WIDOW OF PRINCE JEROME BONAPARTE.—A Baltimore correspondent of the N. Y. Times says:

Passing along our streets the next day after the announcement of the death of Prince Jerome Bonaparte, I saw his wife, Miss Patterson, now near her eightieth year, walking out, in her usual costume, unconcerned as if nothing had happened.—She certainly knew the fact; but knowing her eccentricities I was not surprised. It is no uncommon thing to see this venerable lady in the public marts, attending personally to business. She often collects her own rents, and takes a flirt at stock speculations when the fever is up. At all times an elegant crown jewel, glittering with diamonds of the purest water, is displayed upon her forehead, while her arms are white, skin smooth and tender as a maiden of sixteen. She is really a remarkable woman. There is a deep stoicism and unbending philosophy, coupled with independence, in her composition, which one out of a thousand, male or female, does not possess. Her every thought is replete with favoritism for royalty. Republics she esteems common ungrateful; and now, though a citizen of our domain, and without anything special to plume herself upon touching imperial favors, she lives in the ideal of la belle France. Her greatest ambition is to hear of her grandson, young Jerome, now in the French army, rising to honor and imperial distinction. A large portion of her annual income, which is very large, is appropriated to his service.

☞ Coroner Murphy held an inquest on Saturday, in New York, on the body of a young man named Henry Nolen, who died on Friday night last from the effects of injuries received nearly three years ago, at McQuinn's rope-walk. It seems that a number of young men, who were employed there at the same time, struck for an increase of wages, and wanted Nolen to join them in the strike. In consequence of his refusal to do so, it is alleged that one night they seized him, and after gagging him, to prevent an alarm, tied him, with his heels up, to a beam in the walk, in which condition he was found next morning, insensible. He was taken home and put to bed with a sickness from which he never recovered.—The verdict of the jury was that "Deceased came to his death from consumption, superinduced by injuries received at the the hands of some persons unknown."

THROWING STONES AT THE CARS.—A stone was thrown at the evening train of cars for Boston on the Boston and Maine road Monday when it was about one mile from Exeter. It broke a window and hit a gentleman on the side of the head, scattering the glass over the floor. The glass was very thick, and the force of the missle was so much broken by it that the person struck sustained no injury. The facts were placed in the possession of the station agent at Exeter, and he will endeavor to investigate the case, and if possible bring the coward to justice.

FUNERAL PARTY LEAVE THE CORPSE BEHIND.—Monday afternoon a funeral party took the cars at Portland for Lawrence, with the view of taking the body of a deceased relative to their friends in the latter city for funeral ceremonies and burial. When the train was some miles from Portland it was discovered that the corpse was not aboard. Quite an exciting scene of course was the result, and finally a gentleman of the mourners was obliged to return to Portland from Saco, and bring along the body by the steamboat train.

☞ Barney Madden, at Somerville, Ms., a desperate character, who was making a great disturbance and had put his family in fear of their lives, was arrested early Sunday morning; before he was secured he had badly wounded two police officers, one so badly that he had to keep his bed.

NEWS FROM EUROPE to August 12, via Liverpool and Queenstown.

The Canard screw steamship line has been withdrawn until the re-commencement of the busy season.

In the House of Commons, Sir C. Wood gave notice of a resolution authorizing the Secretary for India to raise three millions for the service of the Government.

Lord John Russell explained the position of the question for making Spain one of the great Powers. The movement was initiated by France. Suggestions were also pending that Sweden, and perhaps Portugal and Sardinia, ought to be added to the great Powers. He said he considered that the concert of Powers had materially tended to preserve the peace of Europe. The British government were of the opinion that it was not undesirable to make some addition in the moral force of Europe.

The bill providing for fortifications, after considerable opposition, was passed to a second reading.

The steamer Ganges, from Liverpool for Africa, foundered off Madeira. The captain and eight men are missing.

Syria. — Several additional ships, with troops, had left France for Syria.

The latest dispatches from Damascus announced that Fuad Pacha had arrested over 400 persons concerned in the massacres.—They are to be tried by an extraordinary commission, and if found guilty executed immediately. The arrests were peaceably effected.

Constantinople advices confirm the discovery of a conspiracy against the life of the Grand Vizier. Several individuals of high standing are compromised. The sale of gunpowder is prohibited in Constantinople.

Naples and Sicily.—The Count of Syracuse, uncle of the King of Naples, has written a letter to Prince Corignan in which he announces his adhesion to the principle of Italian unity, and closes it with the words "Hail Victor Emanuel, King of Italy!"

Garibaldi continued his preparations for a descent on the main land.

The Ambassadors at Naples were transferring their families to the steamers in the harbor.

Garibaldian volunteers in Calabria were organizing a revolution in the mountains.

INCIDENTS OF THE "PECULIAR INSTITUTION."—Thomas Q. Quills, alias Foster, indicted for using unlawful language in relation to slavery on the 30th of June, has been found guilty in Richmond, Va., and fined one hundred dollars and costs, with one year in jail.

At Petersburg, Va., on Thursday, about four hundred free negroes were sold for non-payment of taxes, the buyers agreeing to pay ten cents per day for them.

☞ Harper for September is received by John J. Dyer, Boston, and J. H. Locke, Portsmouth. It abounds in excellent reading matter. Porte Crayon is capital. He is as much at home in "The Vineyard," among the Yankees, as among those Virginians, which have afforded so much entertainment—and his pencil is quite a remarkable one, at least equal to his pen. "The Cruise of the Deacons" is a very interesting expose of theology and sea talk.

☞ The Great Falls Advertiser has passed into the hands of Mr. G. C. Collins, a practical printer, recently of Taunton, Mass. The Messrs. Twombly, who started the Advertiser, have always made it an interesting village paper, and have brought it into paying condition by their industry.

☞ W. C. Holmes, a planter living in the suburbs of Natchez, Miss., was shot while sitting with his wife on the piazza, smoking, the other evening, by a negro concealed in ambush. The negro had taken offence at being denied the premises, while one of Mr. Holtree's female servants was not allowed to meet him outside.

RETURN OF THE NATICK SHOEMAKERS FROM THE SOUTH.—The Natick Observer says: "Two or three months since, we announced the departure of several workmen to the South, to work on shoes. We learn that nearly all of them have returned, not liking the climate and society quite so well as that afforded in Natick."

☞ At the Eastham Camp Meeting, as we learn from the Charlestown (Mass.) Advertiser, the Union Methodist society of Charlestown was represented by forty persons, equally divided between males and females. A new born babe was added to the congregation on Sunday, and was the subject of general conversation.

There is an old lady now living in New London, Conn., of whom the Hartford Times says:

"Mrs. Adams was born at South Hampton, L. I., and was one hundred and eight years old the 26th of September last. She attended her daughter's funeral on Saturday. On Sunday she attended church, and also the evening service, and spoke in meeting. She travelled half a mile Monday morning on foot, took breakfast, and went back to dine with her grand daughter."

STABBING AFFRAY.—During a street melee in Manchester, N. H., on Saturday night last, a man named Ward Nelson was cut about his neck and stabbed in two places near his left hip by Isaac L. Roberts.—The parties had been drinking. Roberts was arrested and held for trial.

The Empress Eugenie is ———. Yes, so they say, and Louis feels delighted and solicitous.

UP COUNTRY NOTES.

Dear Chronicle:—Did you ever suffer a prolonged existence in the R. R. depot of a country village, just about big enough to claim to be out of the wilderness? We mean in one of those small boxes of a room, whose inventory you could well and truly swear to be nothing more than an occasional box, a settee with a broken leg, three or four consumptive looking chairs, a map of the great southern route, or the great central line to the west, a time table of the railway which imposes six long and dreary treadmill rounds on the hand of the cheap clock by the window, and perhaps the Bible furnished by the American Society, with a remnant of fly-leaf covered with autographs. Such a place in a hot day may not awaken pleasing suggestions.

We were in a hurry to get to Portsmouth. A station house of the above description was a dernier resort, after we had read all the old newspapers, hand bills (chiefly in the patent medicine line,) administrators' notices and letter lists of the variety store and post office which the somewhat insignificant village of ——— supports. However, as the late Dr. Digg used to remark, "if things had been what they weren't, they wouldn't be what they were, and therefore might have been a good deal worse;" so we jotted down a few facts about one or two towns in the interior, which may not be without interest to your readers.

In Great Falls everything is quiet. The "Advertiser" newspaper has changed hands, and promises to continue a lively sheet under its new management. The "Review" is to be removed to Great Falls from Rochester, the second removal of that paper. Business is lively in the latter town. Three or four shoe manufactories have recently been built.

The busiest town up through this region of the State is Farmington. It probably exhibits as large (if not a larger) per cent. increase in population and wealth as any town in New Hampshire. Many of the dwelling houses and some of the stores would do credit to any city of New England. The chief business is making shoes, which of course indirectly encourages other manufacturers and traders. Hon. G. M. Herring is well known as a large manufacturer. Mr. Elvin C. Kinnear, formerly of Newcastle, is doing a large business in this manufacture. He has two commodious buildings in the centre of the town, and employs twenty-five to thirty hands, turning out from 120,000 to 150,000 pairs annually His friends in this city and Newcastle will be glad to know that Mr. K. has been "surprised" into receiving a gold-headed cane with appropriate inscription. Hon. J. D. Lyman, State Senator, made a happy speech at the ceremony. We are assured that back in the country, presentations mean something. The Messrs. Harvey from Portsmouth do a good trading business here. A new Masonic Lodge has just been organized in Farmington.

Travel over the Lake is as large this season as ever. It is to be regretted that one cannot go over the Lake from Portsmouth, and return the same night. Excursions from towns on the Boston & Maine and Cocheco Roads are frequent. Last week there were excursions from Farmington with the band of that town; and the following day one from Newmarket.

Crops are looking finely, with the best indications of fruit as well as more staple articles. Not so much hay has been cut this year as last. Politics are quiet, all the Democrats being pretty unanimous for Douglas. We are often asked if "there are any Breckinridge men down your way." A Douglas postmaster prosecuted a similar enquiry on meeting us. "Hand clasped in hand," we briefly explained to him the necessity of his "being sound on the goose;" but he wishes the Little Giant the best success.

X. X.

☞ The Atlas' Portland correspondent corrects the reports published in relation to the reception of Douglas in that city. Instead of 30,000 people, there were not more than 5000 in all; and instead of a general illumination of the city, there were just eight houses that blazed in honor of the giant."

☞ The Boston Traveller, one of the best and most carefully edited papers, last week reported that there were 20,000 abolitionists in that county slave insurrection in Texas, instead of 2000! Who says mistakes should never be made?

☞ The publication of the Scientific Artisan, Cincinnati, Ohio, has been discontinued. It will be followed by a publication styled "The Journal of the American Patent Company," exclusively adapted to the inventive and industrial interests of the great West.

☞ Advices from Porto Rico of August 2, state that the yellow fever was raging, both among foreigners and natives. Advices from Pernambuco are to the same effect.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 20.—There was a collision last night on the Carrolton. Two persons were killed, and several wounded.

FIRE IN LAWRENCE.—About quarter of four Sunday afternoon, fire was discovered issuing from a small barn and shanty in the rear of 47 Common street, occupied by an Irish fish peddler named Crosby, who also sometimes peddles liquor from the same cart, and it is supposed that a drunken carousal had some connection with the origin of the fire. The steamer Pacific and the hand engines were promptly on the spot, including the "Spiget," from Methuen, but the surroundings being very combustible and closely huddled together, and a strong breeze blowing, the fire very soon communicated to tenement houses on Common street. The houses from No. 45 to 57 Common street were almost totally burned. They were occupied by some twenty or thirty Irish tenants, who saved most of their effects in a damaged condition. The houses were mostly insured. The alarm in the evening proceeded from the ruins of the above.

MISSING FISHERMEN RETURNED.—Messrs. H. T. Vanneberg and John Benson, who left the schooner Racer, Capt. Hall, of Gloucester a week or two since, to fish in a dory, and lost sight of the vessel in a fog, landed on Sable Island, (Cape Sable), walked over to Yarmouth, N. S., and returned to Boston in the steamer Eastern State.—Gloucester Telegraph.

PRIZE FIGHT.—A large proportion of the fancy who participated in the North Chelsea humbug on Saturday, left Boston for Island Pond Monday morning. A spot about fourteen miles from that place, was on Tuesday to be the scene of a prize fight between Australian Kelley and Dan Kerrigan.

SUDDEN DEATH.—A few days since an elderly gentleman named John Stickney, belonging to Concord, N. H., was taken ill while walking along Main street, in Charlestown. He succeeded in reaching the residence of some relatives, on Pearl street, where he was visiting, and died in about twenty minutes. His death was caused by disease of the heart. His remains were taken to Concord for interment.—Traveller.

☞ Here is an incident that is said to have occurred to Mrs. Lincoln, at a little party in Illinois, when a newly arriving Eastern beau inquired of her, "Who is that awkward, homely looking man on the other side of the room?" "That is my husband, sir," was the response of the coming woman. "Well," said the beau, taking another look, "he's not such a bad looking man after all."

MR. BRECKINRIDGE WILL NOT WITHDRAW.—Louisville, Aug. 20.—The Courier says that Mr. Breckinridge has written a letter authorizing the Chairman of the National Democratic Committee to contradict the rumor of his withdrawal.

☞ Benjamin Howard, a merchant in Boston, died suddenly in a prayer meeting at Trinity Chapel, Monday morning. His age was 60 years. He was speaking, when he faltered and died.

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 19.—Wm. Crosby a farmer, was killed by lightning in this city yesterday, while mowing.

Stephen McKean was also killed, an old lady fatally injured, and six others badly hurt, at a house in the Sixth Ward during the severe storm.

☞ The Nashua Telegraph says the excitement growing out of the cattle disease has subsided. Nobody thinks of mentioning it now-a-days.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—Governor Pennington, Speaker of the House, has written a letter a to his constituents declining a re-election to Congress.

Caleb C. Woodbury, Postmaster at 'Wild Pigeon,' lately arrested for robbing the mail, committed suicide yesterday.

☞ A New York dispatch of the 20th states that Capt. Hussey, of the ship Staghound, died as that ship was entering the port of Havana.

WIFE MURDER.—Stockbridge, Aug. 20. Freeman Davis beat his wife's brains out with a hoe, on Friday last, in Sheffield. He was intoxicated at the time. He has been arrested.

☞ Col. Forney of the Philadelphia Press, is fully sustained by the Douglas National Committee in his opposition to any fusion with the Breckinridge party.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specifics
CURE PROMPTLY and safely all the more common diseases and ailments to which families are subject. In all acute diseases, such as fevers, inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Croup, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.
Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, Bronchitis and Consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.
In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Liver Complaint, Piles Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.
For price, see advertisement in another column.

U. S. Circuit Court, Portsmouth.—On Monday, the motion of Ferdinand N Clark against Wm. H. Y. Hackett and others, to restore to the file of the Court certain papers, and bill in equity entered and withdrawn in 1857, was argued by Mr. Fernald for the motion, and by Messrs Hackett and Emery against it.

On Tuesday morning the Presiding Judge, Clifford, delivered an elaborate opinion, denying the motion.

On Tuesday forenoon, Judge Clifford delivered the opinion of the Court on the bill in equity, John A. Parker of New York against the Winnipiscogee Lake Cotton and Woolen Manufacturing Co. This suit was brought by the plff., who owns a water right at Meredith Bridge, formerly owned by David Furber, to compel the defendants to modify the use of the water at Lake Village, and to prevent them flowing the Lake Winnipiscogee, and to restore the obstructions at the outlet of the Lake. The opinion of the Court was in favor of the defts. B. R. Curtis, E. A. Hubbard for plff; W. H. Y. Hackett, Thos. J. Whipple for deft.

☞ Before U. S. Commissioner Webster, Tuesday,—Hubert Peters and Frederick Law, seamen from the barque "Sea Breeze," Capt. Mayo, from New Orleans, to Genoa, were brought home in the U. S. ship Macedonian, for trial for an alleged revolt, and attempt to commit a revolt.—They were brought before the Commissioner in this city, July 14th, when the hearing was postponed to the 20th instant, to allow the Sea Breeze to arrive. The Sea Breeze arrived early in this month, and the hearing was had at the Commissioner's room in the new Court House, on Monday and Tuesday. The master and two of the crew attended as witnesses. The evidence was contradictory. On Tuesday, upon the motion of the attorney for the United States, the further hearing was postponed to the 21st of September, to enable the prosecution to produce the mate, and the prisoners were remanded. Marshal for the United States; Wm. H. Y. Hackett for defts.

☞ Mrs. Charlotte Varian-James, with Mr. Wm. H. Cooke, tenor, and Mr. H. M. Dow, pianist, (late organist at the Church of the Unity, Boston,) gave one of the best Concerts we ever attended, on Monday evening. Expectation had been raised high indeed, but could not have been disappointed, save in the excess of satisfaction. Mrs. James proved herself one of the finest of the world's great vocalists; while her animation, the ease and grace of her movements, and her charming personal appearance, add to her popularity. She was dressed—so the ladies say—to perfection, in simple white; and, especially in her excellent personation of the Goddess of Liberty, when singing the Star Spangled Banner, formed one of the most exquisite tableaus ever seen. We rarely may expect to look upon or hear her like again.

Mr. Cooke is also a finished performer—his forte being, apparently, music rather of the ballad or plaintive order, in which we know of no singer who excels him, and few if any who are his equals.

Mr. Dow is a tasteful and accurate player, and a fine accompanist; and like the other members of this troupe, is without any of that disagreeable affectation which is too common with public performers, and which comes either from want of assurance or from impudence. We have never attended an entertainment more entirely satisfactory than theirs.

Comfort.—The Portland Barge, which appropriately bears this name, took quite a large party down the harbor Monday evening, though the mist was more evident than the moonlight. They were accompanied by the Cornet Band, and all passed off pleasantly.

The Barge was to have made a trip to the Shoals, Tuesday; but actually could not procure sufficient fresh water anywhere in the city or vicinity, to fill her tow-boat's boiler of twenty hogsheads! She is not fitted for steaming with salt water—and the fact that sea-water will not answer for common engines, is one great obstacle in the way of having a permanent steamer on the Piscataqua.

The trip announced, over the Lake, via the Barge, for Thursday, will also be postponed for the present, on account of a misunderstanding with the Superintendent of the Cocheco Railroad, arising from a delay of correspondence.

The Barge will make an Excursion to the Shoals, with the Band, on Thursday, Aug. 23, leaving Pier wharf at 8 o'clock; leave the Shoals to return, at 3 o'clock. Tickets for adults 50 cts., for children under fourteen 25 cts., sold at the wharf.

☞ A "tern," or three-masted schooner, is something of a rarity in these waters. We notice that a large one is now lying at Spring Market Wharf. She hails from St. George, and is about 270 tons.

A barge is also a strange craft about here—but the "Comfort" of the one now here is not all in name.

TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

It has long been apparent that some new movement was desirable, to keep up the interest, or renew it, on the subject of Temperance in this city and vicinity.

We are glad, therefore to learn, that a meeting of the friends of temperance will be held at the Temple on Wednesday evening, Aug. 22, at 8 o'clock. Addresses will be made by Rev. E. W. Jackson and other gentlemen from abroad. It is hoped that all friends of the temperance reform will attend.

Some of the gentlemen who will attend, belong to the order of Sons of Temperance, which is increasing and improving. It may be found advisable to form a Division here.

Messrs. Goodwin of Milton, Jackson of Maine, and other gentlemen prominent in the temperance cause will be present.

☞ The Boston Journal has fallen into some curious errors respecting Portsmouth religious societies, which are worth correcting.

The Journal speaks of Rev. Dr. Peabody's farewell sermon, before the North Parish, and says that Mr. Gage is to succeed in the vacant pastorate. Mr. Gage is indeed to be pastor of the North Parish;—but Dr. Peabody vacates the pulpit of the South Parish, and not of the North.

Again, Dr. Peabody was not the third pastor, but the sixth. His pastorate was the third within 108 years.

☞ M. H. Wentworth, Esq., is fitting up the house and grounds of the old Dwight estate, in elegant style—and it is none the less attractive, in our eyes, for having none of the high State Prison or Pound fences so lamentably fashionable in our city,—and in our city alone, we had almost said.

☞ Cooke's Royal Circus, from Niblo's Garden, New York; and Old Grizzly Bear Adams, the hunter, with his monster Bear Menagerie, are to exhibit near the Sagamore Mill in Portsmouth, on Monday afternoon and evening, Sept. 3d.

☞ In the U. S. Circuit Court, in Portsmoth, on Tuesday, upon motion of Wm. H. Y. Hackett, Esq., E. A. Hibbard of Laconia was admitted to practice as an attorney and commissioner of this Court.

☞ A rather novel law suit is to be tried next September between two of the wealthiest citizens of Cazenovia, N. Y., and two lawyers have been engaged by each of the parties. The suit is brought by Gen. J. D. Ledyard against Henry Ten Eyck for obstructing the plaintiff's view of Cazenovia Lake from his house by planting willow trees on the shore of the lake. Mr. Ten Eyck's residence is on the shore of the lake, and he has built out into the natural waters by filling in with earth and planting trees, which the plaintiff contends he has no right to do.

☞ The Boston Courier tells a remarkable story touching a young man who is bound up in two wills,—his father demanding that he should marry no person whose feet exceeded a certain size; and his mother enjoining him with equal severity, that the maiden's hair should be of a certain hue.

☞ The free negro Waggoner, who was kidnapped and sold into slavery in Kentucky, has proved his freedom before the Courts and been released. The case is remarkable for its extraordinary termination. Most of the freemen kidnapped are never afterwards heard from.

☞ Prof. E. W. Daniels, of Milwaukie, one of the men who helped walk Booth out of the Custom House, has been arrested for his part of the rescue, and takes Booth's place in that government Bastile.

☞ William B. Astor, son of John Jacob Astor, of New York, is said to be worth $25,000,000. A valuable man.

☞ The marriage of Mlle. Piccolomini with the Duke of Gaetani has taken place at Siena.

☞ The Border State, a campaign Republican paper, has just been commenced at Baltimore.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to

WINSHIP'S PATENT

Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other.—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE

ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington,
HAS MOVED HIS OFFICE TO—NO. 7 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Reissues, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into any American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services more moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during nearly years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, is here saved by Internet.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, JANUARY 3, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

C. C. WHITTEMORE,

No. 3 Market Street. - - - Up Stairs.

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, a reliable form for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases, even those which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache of transcendent, yet that simple form and subdued, in time become a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies apply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—prompt, so as to be effectual—gentle, safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the sufferer is relieved, the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST OF THEIR KINDS, THE SIMPLEST AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years, and the testimony of all, to country, with almost invariable success. Dyspepsia Remedy

AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly remove the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will restore strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS & IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Unanxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, who were victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron, most necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, amounting to a mere form, in its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate incipient CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

It will strengthen and reduce the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

IN INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Nothing else, combining tonic, aperient, rapid nutrition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to ☞ The New Orleans Picayune, in an editorial on the probable results of the electoral votes of the different States, says:

"Pennsylvania has the distinction of having voted but once, since the beginning of the Government, for a candidate for the Presidency who was not elected by the people. That was the case of Gen. Jackson in 1825, and then he received the largest number of electoral votes, but not enough to elect him. In every other instance, from the beginning of the Government, the candidate Pennsylvania voted for has been elected President. There is, we are sorry to say, a suspicion and a fear that it may be so again."

REV. C. H. SPURGEON.—This popular preacher has during the last two months, been on a tour through the continent for the renovation of his health. On Thursday night last he returned home in excellent spirits, and will resume his labors at Exeter-hall on Sunday morning next. During his travels he he preached in the Cathedral at Geneva, and, contrary to the Baptist mode of addressing a congregation, the reverend gentleman ascended the pulpit dressed in full canonicals. So great was the anxiety to hear him that some came as many as 200 miles for the purpose.—London Times, July 28.

SMELT BAD.—A Boston man, who is very fond of fishing, complained very much to his landlord, at the hotel in Laconia, N. H., that his room had smelt very bad, for a number of days, and unless it was removed he should leave. The host inspected the quarters and found the fisherman's overcoat pocket full of dead angleworms and fish. At dinner time he informed his guest that he had thrown the overcoat out of the window, and that the room would probably smell better, if in future he left his bait and fish outside.—Atlas.

THE CHURCH MILITANT.—The exciting topic of the week in Litchfield, Conn., has been the trial of Rev. Dr. James H. Richards of Litchfield, for an assault upon Dr. Francis Bacon of New Haven. The assault was admitted, and insanity urged in defence. Decision in the case reserved till Monday, 6th inst. The Rev. Mr. Richards and Rev. Leonard W. Bacon have not been on good terms owing to objections made by the latter against the former's being admitted to regular standing as a minister, and a few days ago Richards assaulted and beat, Heenan fashion, Francis Bacon, M. D., mistaking him for his brother.—Hartford Press.

THE LARGEST OF ALL.—They have had a political meeting out west, so large that after devouring all the provisions in the city, they were obliged to take the bricks from the sides of the hotels to satisfy their hunger. The exact length of the procession is not given; but from the middle of the "Grand Prairie" in Illinois, it was traced by the telescopes till it hitched on to the tail of the comet of 1859. This is understood to be the Breckinridge reserve; and the report is a fair offset of the accounts of some of the political meetings in Maine.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Mrs. Biard, in Charlestown, Mass., poured fluid into her stove on Monday evening, to kindle the fire. It blazed fiercely, and she is so dreadfully burnt that she must die.

CLIPPER PLOWS

ARE manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also secure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as the young, to endorse its qualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in fertilizing that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear—You Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my buggy against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Best always, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman, of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three size viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $6 a bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 23, 1860.

COALITION, NOT COHESION.—The Boston Herald of Wednesday, contains a careful report of the doings of Democratic Ward and Central Committees in Boston, on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Parker offered a resolution, recommending to the Democratic State Conventions, a union of all opponents of the Republican party within the State as may receive their united and hearty co-operation; and that for the purpose of so arranging the voters of the old Commonwealth, against the dangerous tendings of the party now dominant here, they are prepared to yield any point of fervent preference or partisan pride.

In his speech, Mr. Parker thought the proposed coalition might accomplish much to crush the Republican party.

Mr. W. F. A. Kelly opposed the resolution. He wanted no coalitions with any party.

Mr. E. C. Bailey said that the resolution was an unusual one, and that it was not for the Committee to instruct the people, but the people to instruct the delegates.

Mr. Davis P. Roberts thought favorably of a coalition with the parties opposed to the Republicans.

Mr. Martin Griffin said that the resolution took him by surprise, and that coalitions were the means of building up the Republican party at the expense of the Whigs and Democrats.

Mr. Parker again defended his resolution. It would be the means of crushing the Republican party.

Mr. E. C. Bailey contended that the resolution would do more harm than good. He did not want to vote for it nor against it, yet if a vote was pressed he should vote against it. If the State Convention should see fit to entertain an idea for a coalition he would support it, and put his shoulder to the wheel to help it on. If Mr. Parker would alter his resolution so that the instructions should be limited to the delegate at large he would vote for it.

Mr. Parker said that he would do that.

Mr. W. H. Matthews moved to lay the resolution on the table. Adopted by a vote of 14 to 13.

Mr. Bailey then offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That the delegate at large to the State Convention be instructed to exert his influence to secure the defeat of the Republicans at the coming Presidential election.

The resolution was not adopted.

Mr. John C. Tucker then moved that Mr. Parker's motion, as originally offered, be taken from the table and adopted.

The yeas and nays were called, and the resolution was passed by a vote of 16 to 15, and the meeting then adjourned.

This close voting on such questions does not look much like harmony in general,—and not at all like any coalition in particular.

☞ The rain of Tuesday afternoon, in Belmont, West Cambridge and Waltham, Ms., was the heaviest ever known there. It commenced raining about half past 1 o'clock, and continued with unabated force for three hours. During that time, water fell in West Cambridge to the depth of seven inches. Of course it flooded gardens and farms, destroying some crops and injuring others.

The rain of Tuesday night, in Portsmouth, was copious and refreshing, not destructive.

☞ At a fair held at Long's Corners, in Genesee county, N. Y., about ten days ago, a horse attached to a buggy got frightened and ran away. Three women and a child were in the wagon, who were all thrown out, and the women were so severely injured that they have all three since died. The child was only slightly injured.

☞ A Key West writer indignantly denies the stories about the Africans recently landed there being coffined as dead, and then passed over to the main land. All that did not really die have been sent back to Africa.

☞ Miss Laura Bliss, of Middletown, Ct., was burned to death, a few days since, by the explosion of a fluid lamp. She was filling it while lighted, and an explosion ensued.

☞ During two days of last week three children fell from the second story windows of houses in New Haven, and neither of them was seriously injured.

☞ A Halifax paper states that on two nights of last week, at Scotch Bay, 30,000 shad were caught in one night and 35,000 in the other.

☞ There was a large attendance at the session of the Grand Lodge of Odd Fellows for this State, at Dover, on Tuesday.

☞ There are about 4,000 divisions of Sons of Temperance in the United States with nearly 150,000 members.

☞ Four persons were bound over in Manchester, Aug. 21, for keeping liquor for sale.

☞ Cincinnati has paid this season for twenty-four hundred dog scalps.

☞ Forty-nine counties in Arkansas give Rector 7358, Johnson 7091.

☞ The subscriptions in New York to aid the Pope amount to upwards of $51,000.

POISONOUS ROOM PAPER.—Poisonous paints for room paper would seem to be of little consequence, as the paper is not to be eaten; but yet it appears bad effects are sometimes produced by such painting. The Philadelphia Inquirer mentions the case of a young lady in that city who for years had a painful and loathsome disease, which threatened to be fatal. Suspecting accumulative poison, her food was frequently analyzed without finding any. At last it was discovered that the paper on the walls of her room was colored green with the aid of arsenic; the vapor from this was the cause of the illness. On removal to another apartment she began to improve, though many months elapsed before her recovery.

A SINGULAR CASE.—Some few weeks ago, a little child of Thomas Manay, of Worcester, swallowed a horn button, that lodged across the passage of its stomach, and prevented any passage of its solid food. Since that time the child has been sick and ailing, and unable to keep anything down. On Saturday, an emetic was given, the button made its appearance in upper air, and the child commenced eating ravenously again. It is supposed that its only food for three weeks has been the water that passed through the four holes of the button. The little fellow was twenty-one months old.

☞ C. C. Williams, Superintendent of the Insane Asylum at Utica, N. Y., lost two beautiful children one day last week by diptheria. In the morning the little girl met her father on his return home at the door; at 10 o'clock in the forenoon the little innocent child was dead. Her brother died the same day, and as suddenly as herself. The most powerful remedies were powerless, and the little forms yielded to the attacks of the disease with scarcely a struggle. The disease of which the children died seems very similar to that now prevailing in Albany, and is considered the most fatal enemy to children that has ever visited this country.

☞ The census takers find some old people in Connecticut. In Coventry, James Douglas, 104 years of age; in Chaplin, Salinda Dean, aged 105; in Bristol, a widow Thompson, 102, who is as active as a middle-aged woman; widow Olive Fail in Bloomfield, in her 100th year. In Mansfield, with a population of two thousand, there are two hundred persons over 70 years of age.

☞ Mr. Hollister of Montery, commenced sheep raising in 1855, with a flock of 800 animals, which constituted all his wealth. He is now the owner of 30,000 acres of land and 11,000 sheep, all of which have been the legitimate product of the original band of 800 that he started with. Mr. Hollister says that he has never failed to secure an increase of 100 per cent. every year.

☞ There is now growing in the gardens of Moorsend, near Cheltenham, England, an extraordinary white rose tree, thirty feet in hight. It is now a perfect picture, and is estimated to have between 18,000 and 20,000 blossoms upon it, being literally smothered in bloom, besides having thrown off a whole heap of petals, which lie in a cluster around it, and present the appearance of a bed of snow.

☞ Edgerton and Rand, the bank robbers who have been on trial the past week at Brooklyn, Conn., for attempting to rob the Thompson Bank, were acquitted last Saturday. Rand was immediately rearrested on a requisition from the Governor of New Jersey, being wanted in that State to answer for some crime committed there. He had been in custody for the offense, but broke prison some months since.

☞ Daniel E. Sickels of New York has made the following proposition to Mr. Williamson, the contestant of his seat in the House of Representatives: "I propose that if I beat Mr. Williamson for the next term he shall abandon his contest against my election for the present term; and if he beat me in the next race, that I shall resign my seat."

☞ James McCarthy, who has charge of the bathing boxes at Rockaway, L. I., elicited $125 worth of admiration from the visitors of the Neptune House recently, by heroically rescuing a young lady who was drowning in the surf, having ventured too far while bathing. He reached her in a boat, but that capsized, and he swam ashore with his precious charge.

☞ A dispatch from Carbondale, Pa., states that a daring but unsuccessful attempt to assassinate Hon. John A. Poor, Mayor of that city, by shooting, was made on Saturday evening. Four slugs passed through his hand. The perpetrator of the outrage is not yet apprehended.

☞ At the Jersey City ferry landing, last Saturday afternoon, a man on the boat wanted to jump ashore, and a man on the dock essayed to spring aboard, and both giving the leap simultaneously, they came into each other's arms and fell together into the brine.

GREAT STORM—NEARLY ONE HUNDRED LIVES LOST.—The particulars of a great storm at and near New Orleans are given in the papers of that city of the 11th inst.

The storm was on the 11th of August.—Houses were blown down, and the hurricane damaged property to the extent of thousands of dollars.

At Proctorville, near New Orleans, the gale commenced on the 11th and continued for two days; the whole place was swept away and between thirty and forty souls perished in the over-whelming and pitiless waters of the Gulf. Not a tree or house of Proctorville was left standing, and some two score men, women and children were sacrificed to its wrath. The water, it is said, rose twelve feet, and this deluge, maddened as it were, with the furious and irresistible wind, drove buildings and human beings before it and into its depths as though the firmly riven wood and the strong muscle were so much reed.

Among those lost, we learn, are Mr. and Mrs. Wells, their cousin, a Miss Bertrand, and their servant. The family were from New York. Mr. Wells was an invalid.—He begged his family to go upon the roof and save themselves, as he would soon die any how. His words were true, but his family shared the same fate. A Mr. Fagot, his wife and three children perished, two of their children being rescued. A Mr. Limerick and three children are said to have been drowned, and a Mr. Nicholson and three children also are reported to have met a watery grave.

A watchman of Gordon's, his wife and child were drowned. Cornbray, the keeper of the lighthouse was lost, but his wife and two children floated on a raft, and were ultimately rescued. The bar-keeper of a coffee-house, kept by a Spaniard named Ramon, a colored boy, name not known, and several fishermen, are also amongst the lost. About fifty persons made their escape from the raging waters.

At Plaquemine whole estates were devastated. The water rose to a depth of four feet on the public roads, and it rose in some places to nine feet, and twenty-five or thirty persons lost their lives. Many of them had taken refuge in the trees, and were either blown off by the force of the wind or they were blown down with the trees. At one plantation, there were five of six negroes lost. There were many other sufferers by the storm. The water continued to rise for twenty-four hours, when it subsided, leaving death and destruction in its path. The orange and rice crop all along the lower coast is entirely desroyed.

"The "Father of Waters" was never more angry or turbulent. He writhed and chafed like a gigantic mighty serpent in the pangs of cholera. On the river and on the levee the gale had a gay sweep. Ships and steamers butted the wharves right cordially. The river rose three feet.

The town of Milneburg was thoroughly inundated. Women and children, in the evening, when the gale was at the highest, had to be rescued from their houses in skiffs.

The river disasters were numerous, but not attended with loss of life. Several vessels were foundered.

The storm occurred on the fourth anniversary of a similar event, by which numerous lives were lost.

Mr. Buchanan's Pennsylvania organ says that "all eyes are now directed to one point." That's not the fact. Old Buck's two eyes were never yet "directed to one point," and they can't be.

A Douglas paper in Kentucky says that its friends in this State are now perfectly united—that "there is but one watchword, one cry among them." We don't wonder that the poor, afflicted fellows are all taking one good long "cry" together.

These are both Prentice's jokes.

LOUDON MILLS, Aug. 20.—A barn on the plain between here and Concord, owned by a Mr. Page of this town, was burned on Saturday night last. It was occupied by Judge Fowler and Peltiah Brown, Esq., of Concord, and contained about 150 bushels of unthrashed oats and about the same number of bushels of rye. As usual, the scoundrels supposed to have committed the crime were traced directly to Loudon Mills, one of them, named Wm. Hillsgrove, being arrested this morning and taken to Concord for trial.

ISLAND POND, Vt., Aug. 21.—The prize fight between Australian Kelly and Kerrigan, two New York pugilists, came off at this place this morning.

Twenty-five rounds were fought, and Kerrigan was declared the victor.

The fight lasted forty-five minutes, and was for $1000 a side.

QUEBEC, Aug. 21.—The Prince of Wales has taken up his residence in the Parliament House. At the levee both of the Speakers were Knighted. He visited the Montmorenci Falls ball to-night.

NEW YORK REPUBLICAN CONVENTION. Syracuse, Aug. 22.—The city is filling up fast. There is much canvassing. No doubt is felt of the re-nomination of Morgan and Campbell for Governor and Lt. Governor. Wm. C. Bryant and G. W. Patterson will be Electors at Large. The Greeley party is bent on introducing anti-corruption resolves. Exciting times are anticipated.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 21.—The Democrat estimates the complexion of the next State Legislature thus: Republicans 12, Breckinridge Democrats 26, Bell 33, Douglas 48. Ten counties yet to be heard from.

An editor of a religious paper, noting the increase of ministers in Philadelphia, wrote, "The towers are now supplied with watchmen," but the compositor made it read, "the towns are now supplied with Dutchmen."

We heard a gentleman remark, the other day, that eggs were "fat or lean," according to the keeping provided for the hens. Is this so? It looks reasonable.

A COMPLETE CHANGE.

A story is told of a pretentiously devout church member, whose delight it was amongst other things to decry Lotteries. He said they were abominations and should not be tolerated. "One fine day," however, a few of the more influential members obtained a grant for the benefit of their own church. Our pious friend was puzzled.—"Well," he said, "all right. To gain a good end, a slight deviation from the straight line may be tolerated." But he did more. He bought a ticket, which secured him a prize, and straightway the Lottery became a great, a good thing. And this reminds us that Messrs. WOOD, EDDY & CO., of Wilmington, Delaware, and St. Louis, Missouri, will return a chance in one of their legal Lottery, upon receipt of $2 50, $5, $10, or $20, by next mail. Their capital prize is $70,000.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicines, when used according to directions. DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. Humphreys' Homeopathic Specifics

CURE PROMPTLY and safely all the more common diseases and ailments to which families are subject. In all acute diseases, such as fevers, inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Croup, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, Bronchitis and Consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Liver Complaint, Piles, Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

THE TREES OF OUR CITY.—A few years since the Legislature of this State enacted a law, subject to the cities' adoption, allowing the governments of cities to expend a very small sum (not exceeding twenty-five cents to each tax-payer) in setting out trees. And, strange as it may seem, this unobjectionable and wise law had opponents, and as yet has not been adopted, and of course not a cent spent for the purpose; while thousands seem to be used for unproductive purposes.

Where is the individual who has occasion to walk through our city on a hot and sweltering day, and does not feel grateful for the protection afforded by the trees, set out by the generous and patriotic munificence of private individuals; and sordid indeed he must be, who is not willing to pay the small sum for the grateful and necessary shade for himself and family. Who can at this season of the year, stand at the head of Court street, for instance, and various other localities, and look towards the towering and arching elms, and not admire their quiet and majestic grandeur, and the generous and noble taste of those who planted and so perseveringly, and thus far successfully, protected them from ruthless vandalism.—Then again the extensive and beautiful gardens, when not concealed by high fences, offering their beauty and fragrance to passers, and sending their grateful odors thro' the city, in a great measure counteracting the unhealthy miasma almost unavoidable in densely-packed places. Truly, the men who provided such attractions are true benefactors of mankind, and most richly deserve the gratitude of their neighbors and of every citizen.

But what a pity that the trees in our city are not fruit trees! Probably the citizens will the coming fall expend from five to ten thousand dollars for fruit, when the same might be raised in the streets or by the road-sides of Portsmouth, like the cherries in front of Col. Stearns' elegant dwelling, or generally in the streets of Worcester, and a hundred, if not a thousand, cities in Europe. B.

For the Chronicle.

☞ I would like to inquire through your columns, whether it would not be well for the City Missionary or City Marshal to take care of a party of boys, who employ themselves in robbing the various gardens around our city of their fruit. Last week there were five gardens in one immediate neighborhood, which suffered more or less from these young thieves. If the School of Reformation exists, these would be suitable candidates for it. When a band of boys spend all their time wandering about, it would not be difficult to find them, and it is certainly somebody's business to take care of them. —— S.

All true enough, no doubt—and "pity 'tis, 'tis true;" but it is the duty of every good citizen to aid the officers in the prevention of and the punishment for offences against the laws and the well-being of the community, and "S." would seem, from the knowledge he possesses, to be the very person to complain and witness against these young depradators.—Ed. Chron.

For the Chronicle.

☞ Many of our citizens, and one or two of the newspapers, complain in regard to the completion of some of the surroundings of the splendid new Post Office building—and say that "so mean a finish of so truly an elegant edifice reflects no credit upon those responsible. The pavement is laid upon a decline outward, which it is said will render it unsafe in icy weather; while the inner side is secured (?) with bricks set up endwise, instead of a substantial edgestone in keeping with the structure."

Now, of course, as this building was not done by contract, Uncle Sam himself must be directly responsible for all short-comings here. Respecting the sidewalk—the City decided it was inexpedient to fill up the streets around the building; and any one can see that with the great difference in the grade of the street and the Custom House lot, and the present arrangement of curb-stones, the walk could be laid in no other way; and if the U. S. authorities choose to stick up bricks instead of laying curb-stones, we don't see how it can be helped.

The Gazette finds fault that the Post Office is not finished; but this is said to be the owing to the Post Master himself delaying to draw up an inventory of articles wanted,—he being supposed to prefer, for economy's sake, to remain in the dingy old rookery in Daniel street, rather than move into the spacious and convenient quarters newly provided. But whatever the reason is or has been, we suppose the removal will take place very soon, and be quite a gain to the public. JUSTICE.

OLD IRONSIDES.—Pilot Snow, who took the new U. S. Ship Constitution, Capt. Porter, round from this Naval Station to Annapolis, has returned; and reports a pleasant and satisfactory passage in all respects. They were about a fortnight on the trip, in getting up the Bay and all.

The Barge will make an Excursion to the Shoals, with the Band, on Thursday, Aug. 23, leaving Pier wharf at 8 o'clock; leave the Shoals to return, at 3 o'clock. Tickets for adults 50 cts., for children under fourteen 25 cts., sold at the wharf.

☞ Mrs. Varian-James, and her associate performers, on Tuesday evening, proved themselves true philosophers, and possessed of uncommon good spirits—as they had before established themselves superlatively high in the estimation of all who have heard them, as first-class musicians. On Tuesday morning, it was decided to give another Concert, with a programme consisting chiefly of English songs, &c.; but owing to the short notice, and especially to the irrepressible conflict of the elements, which it was generally supposed would prevent any performance, only a very small audience gathered. But those who did brave the storm were richly repaid indeed. Mrs. James appeared as beautiful as ever, and sang as charmingly; and all went through their parts with the same promptness and care, and were as obligingly ready to answer an encore as though they had a full house. It is of no use to cry over "what can't be helped," we all well know; but if anybody can furnish such a treat as that, and pay the audience a considerable sum for enjoying it, and maintain their equanimity, they merit the title of philosophers, we think.—Our readers will be glad to hear that they will probably return to Portsmouth in a few weeks, and give another opportunity to hear them—we hope a more favorable and profitable one.

☞ The Portsmouth Steam Factory has declared a dividend of eight per cent. ($4 per share) payable Sept. 5th. It is said the mill has done a good year's business, paid for new machinery, made a dividend, and earned a small surplus in addition.

Now is a fitting time to acknowledge the enterprise and public spirit of a few gentlemen of this city, who stood heavily responsible for this mill in its struggles through hard times, until it has got into clear water. If it had never paid a cent of dividend, however, it would be a good investment for the city. We wish there was ten times the amount of capital, invested in other needed and practicable manufactures here.

INSTALLATION.—Rev. E. B. Eddy was installed Pastor of the Middle Street Baptist Church in this city, on Wednesday evening.

Reading and prayer by Rev. Mr. Barnaby, of Deerfield; Sermon, by Rev. Dr. Flanders, of Concord; Prayer by Rev. Mr. Medbery; Charge to Pastor, by Rev. Mr. Clapp, of Dover; Right Hand of Fellowship, Rev. Mr. Medbery; Charge to People, Rev. Dr. Lamson, late pastor; Prayer, by Rev. D.P. Leavitt, of the Methodist Church; Doxology; Benediction, by the Pastor.

The altar was beautifully trimmed with flowers, by tasteful and public-spirited ladies, well known in that Society; and but for the storm, a much larger audience would have enjoyed the services.

"OUR CITY."—The Gazette, in copying "the interesting and very suggestive article from the Portsmouth Journal, respecting the lack of manufactures here, &c., to which we would direct the attention of our readers, and ask a thoughtful consideration of the subject," says:

"If anything can be done to lift our city out of the rut of conservatism in which it has been standing almost motionless these many years, and give it a good start on the iron rail of progress, the work must be commenced by our own citizens. Once get the concern moving, and numberless helpers will join in the effort, and an irresistible impetus be obtained which will push us into the front rank with those cities noted for commercial and business enterprise. The wheels are now rusty, but get them once moving and lubricated with the oil of industry, and but little effort will be required to keep them steadily rolling to the depot of success."

☞ Two little girls, aged 18 months and 5 years, children of William Goodwin, residing at No. 126 Market street in this city, fell from a window headlong to the sidewalk together, several days ago, striking upon a stone walk—a distance of about 12 feet. The older child has recovered; the younger still suffers, and may be permanently crippled.

Star Circus!

The Animals will be performed by "OLD ADAMS" himself, every afternoon and evening, in connection with the Circus,
OLD ADAMS, GRIZZLY ADAMS,
—OR THE—
WILD ZANBEE HUNTER,
as he is familiarly termed, has long been known as
The California Trapper of '49.

The history of his exploits and hair-breadth escapes, his terrific encounters with GRIZZLY BEARS and other wild animals by which he has been nearly torn in pieces, and is now covered with scars from head to foot, has been extensively published, and it proves him to be, beyond dispute, the most FEARLESS AND INTREPID HUNTER that ever shouldered a rifle, distancing by far the renowned French Hunter GERARD, or the celebrated Lion Slayer GORDON CUMMING, so far as rockies during is concerned.

"OLD ADAMS" in fact is considered quite as much of a curiosity as any of his animals. He SLEEPS with his Bears, Eats with his Bears, and seems always most happy when surrounded by Bears. "Old Adams" spent all of his time for years, in the Mountains and Wilds of California and the Far West, in capturing, taming, and training this unequaled and the exhibition of which shows the extraordinary power of man over the most savage beasts, and their entire subjection to his will—Mr. Adams controlling them with as much ease and certainty as any lady would her pet dog.

Wonderful Menagerie,

This truly great Combination of Talent may be relied upon by the public as worthy of the most extensive patronage, and is the only company with any right to the well-earned fame of Niblo's, N. Y. It will appear at the following places, upon the following dates:

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

SEASONABLE ARTICLES.

One of the most economical and indispensable articles in the hot weather is a good Refrigerator; (a poor one is not worth buying at any price.)—The attention of the public is invited to
WINSHIP'S PATENT
Upright self-ventilating Refrigerators

It is now conceded by physicians that provisions are rendered very unwholesome by being confined in a Refrigerator in which the air is not constantly and effectually changed; and the health of many families has suffered in consequence. The musty and sour smell common to most ice chests is a sure indication of this poisonous tendency.

This Refrigerator is the only one ever offered that is perfectly ventilated, and in so scientific yet simple a manner that Prof. Silliman has given a description of it in his new work on Natural Philosophy as the best illustration ever practically tested of perfect ventilation.

The temperature is always uniform. The air never becomes stagnant. There is no waste of ice. The warm air cannot enter upon opening the doors. Access to the ice is had without disturbing the provision chamber. Articles of different flavors cannot impregnate each other—Milk, delicate fruits, and meats, can be preserved much longer than in any other Refrigerator.

All who value health and pure food are advised to give this article a trial. The cost is about the same as the common ice chests, and they are made with panelled sides and top, and tastefully grained.

MASSER'S FIVE-MINUTE
ICE-CREAM FREEZER.

Requiring less labor and less ice than any other. Simple and durable. Can be used by any child possessed of common sense. With it a constant supply of delicious Ice Cream may be had through the season at a small cost.

Morning Chronicle.

A young man, becoming engaged recently, was desirous of presenting his inended with a ring appropriately inscribed, but being at a loss what to have engraved on it, called upon his father for advice. "Well," said the old man, "put on 'When this you see, remember me!'" The young lady was much surprised, a few days after, at receiving a beautiful ring with this inscription, "When this you see, remember father."

A vender of "notions" was offering Yankee clocks, finely varnished and colored, to a lady not remarkable for her personal beauty. "Why, it's beautiful!" said the vender. "Beautiful, indeed!—a look at it almost frightens me," said the lady. "Wal, ma'am," replied the Yankee, "I guess you'd better buy one that hain't no looking-glass."

A young lady who was employed in braiding a safety-chain for a gentleman's watch, was asked what it was for. "A bell-rope, sir," replied she. "I acknowledge it is a belle-rope, miss," rejoined he, "and a very pretty one, too; but I suspect we shall find a beau attached to it when it is finished."

It is now hinted that perhaps rum had something to do with the loss of the brig "Zone," now lying on the southerly point of Bangs' Island, near the entrance to our harbor, as one of her officers was found dead drunk upon her house on Saturday morning.—Portland Courier.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers in Law, Equity or Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, is here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

C. C. WHITTEMORE,

No. 3 Market Street. - - - Up Stairs.

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and prescription of Dr. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple maladies of man.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, but trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or heaviness, at first easily cured and reduced, in this manner, often prevents a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein lies the secret of the great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no fear, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE SAFEST AND MOST EFFECTUAL.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success, all speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Heartburn, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupify.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

Does.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove a Cold Spell.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.
One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.
One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.
A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.
Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy; remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

DR. MOTT'S
PILLS OF IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATION, COSTIVENESS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHEA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of organic marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complicated list of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for persons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the iron of oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinctly specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which terminates them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most inveterate cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, continued, exacting and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, they have alarmed the students of medicine and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported of, as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness in the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENTS, it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which seems so much prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual buoyancy of active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

CLIPPER PLOWS
Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been
THOROUGHLY TESTED
by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them
The Best in the Market!
These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.
We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."
Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.
FOR FAMILY USE.

From the very flattering manner in which our Machines have been received by the public, resulting in the sale of 35,000,
we are led to believe that our endeavors to manufacture a RELIABLE MACHINE have been appreciated. We take this opportunity to remark that the policy will be unchanged, and that Every Machine sold by us

GROVER & BAKER S. M. CO.

THIRTY DIFFERENT PATTERNS,
Adapted to every variety of
FAMILY SEWING.
A FEW CERTIFICATES OF THE GREAT SUCCESS
—of the—
Grover & Baker's Sewing Machines.
[From the wife of the Hon. Jefferson Davis.]
Mrs. Jefferson Davis presents her compliments to Messrs. Grover & Baker, and takes pleasure in saying that she has been the owner of their new Sewing Machines for two years, and finds it still in good order—makes a beautiful stitch, and does easily any kind of work.
[From J. G. Harris, Governor of Tennessee.]
Mr. Wife has had one of Grover & Baker's Family Sewing Machines for some time, and I am satisfied it is one of the best labor-saving machines that have been invented. I take pleasure in recommending it to the public.
[From the Rev. Jonathan Cross, Agent American Tract Society.]
My wife has been using one of your Sewing Machines for the last three months, and pronounces it faultless. She can sew more on it in one day, than in ten the old way, and without fatigue. The work is beautiful and durable.—She says she would not exchange it for any other one. It is certainly one of the grandest inventions ever made for the relief of woman-kind, and I would recommend every family to get one as soon as possible.
Baltimore, July 14, 1859.
PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.
ALLEN & FAINE.
PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.
CHARLES W. BREWSTER.
"Zion's Herald," Nov. 10th, 1859, says,—"We would recommend to families and to those about to organize a homestead, to be sure and have a Family Bible, and also one of Grover & Baker's SEWING MACHINES.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.
This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.
When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its rooms from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place on the New England coast can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.
A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

ICE. ICE. ICE.
The Subscriber has a large amount of ICE, which he will sell as cheap as can be bought anywhere else. This Ice does not get the washing of rain; but all was have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudices aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my sulky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was almost destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
Those and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, proved a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstances, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can tell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes: viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 24, 1860.

A SEVERE STRAIN.—The Boston Post says:

Wise will the North be if it refrains from subjecting our system to so severe a strain as would be the election of Abraham Lincoln. We have the old Jackson faith in the power of the Union element; in the mighty strength of the supremacy of the law; and on the ground that it would be judged that four years of such suicidal insult to the South, which the sober thought of the North would assuredly resent, would be infinitely preferable to the long future of disunion and anarchy. But, in the name of common sense, what has the South, or the Union, done to deserve four years of such intolerable insult?

A dreadfully severe strain it must be, says Uncle Toby, for a constitutional majority of electors to put the man of their choice in the chair which has been occupied by Tyler and Polk, Pierce and Buchanan. Severe as it is, however, the Post don't believe the chair will break down in four years. No more do we—not a bit of it; but it may be stronger at the end of the four years than it is now.

This puts Uncle Toby in mind of the advice our Southern visiting friends gave us, before the election of Governor in 1855, to vote for a certain Governor, in order to sustain Pres. Pierce and to save the Union.—New Hampshire did not choose that Governor, Pres. Pierce was not sustained, but Mr. Buchanan was elevated, to be pushed aside in like manner—and yet the Union did not fall to pieces, though the strain was, and is, very severe, especially on the Democratic party.

And now for the insult, says Uncle Toby,—will it be an insult to the oligarchy to have a laboring man in the White House,—so be it. We don't see, though, how such an insult should be suicide in the Republicans; for surely the elevation of an honest man is no suicide.

And if the dirt-eaters of the North should resent Lincoln's election by committing suicide, we don't see why "honest old Abe" need put on sackcloth. But we don't believe much about the resentment, or the suicide; though it does look as if they might have a chance to try both.

PRESIDENTIAL EFECTION DAY.—Congress passed an act in 1845, "to establish a uniform time for holding elections for electors of President and Vice-President in all States of the Union. This act fixes the election on the "Tuesday next after the first Monday in the month of November," which this year is the 6th day of the month. All the electors must be chosen or appointed on that day, except in cases of filling up of vacancies in the Electoral College, or where a State has failed to effect an election on the day designated.

A HOAX.—The editor of the Philadelphia Bulletin has been shown a slip of paper, torn from the edge of a newspaper, which contained the following words:—

"The steamer Pacific, the walking beam fell and stove a hole in her bottom; we are sinking. T. (or F.) B. Davies."

The paper was found in a bottle which was picked up recently on Cape Henlopen. As no such name as F. B. or T. B. Davies appeared in the list of the Pacific's passengers, and as her engines were horizontal, and had no walking beam, it is safe to presume that the paper is a senseless hoax.

☞ The Newport correspondent of the New York Herald says Mr. Douglas is confident that he will receive in Virginia twice as many votes as Breckinridge, though he concedes the State will be carried high and dry by Bell and Everett—as will also, in his opinion, Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Maryland, Delaware, and perhaps others of the Southern States. Indeed, Mr. Douglas does not believe that Mr. Breckinridge can carry three of the Southern States, and thinks it altogether probable that Mississippi and South Carolina will be the only States which will give him their electoral votes.

THE TEXAS PLOT.—The Texas papers continue to chronicle the lynching of abolitionists and the formation of vigilance committees in various places to guard against the terrible "abolition plot." Two abolitionists have been hung in Tanant county, and several others have been "quietly hung" in Northern Texas.

PUNCH UPON THE LATE IMPERIAL LETTER.—The last number of Punch contains an amusing burlesque of the late Imperial Letter. Napoleon approaches John Bull bristling with arms of every description.—The latter is busily engaged in loading a formidable blunderbuss. The following conversation explains the scene:

Faithful Ally—"Eh, Mons. Bull, you are not afraid of me?"

John Bull—"Oh no, not afraid in the least—I only follow your fashion."

PERSONAL.—Great Falls, Aug. 22.—John A. Burleigh, Esq., agent of the Great Falls Manufacturing Co., and for many years a prominent member of the Strafford Bar, died this afternoon.

A FABLE AND MORAL.

FABLE,—from the Boston Courier.—Three armed travellers were passing along in the desert, at some distance from each other, and apparently having no communication together. One, from his head gear, seemed a Parsee, the second was evidently a Jew, while the the third showed all the marks of a European. Suddenly a monstrous serpent was seen, not very far off, advancing furiously towards them. All were horrified; and the Parsee and Jew, glancing at the costume of one another and of the third traveller, seemed about making off in different directions. "Come, come!" cries the European, "this will never do. If you fly thus, he will overtake us one after another, and when he has destroyed us all, will return and devour us at his leisure. Let us unite our forces, forgetting differences, now at least of no consequence, in the common danger. I will fire at him, as he comes within good gun-shot; you can then fall upon him with sword and spear; I too will help with the butt of my musket, and he will fall an easy prey." By this concerted action, the three saved their lives.

MORAL, by Uncle Toby.—The Parsee is the Douglas party; the Jew is the Breckinridge, and the European is the Bell-Everett party. The monstrous serpent may be Liberty, or the Republican party, or Honest Old Abe.

The three travellers no doubt are all horrified, and fear being devoured;—whether they can save their lives, or whether any one of them wishes to save all three, is not quite so certain.

Just as the above was put into type, the Atlas came along with another Fable.

As the Goddess of Liberty was journeying over a desert, she was waylaid by three ruffians. One, from his head gear, seemed a Parsee, the second was evidently a wandering Jew, while the third appeared like an exile squatter sovereign. It was the intention of these men to overcome and bind her, and then to sell her into slavery and divide the spoils. But after they had partially succeeded in their vile purposes, they quarrelled among themselves; and while they were in hot dispute as to the respective share each was to receive, they were boldly attacked by an honest American laborer who chanced to pass that way with his axe on his shoulder, and seeing the Goddess of Liberty bound and bleeding, rushed upon and slew the ruffians and released her from her bond. As a reward for his valor, she made him President over her Republic of the United States of America, and all that land was filled with praises of his justice and honesty.

CATCHING A BURGLAR.—The Webster Times says the neighborhood in the vicinity of its office was startled one Sunday night by the shrill and piercing cry of somebody in distress; and thereby hangs a tale. It appears that a young lady had been roused from her slumber about midnight by a noise at her open window. Half unclosing her eyes, she saw a corpulent form apparently struggling to gain admission to her chamber. Her first thought was to faint; her second to give the fellow a push; her third to jump out of the window as soon as he jumped in; her fourth to scream—which she immediately carried into effect. The old folks and everybody else rushed to the rescue, when they discovered that the burglar, though somewhat imposing in size, was really a very harmless one, it being no other than the young lady's hoop skirt, which had been negligently suspended by a hook on the windy side of the window, and was fluttering in the night breeze.

☞ The Buffalo Commercial Advertiser thus describes the last performance of the little French acrobat at Niagara Falls:

In a few minutes the little man was seen coming towards America attached to a heavy, lumbering chair. When about a third of the way out, he placed the chair upon the rope and seated himself thereon, crossed his legs, and gazed around with apparent unconcern. He then adjusted two legs of the chair upon the cable, and again seated himself. Coming nearer to the American shore, he again stopped and sat down; and then got up and stood in the chair!

☞ While a log was being cut in a sawmill at Monston, Mich., the saw came in contact with some hard substance, which, upon examination, proved to be an old fashioned French hatchet, which was found imbedded in the heart of the log; and judging from the number of rings outside of the hatchet, it is concluded to have been placed in the tree near a century ago.

BELL-EVERETT PEPPERS.—Some of the largest bell peppers ever ate or to be eaten, may be seen at the grocery store of S. W. Moses, on Market Square. They were raised in Massachusetts, and are said to be most excellent pickles, whether prepared as mangoes or in the ordinary way.

THE LAST CASE OF BIGAMY.—At Westonzoyland, near Plymouth, England, a man named Mountstevens, aged 79, has deserted his wife, with whom he had lived 50 years, and who is the mother of a large family, and has committed bigamy by marrying a Miss Charlotte Weller, aged 86.

ENOUGH TO KILL A GROWN PERSON.—A male infant died in Philadelphia a few days ago, and the following is a faithful copy of the certificate of the cause of his death, omitting the names, as furnished by the medical attendant: "This is to certify that ——— died with cholera and phantom, aged 2 months and 20 days. Signed by the Doctoress ———."

NO TURF SPORTS HEREABOUT.—There is a great dearth of sporting items, and we are tired of going over the old ground of Flora and Patchen, Patchen and Flora.—It is a great shame that these two celebrated nags should have been the tools by which a sometime back inaugurated system of turf imposition has been consolidated. We allude to the system of Hippodroming; that is, making matches with pre-arranged results, depending upon the receipts of the gates, in which the owners of the courses and the owners of the horses take shares, the race being the "Barnum" to draw the crowd. It is unsafe now to lay bets on trotting matches.

The above item is from Porter's Spirit of Times, a paper devoted to the Turf, Field-Sports, Literature and the Stage. Its remarks on the unsafety of betting, says Uncle Toby, are quite to the point.

A BUCKEYE PATRIARCH.—One of the census takers, while engaged in enumerating the population at Concordia, Champaign county, Ohio, encountered a veteran aged sixty-five years named Jesse Harbour, who is the father of thirty-two children, the youngest being only three months old at the taking of the census. Mr. Harbour has been twice married, having fourteen children by his first wife, and eighteen by his second. The old gentleman is in comfortable circumstances, and thus far has been enabled to present each of his children, on arriving at legal age, with eighty acres of land.

LATER FROM HAYTI.—By the arrival of the bark Ariel, Capt. Cheesman, at New York, we have advices from Hayti to the 6th inst. The President had returned from his tour to the North, where he had been exceedingly well received; and on his return to Port au Prince, triumphal arches, fireworks, and public rejoicings were the order of the day. Politically, everything was quiet, and likely to remain so.

A SAD AFFAIR.—A correspondent of the Manchester Mirror says that a young man named Handy, of Richmond, N. H., accidentally shot another young man named Jillson, on the 20th inst., and that his recovery is doubtful. They had slept together, and the gun was pointed at Jillson playfully, Handy thinking it unloaded.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald writes that Virginia, by all accounts, is sold to Douglas or Bell, sold to the coalition at least. There will be no such thing as a union of the two factions of the Democracy in Virginia. The bargain is too near maturity to admit of any such arrangement at this time. Virginia is hopelessly lost to the Democracy."

☞ Miss Sarah Baker, a maiden lady, aged 87, was found drowned on Thursday morning, between 8 and 9 o'clock, at the edge of the North Mill Pond, adjoining the garden of her house. She is supposed to have fallen into the pond at an early hour in the morning. Her remains are to be removed to Ipswich, Mass., her native place, for burial. The Mayor visited the premises, but no inquest was deemed necessary.

CHEAP ELECTIONEERING.—The New York Herald says: The principal, most efficient and cheapest electioneers for Lincoln are Douglas and his friends in one section of the country, Breckinridge and his friends in another section, and Bell and his friends in another. This wise trio appear determined that Lincoln's election shall be reduced to the least possible amount of expense.

CLAMS COOKED BY LIGHTNING.—In New York, on Saturday last, a pilot boat was struck by lightning. The fluid passed over a bucket of water in which some clams had been placed, and after the excitement was over, the pilots found the clams cooked.

☞ Great numbers of horses from the mountains, are dying along the river in Kansas, of disease contracted between Denver and Fort Kearney, from the exceedingly alkaline character of the water.

☞ The Trustees of the "Maine State Association for the Improvement of Horses" have designated Augusta as the place for their first annual exhibition, and four days in the third week in September, as the time, viz., the 18th, 19th, 20th and 21st.

☞ In South Danvers, on Saturday last, the Catholic priest, it is stated, entered a house situated in a part of the town called "Dublin," and spilled two barrels of "the critter." The owner of the liquor was very indignant at the proceeding.

☞ A down-east paper, in giving the particulars of a recent fire in Farmingdale, where a Mr. Rich lost, among other stock, six cows, makes the item read six crows.

☞ At the dinner given at Waterville, during "Commencement time," Senator Hamlin was called upon to speak. He said he had had no alma mater, save the chimney corner, on the farm, or in the printing office.

DEFAULTING POSTMASTER.—Chicago, Aug., 21.—Samuel Workman, Postmaster at Iowa City, has resigned, retaining $10,000 of the Government funds. He has been absent for some months.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE!

A meeting was held on Wednesday evening, Aug. 22, 1860, in the Room of the Young Men's Christian Association,—and the Portsmouth Division of the Sons of Temperance was duly formed and recognized, by the proper officers of the Grand Division of New Hampshire.

The following gentlemen were then elected officers of the Portsmouth Division, and installed with the usual ceremonies.

Edward P. Kimball, W. P.
George T. Wildes, W. A.
T. Tarlton, R. S.
H. Thompson, A. R. S.
William C. Hatch, T. S.
J. C. Carr, T.
Marcellus Bufford, C.
Meshach Bell, A. C.
Eben Brackett, J. S.

WATER.—A racy Portsmouth correspondent of the Boston Herald, commenting on the singular fact that the barge Comfort had to give up her trip to the Shoals, last Monday, for lack of water to fill the boiler of her tow-boat, says:

Those who were disappointed of their anticipated pleasure must adopt some means of helping the captain out of this dilemma. Perhaps they will betake themselves to larger beer in future, and save their water for the purposes of navigation. The Portsmouth water works consist of a series of logs, thro' which the delivery of the fluid is too slow to enable them to supply so fast a machine as a steamboat.

The springs at the Fountain Head have also been drained remarkably low this dry season.

SHARP PRACTICE.—An exciting race came off at Saratoga Spring, Thursday, Aug. 16th, between the Dalton horse, Broker, which trotted from Albany to Whitestone three or four years ago, and another. It was a single heat of six turns around the track, which is a few rods short of a mile. Dalton was to carry four hundred pounds. He won the race fairly, but when his establishment was weighed, it was found to be eighteen pounds short; some rascal had cut out that quantity of lead, so that Dalton should lose the race by not being up to weight. Of course Dalton could not claim the money. This is what is called sharp practice.—Porter's Spirit.

DODGE OUTDONE.—A young man residing not a thousand miles from Newburyport, says the Herald, being disappointed in going down to the Bluff, last Monday, consoled himself by consuming the following refreshments, in addition to three hearty meals:—

5 sheets of Gingerbread,
8 glasses Small Beer,
5 glasses Nectar,
3 large Pickles,
20 Cocoanut Cakes,
6 oz. Chocolate Cream Drops,
10 Cigars,
7 large Apples,
½ pint Peanuts,
4 cents worth old Cheese,
1 stick Candy,
1 pint new Milk,
4 glasses Ice Water;

And an emetic, which was ordered by a physician, to save his valuable life for further duties.

☞ Eels are covered with a mucous substance, which makes them difficult to hold, and has led to the notion that they are devoid of scales. This is an error, as it is said they are discovered readily with a magnifying glass.

Within a few days past, Dearbon Eaton, a son of Mr. Cady Osgood, and Mrs. Lydia McDuffie of Auburn; Mrs. John Greeley, Mrs. Ephraim Averill, and a son of Mr. Farley of Londonderry—were severely injured by falling—five of the six having a leg broken. It is a curious succession of disasters.—Manchester American.

☞ The Louisville Journal has the following short and decisive hit at an overhasty opponent:

Nobody denies the patriotism of John Bell.—Louisville Journal

We deny it.—N. C. Patriot.

We know you do; we meant you when we said nobody would deny it.

NAVAL.—Washington, Aug. 22.—Capt. Mercer has been ordered to the steam frigate Powhattan—destination unknown.

☞ A dispatch to the Traveller states that Mr. Edwin Boyce of Manchester, N. H., fell from the platform of the Manchester down train, near Lawrence, Thursday morning, and had both legs cut off and one arm. He will probably die.

☞ Portsmouth was lively with music on Thursday, as the Portsmouth Band was out, and also the Newmarket Band with a fire company from that place, on an excursion in the barge Comfort.

☞ The Oxford Democrat mentions that a flag bearing the names of Dog lous and Johnson is displayed in the town of Oxford.

☞ The annual Methodist Camp Meeting will commence at the camp ground in Newmarket, on Monday, the 27th inst.

☞ The great event of the week in Chicago has been the public reception of the Zouaves, who have just returned from their triumphal tour.

☞ The destination of the frigate Susquehannah has been changed from the Mediterranean to the Gulf of Mexico, supposed after Walker.

☞ Tremendous rain storms on Wednesday night caused much damage in Philadelphie and New York.

☞ In London there are 10,000 places for the sale of intoxicating liquors.

CITY COUNCIL AND CITY OFFICERS.—At a special meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, on Wednesday evening, the following twelve Watchmen were chosen:

Nathl. L. Maloon, Chas. A. Wiggin, Daniel D. Cate, Nathl. M. Rand, John A. Holbrook, William Laskey, John Harvey, Benj. Maloon, John G. Tibbets, Wm. A. Merrill, Richard Waldron, Saml. Twombly.

According to the new amendments to the City Charter, as generally understood, the two Boards met in Convention, on Thursday evening of last week, and elected most of the officers—and the Convention adjourned to last (Thursday) night, to finish that business. But meantime, the Aldermen, we suppose getting new light on the subject of construing the law, met as above, and took some of the wind out of the Convention.

The was no quorum in the Common Council or Convention last evening, and so no more officers chosen—though it is not clear to us, why the Mayor and Aldermen can't choore the whole as well as watchmen.

N. Y. REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.—Syracuse, N. Y., Aug. 22—P. M.—Governor Morgan and Lieutenant Governor Campbell have been nominated for re-election by acclamation. H. S. Barnes was nominated for Canal Commissioner

James K. Bates was nominated for State Prison Inspector. William Cullen Bryant and James O. Putnam were nominated for electors at large, with 33 District Electors.

Resolutions were adopted accepting the platform of the Chicago Convention, and ratifying the nomination of Lincoln and Hamlin; also of Morgan and Campbell and the rest of the Candidates for State offices.

Also, declaring that the attempt to fasten upon the Republican party the responsibility of profligate State legislation is calumnious and wicked, and that the State Canals deserve the fostering care of the Republican party. Several congratulatory speeches were made, after which the Convention adjourned sine die.

CRINOLINE PUT TO A USE.—We clip the following paragraph from the Rochester, N. Y., Express:

A few miles up the river, we witnessed this morning a boat laden with four persons On the bow stood a young lady, whose ample skirts making a well filled sail, took the little craft across the river without the dip of an oar.

THE NATIONAL HORSE SHOW.—Springfield, Mass., Aug. 22.—Arrangements are made to transport horses both ways, free of charge, to the Fourth National Horse Show, to be held in this city, from Sept. 4th to Sept. 7th, from the following places: Buffalo, New York city via New Haven, Boston, Albany, Norwich and Burlington, Vt. This horse fair promises to be the largest ever held in this city.

OF LITTLE FAITH.—Lewis C. Welsh attempted to walk on the water at Fall River, on Sunday last, but not having faith enough to make his body as light (empty) as his head, he incontinently sunk below the yeasty waves and had to be pulled out to save him from drownig.

A MIXTURE OF YEARS.—The census marshal, the other day, found in one family a lady aged 48 years, with a son aged 36 years, and a second husband of 30 years. She had been a very young mother, and by a very young husband she has had the forethought to provide well for old age.—Newburyport Herald.

FONDA, N. Y., Aug. 21.—At the trot here to-day between Flora Temple and Brown Dick, the former won in three straight heats. Time.—2:32; 2:25 1-2;—2:38.

Camphor is the most powerful agent to drive away mosquitoes. A camphor bag hung up in an open casement will prove an effectual barrier to their entrance.

As a root scents moisture in a dry place or a plant even in darkness aims always at the light, so the heart forever aims at hope and immortality.—Beecher.

BURNED TO DEATH.—In this city, a lady at No. 240 Diamond street was burned to death by attempting to kindle the fire by pouring powder from a can on the coals.—This has not yet happened, but we expect shortly you will chronicle a worse calamity if citizens continue careless with burning fluid. They happen daily in other places, and many hair-breadth escapes we have had reported to us. Let us learn wisdom from what others suffer.

Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus is as healthy as the purest flour; it will prove a great saving in that article; is peculiary adapted to benefit weak stomachs and dyspeptic persons; is much more healthy and economical than baking powders, and greatly preferred to soda to use with cream tartar. Star Circus!

The Animals will be performed by "OLD ADAMS" himself, every afternoon and evening, in connection with the Circus.

OLD ADAMS, GRIZZLY ADAMS,

—OR THE—

WILD ZANBEE HUNTER,

as he is familiarly termed, has long been known as

The California Trapper of '49.

The history of his exploits and hair-breadth escapes, his terrific encounters with GRIZZLY BEARS and other wild animals by which he has been nearly torn in pieces, and is now covered with scars from head to foot, has been extensively published, and it proves him to be, beyond dispute, the most FEARLESS AND INTREPID HUNTER that ever shouldered a rifle, distancing by far the renowned French Hunter GERARD, or the celebrated Lion Slayer GORDON CUMMING, so far as reckless daring is concerned.

"OLD ADAMS" in fact is considered quite as much of a curiosity as any of his animals. He SLEEPS with his Bears, Eats with his Bears, and seems always most happy when surrounded by Bears. "Old Adams" spent all of his time for years, in the Mountains and Wilds of California and the Far West, in capturing, taming, and training this unequaled and

Wonderful Menagerie,

the exhibition of which shows the extraordinary power of man over the most savage beasts, and their entire subjection to his will—Mr. Adams controlling them with as much ease and certainty as any lady would her pet dog.

This truly great Combination of Talent may be relied upon by the public as worthy of the most extensive patronage, and is the only company with any right to the well-earned fame of Niblo's, N. Y. It will appear at the following places, upon the following dates:

DOVER, Sept. 1st: NEWBURYPORT, Sept. 4th.

American and Foreign Patents.

E. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions.—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters appertaining thereto. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 5, 1858.

"Mr. E. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1859. R. H. EDDY.

C. C. WHITTEMORE,
No. 3 Market Street. - - - Up Stairs.

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet the great and long realized want of the public, combining the SIMPLE AND MOST COMMON and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we all suffer, and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhœa, a pain in the side, or a headache, if neglected, or improperly treated and subdued, in time become a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the power of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the disorder allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and the great saving of time, pain, and expense, the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirium Tremens, Intemperance. It Stimulates, Exhilarates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

As a Medicine, it is quick and effectual, curing the most aggravated cases of Dyspepsia, Kidney Complaints, and all other derangements of the Stomach and Bowels, in a speedy manner.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.
One dose will cure Heartburn.
Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.
One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disgreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of too much liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach, weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the cheeks of the fair sex.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the Invigorating Spirit in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts 81.

DR. MOTT'S
CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE
PILLS & IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innocuous in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHEA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description or written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted travel in a distant land. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic diversions to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

IN NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation for Iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, its effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of former cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

Its Stimulates, without irritate and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and merit.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid accretion of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and Dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

Morning Chronicle.

SEEING THE ECLIPSE.—The Providence Post narrates the following experience of a citizen in search of the eclipse:—

Got up at 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. Looked for the sun, but couldn't find it.—Concluded I was up too early. Went to bed.

Got up again at half-past five. Saw something they called the sun, looked real. Went down town. Sun looked whiter, and bright as a tin pan. Thought I would go home and get breakfast. Noticed that the breakfast room looked dark. Opened the blinds, then it looked lighter.

Seven o'clock. Went down town again. Sun shining very bright. Tried to look at it, but couldn't. Thought I would take a glass. Took one. Smoked it. Thought I could see better, but wasn't satisfied. Didn't see any eclipse.

Eight o'clock. Took another glass, thinking it might be a better one. Smoked.—Could see a patch on the sun's face. Grew bigger. Took another glass—smoked.—Looked first-rate.

Half-past eight. Things didn't look bright, but could see something. Thought the trouble might be in the last glass.—Took another. Saw the biggest kind of an eclipse. Saw the sun and the moon.—Took another glass and looked again. Saw two suns. Smoked and took another glass. Saw two suns and two moons. Took another glass. Five or six suns and ten or fifteen moons, all mixed up, and seemed to be drunk.

Nine o'clock. Couldn't see much of anything. Concluded I was sun struck.—Tho't I would go home. Saw an omnibus, and thought I would get in. Turned out to be Swart's what-d'ye-call-it. Tried another, and got in. Went home in a coal-cart. Think eclipses are humbugs, besides making people have headaches.

ANTICIPATED TROUBLE IN JERUSALEM. A letter was received in Boston yesterday, from Simeon Murad, the acting American Consul at Jerusalem, who says that considerable anxiety is felt by the Christian European residents. The Arabs without the walls, to say nothing of those within, are evidently under unusual excitement. Those of Djbel Kuds and Djbel Mablous have already destroyed the surrounding crops.—Bread is beginning to be very dear, so that a loaf which ordinarily cost five paras, now brings twenty, and scarce at that. The poor are suffering, and apprehensions of a fearful outbreak are entertained. There is no calculating the amount of misery that would follow, should the fanatical spirit of the Mahomedans break forth as it has on former occasions in Jerusalem, which has in past ages passed through more extraordinary scenes of blood, slaughter and rapine, than any other place on the whole globe.—Transcript.

LIFE WITHOUT LOVE.—We sometimes meet with men who seem to think that any indulgence in an affectionate feeling is a weakness. They will return from a journey and greet their families with a distant dignity, and move among their children with the cold and lofty splendor of an iceberg, surrounded by its broken fragments. There is hardly a more unnatural sight on earth than one of those families without a heart. A father had better extinguish a boy's eyes than take away his heart. Who that has experienced the joys of friendship, and values sympathy and affection, would not rather lose all that is beautiful in nature's scenery than be robbed of the hidden treasures of his heart? Cherish, then, your heart's best affections. Indulge in the warm and gushing emotions of filial, parental, and fraternal love.

THE NEXT BEST THING.—One of those full-faced parties who wear vermilion around their visual organs, and look as though the enemy which they put into their mouths to steal their brains away, had commenced eating out their eyes in order to carry their plunder away through this direction, stepped into a rookery in the 5th Ward a day or two ago, and showing the proprietor the vermillion visuals heretofore named, asked him if he had any liquor that was good for sore eyes. The proprietor pondered an instant, and then producing a bottle, said, "No; I haint got nothing that will cure 'em—but there's some cider brandy that will keep them along just about so!" It was adopted.—Hartford Courant.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.

This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

Expel the Doubts of All.

For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all woo have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir:—The Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my silky ponies on a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result; two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all enquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself to say, is not a little.

You can publish this if you think proper.

Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to use a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents.

Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

THE GREAT TEXAS LIES.

It will remembered that in the first rumors of the great conflagration in Texas, it was alleged by Charles B. Pryor, editor of the Dallas Herald, that two abolitionists, McKinney and Blunt, who had been expelled from the State, were the instigators of the scheme for insurrection which, it was charged, had been detected, and of which the fires were the initial step.

Recently, Rev. Solomon McKinney, who is now in Illinois, has written and published a letter, in which he says that he and Blunt were peaceable citizens,—and says:

I am not conscious of having, either by word or deed, interfered with the domestic relation of master and servant, and had no knowledge of there being any of that kind of censure against me until a few days before I left, when, to my surprise, I was warned by my friend, Mr. Blunt, that such was the fact, and in a short time received an anonymous letter, informing me that the following night myself and said Mr. Blunt would be taken out and hung.

They were not hung, but were seized, tied and whipped 70 lashes each, by a mob of which Mr. Pryor, the same editor who makes up the stories, was the leader.

The mob robbed them of their guns and money. They left Texas directly, and McKinney states that since the time when he left, Aug. 25, 1859, he has had nothing to do with Texas, in any way, directly or indirectly,—and he adds,

I will state that I never sympathized with abolitionism, but have always voted democratic, and am now, politically with that party who favors that policy of citizens of the territories regulating their domestic institutions in their own way.

No time have I either directly or indirectly given encouragement, counsel or assent to such a diabolical and deplorable plot or scheme as is related of Dallas county.

My own impression is, that the said Doctor Pryor and others of his grade, who are numerous in that country, have been making the above transaction a pretext, under the false garb of quelling abolitionism, to burn the properly and rob the good citizens who treated me kindly in that country, and perhaps other innocent persons.

The whole batch of stories from that quarter seem to be big lies, based on very small foundations.

"COUNTING THE CHICKENS before they are hatched," used to be a school book fable, years ago. Here is a good repetition of it from a newspaper, the Boston Courier, which tells us that "Mr. Everett will be Vice President, sure,"—and says:

It has been demonstrated that Abraham Lincoln is to be defeated in November.—There can be no question that the Bell and Everett ticket will either be first or second in the Presidential race before the people. Possibly Hamlin will be the second highest Vice Presidential candidate. In that event, the two names to go before the Senate are those of Everett and Hamlin, and Mr. Everett will be elected Vice President.

In another article the same paper says Lincoln is already defeated, and adds:

It is now as certain as any future event can be, that Abraham Lincoln has no possible chance left of obtaining that election which his adherents boasted about so confidently a few weeks ago. This is no matter of mere speculation upon probabilities, but is made evident by indisputable facts. The arrangements effected in New York and New Jersey settle the question.

These are all nice chickens, and there is a fine brood of them—in futuro; in three months we shall know more about them than we do now.

☞ Two forged cashier's checks for $70 each, purporting to be signed by W. W Freeman, Cashier of the Berkshire Bank, South Adams, have recently been received at the Safety Fund Bank, Boston. The first was from the Weare Bank, N. H., where the money upon it had been obtained, and the second from the Kennebunk Bank. They were both sent for collection, when the forgery was discovered from the fact that the Berkshire Bank uses only checks printed on tinted paper, while these were printed upon white paper. The first check was made payable to A. Douglas, and the second to A. Mason. It is evident that the forger obtained some knowledge of the business of the bank before commencing his swindling operations.

LIQUOR LAW.—The new act against the adulteration of food, liquors and medicine, provides that "whoever adulterates, for the purpose of sale, any liquor used or intended for drink, with cocculus indicus, vitriol, grains of paradise, opium, alum, capsicum, copperas, laurel water, logwood, Brazil wood, cochineal, sugar of lead, or any other substance which is poisonous or injurious to the health; and whoever knowingly sells any such liquor, so adulterated, shall be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, or imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year, and the articles so adulterated shall be forfeited."

☞ Gov. Banks of Massachusetts declines a re-election. It is said he has decided to accept the important position of President of the Illinois Central Railroad, which has been proffered to him.

THE JAPANESE BILLS.—Gotham has at last got a sight at the items of the Japanese reception bills. They will undoubtedly gratify the eyes of the tax payers, and furnish excellent subjects for contemplation to those who furnish the money; and to the Aldermen who must have pocketed a share of it, besides drinking the 12,000 bottles of champagne at a cost of $30,000, they will appear delightful. These are the interesting items:—

12,000 suppers, at $3	$36,000
12,000 bottles of champagne, at $2.50	30,000
Board of the Embassy for 10 days, Princes and all, $2000 per day	20,000
Other expenses, cigars, &c	5,000
Leland's bill	$91,000
Hack hire, &c	5,000
White hats, kid gloves, other nicknacks	9,000
Total	$105,000

SHIPMENT OF BUTTER, CHEESE, &C.—The shipments of butter, cheese and lard continue very large. The clearances of cheese alone at New York, last week, were 656,000 pounds. The total exports at that port, of cut meats, butter, cheese and lard, from January 1st to August 20th in this and last year, compare as follows:—

	1859.	1860.
Cut Meats, lbs	4,782,998	13,772,702
Butter, lbs	1,862,566	2,831,345
Cheese, lbs	2,869,547	10,675,305
Lard, lbs	6,790,975	14,429,282

Nor is the current likely to stop suddenly, as the steamer which left Thursday took out 10,000 boxes!

DICTATION OF SAILOR BOARDING HOUSE KEEPERS.—The sailor boarding house keepers of New York, encouraged by their success in resisting the abolition of the system of advance wages, have undertaken to dictate to the merchants who they shall employ. There are at present in New York a large number of officers and seamen unemployed, who are very anxious to ship. This they are unable to do, owing to regulations adopted by the association of landlords. One regulation is that if a man is shipped at New York who does not board with a member of the association, they will remove the men whom they have shipped. Thus the ship is detained, and the owners, from necessity, remove the obnoxious person, and his placed is filled by a boarder. Should the shipping master interfere, another resolution provides that the association will suspend business with him for sixty days.

The Boston Journal remarks—if the merchants are willing to put themselves in the power of sailor boarding house keepers, by continuing to advance wages, the money for which the sailor sells himself to his landlord, we not know why they should not submit to this exaction likewise. It is the system of advance wages which gives the boarding house keeper such a power over Jack as to control his movements, and until this is abrogated, the merchants are entirely at the mercy of these owners of human flesh.

A FATHER KILLS HIS SON AND SON-IN-LAW.—The Crown Point (Ia.) Register states that for a year there has been a quarrel in the family of an old gentleman named Mummery, living in Hobart Township, about the old man's property. The family consisted of the father, three sons, a son-in-law and several daughters. In the dispute, two of the sons sided with their father, while the other joined the son-in-law, who started the quarrel. The son and son-in-law have often threatened to kill the old man if they ever caught him alone, and on the 13th inst. they were favored with an opportunity. The old man stepped out to shoot a hawk that was flying about the house, and had gone but a short distance when he met his son and son-in-law, who said, "Here is the old man, let's kill him," and at once made after him with an ax. He turned and fired one barrel at his son, hitting him in the breast and killing him instantly. He snapped the other barrel at the son-in-law, but it did not go off. He then took a double-barrel pistol from his pocket and fired one barrel, taking off one of his ears. He then fired the other barrel and shot him through the body. The son-in-law lived until the next day, when he expired. It was the general opinion among the residents in the vicinity, that the old man did no more than was necessary to save his own life. The father is about sixty years old; the son he killed about thirty or over. The son-in-law was an old man—probably older than his father in-law.

☞ Miss Warner, author of the "Wide, Wide World," has recently bought Warner's Island, where her family now resides, for $11,000. This purchase is one of the fruits of her remarkably successful literary career. Warner's Island lies in the middle of the Hudson, between West Point and Cold Spring.

☞ The Breckinridge and Lane State Committee of New York met at Saratoga, Tuesday. Arrangements were made for an active prosecution of the campaign. The Committee were emphatic in their expressions of opposition to any fusion with the Douglas faction, or to a revival of the Know Nothing party under the leadership of Bell and Everett.

☞ The trial of Henry Cooper, colored porter of Lee, Sprague & Co., of Worcester, for embezzlement, resulted in his conviction and sentence to ninety days imprisonment in jail.

PORTSMOUTH AND ITS ENVIRONS;

A PROGRAMME FOR PLEASURE SEEKERS.

BY J. H. H.—NO. 1.

Leave the vast city with its noisy crowds,
And watch the glory of the clouds;
Golden at dawn, pallid as ghosts at noon,
Gorgeous at evening, drifting by the moon.
—Laighton.

The following sketches of places and things of interest and note, in our vicinity, at this season of the year may be worth the perusal of your readers, especially those who are in pursuit of pleasure. Rye Beach being the lion of this neighborhood, we will take a drive in that direction. Stopping first at the Ocean House, we there find everything fitted up in regal shape, and a host of gay company, who seem to vie with each other in the richness and style of their costumes. In the parlors, on the piazza, and through the halls, ladies and gentlemen are strolling singly, in pairs, or in groups.—But now a lively waltz strikes the ear. In an instant twenty or thirty couples are whirling along, floating like thistles in the wind. Their feet scarce touch the carpeted floor. Round and round, in a vortex of life, beauty and brilliancy, they go—a whirlwind of delight. Eyes sparkling, cheeks flushing, and gauzy draperies floating by—while the crowd outside gather about the doors and windows, and watch the giddy revel. But soon the small hours come on, and one after another they steal away to their rooms. The house is quiet, and save the unceasing dashing of the waves on the beach, stillness reigns around.

We are loth to leave this happy throng, but time will not admit of a long visit; and after a morning walk on the beach, where we witness the merry sport of the bathers, we drive to the Atlantic House, which is noted for its excellent table of good wholesome food, and that in abundance. The grand old woods at the rear of the house, with their collection of wild flowers and fruit, lofty swings and shady walks, and a ramble on the rocks near the shore, were but few of the many attractions of this delightful spot. The house was overflowing with company, and all appeared to be enjoying the ocean breezes, and the surrounding scenery.

We were also much pleased with the appearance of the Surf House, near the Ocean House. Surrounding by its fairy-looking walks, and beds of blooming flowers, it seemed to be the abode of quiet and comfort.

A short drive to the Prospect House we enjoyed exceedingly. Fields of waving grain and orchards of fruit spread on each side of the road, while here and there a rustic cottage, with its bright green blinds, and trellised vines about the door-way, gave an air of beauty to the scene. The Prospect House is situated at the end of one of the finest beaches, for a drive, in the neighborhood; it is well conducted, and appears well patronized. Here you will find good boats for fishing, chances for gunning, bathing, and beautiful scenery.

Our next stopping place was at the Sagamore House, which we think is much more pleasantly situated than any other house on the coast. The scenery consists of ocean, river, rocks, woods and hills. At the rear of the house, a bird's eye view can be had of the city of Portsmouth. Among the attractions, some of which abound in traditionary lore, are the ruins of the old fort, and of the great house, erected in 1605;—also the graves of the first settlers of New Hampshire, who, after suffering many hardships, were carried off by disease. The fort is near the hotel; the ruins of the great house and the graves of the pioneers, "which are marked by large stones," are on Odiorn's Point, a short distance along the coast. Bonnet Rock is also quite a curiosity, being formed not unlike the fashionable bonnets of the day, and weighing four or five tons. It is composed of granite, and is made perfectly smooth by the action of the waves; it was thrown up on its present resting place by the storm that swept away Minot's Ledge Light House. Plenty of fine fish can be caught here, and there are excellent opportunities for sea-bathing.

☞ Three Newfoundland dogs attacked several steers in the pasture of Orin J. Powers of Prescott, Mass., a few days ago, and gnawed off the ear of one of the animals and nearly severed one of its legs from the body. They also mangled three others in the herd. The bellowing of the terrified animals attracted attention, and the dogs were driven off and killed.

☞ The most celebrated trotting stallion in the world, George M. Patchen, arrived in Boston Thursday, in "good condition," and was taken to his quarters on the Franklin Course. His race with the Queen of the turf, Flora Temple, next Tuesday, will attract a host of spectators.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23.—The schooner Dew Drop, from Ruatan, reports 12 Spaniards killed and 18 wounded, and three Americans killed at the capture of Truxillo. Walker still held possession of the city.

IOWA CITY, Aug. 23.—Ex-Postmaster Workman is not a defaulter. His quarterly accounts show a balance in his favor.

MOUNTAIN DANGERS.

A White Mountain correspondent of the Boston Courier, writing from the Crawford House, Aug. 16, gives the following account of a perilous, almost fatal, piece of ignorant venturing.

The perilous adventure of Mr. and Mrs. G——, from Jersey City, on Mount Willey, yesterday, is the theme of conversation at the present moment. The summit of Mount Willard is but two miles from the Crawford House, and is visited by all, whether they ascend Mount Washington or not. A good carriage road has been constructed to the top, and the mode of ascent is either by foot or in mountain wagons. These two persons walked up, and after viewing the tremendous gorge formed by Mount Willard on one side and Mount Webster on the other, with the Willey House, looking like a small box, in the distance, they crossed by a connecting ridge from Mount Willard to Mount Willey. From this latter mount, some 2500 feet in height, in a spirit of adventure, they commenced to descend. For five or six hundred feet they found very little trouble, but soon after the way become more difficult, which they hoped would soon pass away, but as events subsequently proved, they had but commenced.

They got safely over several ledges of rocks, and finding that their troubles were increasing, they endeavored to return, but found that impossible, and they were reduced to the alternative of either keeping on or remaining where they were in the hopes of being missed at the house, and that searching parties would be sent out for them. Mrs. G—— seated herself upon a large rock, while her husband worked himself below a short distance to discover the best way of proceeding down. In a few moments she exclaimed that the rock was moving, and told her husband to jump for his life, and he barely escaped being crushed to death, the rock rushing by him with fearful velocity down the mountain side, breaking down small trees and loosening other large stones, until it found rest at the mountain's base. This was startling, and cast a deep gloom over them, yet they were not discouraged. Something must be done, and that quickly. Lying down flat, and holding fast to the rocks by one hand, Mr. G. lowered his wife over the ledge with the other as far as he could reach, and then let her drop some six or eight feet further upon a narrow shelf below, and then dropped himself. In this manner they descended a long distance. To add to their terrors they did not know but that they might come to a ledge over which they could not get down. A single misstep, or the loss of presence of mind on the part of either would have resulted seriously, if not fatally. A thick growth of large bushes then became a matter of obstruction, and in getting over and through them, by dropping from branch to branch, their clothing was rent and their flesh scratched.

After a hard struggle of more than four hours, they succeeded in reaching the base at the side of the road, where they were soon after found, more dead than alive, by a rescuing party, headed by Mr. Hadley, one of the proprietors of the house, which party started from information given by a gentleman who saw them from the road, in their dangerous situation, and reported it at once. Restoratives were given, and they were assisted into the wagon, and brought safely back, with bodies completely exhausted, their hands considerably lacerated, and their clothing badly torn. Both are persons of much nerve. They are well to-day, although suffering from weakness. The mountain guides say they do not understand how they got down alive, particularly the lady. Had they returned from Mount Willey to Mount Willard, they could have made the descent in about twenty minutes.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specifics

CURE PROMPTLY and safely all the more common disease and ailments to which families are subject. In all acute diseases, such as fevers, inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Croup, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, Bronchitis and Consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Liver Complaint, Piles Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case too from over.

WANTED,

THE FAIR.—Arrangements progress favorably. The Concord & Portsmouth Railroad is to run for half fare—tickets good two days; and probably other roads will do likewise. The people are interested in this city and vicinity and all parts of the county, and are preparing for a fine show and a good time.

HORSE GUARDS.—All who feel an interest in this new cavalry regiment, will be glad to learn that Gen. George Stark, of Nashua, who was prevented by an accident from appearing in command of the troop at Concord, has so far recovered as to attend to his usual business, and will without doubt visit Portsmouth with the Guards, on the occasion of the Rockingham Fair, and thus for the first time command the corps which he has done so much to establish.

☞ Speaking of the beautiful shade trees in Portsmouth, reminds us that our citizens are in no small measure indebted for them to the Portsmouth Horticultural Society, originated and kept alive for several years, by the public spirit, enterprise and good taste of such men as the late Samuel R. Cleaves and Messrs. Shores, Preston and others, who devoted no little time, labor and money to develope and encourage "the beautiful" in our midst. Let us not forget the old Horticultural Society—and now that it appears to be effete and inactive, would it not be a good plan for the members to transfer their names to the Rockingham Fair?

☞ It is said that the military spirit is so far reviving throughout New Hampshire, that there is a prospect of a General Muster of all the Companies in the State, at some central point, some time in the coming autumn, probably early in October.—Should this take place, it is thought that about 600 troops will be got out; and the Horse Guards are expected, with the new recruits now gathering, to number 150 men.

☞ Capt. Samuel Fletcher, of Kittery, was badly wounded at the Navy Yard, on Thursday, by some machinery connected with the pile-driver.

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room: price 3 cents; $1 per year, in advance.

IMPORTANT FROM EUROPE — THREE DAYS LATER.—The steamship City of Baltimore brings the following important items of news:

Fifteen hundred English marines are to be landed in Syria from the fleet.

Eighteen hundred Garibaldians have landed at Calabria.

Garibaldi is reported to have had a conference at Naples with the revolutionary leaders.

Naples is proclaimed to be in a state of siege.

It is reported that Austria intends to renounce the treaty of Villafranca, and is openly opposing Garibaldi.

In the London Money Market, money was more stringent. Consols closed at 92 7-8, owing to warlike rumors.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The War Department received to-day an unusual large number of dispatches from various quarters.

Capt. Smith gives the details of his victorious battles with the Indians, twenty-five miles north-east of Lake Harney, Oregon. He is inclined to believe that all the Indians in that region of country are hostile.—Col. Wright had promptly ordered the artillery and dragoon to proceed at once to the scene of hostilities. With these Maj. ——— was to scour the whole country and cause these savages to sue for peace.

Dispatches from Fort Kearney, Nebraska, in giving the particulars of the fight with the Kiowas and Camanches near Republican River, state that twenty or thirty of them were killed. They numbered 600. On the part of the troops, one is missing, two were wounded, and five of the Indian guides killed.

The proper military officer in Carson Valley has collected evidence to show the Mormon resistance to emigrants from Utah. Efficient protection has been extended to persons leaving that territory, as well as to the mail contractors in building their stations. Assurance is given of an early restoration of the mail service.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—New York, Aug. 23.—The steamer Ariel, from Aspinwall 15th, has arrived, with 250 passengers, $799,000 in treasure, and 1123 boxes Washoe silver ore.

The French claims against Peru have been allowed; but the Peruvian Government will settle the American demands only by compulsion, and our Minister is said to have called on the Pacific squadron to rendezvous at Callao and enforce them.

Fears are felt for the safety of the American steamer Peruvian.

New Granada is in a very disturbed state. Hostilities have commenced in the State of Magdalena. Preparations are making for an extensive warfare throughout all the States, and both the Liberals and Conservatives are gathering forces and ammunition.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Among the passengers in the Ariel from Aspinwall, is Thomas F. Meagher, who has obtained a grant of way for sixty years across the Isthmus of Chiriqui.

William Cummings, keeper of a saloon on Twenty-sixth street, assaulted John Burns last night, when the latter wrested a pistol from him and shot him. It is supposed he cannot recover.

Thomas Kelly murdered a fellow convict at Sing Sing on Saturday with a knife.

Two vault cleaners were suffocated last night by noxious vapors.

LYMAN'S

Improved Patent Metallic Soles.

PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H.

A Delegate Convention of the people of the First Councillor District in this state is to be held in the Town Hall at Exeter, on TUESDAY, Sept. 4th, at 10 o'clock A. M.

On the same day there is to be a grand Mass Meeting at the same place, at which it is hoped there will be a glorious gathering of the friends of LINCOLN and HAMLIN from far and near. The following distinguished gentlemen have responded to invitations to be present and address the people:

INSTALLATION.—On Tuesday evening last, Rev. Edwin B. Eddy, recently from Winchester, Mass. was installed as Pastor of the Middle-street Baptist Society of this city.

The charge to the people, by the former pastor, Rev. Dr. Lamson, was received with peculiar emotion, from the close and intimate relation he had so long sustained to them. He made an eloquent appeal; acknowledging the kindness and generosity which the people of the Society had ever exercised toward him, and their efforts to render his stay with them happy and prolonged, commending them for the courtesy and attention which would render the position of their new pastor very agreeable. His charge had special reference to their performance of individual christian acts and exercises, urging the bestowment of their sympathy and aid to encourage and sustain the spiritual labors of their Pastor.

Rev. Mr. Eddy commenced his labors here on the first Sabbath of July, and enjoys the esteem of his parish for his spiritual, intellectual and social qualities. He comes with high recommendations from abroad, and we trust he will find in this city, outside of his own society, as many true friends and admirers as did his beloved predecessor.

In a private letter we received from a friend at Winchester a few weeks since, not intended for publication, he speaks of one feature in the new pastor which we regard as valuable to the lovers of science generally in our vicinity. The letter says:—

"Mr. Eddy is a gentleman and a scholar. Aside from the particular walks of his profession, he has paid special attention to the natural sciences.—He is an amateur geologist, and will bring with him to your city one of the finest private collections of minerals to be found in the country. He understands how to blend science with scripture. 'Sermons in stones' is no figure of speech to him."

JAMES CAPEN ADAMS, the renowned Grizzly Bear Hunter whose rare adventures have filled a large volume, will in person exhibit his bears, &c. at the Circus to be exhibited here on the 3d of September. Adams has many scars received in his daring exploits.

Meteorites may in some conditions be light and buoyant like a balloon; may be in a state of combustion that gives out vapor forming a cloud, and then acquire density forming aerolites and meteoric stones—changing as ice changes to water and water to vapor, and vice versa.

The Portsmouth Steam Factory Co. have declared a dividend of 8 per cent. payable Sept. 5th. Commenced in 1846, capital $537,000, make lawns of the finest quality, and employ about 400 hands.

Put out your Strawberry Plants.—The ground is in now in a good state to put out your Strawberry Beds for next year. Mr. Preston has some choice varieties in excellent order.

We are requested to say that there will be no meeting at the Temple on Sunday next.

SUMMER.

The smell of the flowering grass
Is sweeter than any rose,
And a million of happy insects
Sing in the warm repose.

The mother lark that is brooding,
Feels the sun on her tiny wings,
And the deeps of the noon-day glitter
With the swarms of the fairy things.

From the billowy green beneath me
To the fathomless blue above,
The creatures of God are happy
In the warmth of their summer love.

The infinite bliss of Nature,
I feel in every vein;
The life and the light of Summer
Blossom in heart and brain.

MAN, too, is comprehended in this varying scheme of nature. A hundred years hence not one of all this busy population will exist upon the earth; but the angels that come to visit it, and revive their recollections, will find the same old life here,—age and infancy, the strife for riches, the hurrying, and hoarding, and building fine houses for others,—always births, always deaths, and always the same brief drama of human joy and sorrow between.—True Flag.

OLD ADAMS, GRIZZLY ADAMS,
—OR THE—
WILD ZANBEE HUNTER,

as he is familiarly termed, has long been known as
The California Trapper of '49.

The history of his exploits and hair-breadth escapes, his terrific encounters with GRIZZLY BEARS and other wild animals by which he has been nearly torn in pieces, and is now covered with scars from head to foot, has been extensively published, and it proves him to be, beyond dispute, the most FEARLESS AND INTREPID HUNTER that ever shouldered a rifle, distancing by far the renowned French Hunter GERARD, or the celebrated Lion Slayer GORDON CUMMING, so far as reckless daring is concerned.

"OLD ADAMS" in fact is considered quite as much of a curiosity as any of his animals. He SLEEPS with his Bears, Kids with his Bears, and seems always most happy when surrounded by Bears. "Old Adams" spent all of his time for years, in the Mountains and Wilds of California and the Far West, in capturing, taming, and training this unequaled and Wonderful Menagerie,

the exhibition of which shows the extraordinary power of man over the most savage beasts, and their entire subjection to his will—Mr. Adams controlling them with as much ease and certainty as any lady would her pet dog.

This truly great Combination of Talent may be relied upon by the public as worthy of the most extensive patronage, and is the only company with any right to the well-earned fame of Niblo's, N. Y. It will appear at the following places, upon the following dates:

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, reputable for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which people suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or bowelcomplaint, if not promptly arrested and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—plain, so as to cause no congestion—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the disease is cured, or the danger averted.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being the MOST EXPEDITIOUS, SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every part of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and of the great benefit received. Again the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength and vigor.

Persons who, from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.
One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.
One dose will give you a good appetite.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

DR. MOTT'S
PILLS & IRON.

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combustion in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in each of the following complaints, viz:

In DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCLES, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued disturbance of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed-ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if rescued from protracted inactive death. Some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of long continued nervous, sanguineous exhaustion, critical changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and overstimulating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Fives, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local tendency, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its cases, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most habitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent hectic, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, in several very gratifying and interesting instances.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicated iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this tonic, aperient, restorative, in the cases peculiarly affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more cautiously—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and inflammation of the joints.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy and energetic restorative, and its process in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects—Great appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

☞ The Keene Sentinel says:

The Breckinridge Democracy are to hold their State Convention at Concord, the 26th of September next. The Douglas Democracy hold a State Convention on the 13th of September; and the Bell and Everett central committee meet at Manchester the last day of August to make arrangements for a State Convention. All these Conventions are for selecting candidates for Presidential electors.

What the Sentinel calls the Douglas Democracy's Convention,is called by the regular State Committee, chosen last winter, before the lines were drawn where they are now.

PROPOSED RECEPTION.—It is proposed to give, at an early day, a reception to John B. Gough, Esq., the distinguished apostle of Temperance, who arrived in Boston Thursday, from a three years residence and labor in Great Britain. Mr. Gough was waited upon by Rev. H. M. Dexter of Boston, who presented him a letter of welcome—conveying the expression of their cordial esteem and love, and inviting him to a public reception in Boston, signed by four hundred and eighty clergymen of different denominations in Massachusetts. The reception will take place in the Tremont Temple. The time has not been definitely settled, but it will probably be next week.—Atlas.

There are a good many kinds of good.—To the trading community any man who can pay his debts is "good." A moral person is undoubtedly "good," but then a very immoral one is often esteemed a "good fellow." With commercial people goodness consists in money; with "the fancy," in muscle. In short, everywhere and with all sorts of folks, "good," expresses what is much liked or desired. A traveller on the coast of Africa, writes that a native said to him, eyeing his abundant apparel (of which the negro had next to none),—"You very good man—you got plenty shirt!"—Post.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.
This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is faultless. The facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.

When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast or the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.

A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the oldest schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—

Cape Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had occasion to lay prejudice aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—

During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my buggy against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the brain and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you my sincere thanks. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not small, as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.

You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. A. WRIGHT, M. D.

Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to try one bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles his hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement. I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.

Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

THE SYRIAN TROUBLES.

The following extracts are from private letters received in Boston. By them it will be seen that a villainous attempt of the Governor of Deir to rob the Christians of a large amount of jewelry, has been defeated:—

BEIRUT, July 20.—Before the massacre at Dier-el-Komar, the people placed their jewelry and bullion in the keeping of the Governor of the Deir, and after the massacre the Governor sent twenty-six boxes containing it to Sidon, in the mean time getting the Druses to burn the seraglio, where it had been deposited. On arrival at Sidon, the Custom House officers stopped the boxes, and this coming to the ears of the French Consul, he went to Sidon and found it as it had been reported, and two days since the French Admiral went to Sidon to ship these boxes for the benefit of the surviving heirs. The value of the property is estimated at 30,000,000 piastres ($1,200,000).

Fuad Pasha wished to see some fruits of the war, and this afternoon he went to the Barracks, and about 3000 women and orphans presented themselves before him, and he spoke comfortable words them,—the English Consul being present. It was an affecting scene, and one calculated to melt a heart of stone.

July 21.—The Pasha who went over to Damascus had not done anything for the peace of the city up to the 19th inst., nor read his Firman. There was no safety.—No Christian goes out. The American Vice Consul's loss is £8000 pounds sterling. Mr. Frazier's property was plundered and burned. (Mr. Frazier is an American missionary of the United Presbyterian Board.)

The main facts in regard to the atrocious massacres in Syria have already been made public everywhere, but English and French papers continue to publish interesting statements concerning them. The Beirut correspondent of the London Daily News writes on the 19th of July:

In the case of Damascus, the first account, although horrible enough, was not nearly so bad as we now find the actual details to be. In my first telegram I announced that the number of Christians massacred amounted to 500, but there are now ascertained to have been upwards of 2000, some accounts giving twice that number. On the evening of the 14th inst. the massacre, having lasted six days, ceased, for the very simple reason that no more Christians could be found out of hiding to murder.

The fire also was stopped for much the same reason, namely, the whole Christian quarter—the habitation of 15,000 human beings—had been burnt down. The residence of Brant, the English Consul, had been spared, being in the Moslem quarter, near the great mosque, which would certainly have caught fire had the British Consulate been burnt. Poor Mr. Grahame, of the Irish Presbyterian Mission, was murdered within a few yards of the consulate, to which he was making his escape from a house which had been burnt over his head. All the friars of the Terra Santa, or Franciscan Convent, eight priests and a lay brother—consisting of three Austrians, three Spaniards, two Italians and a Maltese—were murdered. But what is perhaps the most revolting of all is, that some seven hundred respectable Christian women—wives, daughters, and sisters of native merchants, shopkeepers and others—have been taken away—some to the harems of the Moslems, others sold to the Kurds, Bedouins, or whoever would buy them, and very many taken away from their homes into the desert by these barbarians.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Journal of Commerce is not so sanguine of defeating Lincoln, even if the Presidential election should go into the House. He says:

Even if New York should defeat Lincoln, which is quite uncertain, there will be difficulty enough in preventing his election by the House.

The Republicans may win over Morris of Illinois, and carry that State. They will want then but one more State to secure the election of Lincoln, and they can have Oregon by unseating Mr. Stout, and giving the seat to his contestant, Mr. Logan.

The fourteen Democratic States would make no combinations, for they would rely on the failure of the House to make a choice, when Lane would become President. In the supposed case the Democrats would adhere to Lane to the end of the session, and leave to Republicans the chances of using corrupt means for effecting the choice of Lincoln.

☞ We had an item, a day or two ago, about the sale of some free negroes at Alexandria, who had not paid their taxes.—What was sold was "the service and labor" of thirty-four free negroes. The bidding was not spirited; but all the negroes were sold at the rate of ten cents per day for periods varying from five to thirty-three days, and realized some sixty dollars. The Alexandria Gazette says:

The negroes were not present at the sale, and the new owners must "catch" their property before making use of it.

☞ The Rochester Union, a Douglas paper, distinctly affirms that the ten Bell and Everett electors in New York have abandoned their party for that of Douglas. It says of the electoral ticket:

"The ticket is a clean Douglas ticket. Its distinctive character is in no sense changed by the admission of the National Union electors; but from this time forward they are of us and form a part of the great dominant party of the future."

PRINCE OF WALES AT QUEBEC.—The New York Herald has five columns relative to the reception of the Prince of Wales at Quebec. The most important items are that at the Grand Ball the Prince danced in twenty-two of the twenty-four dances, and once tripped and fell, his beautiful partner rolling over him. He quickly picked himself up and continued the dance. There were salutes, illuminations, levees, dinners, and a grand display of fireworks. The Prince had his hair cut, and the barber sold the locks shorn from the head of the scion of royalty, at a high price, to the ladies.

SOMETHING OF A SHOWER.—On the 22d of August, the Prince of Wales reached Montreal at 3:30, and was received with a salute of 21 guns from the Royal Artillery. The weather cleared up for a short time, when it commenced raining again as hard as ever. In consequence of the bad weather the preparations for the reception were not completed.

The landing was postponed till the morrow, and the illumination deferred. About 40,000 people were gathered on the quays to witness the disembarkation, who retired disappointed and drenched.

SAD FATE.—On Thursday night, a man was instantly killed on the Somerville Railroad. As the 12 o'clock car from Boston was approaching a spot where the shade of several large trees added to the unusual darkness of the night, the horses suddenly leaped into the air and sprang forward, and though the driver instantly applied the brake with all his strength, the frightened horses dragged the car over some object which was lying directly across the track.—Immediate search was made, and a man about 45 years of age was found lying under the car, the wheel having passed directly over his neck. The man only gasped twice. His whip and hat were found near by. From papers found in his pocket, his name was supposed to be Wm. S. Bennett, of Woburn, Mass. At about half-past 11 in the evening, the deceased called at an oyster saloon in North Cambridge in a state of intoxication. While there his horse left him, and he stated his intention of walking to Charlestown. It is probable that in so doing he stumbled upon the track and remained there in a drunken sleep.

THE TEXAS TROUBLES.—It would appear from the following extract from the New Orleans Picayune, that the idea of freedom for the slave, in any other than a merely licentious sense, has never been entertained by the movers or abettors of the insurrection in Texas. The cry of abolitionism has, undoubtedly, been used to conceal the real authors of the trouble. The Picayune says:

In looking through the great mass of details with which the Texas papers have been loaded, we see no evidence of any concerted plot among the negroes for permanent insurrection against the authority of the whites. There are no specifications given, even surmised, that those who were in the plot against life or property had any serious plan of setting themselves at liberty, or projects arranged for escaping from the punishment of these crimes.

This takes away all dignity and political consequence from the movement; and it is certain that the trouble has been greatly exaggerated in the reports.

☞ The coroner's jury in the case of Benjamin Weymouth, of Appleton, Maine, whose sudden death under suspicious circumstances has been announced in the papers, have returned a verdict that he came to his death by poison, administered by his wife, Lucinda Weymouth. A post mortem examination showed that he came to his death by poison. The Rockland Democrat states that all the facts showed in the examination that Mr. Weymouth did not live happily with his wife—and that she had been heard to say during his terrible sickness and his whole frame agonizing with pain, "she wished he was dead, so that she could get another husband!" and other expressions of a like nature, which showed the depraved heart of a bad woman.

☞ By the fall of a derrick in use on the top of the Sherman House in Chicago, a stone-cutter who was fixing one of the ropes was swung clear across the street, and dashed upon the stone sidewalk, a large piece of the derrick spar falling upon him. Of course he was instantly killed. A little box with a slit on the top was placed on the spot where the man fell, giving the fact that he was an honest, sober man, and left a family; into which, before night, was dropped $117.12. Rude workmen, says the Press, would pass along and search their pockets for hard-earned coin. Ladies on shopping excursions bent, would pause to add to the contents of the box.

☞ Major Butler Goodrich, of Pittsfield, Mass., now in his 93d year, one day last week, walked from his house to his daughter's in Lenox, a distance of seven miles, in two and one-fourth hours.

☞ Peter Williams, of South Thomaston, Me., while running after sheep in a pasture in that town, on Monday of last week, fell and broke his neck.

For the Chronicle.

PORTSMOUTH AND ITS ENVIRONS;

A PROGRAMME FOR PLEASURE SEEKERS.

BY J. H. H.—NO. II.

I know an Island sitting in the sea,
As stately as a God!
With great blue waves forever at its feet
Cringing like worshippers!
And when the crowned sun
Urges his hot steeds thro' the gates of day,
A golden shower falls on it the while.
Queen Cleopatra never bore
A brighter jewel on her bosom's swell,
Than seems this Island sitting in the sea.
—T. B. Aldrich.

We will now take a trip to the Shoals.—On board the fine yacht Sibyl, with a lively breeze, we soon left the city behind us. The Navy Yard, Forts Washington, McClary, Sullivan and Constitution, and the light houses, pass rapidly from our view, and we are soon landed at Appledore Isle. This watering place is acknowledged by all to be the finest in the country; with an even temperature, occasioned "it is said," by the Gulf Stream which sets in near these isles; pleasant walks, free from dust; stupendous cliffs, which strike the beholders with awe and admiration; every advantage for catching fish, from a perch weighing half a pound to a halibut of three hundred lbs. weight; fine accommodations for sea bathing; and what is always highly gratifying to every one, a table that actually groans under the weight of the substantial and luxurious dishes. Here you have fresh fish, caught while you are napping in the morning, and placed on the breakfast table cooked in twenty different forms—in fact every kind of fish that swims within twenty miles of this island finds its way to the dining table.

Appledore and the adjacent islands abound in curiosities and objects of interest. On Appledore you will find the famous Smith's Monument, which was erected by Capt. John Smith in 1603, at which time he explored up the Piscataqua river. The shores abound in beautiful shells, which are much used for shell work. The sea mosses which visitors often collect from the rocks are beautiful in color and variety, and when properly dried and pressed are of intrinsic value.

On Smutty Nose, one of the group of islands, are the graves of thirteen Spanish sailors, who were wrecked here many years ago; their bodies were found, mangled and disfigured, among the rocks after a severe storm; not one of the crew of the ill-fated vessel lived to tell the history of their fate. Pieces of Spanish coin are frequently found along the shore by visitors; these are washed out of the wreck which lies in deep water near the spot.

At Star Island, "which has sixty houses and a church," is the Betsy Moody Cave, which takes its name from a young lady who secreted herself here, at a time when the island was attacked by a party of Indians from the main land. The Giant's Causway is also an interesting feature. The old church is a curious specimen of architecture, built of the rocks found along the shore; and perched on the top of the highest ledge, like a grim sentinel, it stands, in its solemn grandeur. On Sabbath morning we rowed from Appledore to Star Island to attend church: arriving there an hour before service, we entered the doorway and surveyed the interior. An emotion of awe came over us as we looked on those old box-like pews, and wondered where now were the forms which sat there 50 years ago.

There was the old-fashioned elevated pulpit, with its quaintly festooned curtains faded with decay. On the faded cushion lay an old Bible. We ascended the narrow flight of stairs which led to the pulpit, and thought of life and death, the grave and eternity. The wind came with a wailing sound around the bleak spot, and moaned in fitful surges through the old belfry; fit requiem for the departed, whose graves were seen near by. The waves upon the ocean glistened in the sunlight, and joined their monotonous voice to the wind. In the grave yard we could see the graves of those who long years ago had worshipped here, and we thought of the song entitled "The Old Sexton:"

"Mother and daughter, father and son,
Come to my solitude, one by one;
But, come they strangers, or come they kin,
I gather them in, I gather them in."

How impressive the sermon that empty pulpit preached; how solemn the hymn chanted by the wind, as it shook the casement and died away in the distance. It needed not the preacher's voice to say "all is vanity." It needed only the silence of that church, with its faded hangings, to remind me that "passing away" is the inevitable fate of all earthly things. I required nothing more than that graveyard to awaken a voice in my soul, which said, "Thou, too, must die." And nothing but a personal application of all these thoughts was necessary to impress most deeply upon my mind the weighty and solemn words recently spoken in a funeral discourse, "Duty, Death, Destiny."

There are two public houses on Star Island; the Atlantic is the largest, and has the reputation of being well conducted;—it receives much patronage from Newburyport and other places on the coast. White Island, the smallest of the group that are inhabited, has a light-house, which is worth the trouble of visiting. You will find there a large mass of rock, in which garnet is profusely scattered. This is much sought after by visitors, but it is very difficult to procure perfect specimens. With some trouble, we managed to break out a few pieces. The view of the sun rising out of the ocean, the gorgeous sunsets, the fine view of the ever-dashing waves against the majestic cliffs, the broad expanse of ocean, dotted here and there with vessels and steamers, the magnificent spectacle of the ocean in a storm, are attractions of no little note, and are, to the lovers of the beautiful, grand and interesting.

☞ Rev. Henry Ward Beecher declines the title Doctor of Divinity, conferred upon him by Amherst College. He says:—

"It would certainly give me pleasure should any respectable institution bear such a testimony of good will. But that Amherst College, my own mother, should so kindly remember a son, is a peculiar gratification.

But all the use of such a title ends with the public expression of a wish to confer it. For the rest, it would be but an encumbrance, and furnish an address by no means agreeable to my taste. I greatly prefer the simplicity of that name which my mother uttered over me in the holy hour of infant consecration and baptism. May I be permitted, without seeming to undervalue your kindness, or disesteem the honor meant, to return it to your hands, that I may to the end of my life be, as thus far I have been, simply HENRY WARD BEECHER."

☞ Col. Gowan's efforts to raise the sunken fleet in the harbor of Sebastopol have been attended with the most triumphant success. Some of the largest and costliest vessels have been recovered uninjured; others have been blown up, and it is thought that before the cold weather ensues the bay will be entirely free from obstructions.

☞ The Fitchburg Reveille says it is currently reported that Mr. Thayer doesn't intend to allow his name to be used before the Republican Congressional Convention of the ninth district, but that he will offer himself as an independent candidate, and stump the district.

BARN STRUCK BY LIGHTNING AND BURNT.—A barn belonging to Mr. John Emery, of New Ipswich, N. H., was struck by lightning on Wednesday, and with its contents, about sixteen tons of hay, was burned to the ground.—Loss about $500; no insurance.

☞ Among the delegates to the Breckinridge Convention at Charlottesville, Va., was Abraham Lincoln of Rockingham, a cousin of the Republican candidate for the Presidency.

☞ Hobbs, the famous American lock manufacturer and picker, has disposed of his English establishment to a company, and will return to Boston with his laurels and his gold, in the autumn.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the largest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by unceasing exertions, to improve—if this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

SPRINGFIELD, N. H., April 19, 1855.

My daughter has been troubled with the Scrofulous Humor, causing swelling of the neck, for a number of years, and by the use of four bottles of Dr. S. Swett's Panacea, the swelling has been entirely removed, and her health is good.
JANE B. ELLIOTT.

The above testimony of my wife is true.
ENOCH B. ELLIOTT.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specifics

CURE PROMPTLY and safely all the more common diseases and ailments to which families are subject. In all acute diseases, such as fevers, inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Croup, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, Bronchitis and Consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Liver Complaint, Piles Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Often the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

WANTED,

3 or 4 good GIRLS. Inquire immediately at the Rockingham House.

WANTED,

A smart, active LAD, at No. 40 Market street.
B. CHEEVER.

Local.

POLICE COURT.

☞ In the Police Court, Thursday, Aug. 23, two boys were fined 50 cents each, and costs $3.15 each, for entering and stealing fruit from a garden.

SATURDAY, August 25.

Benj. Watson was arrested and brought before Police Justice Odell, by Marshal Norton, for fraudulently obtaining money from Richard Hilton. He was found guilty and held to bail in the sum of $400 to appear at October Court. For want of bail, he was committed to jail.

AN ACCIDENTAL SALUTE.—At the Navy Yard, three cannon termed signal guns are kept loaded, to sound an alarm in case of fire or accident, to call all hands. On Saturday, a verdant, over-curious, up-country visitor, in examining one of the percussion-locks, pulled the trigger, and bang went the gun, blowing the fellow's vest half off, and scaring what sense he had, nearly out of him! He thought he shouldn't soon forget his visit to Portsmouth Navy Yard.

☞ It is understood that Capt. Pope, Commandant of the Navy Yard at this Station, is to be detached in a few weeks, and that Capt. Pearson is to assume the command.

It is also reported that Paymaster Cutter is to be detached from this Station, and ordered to Norfolk.

☞ H. F. Wendell, Esq., of this city, has been appointed Chief Marshal of the Rockingham Fair, by the Board of Trustees; and has consented to accept the position.

☞ A company of about three hundred persons from Concord were to have made an excursion to the Shoals, in the barge Comfort, on Saturday, had the weather been fine. They intend to carry out their purpose soon.

☞ Citizens who have not yet stated the amount they wish to contribute toward the County Fair, will have an opportunity so to do to-day. The more money subscribed, the greater the attractions to be offered—and so the success of the exhibition, and the benefit accruing to the city.

☞ It is decided that the Horse Guards will visit Portsmouth at the time of the County Fair; and they will probably be accompanied by a mounted Band.

☞ It will be seen that Miss Kimberly, who is widely and favorably known as a Shakesperian reader and actress of talent, is to bring out the popular play of the Octoroon at the Temple this evening, with a large company of performers. The Octoroon has had a great run in all the large cities, and created no little interest and excitement among all classes. It will no doubt be put upon the stage here with as much perfection and attraction as the circumstances will allow. See advertisement for cast.

☞ To save time and trouble for the recruits to the Horse Guards, and facilitate the filling up the ranks of the Portsmouth Company, arrangements have been made with Wm. P. Walker, Esq., at the City Clothing Store in Portsmouth, (where the dress of the corps may be seen,) to take measures for uniforms—which will be at once forwarded to the contractor in Boston. A circular may also be found there, giving full particulars as to expense of uniform, horse-equipments, &c.

A sample of the housing and other horse accoutrements of the regiment, may be seen at the saddlery establishment of Andrew Lowd. Without being very expensive, the entire uniform is handsome and substantial.

INSANE MAN DROWNED!—Wm. Ayers, an insane man, who has been missing from the residence of his son, Wm. F. Ayers, in Boston, was found drowned at Dedham Friday morning. The deceased was a carpenter, 64 years of age, and was born at Portsmouth, N. H.

☞ The verdict in the case of Isaac H. Russell, of Concord, N. H., who recently drowned himself, is of the real old-fashioned sort. The jury find that Mr. Russell "voluntarily and feloniously, as a felon, himself did kill and murder, against the peace and dignity of the State."

PASTORAL.—Rev. John H. Merrill having been dismissed from the Congregational Church in Tamworth, N. H., on account of ill health, Rev. Samuel H. Riddel, of Boston, was installed to fill the vacancy, on the 15th inst.

PRECOCIOUS BOY.—A lad named Frederick Decker is at present creating some little excitement in Boston. He comes from the western part of New York State, is nineteen years of age, seven feet in his stockings, and weighs three hundred pounds! He is a native of Livingston county, N. Y., and certainly a remarkable specimen of the kind of boys they raise in that part of the country.

"WHAT is meant by the deflection of the needle?" asked a dominie of a female pupil. "When it runs up into the quick of the nail," was the ready reply.

RETURN OF A MISSIONARY.—Rev. J. E. Frazer, with his lady and two children, were passengers in the steamship Arabia, from Liverpool. Mr. Frazer was an American missionary, and was located at Damascus as a co laborer with Rev. Mr. Graham, of the Irish Presbyterian mission. Mr. Frazer left before the outbreak in that city, and endeavored to induce Mr. Graham to accompany him. This Mr. G. declined to do, and was afterwards found murdered in the streets.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—A despatch from Arkansas, states that Rector, the Independent candidate for Governor, is elected by 3000 majority.

Depyster Ogden, American, declines being a candidate on the Douglas electoral ticket in New York, unless with the distinct understanding that he may vote for Bell and Everett.

MONTREAL, Aug. 25.—The Prince landed shortly after 9 o'clock, amid royal salutes from the batteries on St. Helen's Island, the fleet and the regulars. The morning was beautiful, and upward of 40,000 people were present. The streets were beautifully decorated and crowded with people. All the societies, clergy, fire brigades, riflmen and volunteers were out in great style. It was the greatest display ever seen in this Province. The procession is just entering the exhibition building. The Prince will proceed to Victoria Bridge at half past twelve, for the purpose of inaugurating the Bridge.

Gov. Goodwin of New Hampshire, Gov. Buckingham of Connecticut, Ex-Gov. Fish of New York, and other distinguished Americans are present to witness the ovations in honor of the Prince.

LAST APPEARANCE OF THE ZOUAVES. A drill by the Chicago Zouaves, at the Wigwam in that city on Tuesday evening, is understood to have been their "last appearance" in military capacity. The members propose to devote their time and talents exclusively to their private affairs hereafter.

A VEGETARIAN BANQUET TO MR. MARTIN.—New York, Aug. 24.—The Society of Vegetarians in this city have tendered a complimentary supper to Mr. Martin, the Boston wherryman, who arrived here last evening.

Rev. Mr. Coburn, of Manchester, N. H., has about two acres of good onions as can be found in the country. Danvers and Wethesfield are thrown into the shade.—Agricultural Journal.

An inscription, it said, may be found in an Italian graveyard, which reads thus: "Here lies Etella, who transported a large fortune to heaven in acts of charity, and has gone thither to enjoy it."

☞ A letter from Durham, N. H., says they had both hail and frost there on the morning of the 21st.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1859.
The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.
It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.
Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.
The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.
Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

STAGE COACH ATTACKED BY A COW.—As the Upton stage was approaching Milford, near the town farm, on Tuesday morning, it was met by half a dozen cows, one of which attacked the leading horse, severely goring him in the fore shoulder, and throwing him out of the road into the gutter. The cow was driven off, and the horse bled severely from the wound. Had the cow's horns been sharp, the horse would probably have been killed on the spot, but he is not seriously injured.—Worcester Spy.

OLD ADAMS, GRIZZLY ADAMS,

— OR THE —

WILD ZANBEE HUNTER,

as he is familiarly termed, has long been known as

The California Trapper of '49.

The history of his exploits and hair-breadth escapes, his terrific encounters with GRIZZLY BEARS and other wild animals by which he has been nearly torn in pieces, and is now covered with scars from head to foot, has been extensively published, and it proves him to be, beyond dispute, the most FEARLESS AND INTREPID HUNTER that ever shouldered a rifle, distancing by far the renowned French Hunter GERARD, or the celebrated Lion Slayer GORDON CUMMING, so far as reckless daring is concerned.

"OLD ADAMS" in fact is considered quite as much of a curiosity as any of his animals. He SLEEPS with his Bears, Eats with his Bears, and seems always most happy when surrounded by Bears. "Old Adams" spent all of his time for years, in the Mountains and Wilds of California and the Far West, in capturing, taming, and training this unequaled and

Wonderful Menagerie,

the exhibition of which shows the extraordinary power of man over the most savage beasts, and their entire subjection to his will—Mr. Adams controlling them with as much ease and certainty as any lady would her pet dog.

This truly great Combination of Talent may be relied upon by the public as worthy of the most extensive patronage, and is the only company with any right to the well-earned fame of Niblo's, N. Y. It will appear at the following places, upon the following dates:

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and inspection of Prof. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet the great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of diseases from which we suffer and die, were, at their commencement, simple and trifling. A mere cold, a slight cough, a little fever, a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous fever, or perhaps some other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies supply a great public want. Being on hand, simple, as you know or other what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience has amply confirmed the use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THE MOST PROMPT AND RELIABLE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with almost invariable success. All speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.

Dyspepsia Remedy

DR. DARIUS HAM'S
AROMATIC INVIGORATING SPIRIT.

This medicine has been used by the public for six years, with increasing favor. It is recommended to cure Dyspepsia, Nervousness, Heartburn, Colic Pains, Wind in the Stomach, or Pains in the Bowels, Headache, Drowsiness, Kidney Complaints, Low Spirits, Delirum Tremens, Intemperance, &c. It Stimulates, Exhilirates, Invigorates, but will not Intoxicate or Stupefy.

It will instantly revive the most melancholy and drooping spirits, and restore the weak, nervous and sickly to health, strength, and vigor.

Persons who from the injudicious use of liquors, have become dejected, and their nervous systems shattered, constitutions broken down, and subject to that horrible curse to humanity, the Delirium Tremens, will, almost immediately, feel the happy and invigorating efficacy of Dr. Ham's Invigorating Spirit.

What it will do!

DOSE.—1 wine glass full as often as necessary.

One dose will remove all Bad Spirits.

One dose will cure Heartburn.

Three doses will cure Indigestion.

One dose will give you a good appetite.

One dose will stop the distressing pains of Dyspepsia.

One dose will remove the distressing and disagreeable effects of Wind or Flatulence, and as soon as the Stomach receives the Invigorating Spirit, the distressing load and all painful feelings will be removed.

One dose will remove the most distressing pains of Colic, either in the stomach or bowels.

A few doses will remove all obstructions in the Kidney, Bladder or Urinary Organs.

Persons who are seriously afflicted with any Kidney Complaints, are assured speedy relief by a dose or two, and a radical cure by the use of one or two bottles.

NIGHTLY DISSIPATION.

Persons who, from dissipating too much over night, and feel the evil effects of poisonous liquors, in violent headaches, sickness at stomach weakness, giddiness &c., will find one dose will remove all bad feelings.

Ladies of weak and sickly constitutions, should take the Invigorating Spirit three times a day; it will make them strong, healthy, and happy, remove all obstructions and irregularities from the menstrual organs, and restore the bloom of health and beauty to the careworn face.

During pregnancy it will be found an invaluable medicine to remove disagreeable sensations at the stomach.

All the proprietor asks, is a trial, and to induce this, he has put up the INVIGORATING SPIRIT in pint bottles, at 50 cents, qts $1.

DR. MOTT'S CHALYBEATE RESTORATIVE PILLS OF IRON

An aperient and Stomachic preparation of IRON purified of Oxygen and Carbon by combination in Hydrogen. Sanctioned by the highest Medical Authorities, both in Europe and the United States and prescribed in their practice.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in almost every conceivable case. Innoxious in all maladies in which it has been tried—it has proved absolutely curative in most of the following complaints, viz:

IN DEBILITY, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, EMACIATIONS, CONSTIPATION, DIARRHŒA, DYSPEPSIA, DYSENTERY, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, SALT RHEUM, MISMENSTRUATION, WHITES, CHLOROSIS, RHEUMATISM, INTERMITTENT FEVERS, PIMPLES ON THE FACE, &c.

In cases of GENERAL DEBILITY, whether the result of acute disease or of the continued diminution of nervous and muscular energy from chronic complaints, one trial of this restorative has proved successful to an extent which no description nor written attestation would render credible. Invalids so long bed ridden as to have become forgotten in their own neighborhoods, have suddenly reappeared in the busy world as if returned from protracted grave in a distant land, some very signal instances of this kind are attested of female sufferers, emaciated victims of apparent marasmus, sanguineous exhaustion, cutaneous changes, and that complication of nervous and dyspeptic aversion to air and exercise for which the physician has no name.

In NERVOUS AFFECTIONS of all kinds, and for reasons familiar to medical men, the operation of this preparation of iron must necessarily be salutary, for, unlike the old oxides, it is vigorously tonic, without being exciting and over-heating; and gently, regularly aperient, even in the most obstinate cases of costiveness, without ever being a gastric purgative, or inflicting a disagreeable sensation.

It is this latter property, among others, which makes it so remarkably effectual and permanent a remedy for Piles, upon which it also appears to exert a distinct and specific action, by dispersing the local congestion, which forms them.

In DYSPEPSIA, innumerable as are its causes, a single box of these Chalybeate Pills has often sufficed for the most inbitual cases, including the attendant Costiveness.

In unchecked DIARRHŒA, even when advanced to DYSENTERY, confirmed, emaciating, and apparently malignant, the effects have been equally decisive and astonishing.

In the local pains, loss of flesh and strength, debilitating cough, and remittent fever, which generally indicate INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, this remedy has allayed the alarm of friends and physicians, at equitable rates, affecting them.

In SCROFULOUS TUBERCULOSIS, this medicinal iron has had far more than the good effect of the most cautiously balanced preparations of iodine, without any of their well-known liabilities.

The attention of females cannot be too confidently invited to this remedy and restorative, in the numerous cases of DEBILITY affecting them.

In RHEUMATISM, both chronic and inflammatory—in the latter, however, more decidedly—it has been invariably well reported, both as alleviating pain and reducing the swellings and stiffness of the joints and muscles.

In INTERMITTENT FEVERS it must necessarily be a great remedy, and even more restorative, and its progress in the new settlements of the West, will probably be one of high renown and usefulness.

No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy and fully restorative effects.—Good appetite, complete digestion, rapid acquisition of strength, with an unusual disposition for active and cheerful exercise, immediately follow its use.

Put up in neat flat metal boxes containing 50 pills, price 50 cents per box; for sale by Druggists and dealers. Will be sent free to any address on receipt of price. All letters, orders, etc., should be addressed to

DISCIPLINE IN THE ROYAL FAMILY OF ENGLAND.—The Rochester (N. Y.) Democrat relates the following, on the authority of an eye witness, a gentleman now residing in Rochester:

"Some thirteen or fourteen years ago, Her Majesty, accompanied by the Prince Consort and the royal children, visited Scotland for the first time, and we believe tarried for a while at Balmoral. On the trip, the yacht in which the party travelled by water, called at Aberdeen, and of course the loyal inhabitants of that city turned out in large numbers to do honor to their beloved sovereign. A guard of honor, consisting of most of the merchants of the place, was formed, and in all the glory of black broadcloth and white kids, paraded on the edge of the dock to which the vessel was moored at just sufficient distance to prevent people from stepping on board. Seats were erected on the dock, tier above tier, like those in a circus, to accommodate the thousands that assembled to gaze upon the spectacle of an annointed queen.

Her Majesty good naturedly remained on deck to gratify as much as possible the curiosity of the bonny Scots, and promenaded about in full view of the immense crowd. The Prince of Wales, then a child of five or six years of age, was with her. Among other articles of furniture placed on deck for the accommodation of the Queen, was a splendid sofa ornamented with tassels, and the Prince, like other boys of his age, being of a destructive turn, began to pull at one of them in a manner that threatened to detach it. His mother observed the act, and ordered the boy to desist. He did so, but as soon as her back was turned, seized the tassel again and gave it another jerk. The Queen appeared to have expected something of the kind, for she was at the moment watching him from the corner of her eye. In an instant she turned, and seizing the luckless heir apparent of England by the 'scruff of the neck,' elevated one of her feet upon the sofa, hoisted the youngster over her knee, adjusted him in the position mutually familiar to parents and children, when such ceremonies are to be performed, and gave him a sound spanking.

It may be proper to mention, en passant, for the information of youths who sometimes find themselves similar circumstanced, that the illustrious sufferer kicked and bellowed under the afflictive dispensation, quite as lustily as children of lowlier birth are wont to do.

The amazement with which the spectators witnessed this example of royal domestic discipline, may be imagined, but scarcely described in fitting terms. A dead silence prevailed for a moment, but it was suddenly broken by a tremendous roar of laughter, which could not be repressed by any thought of decorum, respect for the Queen, or sympathy for the victim of her displeasure. The explosion recalled the royal mother to a sense of her position, and having turned towards the crowd for a moment, her face suffused with crimson, she hastily descended into the cabin, and was seen no more by the expectant populace."

BRECKINRIDGE AT THE SOUTH.—The New York Journal of Commerce, which, notwithstanding some morbid peculiarities, is generally a sensible paper, copies every day a column or two of extracts from Southern papers, urging that Breckinridge must be chosen, and asserting that Douglas is nowhere, and Bell not any where, while the country is to be ruined if Lincoln is elected. The Journal thinks the South is the country, but it will find after the election that the South is more divided than the North. The "irrepressible conflict" has passed away from the North and gone South. —Traveller.

GRAVITATION VS. SPIRITUALISM.—They have had some sport at Fall River on account of a spiritualist who had been informed by the spirits that at a certain time he should be enabled to walk on the water. Full of faith the devotee at the appointed time tried the experiment, but found the power of gravitation vastly superior to that of the spirits, and was saved from drowning by being taken on board a boat, and the spectators quietly dispersed.—Traveller.

☞ A letter from Rome in the Paris Patrie says the Irish volunteers are daily committing excesses at Spoleto. During a recent quarrel they threw their chaplain into a ditch where he was in danger of being drowned. The Papal government have sent two hundred of them home and paid their passage.

☞ The London Gazette announces that the Queen has directed letters patent to be issued, under the great seal, appointing the Lord Bishop of Montreal and his successors to be Metropolitan Bishops of Canada.

APPLEDORE HOUSE,
ISLES OF SHOALS.
This favorite resort for the man of leisure and the invalid is now open. Since last year many alterations and additions have been made, increasing its capacity. Billiard and Bowling Saloons are provided, and every measure taken to secure the comfort and amusement of its guests. An abundance of sweet cream and milk is supplied from healthy cows kept on the Island. The table is bountiful, the facilities for fishing have been increased by the addition of new boats and experienced skippers.
When to all these advantages are added the purity of the air—the delicious coolness of the ocean breeze, its invigorating and appetizing power—the loveliness of the scenery—the glory of its sunsets—the cleanliness of its walks—its freeness from dust, mud, and all other annoyances of the kind—it may truly be said to possess advantages and attractions which no other watering place in New England can attain. The equability of the temperature is a natural advantage over the coast of the mountains, which invalids can fully appreciate.
A daily Packet, the SIBYL, Capt. Preble, runs direct to Appledore from Portsmouth, leaving Pier Wharf on the arrival of the morning train from Boston, and returns in the afternoon. The Sibyl has every accommodation for the comfort of passengers which a Packet requires.

THE ONLY PREPARATION
Having Proof so Strong and Direct
as to
Expel the Doubts of All.
For Statesmen, Judges, Editors, Physicians of the above schools as well as new, give it their unqualified sanction, and recommend it for all cases of eruptions, and diseases of the scalp and brain; but all who have used it, unite in testifying that it will preserve the hair from being gray, and from falling to any age, as well as restore.—Read the following:—
Oak Grove, S. C., June 24, 1859.
Prof. O. J. Wood:—Dear:—Your Hair Restorative is rapidly gaining popularity in this community. I have had no fear of its being laid aside, and give your Hair Restorative a perfect test:—
During the year 1854, I was so unfortunate as to be thrown from my saiky against a rock near the roadside, from which my head received a most terrible blow; causing a great deal of irritation, which communicated to the tender and external surface of the head, from the effects of which my hair was entirely destroyed. From the time I first discovered its dropping, however, up to the time of its total disappearance, I employed everything I could think of, being a professional man myself, and as I thought, understanding the nature of the disease, but was finally defeated in every prescription advanced.
These and no other circumstances induced me to resort to your worthy "Hair Restorative," which I have every reason to believe, produced a very happy result: two months after the first application, I had as beautiful a head of young hair as I ever saw, for which I certainly owe you a debt of gratitude. Rest assured, dear sir, I shall recommend your remedy to all inquirers; moreover, I shall use my influence, which I flatter myself is not a little, in its behalf.
You can publish this if you think proper.
Yours, very respectfully,
M. J. WRIGHT, M. D.
Jeffersonian Office, Phillipi, Va., Dec. 12, 1859.
Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir: I feel it my duty as well as my pleasure, to state to you the following circumstance, which you can use as you think proper. A gentleman of this place, (a lawyer,) has been bald ever since his early youth; so much so, that he was compelled to wear a wig. He was induced to give one a bottle of your "Hair Restorative," which he liked very much; and after using some two or three bottles the hair grew out quite luxuriantly, and he now has a handsome head of hair. The gentleman's name is Bradford, and as he is very well known in our adjoining counties, many persons can testify to the truth of this statement; I give this to you at the request of Mr. Bradford. You can sell a great deal of your Hair Restorative in this and the adjoining counties if you have the proper agents. Yours, &c.,
THOMPSON SURGHNOR.
Dr. Wood—Dear Sir—Permit me to express the obligations I am under for the entire restoration of my hair to its original color; about the time of my arrival in the United States it was rapidly becoming gray, but upon the application of your Hair Restorative it soon recovered its original hue. I consider your Restorative as a very wonderful invention, quite efficacious as well as agreeable. S. THALBERG.
The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $6 a bottle.

PLEA FOR PEACE.

Some friend has sent us a copy of An Address delivered before the American Peace Society, in Park Street Church, Boston, May 28, 1860, by Samuel J. May, of Syracuse, New York.—It contains some passages of great interest and not a little power, among which is the following.

Another event transpired in our own country last year, which gave us a most impressive illustration of the truth, that physical might is not always with the right; that success does not always crown the efforts of the injured party to obtain their rights, or redress their wrongs by violent measures. I refer, of course, to the memorable affair at Harper's Ferry.

If fighting were the method appointed or approved of by the heavenly Father, there could be no conflict in which we should so confidently look for victory, as in one dared for the delivery of millions, who in our country are suffering the most abject slavery that is to be seen anywhere upon the face of the earth. And it were easy enough for Him, who hath all power in his hand, to vindicate the cause of the weakest against the mightiest. This is the faith, we are told, the very sentiment, that roused and sustained the patriots of the Revolution in their unequal contest with Great Britain.

Long contemplation of the wrongs and woes of the millions in our land, subjected to a bondage, one hour of which, as Mr. Jefferson said, is harder to endure than whole ages of that against which our fathers rebelled—long contemplation of the wrongs of the enslaved, at length roused to his daring attempt the hero and the martyr of Harper's Ferry. He knew that his cause was just. He meant to use no violence, if it could be avoided; to spare none, that should be found necessary. He was led to believe that the boudmen would rush to his standard, in such numbers as would overawe their oppressors, and ensure them a bloodless deliverance from their grasp. He believed that, if compelled to fight in defence of his undertaking, men enough would come to his assistance, that would easily overbear all who might attempt to withstand him. Moreover, he felt solemly assured, that, if there were any truth in the leading doctrine of our American Revolution, any reason in the resort of our fathers to the trial by battle, he would be wholly justified in his attempt, even though it should involve our country in the horrors of another civil war.

I frankly declare, I am unable to see the incorrectness of the reasoning, or the immorality of the course of John Brown, if the doctrines and spirit inculcated by our fathers of 1776, and the example set by them, were wise and Christian. The probability of their success was not much, if any, greater than his. The justice of their cause was far less.

Yet the hero of Harper's Ferry failed.—He was taught in that hour that the God of the oppressed is not the God of battle; that the doctrine and spirit of Moses and David are not sanctioned by Christ and his apostles; that there is another and better way of overcoming any evil than by killing or harming the evil doers.

Nothing daunted by his failure, with a conscience void of offence towards God and towards man, he humbly accepted the high lesson, which Providence gave him, and rose from the prostration of a fallen hero, to an almost unexampled sublimity as the martyr of impartial liberty. Words were spoken by John Brown at the tribunal where he was condemned to death, words were written by him from his prison house, that can never be forgotten. A spirit went forth from his bosom on the gallows, that has quickened the heart of humanity in the cause of our enslaved countrymen, as it was never moved before. His death is working, and will work in their behalf, a far mightier, happier, holier result, than would have been accomplished, if he had slain hundreds of slaveholders, and given deliverance to thousands of their bondmen. The martyrs, not the fighters, have been and will be the seed of the Church, the saviours of mankind.

Fellow laborers in the cause of Peace, the Providence of God has given men no encouragement to resort to weapons of violence and death, even in defence of their dearest rights. Whenever a people resort to such weapons, they commit their cause to the chance of battle. Suffer not yourselves, nor others, to be beguiled of the truth on this momentous subject, by the occasional result of a war, not even by that of our Revolution, the issue of which is not yet fully known. If success in war is evidence of the Divine approval, then must we conclude that the conquerors of Poland were justifiable; that Charles Twelfth of Sweden, and Frederick the Great, and Genghis Khan and Tamerlane, and Alaric and Attila, and all the successful warriors that have scourged mankind, were approved and assisted by God. But from this decision, I trust, all would recoil.

☞ At Patterson, N. J., on Wednesday, a young man named Teneck died of consumption. It is stated that during the six months previous he had grown fourteen inches by actual measurement. He went to Rogers' Locomotive Works as an apprentice, early in the year, when he lacked something of five feet. At the time of his decease, he measured over six feet.

☞ When Capt. John Bonner died, in 1726, the Boston News Letter published an obituary notice, and after naming in detail the many excellent qualities of the deceased, added the following summary of his virtues: "In short, he was brave, hardy, healthy, sober, industrious, honest, and good-natured, as well as religious."

A lie, though it be killed and dead, can sting sometimes—like a dead wasp.

ARRIVAL OF THE BOSTON WHERRYMAN AT NEW YORK.—Mr. Martin, whose progress in his wherry from Boston to New York, has been chronicled from time to time, arrived safely in the latter city on Thursday evening, in good condition. According to his log, he performed the whole distance from Boston to New York in about 80 hours of rowing, which, allowing the distance to be four hundred miles, is about five miles per hour. He left Eastham on Thursday, and reached Hyannis the same evening, where he put on board of a schooner which was anchored inside of the breakwater. On Friday he stopped at Falmouth for a short time, and then pushed into Wood's Holo, which he reached at noon.—Here he made some slight repairs to his boat. He then replenished his stock of berries at the store of Capt. Fish, on the wharf, and started on his journey, reaching Cuttyhunk, at the west end of the Elizabeth Islands, late in the evening.

Here he was hospitably entertained by Mr. Smith, keeper of the light, who was interested in his journey. He remained here over Saturday night, and left on Sunday morning, arriving at Stonington that night. On Monday he dined on apples, and that day rowed nearly to Guilford. On Tuesday he called at New Haven and took dinner—this time having the ill luck to get hold of some unripe fruit, which did him no good. He crossed the Sound, and slept on a point of land some twelve miles east of Sand's Point, and the next morning rowed to the Sand's Point Lighthouse, and ate breakfast on his accustomed berries. Having laid-in a water melon, he again embarked, and reached New York at 5 1-2 o'clock P. M., pulling over forty miles during the day. Half his water melon was still left when he arrived.

BANQUET TO THE BOSTON WHERRY MAN.—The New York friends of Mr. D. U. Martin, who made the perilous voyage from Boston to New York, was on Friday evening honored with a "vegetarian banquet" at the Water Cure establishment in Laight street. About fifty were present. Speeches were made by Dr. Miller, Mr. Martin, who gave an interesting account of his voyage, Mr. Roberts, President of the Empire Regatta Club, and others. During his speech, Mr. Martin made some statements calculated to amaze beef eaters. He said that he had lived for two weeks of this summer exclusively on cherries, and had done more during that time than he could hire any man to do. The nearer he conformed to a fruit diet the better he felt. He had undertaken the rowing adventure expressly to show how much a person could endure on a vegetable diet.

His closing remarks were confined to discussing the benefits of vegetable diet; he said, among other things, that the reason the theory of vegetarians was not generally accepted, was that they had few among their ranks with hardy constitutions, all having adopted it as relief to maladies and disease, and therefore its benefits were never strikingly apparent. Mr. Martin then read a list of the articles he had with him, viz: one tooth brush, two pairs of stockings, one carpet bag, one opera glass, five paper collars, two undershirts, four quarts of whortleberries, six apples, one shawl, one chart, one catalogue of lights, one needle, and one paper of pins.

At this dinner about fifty ladies and gentlemen were present. The bill of fare was strictly vegetarian, and comprised the following dishes:—Boiled corn, mashed potatoes, apples, peaches, plums, sweet potatoes, stewed tomatoes, Graham crackers, corn starch jelly, rice bread, watermelons, stewed Lima beans, stewed pears, apple pie, tapioca pudding, ice water and milk, and salt for a condiment.

Mr. Martin will row from New York city up the Hudson, and return to Boston by rail. He has sold his boat for $250. Mr. Martin is 32 years old, and weighs 155 lbs.

A SON OF COL. YANCEY ASSAULTS AN EDITOR.—B. C. Yancey, a son of Col. Wm. S. Yancey, attacked Col. Siebles, editor of the Montgomery Confederation, in the streets of Montgomery on the 22d inst., for editorial comments on Yancey's course. they were separated before any considerable damage was done. Mr. Siebles is a Douglas man, and this little incident is an illustration of the harmony between the two parties, or wings of the party.

TORONTO, Aug. 25th.—A fearful thunder storm has prevailed in this vicinity for the past five days. Several buildings are destroyed.

The Masons are making extensive arrangements for the ceremony of laying the corner stone for the new Houses of Parliament, on the arrival of the Prince.

☞ Mr. Breckinridge having been written to about his rumored withdrawal, sent the following answer:—

LEXINGTON, KY., Aug. 18.

JAMES COLEMAN: There is not a word of truth in it. JNO. C. BRECKINRIDGE.

☞ Senator Seward, on being recently asked in relation to the Union movement in New York against Lincoln, replied, that "The more they unite, the more they won't carry it."

PORTSMOUTH AND ITS ENVIRONS:

A PROGRAMME FOR PLEASURE SEEKERS.

BY J. H. H.—NO. III.

Let me read from Nature's page.—
Truths sublime lie within there;
Let me find among its records
Thoughts, like jewels, passing fair;
Let me trace the hand of Wisdom
In all things we here behold;
Grove and mountain, stream and fountain,
Each have wonders to unfold.
—D. A. Drown

Once more on terra firma, we will make an excursion to Cape Neddock. The drive to this pleasant resort is very fine, the road winding over hills which give you an occasional glimpse of the ocean and the surrounding country; and through beautiful green, shadowy hollows, with here and there a cosy little cottage, surrounded with fruit and shade trees; over murmuring brooks, which come sparkling through the woods, and prattling through the hay-fields; past the old grist mills, and through the dense forest. It gives you a variety of scenery, and makes the journey a pleasant and agreeable one. The Cape Neddock House is plain and unpretending, but not without its charms; and pleasing associations, excellent fare and moderate prices, have won for it many laurels.

The scenery in the neighborhood is magnificent. Many objects of interest are to be found here, the first of which is Agamenticus Mountain. The distance from the house to the summit is about three miles.—Its height is nearly 800 feet, and it is the first land seen by sailors nearing the coast. There is a good carriage road leading to within one hundred feet of the top; the remainder of the way has to be performed on foot. The view from this elevated position is charming; on a clear day, you can see twenty or thirty towns and villages, spread out at your feet, within a circle of fifty miles; and with the grand panorama of rivers, which have the appearance of bands of silver, the glassy ocean, woods of many shades and colors, hills, valleys and sky, you are well repaid for your trouble.

The next great feature which you must not fail to see, is Bald Head Cliff. This is on the sea coast, and about an hour's ride from the house. The road winds along the sea shore the whole way, and at every turn there is presented some new point of view, new effects, and exquisite scenes, which are charmingly beautiful. Stopping at the cottage near the terminus of the road, you fasten your horses, take a refreshing draught of the excellent water from the moss-covered well at the side of the hill and, if you are fond of fishing, you will be furnished with rods and lines,—and you are then ready for a jaunt across the fields to see the cliff.

The best view of this wonder of nature is on the edge of the rocks which run out into the ocean, facing the cliff. It is about two hundred and fifty feet in extent, and its height is seventy or eighty feet. Its smooth sides have been excavated with the most singular evenness, and it is perpendicular along its entire face. A series of terraced rocky steps run along at the base, against which the waves break in wild sublimity.—With a little scrambling and climbing, you reach these terraces, where you have a fine opportunity to fish.

At the farther extremity of the cliff, a mass of rocks are thrown together, which are called the Pulpit; between this and the cliff is the Devil's Cave, which has been worn out by the force and action of the waves. From this point, looking eastward as far as the eye can reach, are seen masses of rocks, seamed, ribbed and riven in every fantastic shape, making this spot one of magnificent grandeur and beauty.

Returning to the half-way house, you must not fail to make a visit to the old Hermit, whose cave is near the sea shore, at the foot of the lane. He is a Norwegian by birth, and is quite a musician, performing finely on the organ and violin. He subsists on fish, which he catches and dries in the sun on the rocks. His dress is quite eccentric, being composed of cloth of various colors. This has been his abode for many years, except that in the coldest days of winter he seeks shelter in the village.

The Nubble is a place worthy of a visit; this is a point of land running out into the ocean five hundred yards, off which is a small round, rocky island, and on it is a dilapidated house, which is used as a place of shelter by sportsmen, who make this a summer resort; it is owned and kept in repair by a company who reside in Boston and Portsmouth. Here you find plenty of game and fish, and a fine view of the coast, which takes in York Ledge, the cliff, Wells Beach, Boon Island Light, the Shoals, and York Beach; this beach, which is near the Nubble, is wide, quite long, and unusually firm, making a very pleasant drive. A short distance below a ledge of rock at the end of the beach, is the famous spouting rock. This singular exhibition is produced as follows: the constant breaking of the ocean against a ledge of limestone rock has worn out a cavern, which extends some distance into the land, and up into the fields above; the tide rushing into this excavation with great force, sends up through the cavity a shower of water and spray, which is very beautiful.

Back of the hotel is the cascade; and ten minutes' walk will bring you to a shady wood, interspersed with rocky ledges, down which falls a small rivulet, at ordinary times sliding noiselessly down the slope, here and there leaving little pools whirling round in the shallow basins scooped out of the smooth granite. It only deserves the name of a cascade after a heavy rain; and then a very heavy volume of water comes leaping, sparkling and singing, as it goes down into the dells. This is a superb place for one to pass an hour or more in reading, and it is daily frequented for that purpose.

A walk to Fire Town, with a visit to the cabin of the old negro, Uncle Tom, who is one of the fixtures of this neighborhood, is full of interest. Wild pigeons and other game are quite plentiful on the mountains and about the sea shore; and with so many attractions, one cannot fail to admire Cape Neddock.

☞ The Boston Post make a plea for fusion on the ground that there is no radical difference between the triple divisions of the North. It is not hopeful, however, for it winds up thus despondingly:—

In many Northern States, even here in Massachusetts, the sceptre of Black Republicanism might be broken, and a great national calamity averted, by such a combination of the friends of the Constitution and Union as might be affected without the compromise of any essential principle. No doubt that sooner or later, grave political exigencies will work such a combination.—But while "madness rules the hour," and causes continue to operate which have alienated these natural allies, we must be content to see our Commonwealth, if not our country ruled by a miserable sectional minority.

☞ Gen. Perry, of South Carolina, tells his fire-eating neighbors:—

It is not at all improbable that the South may find more favors under the Administration of Lincoln than they have under any Democratic Administration. It may be that "Old Abe" will go out of office quite a favorite with Southern people! At least, we should give him a trial.

☞ Northern people located in Texas are sending home orders to discontinue sending them Northern Republican papers, on account of the slave excitement in that State. Democratic papers "pass" without trouble.

NEW YORK, Aug. 25.—Dr. Camochel, the physician attendant on Hicks, denies the ridiculous story of the resuscitation of that murderer after being hung.

Several arrests were made of seamen, said to be implicated with a Spanish merchant in this city in wrecking a ship to defraud the Insurance Companies.

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Aug. 25.—A Republican meeting at Newburg, Indiana, last night, was inte rrupted by a band of men led on by Sol Keokin from Marshall. Pistols were fired into the crowd, and several persons were injured. The Republicans finally drove their assailants from the ground.

☞ R. R. Lynch, late City Clerk of Milwaukie, has been convicted of forgery.

A woman without poetry is like a landscape without sunshine.

What light could not possibly be seen in a dark room? An Israelite.

CLIPPER PLOWS

Are manufactured only by the subscribers, the inventors, who offer them to the agricultural interest after they have been

THOROUGHLY TESTED

by experienced Plowmen, who pronounce them

The Best in the Market!

These Plows embrace NINE DIFFERENT SIZES, the smallest of which is much in advance of anything in the United States, as regards size, and, like the other sizes of this celebrated Plow, is drawn easily by a team much smaller than is absolutely requisite to draw a Plow of less size, of any other make than the Clipper.

We also assure our Farming friends that as we have hitherto endeavored to make our Plows superior to all others in those points which especially interest Plowmen, we are still endeavoring by successive improvements to make this be possible—upon our former successes, although those who are best acquainted in these matters say, "It cannot be done."

Notwithstanding the immense advantages which these Plows possess over all others, we offer them at THE SAME PRICES as are charged for common grades, satisfied that their great superiority will induce so large a sale, that our aggregate profits will make our business sufficiently remunerative.

My daughter has been troubled with the Scrofulous Humor, causing swelling of the neck, for a number of years, and by the use of four bottles of Dr. S. Swett's Panacea, the swelling has been entirely removed, and her health is good.
JANE B. ELLIOTT.

The above testimony of my wife is true.
ENOCH B. ELLIOTT.

Hundreds of testimonials on hand might be added, evincing the many cures by Dr. Swett's medicine. All orders directed to DR. SIMEON SWETT, PORTSMOUTH, N. H., No. 1 School St., for his Panacea, Cough Drops, Conserve, Rheumatic Compound and Family Pills, and other of his popular remedies, will be promptly attended to.

Humphreys' Homeopathic Specifics

CURE PROMPTLY and safely all the more common diseases and ailments to which families are subject. In all acute diseases, such as fevers, inflammations, Diarrhœa, Dysentery, Rheumatism, Croup, and such eruptive diseases as Scarlet Fever, Measles, and Erysipelas, the advantage of giving the proper remedies promptly is obvious, and in all such cases the specifics act like a charm. The entire disease is often arrested at once, and in all cases the violence of the attack is moderated, the disease shortened, and rendered less dangerous.

Coughs and Colds, which are of such frequent occurrence, and which so often lay the foundation of diseased lungs, Bronchitis and Consumption, may all be at once cured by the Fever and Cough Pills.

In all chronic diseases, such as Dyspepsia, Constipation, Weak Stomach, Liver Complaint, Piles, Female Debility and Irregularities, old Headaches, Sore or Weak Eyes, Catarrh, Salt Rheum and other old eruptions, the case has specifics whose proper application will afford a cure in almost every instance. Even the cure of a single chronic difficulty, such as Dyspepsia, Piles or Catarrh, Headache or Female Weakness, has more than paid for the case ten times over.

MISS KIMBERLY AND THE "OCTOROON."—This distinguished actress is producing the above famous play, illustrating the institution of slavery in the South, at the Temple. We are informed that she has commenced a suit for injunction against Messrs. Myers and Boniface, theatrical managers, and Mrs. Annie Senter and Julia Bennett Barrow, to enjoin them from playing the "Octoroon," she claiming the exclusive right to its performance. This is one of the best entertainments of the sort we have had here for a long time, and is well attended everywhere.

☞ A gentleman named Hanscom, belonging to Eliot, was thrown out of his wagon, near the Eastern Railroad Depot in this city, on Monday forenoon, and considerably hurt. His horse was frightened by a train of cars, and ran the wagon agains a stone step.

☞ In the Police Court, Aug. 27, three boys were tried and fined for bathing in a public place, thus making an indecent exposure—and for want of money to pay fine and costs were sent to jail.

☞ The Boston Post says that a large Breckinridge and Lane club is forming in Portsmouth, N. H.

GOV. BANKS ORATOR AT N. H. STATE FAIR.—We take pleasure in announcing that Hon. N. P. Banks will deliver the address at the State Fair in Manchester, on Thursday, the 4th of October. He will receive a hearty welcome from the people of our State.—Manchester (N. H.) American, 25th.

LATER FROM ITALY.

By the Vanderbilt we have European news via Liverpool Aug. 15.

It is asserted that Garibaldi was in Naples on the 11th inst., confering with influential citizens relative to the Parliamentary elections which were to commence on the 19th. The object desired being the election of those who openly favor annexation.

A Naples dispatch state that the Garibaldians attempted a landing, but were partially repulsed, only two hundred having succeeded in landing, and they were driven into the interior.

The Prince Daniele, of Montenegro, was assassinated on the 13th inst.

If Garibaldi makes his expected attack on Venetia, Austria will maintain alone the conflict against all Italy, other powers not interfering. There is great activity in the Austrian marine, and supplies were being transported to Pola.

The steamer Veloce bombarded Monaco on the night of 14th, but retired without result.

GENEVA, Aug. 15.—Doubtful dispatches report the unopposed disembarkation of eight thousand Garibaldians on the 10th.—Also the evacuation of the Fortress Scylla by the Neapolitan troops.

TRIESTE Aug. 15.—It is believed that Garibaldi intends to attack Austria on the Croatian Coast, by disembarking his troops at Fiume. It is thought that he will endeavor to create a revolution in Hungary and Croatia before proceeding to attack the Austrians in Venetia. Cruisers are keeping a rigorous watch of all the Coast.

☞ By the Vanderbilt we have news from London to August 15th.

The hop crop in some districts in England is a total failure.

China advices represent that Loo Chow has been sacked and burned. The Imperial troops are reported to have joined the rebels.

The House of Commons had agreed to the Three Million Indian Loan Bill.

There is great political distrust at Paris, on the Italian and Syrian questions.

☞ One day last week six of the slaves of Mr. S. Hairston, a wealthy farmer of Halifax county, Va., formed a conspiracy to murder his overseer. They induced the overseer to accompany them to the woods, and coming to a recently dug pit, the party confronted the overseer and told him there was his grave and he had but fifteen minutes to live. The overseer immediately drew a revolver and shot four of the party dead, seriously wounding another, and the sixth escaped.

ROYALTY ON A ROPE.—It is said that M. Blondin, the great tight rope walker, has addressed a letter to the Duke of Newcastle, proposing to bring his Royal Higness into the United States in a wheelbarrow on a tight rope.

It is highly probable that his Royal Highness will decline this admirable chance of getting drowned.

☞ A Chambersburg (Pa.) paper says that Dr. Delaney, the colored delegate to the International Statistical Congress, whose presence was remarked by Lord Brougham, was formerly a resident of that town, going from there to Pittsburg, and thence to Liberia.

The excitement in Texas continues, and the people are acting as absurdly and as wickedly as ever. They relieve their exasperated feelings by hanging innocent men. Their object is to get national troops quartered in their State. They are not disunionists.—Traveller.

In the morning, think what thou hast to do, and at night, ask thyself what thou has done.

NEW AMERICAN ENCYCLOPEDIA.—We have taken occasion frequently to commend this work to our readers, and especially to young men. When completed, it will contain a mass of information, upon almost every conceivable subject, in a form immediately available, which no library of thousands of volumes could give, and which would be unavailable if it did, from its necessarily scattered condition. Here we have it all condensed and arranged in alphabetical order, so that information upon any subject can be turned to without delay, and to an extent amply sufficient for all practical purposes. No matter whether in reference to history, biography, science, art, mechanics, or anything, here it is at instant command. It is published in numbers of 256 royal octavo pages each, in fine type, at one dollar a volume. There is scarcely a young man in this city, who is not spending more than that every month for no lasting good to himself, which if we would divert to this channel, he would be proud of it some day. The 28th, 29th and 30th numbers are just published, and may be had of J. H. Foster in Portsmouth. E. C. Eastman, Concord, general agent for New Hampshire.

☞ The list of recent failures in England includes Pooleihei & Co., boot-makers in Northampton, for two hundred thousand pounds; Edmund Buivelot, leather factor in London, for forty thousand pounds; John Dales & Co., woolen manufacturers, for a large amount, and others for smaller sums.

OLD VETERANS FOR DOUGLAS.—The three oldest men in Woburn, Mass., are three brothers by the name of Converse, of the following ages, viz: Jesse, 95 years; Joshua, 93 years; Luther, 83 years. They are, and always have been, Democrats; and they all intend to vote for the "Little Giant" this fall—says the Boston Herald.

Steele says: "It is known to but few, yet of no small use in the conduct of life, that when you fall into a man's conversation, the first thing you should consider is whether he has a greater inclination to hear you, or that you should hear him."

Who does not know (though most people often forget) that there are two sides to every story.

LYMAN'S
Improved Patent Metallic Soles.
PATENTED JUNE 7, 1860.

The nature of this invention consists of a metallic sole for Boots and Shoes, which has been tested and operates admirably. No dampness penetrates through to the inside sole. This is the only device that will operate well between two soles, and is made so thin as not to interfere with the most delicately finished work. The necessity of such a device to fully accomplish the much desired object, and the direful effects arising from damp feet, are too well understood to require any comment.

It is obvious to every one that sole leather is porous, absorbing water, and that the soles of boots and shoes are often damp when they appear dry, causing cold feet, chills, neuralgia, rheumatism, consumption, &c.

Physicians of eminence have pronounced this Metallic Sole an invaluable discovery, and state that, if generally used, it will cause an immense saving of human life.

The right to manufacture and sell the above Improved Metallic Sole for the County of Rockingham has been purchased by the subscriber.

Boot and shoe manufacturers and dealers in Rockingham County furnished with the soles, with right to use, at No. 24 Market Street, Portsmouth, N. H. J. C. CARR.

FABLE NUMBER THREE.

We have already published two political fables; the first from the Boston Courier, with a moral by Uncle Toby; the second from the Atlas; and here is a third, from the Boston Journal:

In a Western land, a tar-dealer, a slave-hunter and a lame man came out, from opposite directions, on the same road; and, suddenly becoming friends, they agreed that nobody should pass them without getting down on his knees and swearing allegiance. Presently they saw a strong man approaching, and concluding that it would require their utmost exertions to bring him to terms, they made preparations accordingly. The slave-hunter tied their feet together with his fetters, the tar-dealer applied the contents of his bucket to cement their union, and the lame man was to brandish his crutch across the narrow passageway. But as the latter got tired of holding up his arms while the stranger was drawing near, he suffered them to get embedded in the adhesive covering of the group. So, when the strong man came up, and was abusively accosted, he snatched the crutch from its helpless owner, and with it pitched "the three single gentlemen rolled into one" into the gutter, and went on his way rejoicing and causing others to rejoice.

Star Circus!

The Animals will be performed by "OLD ADAMS" himself, every afternoon and evening, in connection with the Circus.

OLD ADAMS, GRIZZLY ADAMS,

—OR THE—

WILD ZANBEE HUNTER,

as he is familiarly termed, has long been known as

The California Trapper of '49.

The history of his exploits and hair-breadth escapes, his terrific encounters with GRIZZLY BEARS and other wild animals by which he has been nearly torn in pieces, and is now covered with scars from head to foot, has been extensively published, and it proves him to be, beyond dispute, the most FEARLESS AND INTREPID HUNTER that ever shouldered a rifle, distancing by far the renowned French Hunter GERARD, or the celebrated Lion Slayer GORDON CUMMING, so far as reckless daring is concerned.

"OLD ADAMS" in fact is considered quite as much of a curiosity as any of his animals. He SLEEPS with his Bears, Eats with his Bears, and seems always most happy when surrounded by Bears. "Old Adams" spent all of his time for years, in the Mountains and Wilds of California and the Far West, in exploring, taming, and training this unequalled and

Wonderful Menagerie,

the exhibition of which shows the extraordinary power of man over the most savage beasts, and their entire subjection to his will—Mr. Adams controlling them with as much ease and certainty as any lady would her pet dog.

This truly great Combination of Talent may be relied upon by the public as worthy of the most extensive patronage, and is the only company with any right to the well-earned fame of Niblo's, N. Y. It will appear at the following places, upon the following dates and times:

THE Remedies are carefully prepared under the direct supervision and formula of Dr. HUMPHREYS, in order to meet that great and long realized want of the public, namely, remedies for all the more common and simple ailments of life.

A moment's reflection will show that a vast majority of cases from which we suffer and die, were, at first, simple and manageable, a trifling, A mere cold, a slight diarrhea, a pain in the side, or a headache, or hoarseness, at first easily cured and subdued, in time becomes a consumption, a fever, a dangerous dysentery, Croup or other disease, which all the powers of medicine fail to arrest.

Herein these remedies are unequaled, public want. Being on hand, simple, so you know at once what to take—pleasant, so as to cause no repugnance—safe, and hence occasioning no risk, while the curative effects are positive and certain, they are taken, and at once the spell is broken and the danger allayed.

Experience simply confirms the fact that use of these remedies for families and private persons, as being THE BEST IN USE, THE MOST SIMPLE AND CONVENIENT, THEY NEVER FAIL AND ARE SAFE.

Thousands are and have been using them for some five years past, in every section of the country, with invariable success, they speak in the highest terms of their simplicity and certainty, and among our hundreds of agents the uniform testimony is, that they give good satisfaction to their customers.
